'EPILOGUE' PARTY FRIDAY

Long Hours Hard Work Are Over

Many long hours, weeks, and months of tedious work completed by the yearbook staff have finally rewarded the students and faculty of Nevada Southern with the sixth edition of the Epilogue, which will be distributed at the Yearbook Party to be held Friday evening at six o'clock on the patio.

The '62 Epilogue, the theme of which centers around the past as related to the future, has 180 pages (which means that it is almost twice as large as last year's annual). In addition to more pages, this year's Epilogue also boasts increased coverage of student activities and of sports, plus an index — the first index ever to be included in the Epilogue.

The success of the '62 Epilogue may be credited to the hard-working yearbook staff, headed by Jessica Sledge, editor-in-chief. Not only did Miss Sledge act as "chief cook-and-bottlewasher" by supervising all work and revising same, but she also succeeded in writing the copy for the yearbook as well as acting as liaison "man" between her staff and the publishers.

"Our aim this year was to make the Epilogue meaningful and more of an adult book," commented Miss Sledge. "I was very fortunate to have such a dependable staff."

Members of the Epilogue staff who worked almost day and night along with their editor-in-chief included Dan Porter, who managed to be Art Editor, Sports Editor, and Layout Editor — all at the same time — and who also sold approximately 50 per cent of the ads appearing in this year's annual; and Mike Gordon, who did the staff's bidding with the aid of his trusty camera and other photographic equipment (and who contributed to "the cause" by getting his photos out on time).

Joan Seaman served as Assistant Editor, and compiled the index, did the typing, and also made many local businessmen happy by making sure that they received their bills for their ads. Moral support for everyone on the staff was Lois Arends, who as financial consultant chewed up a year's supply of fingernails in six months worrying about the Epilogue funds.

The Rebel Yell, as fellow publication at NSU, wishes to extend its congratulations to the Epilogue staff for the very fine job they did on coming through with a very fine yearbook — the 1962 Epilogue.

Everyone who has an activity card for both semesters, is entitled to a yearbook. There will be a $2.50 charge per semester for people without activity cards.

For the benefit of those people who will not be able to attend the yearbook party, the

Nita Houchin Is Helldorado Queen

Juanita Houchin was announced as NSU's Helldorado Queen at the Bermuda Hop held Saturday, May 12 in the foyer of the gym. Beauties, Mary Lou Savage and Binnie Syde were voted Juanita's attendants.

"Unless we get some more help this week-end," said John Chadwick, who along with Ray Pollard, Norm Johnson, and Gary Doktor, is currently working on the construction of the Nevada Southern float, "there won't be a float for our Queen and attendants to ride on."

The float is under construction at the race track. Any help will be appreciated.

Student Government room will be open at noon each day during final week, where the 1962 Epilogue will be distributed.

Summer Classes Are Scheduled

The long hot summer can be spent well this year by enrolling in Nevada Southern's Summer Classes.

The first session begins June 11 and lasts until June 22, 1962. Registration is on June 9 between eight and eleven a.m. The maximum academic load will be two credits.

The second session is scheduled from June 25 through August 3 and the maximum load is six credits. Registration is June 21 & 22 between the hours of twelve thirty and three thirty p.m.

The third and last session is scheduled from Aug. 6 to Aug. 17 with a maximum academic load of two credits. Registration on Aug. 3, between the hours of seven thirty and eleven a.m.

That's the Way it Goes

In many ways, the outgoing CSNS officers have really done justice to the Student Body which elected them. These officers have endeavored to bring a more college-like atmosphere to Nevada Southern. They have promoted numerous activities; both social and academic, and it can safely be said that most of these officers have had the welfare of NSU truly at heart.

However, some of the members of the Executive Committee have concerned themselves primarily with the welfare of one small group.

There have been numerous incidents throughout the year when officers have more or less said "this is the way such and such is going to be," and it was. And too often we have heard "so and so shall receive this honor" and that's all there was to that!

Well, so what! You say. Officers are as entitled to their opinions as anyone else. Not when they are counting the votes, we say.

There is a new law in the constitution — which should have been written last year — which states that no one, including CSNS officers, shall work on the elections, outside of the election committee.

There were times during the past year, when the results of elections were questioned because a CSNS officer had been in on the tabulating.

Fraternalties or sororities are wise to back a certain candidate in an election. At least this shows interest. But it certainly isn't fair or legal to support one's candidate by doing a little "ballot reorganizing." There is a rumor, and not all false, that some of the elections were accompanied to the tune of "It's Ballot Box Stuffing Time."

We are confident that next years' CSNS officers will concern themselves with the welfare of the entire student body of Nevada Southern rather than with the welfare of one select group.

It would be a tragic error if Nevada Southern's system of government were to go the way of our northern brother, and be referred to as "corrupt."

THE VICTOR

Cain remains on earth
With no amends to his murderous ways.

He continues to slay his brother

In the haulocaust of war and peace.

His life is that of the advisory,

Comprising only to forestall his enemy

Abel, with the stamp of virtue,
Awaits patiently.
And will gather up
The remains for peace
After Cain slays Cain.

Newman News

By MARY LOU SAVAGE

It has been a real pleasure writing this column for the newspaper this semester because it has given me the opportunity to tell everyone about Newman Club. Next year the Newman Club hopes to do more to bring a closer union between the clubs on campus.

Henry Sylvestri, Bob Kremnick and Father McFadden made a trip to Tempe for a meeting of the Province officers. The big thing on the agenda right now is the National Newman Convention. Henry has some information about transportation and accommodations for this big event which will cut the expense of the trip in half. It would be nice if we could have a representative from Nevada at this convention. We may have to raise pennies all summer but someone just has to go and put in a few good words for Las Vegas. If you are interested in this project talk to Henry.

We are expected to have a Province Newspaper out by next semester and although this gives us three months it will be hard to put the paper together. If anyone has suggestions and would like to help out this summer see me! A paper isn't good if it only contains one man's opinion. I will be depending on the other clubs but a newspaper needs reporters. Right Sheri?

Our last wing ding will be held on June first at Warm Springs. It will consist of swimming and food and more food. However it's pot-luck style. Activities have eased up this last month because of finals but we managed to have a party at Sherry MacDaniels house on the tail of April. It was a real nice party and one thing about Sherry's parties is the good food. There were many people present at the party and that is a sign of progress for the club.

I wish I knew when our next meeting is but because the presses must roll you have to be patient and watch the bulletin board again. Have a wonderful summer and keep in touch with the Newman Club.

This Year In Review

By ROWENA MITCHELL

We're nearing the end of another year at Nevada Southern. Memories have been made, dreams, fulfilled. Now we may look behind us and view the events of the year—those happy, those sad, those unforgettable, those best forgotten.

Perhaps those most memorable to most students are the social activities in which we have participated and which are so much a part of college life. All these things we enjoyed were at the expense of someone's time and labor. Individual campus organizations have endeavored to provide all-school activities. The Social Committee, headed by George Hoover and composed of Dalene Sinderson, Ron Hamilton, Susie Brown and Rowena Mitchell, has earned praise for its work. Corky Poole, Ray Rawson, Joan Seaman, Lois Arends, and Neil Glover, as members of the Executive Committee deserves credit for their extended efforts in behalf of NSU's social calendar.

So, with credit given and clocks turned back, lets recall some memory makers.

And we began the year with the annual Rebel Roast. This Lake Mead outing offered an opportunity for new student to become acquainted with each other and the "old-timers."

Dances at the beginning of the year were almost weekly occurrences. Among those first, informal, foyer gatherings, the Campaign and Election Dances are perhaps the outstanding examples. Who could forget the "Hobo Hop" and the excitement surrounding the announcement of the five NSU cheerleaders? Or the gala array of costumes at the Halloween Dance?

Before we knew it, we found ourselves caught up in the whirl of University Day. The Freshmen built a magnificent bonfire and most capably defended it, only to watch in dismay as it accidentally went up in flames. Upperclassmen bowed to the football superiority of the Frosh; ootrases produced ragged winners; boys wore more of the pie than they ate in the Pie Eating Contest; the tug of war proved to be very funny and very muddy. Nu Sigma Upsilon sponsored a tasty spaghetti dinner at Pierre's, and the cheerleaders introduced new cheers. Miss Jessica Sledge was honored at the dance as University Day Queen.

Basketball games became the common gathering place on Friday and Saturday nights. Parties were numerous; Nevada Southern's first sorority was flourishing; Sigma Gamma sponsored a game-time snack bar;

Much Accomplished By CSNS This Year

With a year of numerous accomplishments behind them, the CSNS officers of 1961-62 and their associated student government and organization co-workers are putting away the gavels and minutes of this year and are preparing for their roles as college student leaders next year.

Past CSNS President Corky Poole and his fellow officers, namely Vice-President Ray Rawson, Secretary Joan Seaman, Treasurer Lois Arends, and Historian Neil Glover, served as the Executive Committee (in addition to performing their own respective duties of office) of CSNS and have quite a few feathers to tuck in their caps.

The more prominent "feathers" include the following items for which the Executive Committee was responsible: the beginning of the annual Dick Key's Leadership Conference (which was held last August for the purpose of discussing the year's activities and possible improvements for them); the arrangement of having the Student Union handled by the University Bookstore; the creation of the Public Relations Committee; the donation of $100 to the Nevada Southern Music Fund for the Sunday Music Matinees; and the painting of Beauregard in the jump circle in the gym.

The Executive Committee also fostered the idea of encouraging students to go to Reno to attend the Nevada Southern-Reno basketball game; it planned University Day (and the football game between the freshmen and upperclassmen — the first of its kind); it sponsored the book drive for the Peace Corps; it sent four delegates (Jessica Sledge, Lyle Johnson, Phyllis Segal, and Margo Bartlett) to the Model United Nations at San Diego; it sponsored the Cotillion; and it arranged for and publicized the NASA assembly. The Committee also requested a free hour for next year; the office has set up the tentative fall schedule to allow for a free hour on Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m.

Also aiding in the student government was the Senate, whose major accomplishments of the year include the revision of the constitution (still in process), the origination of the idea of publicizing NSU throughout Clark County, and holding joint chairmanship of NSU's Heildorado float with the freshman class. Senators for 1961-62 were: Dalene Sinderson and John Chadwick, freshmen; Ron Stephenson and Bill Walker, sophomores; and Dan Porter and Dominick Daileda, upperclassmen.

The Election Committee, headed by Ellen Siegel during the first semester and by Ralph Conrad, second semester, handled the senate and student body elections for the year.

In charge of the nine dances held this year, plus the Rebel Roast, was the Social Committee; George Hoover served as chairman for both semesters.

The Pep Commission was responsible for the Hobo Holiday and the Pajama Rally, and for the selection of NSU's five cheerleaders (Vonne Stout, Binnie Syde, Judy Plant, Judie Walker, and Susie Brown). Norm Johnson served as chairman throughout the year.

Approving the constitutions of three campus organizations this year (on joint approval of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities) was the Student Committee on Student Activities, headed by Jerry Anderson. Those organizations whose constitutions were approved by this committee are Nu Sigma Upsilon, Deseret Club and Sigma Theta Chi.

Responsible for the publicity of CSNS on-campus activities and for the yet-in-process publicity of NSU throughout Clark County, was the Public Relations Committee; Vronna Harris served as chairman.

AWS, whose president was Jessica Sledge, sponsored the annual open house tea and the Sweetheart Dance. It also chose and a girl-of-the-month every 30 days.

The Rebel Yell, headed by editor-in-chief Sheri McDonald during the second semester and by Marshall Stout, first semester, had a successful year composed of 13 issues of the newspaper. This year it was a "full-time" paper, with at least one issue every month.

Indeed, the 1961-62 school year has been a fruitful one. Nevada Southern can be proud of its accomplishments.

ODE TO A CRITIC

The man in the moon smiles at us,
 And never seems to pause.
 He smiles at all,
 Rich or poor, sensitive or apathetic.
 Is he smiling at clowns
 In a dramatic comedy of farce?
 Are we that amusing
 In our struggle of today?
 Alas, will this smile be timeless?
 To this noble man of earthen head,
 I say, "Bravo!"

ATTEND THE

Lois Arends Is Busy Treasurer

One of the hardest working people on the NSU campus this year has been Lois Arends, CSNS Treasurer.

All the CSNS officers agree that the job of treasurer is the most demanding, yet Lois has so cheerfully assumed her duties that no one realizes how very time-consuming this job is.

For instance, everytime a bill has to be paid (and there are many) Lois must get three forms signed by three different people. Well, this doesn't sound too difficult, but, these signatures have to come in a certain order. This entails a great deal of running here and there.

The treasurer is also subjected to many plaintive pleas of "why can't my budget be increased?" etc.

Lois has done a wonderful, yet many times thankless job this year. On behalf of the CSNS officers and the student body, the Rebel Yell wishes to thank Miss Arends for a job well done.

$ SUMMER JOBS $

Big Top Associates, Inc. is interested in hiring a number of college students for summer employment. Applicants will receive an aptitude test and personal interview to determine which positions they are best qualified for. For example you might find yourself doing telephone survey work and pick up valuable experience in interviewing people. Or, perhaps, your test results might qualify you for the sales department with the choice of working on salary or commission and the benefits of training in salesmanship and corporate finance. At any rate you will spend a pleasant and profitable summer, have the opportunity to win a bonus scholarship, and, perhaps, qualify for part time work during the next school term. Call RE 3-2002 for appointment.

Newmanites travelled to Arizona.

Lovely Vonne Stout, accompanied by Susie Brown and Dalene Sinderson, reigned as Sno-Ball Queen at the first formal dance of the year. The place: Flamingo Hotel; the date: December 22; the time: 8:30; the results: grand!

And suddenly the semester was at an end. Tears of relief (and grief), a wonderful trip to Reno, a few days of sheer delight — and suddenly a new semester commenced.

Sweethearts made their way to the Municipal Country Club and danced to commemorate Valentine's Day. They chose Steve Rimmel and Juanita Houchen as their Reigning Royalty and bestowed laurels, too, upon John Chadwick and Nancy Fredericks, George Hoover and Vronna Harris.

Our Basketball team concluded its successful season on February 24, and Nu Sigma Upsilon honored the players at a dance. Before we could catch our breath, it was March 16 and St. Patrick's Day. That meant a dance by Sigma Gamma and the coronation of Dan Porter as "Most Preferred Man."

The year's end was in sight, but activities and spirits marched on. Baseball fever started to catch on rapidly. Sigma Theta Chi sponsored an April Fools Dance, raffled a portable radio, and made Norman Johnson their "April Fool."

What better way to end the year than with the lavish Cotillion, "Southern Lavendar?" Our annual spring formal was larger and lovelier than ever. "Live" music, outstanding entertainment, beautiful decorations — to set the perfect mood for crowning attractive Joan Seaman, Princesses to the coveted royal Crown were Mary Lou Savage and Dalene Sinderson.

So, the year comes to an end — as all good things must. In 1961-62 we took great steps in Nevada Southern's progress. Those who return will strive for improvement in the future. And those who never return will remember fondly and with growing pride.

TACT

Two strangers stood on a Bucharest street corner admiring an automobile, parked at the curb.

"My, that's a handsome car," said the first. "The Russians certainly know how to make an automobile."

"That's not a Russian car," replied the second man. "Don't you recognize an American car when you see one?"

The first man smiled with relief. "Of course I do. I knew it was an American car, but I didn't know who you were!"

NETTERS TAKE FIRST

In their first year of league competition the NSU tennis team wrapped up its season with seven victories and one loss to take first place in their league.

The one loss the team suffered was its opening game against Western High. However, after the first game, the Netters went on to take the next seven games thus capturing first place.

This year the team played only the local high schools, but next year competition will include other universities.

The team will be given a trophy which will go to the school. Congratulations should be extended to the team members: Wiley Stice, Dave Davenport, Roy Turner, Don Helm, George Lubnis, Jim Dunks and Larry Latham.

The Coach's Message

With the ending of the school year I think it is only fitting that I should make a statement on behalf of the athletic department concerning the athletic activities this past year.

Without going into all the objectives of our program, I feel that the past season offered both basketball and baseball in the perspective that we should consider. It appears to me that the basketball season showed more student and spectator interest than we had at any previous time. I am certain that there was more healthy enthusiasm this past season than in any of the previous years. Both the members of the team and the coaching staff of the school are grateful that we have people who are interested and enthusiastic. Although we did not win all of our games we are proud that we had a representative team which is befitting of the school that we have.

Now that we have ended our baseball season we feel the same way even though we did not win more games than we lost. We still feel that overall the great effort was made by both the students and the faculty to present an athletic program which fits into our total school program.

Looking forward to next year, I think we again will be represented in both basketball and baseball. We hope to develop our intramural program so that it will include more participation in areas such as volleyball, basketball, tennis and golf. We are encouraged by the fact that our tennis team this year was a first place team in the local prep league sponsored by the Clark County School District. We are also proud of our golf team which won more than half of their matches.

Once again I would like to say that I am grateful to the participants, students and faculty members who have helped us in our achievements.

Michael Drakulich

NSU Loses to Reno

The University of Nevada, Wolf Pack made a clean sweep of its three game baseball series with Nevada Southern on the week-end of May 4-5, with strong 10-0, 10-0, 11-7 scores.

Renwick was heading toward his third shut out of the season, for Nevada, when Joe DeMarco got a single and the only hit for the Rebs to loosen the bolt on a perfect game.

Don Banta, who hurled the second game of the series, duplicated the score of the night before and pitched a two hitter. Banta struck out eleven men and had a no-hitter going into the fifth inning where Bill Miller got a single. The second hit came in the seventh when Jerry Goyenche hit a double for Nevada Southern.

Goyenche carried the big stick in the third and last game of the series between the north and south, even though he was the losing pitcher. Jerry struck the big blow of the seventh inning, when NSU tallied five runs, on his bases loaded triple.

Hank Ebbert and Scott Nielson were the hotshots for Nevada with each getting three hits and scoring three runs in the second game. Nielson was the series hitting star, he collected nine hits in sixteen trips to the plate throughout the series for a .562 average.

This three game series was the second meeting between the Reno and Las Vegas camps in major sports. The first being two games of basketball held at Reno. A very stimulating and healthy relationship is bound to be derived from the interscholastic competition between the two schools.
