PAIR TO BRAVE RAPIDS IN ALASKA

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, May 14 —(U.P.)—Three thousand miles in a small boat through roaring desolate subarctic wastelands.

That's the adventure faced by Lyman Culver and James Cassady members of the Washington Alpine club, of Seattle.

Culver and Cassady brought their small boat here on a cannery tender and laid in provisions preparatory to their trip through Alaska.

WILL TRAVEL TO NOME

Their 16-foot canoe, powered by an outboard motor, will take them along the inland waterways to Skagway, 300 miles, where they will ship over the famous Chilkoot pass to the headwaters of the Yukon river. There they will start their main trip, traveling nearly 2,500 miles by sail, paddle and motor to Nome, on the far west coast of Alaska.

They will camp at night along the river banks, but the canoe is arranged so that one can sleep while the other steers in case they want to travel day and night.

When they reach the mouth of the Yukon, they will have to skirt the edge of Norton Sound 200 miles to Nome.

RACKET WILL SCOURGE SINS

PHILADELPHIA, May 14 (U.P.)—Racketeering in all walks of life was held a scourge for the sins of mankind by the Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity on fashionable Rittenhouse Square, before deputies attending the convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

COMMONS TO TIP

LONDON, May 14 (U.P.)—Tipping will continue in the House of Commons dining room despite objections of some members, because to abolish it would increase the cost of salaries and automatically the price of food.

CROW TALKS WELL

CALAIS, Me., May 14 (U.P.) — A tame crow named Tom, owned by Glen Mars, truckman, imitates the bark of a dog and speaks rather fluently as crows go. Every afternoon it reminds its master to "water the cow."

FLYING SNAKES ELUDE JUNGLE HUNTERS

ST LOUIS, May 14 (U.P.)—Snakes that fly, fish that climb trees and snakes more deadly than the cobra were described by Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of reptiles and mammals at the New York city zoological gardens during a luncheon here.

Flying snakes, that sail through the air by flattening themselves as they "hop off"—are found in the jungles of Borneo and Java, Dr. Ditmars related. Because of their flying ability they are almost immune from capture. Dr. Ditmars declared that he did not know of these snakes ever having been captured.

In describing their flights, Dr. Ditmars said they coast through the air in a great arc.

DEADLIER THAN COBRA

A snake 50 times more deadly the the Cobra was discussed by the New Yorker. "The Tiger snake found in Australia is the most poisonous snake in the world," Dr. Ditmars said. "This has been proven by tests. Taken drop for drop the venom is 50 times more powerful than that of the cobra. Fortunately the tiger snake is not aggressive and delivers its poison in relatively small doses."

The second most poisonous snake is the tree viper found only on a little island off the coast of Santos, Brazil, Dr. Ditmars said.

FEEDS ON BIRDS

This snake depends upon birds for food. Nature has provided it with a deadly poison—poison that kills instantly. Otherwise the bird, although fatally wounded, would fly away to die.

The most expensive zoological specimen, Dr. Ditmars said, was the rhinoceros. Under the present market prices a rhinoceros would cost about $7,000, he said.

Dr. Ditmars has an ambition. He said "I've always felt that I wanted to own a rattlesnake ledge so that I could feel I was kind of mothering the whole gang of rattlesnakes and helping them along a bit."

Climbing fish, found in Malaysia, have spurs on the under part of their body and actually climb trees, Dr. Ditmars said.

PLAN MOTOR TRIP

Mrs. Gene Ward and infant son, Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Krause, plan to motor to Los Angeles Sunday.
