Joan Seaman Reigns As Cotillion Queen

Beautifully gowned young ladies and their handsomely attired escorts recently gathered in the Hotel Riviera's Lavendar Room for Nevada Southern's annual spring formal. From nine to twelve on the evening of April 19, students, faculty members, and their guests danced to the music of a four-piece ensemble beneath dimly lit candleabra.

Those who attended the Cotillion, under the direction of the Executive Committee, were entertained during intermission by The George Young Revue, currently appearing in the Riviera's Starlite Lounge. Instrumental and vocal selections of "Come Back to Sorento," "Hey! Look Me Over," "Basin Street Blues," and "She's My Kind of Girl," as well as the only "twist" number of the evening, won enthusiastic approval and applause.

CSNS President Corky Poole presented plaques for outstanding service to NSU to Jerry Anderson, Ralph Conrad, Vronna Harris, George Hoover, Norman Johnson, Sheri McDonald, and Jessica Sledge. Dr. Kittridge and Dr. Cole, too, were given plaques of appreciation.

The long-awaited announcement of "Who's Who" winners was made. "Most Likely to Succeed" statuettes were presented to Jessica Sledge and Dan Porter. Georgeanne Rice and Tom Beatty were cited as NSU's "Most Intelligent" girl and boy. To Susie Brown and John Chadwick went the distinction of being named "Most Humorous" students. The "Most School Spirited" honors were awarded to Vonne Stout and Dan Porter. Then followed the formal introduction of the 1962-63 CSNS officers and the transfer of the President's gavel from Corky Poole to Ray Rawson.

Eager anticipation enveloped the hall as the time drew near for the highlight of this gala evening — the crowning of our

NSU Actors Go Into Second Round of Play Production

Love makes the world go 'round, and thirteen Nevada Southern students are out to prove it as they go into their final week of dramatic productions on May 4-6 in the Little Theater. Reservations may be made by calling the University switchboard at RE 3-2222, or by going to the Admissions office.

Bill Walker and Mary Lou Savage, are farmer and wife in "The Wandering Scholar from Paradise," who prove a soft touch for Steve LaVere, the clever scholar. He gambles on their gullibility to trick them out of money and goods. He counts on the pleasant woman's love for her first husband whom the scholar claims to have seen! The play is a Medieval German farce by Hans Sachs.

The 18th century comedy, "The Beaux Strategem" by William Farquhar takes place in Mistress Sullen's (Ricky Gobeli) bedchamber. Her lover Archer's (Bob Elwart) plans to seduce her are temporarily interrupted by a robber. But all's well that ends well and Mistress Sullen is happily carried off in the arms of her lover.

The cast also includes Betty Hoffman as Dorinda, Rich Perozzi as Gib, Jack Clifton as the doctor, and Jim Beaver as Fougard.

"The Twelve Pound Look," is the story of domestic love gone awry with the discovery that the husband's newly acquired secretary is also his ex-wife. The play was written by James M. Barrie. Perry Dell is caught in the middle as Lee Strange, his present wife, and Ramona Davis, his scheming ex-wife battle it out. Steve LaVere is the butler, Tomes.

These one acts are under the direction of Dr Lawrence Auerbach, assisted by Betty Hoffman.

"Bermuda Hop" May 12th

CSNS will sponsor a "Bermuda Hop" in the foyer of the gym on May 12, from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m.

Helldorado Queen and her two attendants will be announced. With the exception of the year-book party, this will be the last dance of the year, so everyone is urged to attend.

1962 Cotillion Queen. The three lovely finalists, Misses Mary Lou Savage, Joan Seaman, and Dalene Sinderson, were escorted across the dance floor by Jimmy Johnson, Dan Porter, and Ray Demman respectively. In a most delightful moment, 1961 Cotillion Queen Ricky Gobell crowned a happy and stunned Joan Seaman, Cotillion Queen 1962.

The royal young ladies were presented with long-stemmed white roses and seated upon their thrones. The coronation activities were concluded as radiant Queen Joan and her escort led a dance, followed shortly by Princesses Mary Lou and Dalene. Indeed, there was charm and beauty in our 1962 Cotillion Court.

Teacher: "Claude, this is terrible writing. Why can't you write so I can read it?"

Claude: "Sure I can, but then you'd complain about my spelling."

NSU Students Attend Model United Nations

Jessica Sledge, Phyllis Segal, Margo Bartlett, and Lyle Johnson represented Nevada Southern University at the Model United Nations Activity held April 11 to 14, 1962. San Diego State College was host to hundreds of students representing universities of the Western States.

These students, in turn participated in "mock" general assemblies, caucus meetings etc., as would the actual United Nations.

Each University represented a country; Nevada Southern represented Luxenberg.

Dr. Elanore Bushell stated that "the importance of participation lies not only in the opportunity of some to know the workings of the United Nations as a whole but is a first for our school. This is the first time Nevada Southern has been recognized and asked to attend an overall colleges' function."

Dr. Charles Frazier and the representing students appeared on Martin Black's television program when they returned. They stressed the reality of the Conference. Dr. Frazier stated, "We hope to be able to represent Cuba, Argentina or some other South American County in the next Model United Nations which will give us a better chance to have enlivened discussions."

Miss Sledge has been named state vice-chairman to the collegiate council of the United Nations, for Southern Nevada.

Mr. Lunt: Tell me the truth, who did your homework?
 Larry E.: My father.
 Mr. Lunt: By himself?
 Larry E.: No, I helped him.

Newman News

By MARY LOU SAVAGE

The best body builder for an individual is a vitamin tonic. The best body builder tonic for the Newman Club is a fact-packed convention. When we went to Tucson, Arizona, this is exactly what we experienced. Somehow a convention always adds a great deal of spark to the old repeated purpose of the Newman Movement. Too many of us join the Club but we never really go out of way for the organization. At the convention it was pointed out that the responsible Newmante is one who joins the organization to serve not to be served. This is something we should all keep in mind and, perhaps, if we did the work load would balance out. Just because we have an executive committee does not mean that they should be turned into a group of old work horses. We cannot have too many chiefs and too few Indians but we can have members we can depend on. The members should try to help whenever they can; just coming to every meeting and activity of the Newman Club helps.

We are getting into the home stretch as far as Newman activities go, but a summer program is being worked out now. Our discussions on marriage were a big success and it is hoped that next year we will have an educational program that will be open to all students. In the Arizona Newman Clubs they have courses in religion which are counted as semester hours. However, we could not consider such a program until we build our Newman Center.

When we were at Tucson we gained a new responsibility of putting out the Province publication. This will take time and work not only in our Nevada Newman Club but in the other five Arizona Clubs. Therefore, anyone who is willing to help is asked to contact Mary Lou Savage at RE 5-1325 before school is out this semester.

The Arizona Province will have a booth at the National Newman Convention to be held in Pittsburg this summer. Nevada Southern has been selected to coordinate this project and organization it for the convention. We do not have anyone in a province office because we feel we need experience before we can consider an office. The only way we can gain experience and recognition for our club is to make good at these two projects: the Province publication and the Convention booth. Please watch the bulletin board for the date of the next meeting and be sure and attend so you know the inside story on these projects.

Helldorado Float Theme Chosen

Under the chairmanship of Midge Oliver, committee members Kay Cleland, Jerry Dixon, Gary Dokter, Vronna Harris, Bob Pardini, Mary Lou Savage, and Nancy Smith have chosen "The South Shall Rise Again — A Fantasy Coming True" as the theme for a float representing NSU in the coming Helldorado Beauty Parade.

Suggested themes considered by the committee included: "Pecos Bill," "Paul Bunyan," and "Civil War Days." Norm Johnson's suggestion of a Civil War fantasy won the approval of the committee after it was revised to tie in with the theme of "Famous Fantasies" for this year's Beauty Parade.

All students are urged to help out on the construction of the float. At present we are still trying to obtain a space at the race track for the construction of our float in hopes that the convenience of the location will make it possible for more students to help out on this project.

Ray Pollard has sketched a working drawing of the float and says we will need 2"x2"'s, 2"x4"'s, and large pieces of plywood for the frame and base of the float. If you have scrap lumber that we may use for the float, please contact Ray, Norm Johnson, or John Chadwick and they will pick it up. Watch for notices telling when and where we will be working on the float.

SIGMA THETA CHI

On March 31, this sorority sponsored an April Fool's dance in the foyer of the gym. They held a raffle for a transistor radio which was won by Andy Miller of NSU. The winning ticket was drawn by the sorority's advisor, Dr. Mary Bordeaux. The sorority would like to express its appreciation to all of the NSU students who helped make its raffle a huge success.

SIGMA GAMMA

This fraternity elected its officers for next year at its recent meeting. They are: George Hoover, president; Dick Ebeltoft, vice-president; Ron Hamilton, secretary-treasurer; and John Chadwick, histofian.

A. W. S.

Nominations are still open for president and vice-president of this organization and may be turned into Jessica Sledge or another officer until May 4. Other officers will be elected at the beginning of next semester.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It has been brought to my attention that several of the candidates in the last election are dissatisfied because the announcement of the results had been postponed until the assembly so that we could get a large turnout to our first assembly and, therefore, assure the right to have more assemblies in the future, furthermore, there has been dissatisfaction because the number of votes each candidate polled have been kept secret.

To these individuals I apologize for the fact that I told them that I would post the results as soon as the ballots were counted. However, when the CSNS President and Mrs. Jeffers said that they would like to hold the results for the reason mentioned above I agreed with them. I agreed because I believe that the advice of an advisor should not be held lightly, because I believe that the decision of the President of the CSNS should take precedence over all others, and because I am personally interested in seeing Nevada Southern have assemblies.

I think that if these candidates had the best interests of Nevada Southern in mind they would have come to the same conclusion and would have accepted the decision as I have and urged everyone to go to the assembly.

As for the total votes polled by the candidates; it has been a tradition at Nevada Southern to keep these totals secret. I therefore followed the tradition set by my predecessors.

In sincerely hope that this has answered any questions that have been brought up, and I hope that as adults all of the can-

Peace Corps Gets Books

Approximately 250 books contributed by Nevada Southern students are on the way to Peace Corps volunteer Nancy Jeffers and a group of children who are awaiting their arrival in the Philippine Islands.

The books, collected by the CSNS Executive Council in their Book Drive held in early March, range from children's story books and spellers to novels and textbooks on government and history. Other items collected and included in the shipment are maps, paper, pencils, crayons, notebook, periodicals, and chalk.

Nellis Air Force Base volunteered to fly the books to the Philippines for Nevada Southern. Miss Jeffers, a former student here at NSU, is serving as a teacher's assistant in the Peace Corps.

Yearbook Party On May 18th

Reserve Friday, May 18 for your Nevada Southern yearbook party. The party starts at 6:00 p.m. on the patio. If you have purchased an activity card both semesters, you are entitled to a book and can pick it up at this time. There will be a $2.50 (per semester) charge for non-activity card holders.

This '62 Epilogue has over 1,000 photos of all NSU functions and over 300 students are indexed in the book. Copies will be limited. Be sure to get yours at the autograph party on May 18.

Across the Road from the Campus

Beware of Spring Fever

Most of us at Nevada Southern (and at other colleges and universities as well) have had or are now showing symptoms of that age-old disease, Spring Fever. Even the teachers have Spring Fever. But teachers need not worry about passing final examinations come May 21. Students do.

Those of us that do have Spring Fever are probably discovering that our grade averages aren't getting any higher; as a matter of fact, they're probably, on the average, getting lower. We've all been given the lecture before about how important a college education is and that we should make the most of it. Let's face it — we all get tired of hearing the same old story over and over. But it is true. We should attempt to do as best as we can in our college work.

Final exams will reveal whether or not we know "our stuff." They are not to be taken lightly, as "just another test." No one is forcing us to attend college; we are here because we supposedly want to learn. Learning, and learning well, requires a certain amount of self-discipline. Whether or not we pass final examinations depends on whether or not we have disciplined ourselves. Discipline is not a symptom or resulting complication of Spring Fever. But it can be a remedy, if applied correctly.

Of course, self-discipline cannot be learned in three weeks; it must be practiced from beginning to end. Though it may or may not get results, it wouldn't harm us if we all applied an extra-special amount of self-discipline during the next three weeks. Spring Fever, like all other diseases, is a challenge; we can lick it or it can lick us. Let's not succumb to it. Good luck on your finals.

NSU Hosts Workshop

Nevada Southern will be host to the Second Annual High School Students Officers' Workshop to be held at Grant Hall on Friday, May 11, for the purpose of aiding student government officers in preparing themselves for the responsibilities of office.

The one-day workshop is being sponsored by Nevada Southern and the Clark County School District. Among the activities planned for the workshop are school reports, sectional sessions, and luncheons at the Sahara Hotel.

Final Exams On May 21-28

Final exams will be held in all courses except those in which an exam is not practical or appropriate during the week of May 21 - May 28, inclusive. Exam schedules are available in the library and office. Students must report any conflict to the Registrar on or before May 11th.

didates will now be able to accept the decisions that have been made.

Ralph B. Conrad
Chairman,
Election Committee

Last Sunday the Nevada Southern Theatre presented a bill of three comedies for its spring production to four people. That there was a pitifully small number of playgoers is a sad comment on the lack of cultural interest by the students and faculty.

A play is not fully "born" until an audience sees it with actors acting it out. To ask three casts of the production to perform to a virtually empty "house" is as if one were to bake a cake with loving care only to have it left uneaten.

The plays which Nevada Southern puts on for you is part of the cultural life of a university. By what stretch of the imagination do the students envision the role of the university? Merely to learn a skill to draw a paycheck? If this is so, it is best to discover now that one is in the wrong environment, for a university's role is not to turn out merely skilled barbarians. One does not matriculate at a university just to be "trained" in some area, but one should expect to be given help in educating himself, to develop insights, and to acquaint himself with the cultural record of man.

These plays are not childish, amateurish efforts; no one would have effrontery to ask any one to attend shows produced which reflected poor quality. The students are highly talented, highly polished actors who are able to give the playgoer an evening of pleasure.

There has been much sound and fury about wanting community support for Nevada Southern. To me it is an unequivocal truth that if Nevada Southern cannot support its own cultural programs, then it cannot expect the community to support it.

Norman Johnson Is April Fool

Norman Johnson was voted April Fool at the dance sponsored by Sigma Theta Chi, March 31, 1962. The dance, held in the foyer of the NSU gym, was gayly decorated in old barn dance style. A Chubby Checker twist album was given away as the door prize, and refreshments were served.

Pat Wrest announces Norman Johnson as Sigma Theta Chi's "April Fool" as Sheri McDonald enthusiastically agrees.

Campus Capers

By Mary Lou Savage, Sheri McDonald, and Vonne Stout
Doctor Harris has added a new requirement to his fundamentals in acting course. At least this is the opinion of four members of the class Sheri McDonald, Ricky Gobeli, Jeanie Fulton, and Lee Strange, who all agree that weight lifting is the new requirement after they carried in the risers for the up and coming spring production. No wonder boys aren't in the acting class, they probably are afraid to tangle with the muscle bound female members.

Knobie Knees seem to be the rage on Campus with young fellows such as Ray Pollard, Ken Moore, Jack Williams, Dave Gregory and others. At any rate Bermuda shorts are a sure sign of summer and summer means finals and finals mean, well you know...

What would we do without the Sigma Gamma boys and their busy social whirl. These boys have more parties. If only I had a jeep I could probably get to one. However, Ron Stephenson tells me these parties are something else. A stereo at the lake... You're right, Ron, those parties are something else.

Pat Wrest and Kathy Tobin are experimenting with a few of the students by making them count while they shoot crazy questions at them. The conclusion of these girls are as follows: chair, red, rose. That is, when they ask someone to name a piece of furniture or a color or a flower most people stuck to the three answers mentioned. These girls may be the psychologists who will change the nation.

Toby Rott and Clark Power have become real twist champs. Toby keeps in practice all the time by twisting in French while the class sings French tunes. Didn't see you twistin' with the kiddies at the T'bird.

Juanita Houchin was NSU's lovely representative in the Easter Day Poodle Parade.

Pat McNary of Reno and Nevada Southern's Janet Chatterton are planning a June wedding. Congrats! And Good Luck to both of you!

Judie Walker and Sue Nelson were Nevada representatives at a Rainbow State Convention held in Long Beach, California during Easter Week. Both girls are Grand Officers for the state of Nevada. The girls got lost on the freeway THREE times in one day — they were beginning to think they would never see good 'ol Nevada again.

NSU will be losing many students to the Reno campus next fall. Among those who will be attending our northern brother are: Judy Plant, Dale Douglas, Sheri McDonald, Judie Walker, Binnie Syde, Norman Johnson, Nancy Eamon, Betty Lou Mathes, Jessica Sledge, Lois Arends, Joan Seaman and Dan Porter.

Rebs Hope For Winning Season

Nevada Southern's baseball team is hoping for a winning season this year against some of the toughest teams they have ever played.

Having a winning team is a hard job for any coach, but more so for a team who has never played together before. Coach Michael Drakulich has only three men returning from last year, Dan Taylor (catcher) Lee Syphus (pitcher) and Jerry Goyneche (3rd base); the remainder of the team are newcomers.

Although the Rebs have a big problem to cope with, they have compiled a 6-9 record for the season which is the best yet. They have split 1-1 with Grand Canyon College and Pomona. The Rebs have won three and lost two to College of Southern Utah, and they have lost 3 for 3 and 2 for 3 against Arizona State and V of C (Riverside) consecutively.

According to Coach Drakulich, "the team is getting settled now, and is combining their hitting with their defensive play." With consolidation of defensive and hitting power the team should have a very successful season.

Back Your Team;
Attend the Game!

NSU Awaits Reb-Reno Clash

As it was during the basketball season, everyone is anxiously awaiting the big baseball game between Las Vegas and Reno, May 4 and 5, at 2:30 p.m. at Cashman Field.

We are hoping to revenge the losses which we suffered at the hands of Reno during the basketball season. This will be the second of many interscholastic sports between the two campus's and a continuation of a healthy rivalry.

To keep our sports competition with Reno alive, we need to show lots and lots of school spirit. The grand showing which was portrayed when the Rebs went to Reno proved that the southern Campus has a good deal of enthusiasm. Lets keep this enthusiasm going by showing as much or more school spirit at the Nevada Southern vs. Nevada baseball game.

NSU Over Basic In Golf Play

NSU Golfers defeated Basic, April 25, in the Clark County High School Golf League played at the Tropicana Country Club.

Triumphs for NSU saw Jim Schwerin topple Don Moighan, 2 up; Tim Thompson down Wayne Iuary, 2 up; Neil Glover turn back John Macbeth 2 up; and Rod Pahor defeat Randy Ingram, 1 up.

Basic scored its points when Dick Jamison gained a default victory over Clark Power and Mike McCallum beat Ray Demman 1 up.

Adams to Leave Nev. Southern

Boyd Adams, who has assisted Coach Drakulich for the last two years, will return to College at Southern Utah, where he coached prior to coming to Nevada Southern.

"It was a hard decision to make" Adams said, "but I felt I had to accept the new position since it will be a step up in professional advancement."

Adams had the honor of starting NSU's first Junior Varsity basketball team last year, and his boys finished with an overall 11-5 record. Adams' tennis team is currently leading the Clark County High School League with a 4-1 record.

A typographical posey goes to Drs. Aurbach and Harris who have put in a great deal of time and work into the dramatic productions this year. Dr. Paul Harris directed the fall production and Dr. Lawrence Aurbach is directing the spring production.

The following parody was written by Mike McCrey and contributed to the Rebel Yell by Mike Rinney.

And to These the Lord Sayeth

And it came to pass early in the morning toward the last day of the semester, there arose a multitude smiting their books and wailing. And there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth, for the day of judgment was at hand, and they were sore afraid. For they had left undone those things that they ought to have done and they had done those things which they ought not to have done, and there was no help for it.

And there were many abiding in the dorm who had kept watch over their books all night, but it availeth naught. But some there were who arose peacefully, for they had prepared themselves the way and made straight the paths of knowledge. And those wise ones were called burners of midnight oil, and by others they were called "curve raisers."

And the multitude arose and ate a hearty breakfast and they came into the appointed place, and their hearts were heavy within them. And they had come to pass, but some pass out.

And some of them repented of their riotous living and bemoaned their fate, but they had not a prayer. And at the last hour there came among them one known as the instructor, he of the diabolical smile, and, having passed papers among them, he went his way.

And many and varied were the answers which were given, for some of his teachings had fallen among fertile minds, others had fallen among the fellows, while still others had fallen flat. And some there were who wrote for one hour, others for two, but some turned away sorrowful; many of them offered a little bull in hopes of pacifying the instructor, for these were the ones who had not a prayer. And when they had finished they gathered up their belongings and went their way quietly, each in his own direction and each one vowed to himself in this manner: "I shall not pass this way again."

NSU Netters Try For First Place

Nevada Southern's Tennis Team has been having a pretty favorable season. With their recent win over Western High School they now have a good chance to place first in their league. The team played the first game of the second round with Western High last Tuesday. The first half of the season saw NSU victories over Basic and Rancho High Schools and losses to Las Vegas and Western.

It seemed that Western had the league locked up until their loss to Las Vegas and then NSU in the second half of the season. These two losses put NSU back in the running for first place.

The scores of the important victory over Western are as follows:

- Riley Stice vs. Madison Graves 6-4, 7-5.
- Roy Turner vs. Connely Newby, 1-6, 4-6.

George Bubnis vs. Bill Ryman, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

NSU Hosts Conference

The annual conference of the Nevada Council of Teachers of English and Foreign Languages was held last Saturday, April 28. The morning sessions of the conference were held on the Nevada Southern campus at Grant Hall; afternoon sessions were held at the Hacienda Hotel.

Activities included an address by Robert Lloyd, English-Library Consultant of the Nevada State Department of Education, on "The State Department of Education and the State English Curriculum;" a demonstration by high school students illustrating resulting fluency of the audio-lingual approach to the instruction of language; a presentation by Nevada Southern students of their Spring Production; an address entitled "Structural Linguistics: Notes for a Devil's Advocate," by Dr. Charlton Laird, University of Nevada (Reno) English professor; and a panel discussion, "Articulation and Standards."
