CONFERENCE BEGINS YEAR

Associated Women Students

AWS welcomes you to Nevada Southern! Although we are glad to see the new masculine faces on campus, this greeting is extended specifically to the female population. AWS is your organization! All matriculated women students are automatically granted membership. There are no fees, pledge periods, or initiation.

Most of you are probably wondering just what you've gotten yourself into! AWS is a social and service organization. This means that there is always work to be done and jobs to be filled. There can never be too many members — too few members is, of course, fatal to the organization. You may expect to participate in activities ranging anywhere from planning the Spring dance to organizing the "Tug of War" during University Day. Activities during the past year included the Orientation Tea, Valentine's Dance, Christmas Carolling party, and the Awards Dance at the close of the year. AWS members also sold programs during the basketball games and helped in the organization of University Day activities. The rough draft of this year's social service outline has been drawn up and many new activities have been added. Judging from these plans, we can promise you a great variety of activities and a very busy year. Of course, this will all depend on you. All the planning in the world will amount to nothing without your participation and enthusiasm.

Offices for Vice President, Secy-Treasurer and Program Coordinator must be filled during the next few weeks. Freshman and new women students are eligible to run for any office other than Vice President. Our first meeting is extremely important since nominations for officers will be accepted at that time.

NSU's 1st Annual Dick Key's Leadership Conference

President Welcomes Students

Corky Poole our 1961-'62 Student Body President welcomes both new and old students to the Nevada Southern campus. A special hello and welcome goes to the very enthusiastic freshmen. Mr. Poole is sure that it will be a pleasure to see so many new faces on campus this year. Even though we are a small school we are looking forward to the coming year. He is quite sure that the upper-classmen on campus will do their best to see that the new incoming freshmen feel like they are already a part of the university.

With great plans for the social year the President was very pleased to see so many new faces during orientation. Seeing the large number that attended the Associated Women Students Tea and the very successful Rebel Roast we can look forward to full support of all school functions.

Mr. Poole feels that we can have one of the greatest social years ever seen at Nevada Southern; but he also puts in mind that these functions will follow all university regulations concerning social events. The social calendar is posted from month to month, and from this you will see the many activities that are scheduled for the coming year.

Realizing that our athletic activities are now limited to only two sports I would like all of you to give your full support to our two sports, basketball and baseball. We are very proud of our school teams and feel that they have done a tremendous job in representing Nevada Southern in the neighboring states. We entered our first tournament last year and I believe we left a very impressive impression in California. And again this year

The conference was called to order by Corky Poole, Student Body President, at 10:45 A.M., at Mt. Charleston. Mr. Poole then asked those present to introduce themselves to each other. Besides the Student Body Officers and the faculty advisor, Dr. Kittredge, the heads of all the committees and publications were in attendance. Mr. Poole then began the meeting with a few remarks explaining that the purpose of the conference is to organize and set the dates for all the activities of the coming school year, to discuss the duties of each of the committees, and to exchange ideas for a successful, unified student government for the coming year. He also explained that the reason the Executive Committee had planned this conference for the week before school began was to insure a good start, with every department sure of the events to follow. Mr. Poole stated that the meeting was named in memoriam of last year's Student Body President, Dick Keys, in a hope that everyone would remember his leadership of the previous year and have a desire to carry out their duties with the future of Nevada Southern always in mind. He also expressed a hope that this would set a precedent for striving toward leadership of a high quality and organization before school actually begins.

Dr. Kittredge, faculty advisor to the Executive Committee, was the next speaker. He said that the main reason for the meeting was for better student government and efficient leadership is the first step toward that goal. Leadership contains:

1. Genuine enthusiasm.
2. Work — not only the work we do ourselves, but the work we get others to do.
3. Learning.

He explained that his role as faculty advisor is to give advice and offered his whenever he can be of assistance.

The following dates were then set on the Social Calendar for the activities of the coming school year, under the direction of George Hoover, Social Chairman.

Student Leaders

Corky Poble, C.S.N.S. President, is a native Las Vegas. For two years he attended Las Vegas High School and then he moved to Rancho High School. While at Rancho, Corky was active in sports and school activities as well as being student body treasurer. Corky graduated from Rancho in 1957 which was Rancho High Schools First graduating class.

Corky attended the University of Nevada at Reno during his Freshman year in college. He then returned to Las Vegas and enrolled at Nevada Southern where he has always been active in student activities, sports and dramatics. Corky was 1960-'61 Pep Commissioner, basketball manager for three years, and the first president of Sigma Gamma Fraternity. Last year he received the award for "The Most School Spirited Boy."

Corky is very sincere in attending to his duties as CSNS President and invites all suggestions concerning better government at Nevada Southern.

Corky is majoring in physical education and health and minoring in speech and drama in the College of Education. Next year Corky hopes to be coaching basketball at a junior high school here in Las Vegas.

Besides Corky's responsibilities at school, he has a few at home. He has to support last years treasurer, his wife Bobbie. And we understand that Corky's Christmas present this year is going to be another responsibility (he is hoping for a boy.) He says he is trying to build his own team.

As the Student Body Vice President Ray Rayson, I want to welcome you my fellow students back to school and especially the incoming class.

This is my third year at Nevada Southern University. I am enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences as a pre-med major. I hope to continue my studies at the University of Utah, and eventually return to Las Vegas to set up practice. I am currently employed at the post office as a postal clerk and plan to continue working there this year.

I am married and have two boys, Blaine and Mark. We are just finishing our home at 5501 Cory Place. My father and I started it at the close of school last year and have worked thru the summer.

I came to Las Vegas with my parents from Salt Lake City, Utah. I attended Fifth Street and West Charleston grammar schools. I graduated from Las Vegas High School in 1959.

My interests include sports such as skin diving and water-skiing, hunting and fishing, and zoology. I enjoy most types of music, especially musical comedy. My reading varies from medical journals to current events.

As President of the Senate, the law making body of the university, I would appreciate your suggestions and criticisms. It is important that you recognize the necessity of choosing the most qualified representatives to the Senate. The representatives must be the type of persons who will work in harmony with other senators to accomplish your goals. Before you vote, select the person that meets the requirements.

I am looking forward to our association this year. By working together we can have a profitable as well as an enjoyable year.

Lois Arends is Treasurer of CSNS. She was born in Tulare, California, on March 20, 1941. After living in California for thirteen years, she moved to Las Vegas. She attended Rancho High School for four years and graduated in 1959. She has attended Nevada Southern for two years, where she is in the College of Business Administration majoring in accounting. She plans on completing her requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree here. Her goal is to be a private accountant in San Francisco.

Whenever she has time, Lois likes to read novels, listen to music, and participate in sports. Sewing is another one of her hobbies. Her favorite city is San Francisco. She usually goes there on her summer vacation. She has worked at Metcalfe's, Inc. for three and one-half years, where she is a secretary. She works part time during school months and full time in the summer. The money earned helps pay for her school expenses and the gas bills for her car.

Lois likes all types of music except jazz. Her two favorite albums are the sound track of "South Pacific" and "Harry Belafonte at Carnegie Hall." She would like to learn to play the piano but feels that there will not be time to learn until after graduation. Lois has bought many books but never finds time to read them. She gets so engrossed in a good novel that Lois is afraid to start one for fear she will not be able to put it down until the end is reached. She wouldn't get any home work done then.

The Treasurer's job is to correctly receive and pay out student body funds. This is a great responsibility, and Lois will do her best to keep an accurate account of each transaction. Any student is welcome to ask her to bring a suggestion or a pro-

Because Elections Chairman, Ellen deYoung, could not be present, it was decided to postpone a discussion of election procedures. The only suggestion made was that all elections be well publicized.

Norman Johnson, Pep Commissioner, stated that he is hoping to be able to have several pep rallies, dances after basketball games, and fund raising for a trip to Reno when our basketball team plays the University of Nevada.

Jerry Anderson, Chairman of the Student Committee on Student Activities, explained the function of his committee as described on page 31 of Beau's Bits.

Since the Public Relations Committee is new as a separate group, Mr. Poole said that this group would be responsible for posting announcements of activities and publicizing them at school as well as in city newspapers and other places. He hopes that this will let the community, as well as the students, know of Nevada Southern's functions.

Jessica Sledge, Epilogue editor, told of her plans for numerous pictures of activities in the yearbook, greater number of pages in the book, and class pictures will be taken at a time other than at registration.

Plans have been made to have the first issue of the Rebel Yell available on the first day of classes and they will continue every second week from that time.

Mr. Poole felt that much had been accomplished and was looking forward to an active year, full of work and fun for all. He encouraged all the department heads to continue to work together and closed the meeting at 3:00 p.m.

Sigma Gamma Enters Community Fair Co-ed "Ricky Gobeli" Vying for Queen

Sigma Gamma was organized last year as Nevada Southern's second fraternity. The name Sigma Gamma represents the Greek letters "S G" which stands for our nickname, Southern Gentlemen. We've been extremely active since our formation, beginning with interfraternity basketball games. We had two wins against one loss and a lot of fun.

This summer we've had our biggest project by participating in the Community Fair. Earlier this summer we sold booths and are now in the process of selling tickets. Our queen candidate for the fair is Ricky Gobeli. We're hoping to make enough money from the fair to offer a scholarship to some NSU student next year, in addition to having some money for ourselves and our pledges.

Keep an eye open for pledge week male students. We would like to have all that are interested become members. We're going to have a lot of fun along with our studies this year and we hope you can join us.

Last year Sigma Gamma put on the Leprechaun Ball on St. Patrick's Day and plan to do so again this year. We also plan to sponsor other social events for the school.

Sigma Gamma was formed on the basis of being an inexpensive organization for its members in that we have no frat house and do not belong to any national fraternity. We believe this best for a small, home town University.

On behalf of Corky Poole, our president, and all the members of Sigma Gamma, we would like to welcome everyone to Nevada Southern and hope we can all have a great year.

If it's news don't keep it a secret submit it to the REBEL YELL... we'll print it.

Enthusiasm Important For Successful Year

One of the most vital determinates in another year of success for our university or any other university is the pep and enthusiasm of the students. It is up to the students of a university, especially one the size of ours, to support the social, athletic, and political functions of the "U".

The duties of the Pep Commission are not many, but without the help of you, the students of NSU, these few duties can turn into many. It is the responsibility of the Pep Commission to select the cheerleaders, plan pep rallies, and promote spirit in general.

As yet the entire commission has not been appointed, but rallies are already in the planning stage. Before too much can be done, the cheerleaders must be selected. This process will begin October 4, when cheerleader qualifications will be posted. All matriculated students fulfilling the qualifications and desiring to try out will be asked to meet with the Pep Commission on October 9. Try outs will be held on the 16th and 18th of October and the 1961-62 cheerleaders will be announced at a dance in their honor on the 20th.

Cheerleading is not confined to co-eds on campus. Male students play a very important part as cheerleaders. Many universities have male yell leaders and female song leaders. At NSU we combine the two, forming a well balanced set of cheerleaders.

With the help of the cheerleaders, new and old students, the Pep Commission foresees an active and successful year.

THE REBEL YELL SPORTS

Nevada Southern Basketball

This year, Nevada Southern's basketball team will face the most challenging season of its history. With the addition of the U. of N. at Reno to our schedule, the REBEEES can look forward to the beginning of an exciting rivalry.

Even though coach Drakulich lost several veterans from last years squad, he is expected to turn out a good team this season. Star center, 6'4" Tim Leonard will return this year. Last season he was chosen as one of the members of the All Tournament Team for the Cal Poly (Pomoma) Classic. Leonard also scored 18 pts. per game for the season, with a 29 pt. high against Grand Canyon College. During last years season Tim broke a bone in his foot, which sidelined him for several games. This year he will be back to his old form and is expected to be one of the stalwarts of this years squad.

Another returning veteran will be 6'4" Don Helm, Don was a standout player on the '59-'60 squad. He has been in the Army for the past two seasons, playing service ball to keep in shape. Viewers watching Don working out say that he is in better form than ever .N.S.U. welcomes Don back to the squad this year.

David Shay, a defensive ace on last seasons team will return this year stronger than ever. He is expected to make up for the loss of star guard Jim Jansen. Shay, who will be a Sophomore this year, saw lots of action last season. He will be an even more valuable member of the team this year.

Coach Drakulich hopes that last years team members, out of state transfer students, and incoming Freshmen will strengthen this years team.

Last year the Rebels won 13 and lost 12. This does not look very impressive on paper, but those who saw the games know better. Nine out of the twelve games were lost by less than 4 pts., many going into single and double overtime. This year Nevada Southern will play the U. of N. at Reno. This is expected to be a good game and all are urged to try and attend this game at Reno. Over the Christmas Holidays we are going to have our own tournament, The Holiday Classic. (Dec. 28, 29). Later in the season we play in the Cal Poly (Pomona) Classic. (Feb. 9, 10). Many rugged teams of last season, will again play at our own campus gym. We urge you to support this year's club and cheer it on to a winning season.

This is Your Paper. Support it by writing news copy or by sending in all the news items you know of for publication.

Regular meetings will be at 12 noon in room 245 every first and third Wednesday. Other meetings will be called during the school term for the benefit of those of you who have classes at this time. Again, welcome to Nevada Southern — and AWS I'm looking forward to meeting all of you. I'm sure we shall have a very active and productive year.

Pres. Welcomes Students

We are looking forward to the tournament in California. If you look in "Beau's Bits" you will see that Nevada Southern is having a tournament of its own. The Holiday Classic is the first tournament ever sponsored at Nevada Southern. At this time we will be the host to the California teams. And while I'm on basketball it must be mentioned again that we are playing the University of Nevada in Reno. I feel that with your support throughout the season we can be top dog on their scoreboard.

I would again like to say that we are looking forward to a very rewarding year. We can plan to have many good times but I would like to remind you that your first purpose is to get that college education.

blem to the attention of the Executive Committee.

Neil Glover, the Historian is to keep a record of all the schools activities throughout the year. These activities include social, academic, and athletic. I will attempt to gather all information I can from local newspapers but I would appreciate any articles any NSU student may see and turn in to me or any other CSNS officer. These articles will be compiled and filed in a scrapbook so that in future years others may see what we did this year.

I'm sure this is going to be one of NSU's greatest years and I plan to work along with the other officers to help make it that way. But we can do only so much, the rest is up to you students. Any and all assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Let's keep our grades and school spirit high and have a great year.

Things and Stuff

Another summer has past and another school year begins. For some of you this may be your first year on the N. S. U. campus. To those we welcome as well as the former students of N. S.

Mrs. Mitchell sends her best wishes to everyone. She will begin teaching English at Utica College, N.Y., this fall.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mason who were blessed with a darling little girl the day after finals were over last spring. Also congratulations to our C.S.N.S. Vice President and his wife who were blessed with another son, Mark. In case you are wondering why the C.S.N.S. President is so heavy, it is because he is expecting!

Sigma Gamma members are busy working on the Community Fair. They are sponsoring Ricky Gobli as their queen. Be sure and support a Nevada Southern frat and buy a ticket from any Sigma Gamma member.

Joan Ramsey will be going to dental school this year in California, leaving a vacancy in the office of C.S.N.S. Secretary. A thank you goes to Joan Seaman who has been doing a good job as temporary C.S.N.S. Secretary this summer.

Congratulations to Dr. Auerbach who tied the knot this summer. Tom Daly and Judy Bauer, last year's sweetheart couple, were married July 22. The C. S. N. S. Election Chairman Ellen deYoung became Mrs. Arthur Siegel on August 22.

Welcome back to Don Helm, a former basketball player and student at N.S., before going into the service.

Who had to shorten their week long summer vacation to two days because someone got homesick for his girl friend and caught a serious case of Yellow Jaundice?

We heard Pat Whipple's graduation present from T. J. Coon was a beautiful engagement ring. Pat begins her first year of teaching this Fall in the biology department at Western High School.

This year we will all miss Mr. Davey, a member of the science department, who has gone to Nebraska to get an advanced degree.

Everyone is anxious to attend the Howdy Dance after all the fun that was had at the Rebel Roast.
