Orientation Set for Jan. 25-27; "Clean Slate" Offered to Rebels

Feature Ed Receives Note Of Honor

The University of Nevada will be represented this year on Mademoiselle's national College Board by Joyce Horvat, a freshman at the University.

The annual College Board Competition is designed for women students with talent in art, writing, fashion, merchandising, promotion, or advertising. Each board member was selected on the basis of an entry that showed her interest and ability in one of these fields.

As a College Board member, she will report news from her college to Mademoiselle, and she is eligible to compete for one of the twenty Guest Editorships that will be awarded by the magazine in May. To win one of the top prizes, each member must submit a second entry to show her specific aptitude for magazine work.

The twenty College Board members who win Guest Editorships will be brought to New York City for the month of June to help edit, write, and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1963 August college issue. They will share offices with the magazine's editors, advise the staff on campus trends, interview well-known artists and writers, and represent the magazine on visits to publishing houses, advertising agencies, and stores.

They will also be photographed for the college issue, and will be considered for future staff positions with Mademoiselle and other Conde Nast publications. (As a special bonus, the 1962 Guest Editors were flown to Rome, where they spent five days attending fashion showings, visiting art galleries, sight-seeing, and going to parties in their honor.)

Oriental Report

It has come to the attention of The REBEL YELL that the City Recreation Department is offering two courses in Chinese, one in Mandarin and one in Cantonese. The date for this class to begin is Jan. 19, 1963, Saturday, from 1:30 to 3:30. The place is Sunrise Acres School's multi-purpose room. The course fee is $5.00 for brushes and textbooks.

For enrollment and further details, call Mrs. Lillie Fong at DU 4-4364.

SNOBALL QUEEN - JANE SINE

"Cool" Queen Crowned; Secretary Earns Title

Nevada Southern's darling little Student Senate Secretary, Miss Jane Sine, was recently crowned Sno-Ball queen for the 1962 dance.

A junior, majoring in Business Administration, Jane works part-time at the Wells-Cargo purchasing department. Jane carries a 3.36 grade average.

Among her many activities, she holds the position of president of Nu Phi Mu, a chapter

Young Demos Hear D.A.

Mr. Ted Marshall, District Attorney-elect, recently spoke to the Young Democrats' Club of Nevada Southern. Mr. Marshall told the large gathering of students and faculty about the means of winning a campaign. He stated that the most important fact in winning a campaign these days is money. Mr. Marshall then proceeded to explain the break-down of facts on how the money is spent. It all added up to quite an expense when the campaign drew to a close.

This talk by Ted Marshall was a first in a series presented by the Young Democrats. As often as possible, outstanding political figures in Clark County and Nevada will be asked to talk to the organization.

of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Last year she held the position of vice president for that organization. She is also the Secretary-Treasurer of Griffith Methodist Church youth group.

Having lived here in Las Vegas for the past five years, she graduated from Rancho High School, where she was active in the Thespians, holding the title of president of the club.

Miss Sine loves to play pinocle, especially at Pierre's, and also enjoys reading, watching television, and spending money!

When asked how she felt upon her announcement as Sno-Ball Queen, she replied, "Very surprised, and very thrilled!"

★ ★ ★ Studios Resolutions Accompany New Year

By JOYCE HORVAT

Just think . . . for the seniors, there is only one semester left (if they're lucky) and only seven more for the freshmen! If you stop and think how quickly the first semester flew by, and which, we are told, is the most difficult and longest for the frosh, the next ones will go even more quickly.

Perhaps the first half of the school year has not fared well for you. If this is the case, with the new year just beginning and a new schedule in operation, you should be in good shape come January 31. Think of the new teachers and the new students that you will meet. The curriculum will change to some degree and conditions won't be as bad as you thought. Besides, the weather will be getting warmer . . . bermudas will be on the march again . . . spirit will improve . . . and your outlook will be brighter.

Prize Committee Announces Award Qualifications

The Southern Regional Division Committee on Scholarships and Prizes invites applications from currently matriculated students for the scholarships described below.

Scholarship application blanks can be obtained from the Admissions Office or from the chairman of the Scholarships and Prizes Committee. Applications should be returned to the Chairman before January 30.

Recipients of awards can expect to receive the stipends six weeks after registering for the second semester.

The scholarships to be awarded are: The California Club Annual Scholarships, established in 1962 and consisting of $500 each. These two annual awards for merit are to be granted to students in full time residence at the Southern Regional Division of the University of Nevada to encourage pride in high scholarship. A recipient may continue to receive the scholarship during his residence at Nevada Southern provided that he continues to fulfill the requirements described below and the general requirements of the institutions.

1. If an incoming freshman applies, he must have an average high school scholastic record of B or higher. If not an incoming freshman, he must have an overall college grade point average of 2.75 or better.

2. He must be enrolled for a minimum of twelve semester credits at Nevada Southern.

3. He must be of good character and conduct.

The Las Vegas Business and Professional Women's Club scholarship, established in 1958, is worth $275.00 and the requirements are:

1. He must be a sophomore, registered for at least twelve semester credits.

2. He must have a scholastic average of 2.60 or better.

3. He must be in need of financial assistance.

Another thought to dwell upon for the new year is that by attending college for even one year, you are placed in the rank and file of the higher-educated man. The next semester is worth sticking out. No one ever loses by learning.

In addition, since N.S.U. now possesses the cylinder-shaped "library from the heavens" and the "winningest" college basketball team in the state, how could anyone give up and call it quits? If the faculty is willing to put up with us, we should most definitely pick up the pieces from last semester and continue our education.

If you stop to think about what you would be doing if you quit college, chances are you'd change your mind. You would soon miss campus life, both socially and academically, when you entered the work-world. Yes, you'd probably even miss studying!

Now that the new year is in full swing, think seriously about your education. Quitting school now is not worth the regrets you'll have later. Remember the old saying by Confucius: "When student throw away book, student throw away life."

The Open Forum

Dear Editor,

At two of our recent games I heard many comments concerning the Pep Commission. Since the Pep Commission is one of the main promoters of school spirit, I feel that it is my duty as Sports Editor to bring some of these questions before this body and before the general public.

There are many people who are concerned about the shortness of the cheers and why there are not more of them. A number of other people are left in the dark concerning who is playing on the Junior Varsity team, due to the fact that this information is not included on the programs.

Some students wish to know why a Pep Club has not, as yet, been formed to provide an organized cheering section to back the cheerleaders. Others are annoyed by the fact that cheerleaders are not provided for the J.V. games and have hinted that the regular cheerleaders should lead cheers for these games or have special "assistants" to act as J.V. cheerleaders.

The fact that the J.V.s play varsity high school teams which bring large cheering sections makes this school look bad when games are played here and the home team is not supported.

Quite a few students are distressed at the air of secrecy involved in the selection of cheerleaders. Who selects them? On what basis are they selected?

The above material seems to be of interest to a majority of the students here at N.S.U. Therefore, I would be delighted to print an answer to these inquiries if the Pep Commission would care to submit them to me.

Sincerely,
Bob Pardini

Dear Miss Horvat:

I think your idea for improving the cheering at basketball games is excellent. I hope, if it is successful, you will devote some attention to the games of the Junior Varsity.

The last time I had an opportunity to attend one of their games I noticed that there was almost no student support (and I don't mean to imply that the faculty was there in great numbers).

These young men work hard and play a good game and I think they need our support.

Very sincerely yours,
Jerry W. Dye
Librarian

Dear Editor:

I would like to compliment the REBEL YELL staff on the tremendous improvements that it has made this semester. I personally feel that the students really appreciate the "bigger and better" paper, even though they don't always have a way of showing it.

Keep up the good work and you're sure to be rewarded!

Sincerely,
A Reader

'Requiem'

Rehearsals for Mozart's "Requiem" began yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Howard Chase, who is directing these rehearsals, has announced that anyone wishing to participate in the performance of this great choral work should attend rehearsals which are held each Thursday night at 8:30 at the First Presbyterian Church located at West Charleston and Desert Lane.

No date, as yet, has been set for the performance.

NEVADA SOUTHERN TELL TALES

The following article has been reprinted from the University of Nevada newspaper, the Sagebrush, Volume XXXVI, No. 26 of Friday, April 7, 1961. (Any similarities are purely coincidental.)

The Great Sagebrush Hassle

"FREEDOM OF THE PRESS," "hypocrisy," "incompetence," "dirty politics," "witch hunt," "censorship," "slander": these are the emotion-charged words that have been flying loosely around campus during the Great Sagebrush Hassle.

THE OPPONENTS have now retired to their corners, with ASUN President Ben Echeverra and a number of think-alikes the apparent winners.

ALL IN ALL, it has been an unfortunate, spiteful little mess. IT NOW SEEMS CLEAR the student senate and publications board were used as weapons by certain student leaders in their personal battle with ex-Sagebrush editor D. A. O'Donnell. The publications board has the power, given to it by the students in the school constitution, to remove an editor. But it seems that in the celebrated O'Donnell case, there were neither sufficient grounds for removal nor were the opinions of the majority of students considered.

BUT WHO WAS RIGHT in this case? And who won the battle? There is one answer to both questions: no one.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, just about everyone was wrong and everyone lost. Dean of Men Jerry Wulk made his mistake when, it appears, he used the power of the administration to force Mr. O'Donnell to back down after he published editorial criticism of the dean. The administration erred in calling a conference which censured the former editor, instead of carrying the matter to the proper authority, the student publications board.

THE PUBLICATIONS BOARD lost no time in exhibiting its lack of common sense as it voted to allow Mr. O'Donnell to keep the title of editor, but not the right of editorial comment. The senate saw the stupidity of this decision and, on the ex-editor's appeal, rejected it. Instead, in a circus-trial that could have been staged by Fidel Castro, the senate recommended his complete removal. The vote was close, with several female senators whispering frantically among themselves as the roll call slowly reached them: "How shall we vote?"

THEN BACK TO THE publications board which adopted the senate recommendation. Mr. O'Donnell, of course, made his share of errors. His big mistake was his intemperate printed tirade against Mr. Wulk which gave many persons the chance they were looking for to bounce him out on his typewriter.

WHO WON the battle? No one.

MR. WULK AND THE administration lost respect in the eyes of the student body. The publications board won a personal battle, but may lose in the long run by discouraging capable and spirited editors, and encouraging future board members to vent their personal wrath through their position on the board. The former editor lost a battle and a job, but the students of the University of Nevada lost more than anyone else. First, they lost a good editor. And they also lost their representation in student government when their so-called representatives forgot them, and voted out of personal animosity toward Mr. O'Donnell.

THIS ENCOUNTER WOULD have ended much differently had it been conducted on the basis of objective facts and in the best interest of the university.

UNDER A NEW EDITOR — who has received the publications board's promise of full editorial freedom — the Sagebrush now pledges to support any efforts by Mr. O'Donnell to reverse the board's irresponsible and unthinking decision. A petition circulated on campus might show that campus sentiment favors the principle of free comment and criticism in the Sagebrush against the uncalled-for firing of an outspoken editor. Another petition might indicate that students would favor taking the power to fire an editor out of the hands of the publications board and making it dependent on a student body vote.

BUT FOR NOW it looks like Mr. Echeverra and his sympathizers have come out on top.

APPARENTLY justice doesn't always triumph.

The Future

Your future, my future, our future.
Whose future is it? Yours? Mine? Ours?
Does the future belong to the nations?
Does the future belong to the newborn?
Does the future belong?

A seed cast to the earth — is fostered,
Is nourished — grows — buds — blooms —
The strength of turbulent air — forceful —
Pushes, pulls, uproots — destroys.
Is it so?

The strength of turbulent air — forceful —
Pushes, pulls — ineffective in its efforts.
Is it so?

You make it yours;
I make it mine;
We make it ours.
It is so.

In Conclusion...

By BILLIE BARHORST

Last but not least! This keynote phrase may easily be used to sum up this issue of The REBEL YELL. It is the sincere wish of the staff that this final issue of the semester will, in essence, measure up to the qualities set forth in previous publications. The goals to be reached in order to accomplish this task are high. They have been boosted with each consecutive periodical.

It is my contention that those responsible for the many improvements have not been duly rewarded in a fitting manner. Let us, here and now, set out to do just that.

Beginning in September, we were met with the undying, faithful efforts of Sherri McDonald, who had stood by The REBEL YELL for the past year, never allowing it to fade out of the campus scene. Her constant vigor and hard work molded a newspaper of respect. She gave birth to a future of growth and improvement.

Another individual who deserves much credit for hard work, diligence, and a ready smile in the face of deadlines was Mary Lou Savage. Her consoling attitude as chief "peacemaker" helped to overcome many misunderstandings.

The main asset to The YELL, however, has been our previous editor, Jay Tell. Through his unequalled journalistic know-how and past experience, he helped to elevate it to a rank of "superior" among college newspapers. He expanded its size as well as its quality and made great strides in a few short months. His plans for future issues, if allowed to be completed, would most definitely have resulted in the production of the best college newspaper in the entire nation. Anyone doubting the validity of this statement need only ask and details will be readily supplied.

Aside from all indebtedness and gratitude, however, we are most definitely confronted with a grave problem. Perhaps some individuals do not realize this, but that does not make it any less unreal. The future of The REBEL YELL is at stake! It matters not where the fault lies, for it is surely not because of any one individual or organization. Conflict, misunderstanding, pride, and stubbornness are all vices which have aided in bringing about the end result. Only time will heal the wound which has been inflicted.

If, by standing up for what we believed to be right, we have hurt anyone's feelings or stepped on anyone's toes, thus causing poor relationships, I would like to take this opportunity to patch up these sore spots. To any person or persons who have found themselves on the oppositional force of our editorials, I simply say, "Kindly accept our apologies for printing the truth." We have come to find out that this should never be done, at least not where popularity polls are taken. However, being in strong disagreement with this theory, we regretfully say that several names will soon be diminishing from the list of staff members. Freedom of the press has become a meaningless expression.

The sad thing about this entire mishap is that The YELL could have really become something great. Having achieved a regular publication every two weeks was, in itself, a beginning of much greater accomplishments.

Whoever takes charge in the next few weeks will have a whole semester to prove a point. I sincerely wish the future editor and his staff all the luck in the world, as well as the ability to know what is right and to stick by it!

THE ADVENTURES OF MISS FASHION FLAIR

By JOYCE HORVAT

While I was shuffling through The REBEL YELL bin in the Student Government room one day I happened to come upon the following bit of fashion-wise material. It has a real thought embedded in it and merits your reading.

WHO ARE YOU?

In Europe, during the Middle Ages, travel was uncommon because of many difficulties involved. One of these difficulties was language differences. Dialects were so numerous and varied that communication was impossible in many cases between people in towns ten miles apart.

The difficulties experienced in travel so many centuries ago have been overcome and forgotten by most men. Languages have been standardized and communication is now common between nations. In our own country, there exist no significant difficulties concerning language differences from state to state, or city to city, or person to person.

I am confident that students at N.S.U. encounter very few difficulties in understanding each other. They have readily accepted the standardization of our language—in fact, they have expounded upon it. Other standardizations have been accepted in the same manner, if not more equally.

Touring N.S.U., one does not see students or individuals, but clusters of puppets—mouths that repeat similar movements, clothes that appear to be painted on because of unchanging styles, colors, and labels; hairpieces plucked from the assembly line and glued upon empty heads—puppets, dangling from strings, manipulated so that one will not interfere with the other.

There are many who cannot be categorized accordingly. These know who they are.

Others will be offended. Do they know who THEY are? The rest will not take notice—WE know who THEY are.

Those of you who KNOW who you are, and those of you in doubt—get out the scissors!

Get the message?

Smart coeds—in this, the last Fashion Flair article of the semester, and the first of the new year—take heed and always remember: BE YOURSELF!

On The Social Side

By "YEBEL REEL"

Quite a list of social events decks the calendar for all Nevada Southern students come next semester. The next really big affair will be the Sweetheart Ball in February. Then in April comes the St. Patrick's Day Dance, where the color of green always predominates. In April we find the Confederate Cotillion, proven always to be one of the biggest social events at N.S.U.

Student-body elections are also held in April. Then in May comes the long-awaited year-book party. For further information concerning these events to come, watch for the next editions of The REBEL YELL.

Now that basketball season is in full swing, the weekends can be put to good use by attending the games. Even though the Rebel Varsity is winning, support shouldn't slack off. Attendance at the games isn't what it should be and if you haven't tried going to one, do and you'll probably be pleasantly surprised!

If you're one of those persons who is constantly looking for somewhere to go or for something to do, take a check with the various organizations around school that are always planning events of interest. I'm sure that if you looked hard enough you could find something to your liking. Try the sororities and fraternities first; if you make no progress, glance through The REBEL YELL in the club section for the many planned events. Good luck!

THE RED HAT

On December 15 the Newman Club held its annual trip to the mountains. Those who went said they enjoyed the trip immensely. The next day, Dec. 16, was the last regular meeting of the semester. The meeting was preceded by caroling practice in preparation for Christmas.

On Saturday, Dec. 22, the club held its annual children's Christmas party. The affair, under the direction of Bob Pardini and Donna DeVoe, was made a success through the efforts of Linda McQuade, Bob Lee, Jay Rodriguez, Toni Miller, and Leonard Yelinek.

Dec. 23 was the club's annual caroling party. They visited and sang at two of the local old folks homes. The evening was a success due mainly to the efforts of Donna DeVoe, our choir chairman.

Dec. 30 was the club's second annual New Year's Dinner. The food was great and everyone seemed to have a good time. Sylvia Karas handled the affair.

Then on Jan. 6, a Day of Recollection was held to wind up the semester in a religious manner.

Forthcoming events for the Newmanites: bowling on Jan. 13 at 11:00 at the Las Vegas Bowl; a Cardinal Newman weekend, Feb. 1, 2, 3, and a party in honor of the new members on Feb. 9.

Sahara Lounge Show Reviewed

By MIKE BERRY

Louis Prima, Gia Malone and Sam Butera and his Witnesses are, in this writer's humble opinion, one of the greatest acts to ever compliment the Casbar at Hotel Sahara.

Louis, having just recently discovered Gia, now sings, acts, dances, and clowns like a young man with all the vitality in the world.

Gia seems to provide an inner sparkle to the show—sort of a glowing warmth that abides in the performance of all the members. A warmth spreads quickly throughout the audience, one which only comes from a group of people having a genuine good time.

Sam Butera has new zest and vitality, too. Along with one of the greatest saxophones in show business today, Sam brings comedy and a few touches of riotous ad lib to the act, providing some exhilarating entertainment.

Political Science Poll Reveals NSU Students

An interesting poll was conducted recently in the political science classes of Mr. Sheldon dealing with a series of questions based on the article found in the PHI DELTA KAPPAN magazine's October 1962 issue, available in the library.

The poll consisted of comparing the attitudes of 51 Nevada Southern students with the national average on controversial questions. A sample of the 29 questions asked are:

- Newspapers and magazines should be allowed to print anything they want except military secrets.
N.S.U. agreed 22%—disagreed 75%—undecided 3%
Nation agreed 29%—disagreed 51%—undecided 19%
- In peacetime, do you think that members of the Communist Party in this country should be allowed to speak on the radio?
N.S.U. agreed 31%—disagreed 55%—undecided 14%
Nation agreed 18%—disagreed 63%—undecided 16%
- Some religious groups should not be allowed the same freedoms as others.
N.S.U. agreed 10%—disagreed 86%—undecided 4%
Nation agreed 4%—disagreed 90%—undecided 5%
- Pupils of all races and nationalities should attend school together everywhere in this country.
N.S.U. agreed 77%—disagreed 14%—undecided 9%
Nation agreed 67%—disagreed 32%—undecided 1%

Mr. Sheldon, in his opinion based on the results of this poll, feels that the students of Nevada Southern tend to be more "restrictive" in some areas than the national average. This is an interesting result indeed!

Stairs, Cars, Dust; Improvement A Must

By JOYCE HORVAT

"Hey, wait for me."

"No, I can't. If I go up these steps slowly, I'll never make it at all."

Woe is the sight to see some poor soul laboriously trudging up the steps in Grant with books piled three feet high. It's one minute to 10; he makes the first flight . . . then the books go. He kneels down quickly and grabs the loose papers, pencils, etc., then proceeds to ascend the next flight. Meanwhile, the time is marching away. Ah, he made it. Now to the door, quick! Oh no, the wind is blowing so hard and the books are piled so high that as the bell sounds, our man about school trips wholeheartedly into the classroom, no longer carrying the books. Then from the far-off depths of the class, some wise-guy hollers out, "How was your trip, Mac?"

But, do not be discouraged by the above-mentioned tale of woe. How about the trusty beings who have classes in the gym or Science-Tech every day? It isn't too bad on nice calm days when one isn't in a hurry. But, you guessed right, when you have what is known as a "problem." The mad dash is on! It seems as though every bit of extraneous paper ranging from candy bar wrappers to discarded "cheat sheets" manages to slap you in the face. That is not all. One must also contemplate the rocks-in-the-shoes, dirt-in-the-mouth, and an all-around feeling of "Help! Where am I?"

While the topic of campus horrors is in process, let us not forget the parking situation. Instead of calling it the parking lot, reference from now on will be to the parking "plot," for it seems that the idea of whoever gets there first gets the space—campaign is now on! This sounds reasonable and fair, but there are the pre-dawn early birds that are too lazy to walk a mile or two. Getting up at dawn seems to be worth the effort.

If you are plagued by one of the three menaces mentioned, don't give up the ship. Nevada Southern is still growing and plans in the future may call for an elevator in Grant, a glass-enclosed escalator to the gym and that time we'll all be so rich that we'll be driven to school by a chauffeur, thus eliminating the parking problem all the way around. Here's hoping . . .

LAST DAY

All undergraduate, matriculated students are reminded that today is the final day for obtaining their advisor's approval of next semester's schedule.

If you have not yet done so, you may pick up a form in either the Registrar's office or the new library.

Trop Country Club to Be Site of Dutch Luncheon

An invitation has been extended to all teachers, administrators, and students of Nevada Southern to attend an important meeting Saturday, Jan. 19, 1963 on the improvement of the teaching of English, elementary arts, foreign languages and allied subjects. This meeting will take place on N.S.U.'s campus. The chief features of this meeting will include, in the morning session, an address by Dr. G. Robert Carlsen, president of the National Council of Teachers of English; and lively enlightening group discussions built around common problems and significant trends in the teaching of English, language arts and foreign languages. There will be discussion groups for various levels and areas of teaching.

After an informal Dutch luncheon, at the Tropicana Country Club, the afternoon sessions will begin with an address by Walter Van Tilburg Clark, noted author of the "Ox Bow Incident," "The Track of the Cat," and "The City of Trembling Leaves."

The day's meeting will conclude with a no-host social hour in the lounge of the Tropicana Country Club. All of the events of the meeting, with the exception of the luncheon and the social hour, will be held on campus. A registration fee of $1.00 will admit one to all or any part of the entire day's program. Refreshments will be served in both morning and afternoon sessions.

Further information can be obtained from Dr. J. R. Dickinson, Executive Secretary, NSC-TEFL, 4505 Maryland Parkway,

REGENTS APPROVE PROGRAM ;$339,375 TECHNICAL SCHOOL

On Friday, November 30, the University Board of Regents held a meeting and approved a post high school technical institute program. The Board will ask the next state legislature for $339,325 to finance the program.

The proposed technical institute will educate persons to assist professional personnel in many fields of industry. A spokesman stated that it would not be a trade school, but its objectives would be to place graduates of the two or three year course in a position somewhere between the professional employee and the skilled worker.

A young lady who had been going out with a young man for more than a year was asked by her parents what she thought his intentions were. "I'm not sure," she replied. "He's been keeping me pretty much in the dark."

YEAR ENDS IN CONSOLATION

ON THE SPORTS BEAT

By BOB PARDINI
— SPORTS EDITOR —

The end of the full semester is here, but the athletic side of campus life is in full swing.

We have an exceptionally good basketball team this year. The Rebel varsity now has a ten and two record after splitting last weekend's games. The first two road games of the season were played last weekend. The Rebels won the first game by defeating Arizona State for the first time on their campus, 85 to 73. The next night we received an upset at the hands of Grand Canyon College.

Two days of infamy were December 18 and 19. On these two days, the Rebel Varsity took on and defeated their arch rivals, the mighty Wolves of the Reno campus. This year marked the second annual meeting of the two teams. The Reno campus is a four-year school that has, for some time, been playing some of the top basketball teams in the nation. Defeating Reno did not hurt our school's standing one bit.

On Feb. 2 we play Los Angeles State which is currently ranked as one of the top small college teams in the nation. If we can beat L.A. State we may be able to gain national recognition.

The Junior Varsity has been doing pretty well lately. At the last report, they had won six straight.

Soccer season is finally getting underway. There will be a game this Sunday at 1:00 p.m. at Hartke Park.

There is a bowling team forming here at the school which will be composed of ten men and five women. If anyone is interested in being on the team, contact either John Herbert, DU 2-3332 or Coach Drakulich. The team will be bowling against the high schools in this area to begin their season.

The Newman club has been bowling other clubs on campus. They bowled and defeated Sigma Gamma fraternity. This Sunday they will bowl Sigma Theta Chi and Nu Sigma Upsilon. The games will be held at 11:00 A.M. at the Las Vegas Bowl. Any club interested in bowling against the Newman Club should contact Mike Barry at MI 2-3215.

We have two excellent boxers attending Nevada Southern this year. They are Al Swerderski and Larry Clark. Al is fighting in the professional middleweight class and Larry is fighting in the amateur lightweight class. Watch these boys!

Wolf Pack Proves Highlight Of Season; Rebels Triumph

By TOM MARTIN

The Rebels now post a 9 win, 1 loss record after 10 games of the 1962-63 season. The Rebs had easy victories over McClellan Air Force Base (74-48), paced by 22 points from Big Silas; and LaVerne College (72-55) led by Don Helm with 22 points; and over Pomona College helped by Gary Tapper with 19 points. The Rebels had to run a little to overcome Grand Canyon College 75-64, being paced again by Gary Tapper with 26 points.

The first Reno game, the Rebels played a cool, hard contest to overcome the Wolf Pack 62-50 as the Dipper Robinson led with 28 points in Reno's losing effort. At one time the Rebels led by a fantastic 21 points. Don Helm with 17 points and Chet Hildebrandt with 18 led the Rebels. The Wolf Pack tied the Rebels only once at 22-all in the first half.

In the second game with the Wolf Pack, the Rebels stunned a packed house as they came back from an eight point deficit in the second half to win 64-54. At one time during the first half the Wolf Pack held a 10-point lead. The Rebels never moved ahead until 6:50 to go, and then moved ahead for good at the four minute mark 49-48, after tying the Wolf Pack four times.

The Rebels, in turn, were stunned as Whittier held on to make the Rebs taste defeat 72-68. The Rebels blew a nine point lead in the last seven minutes, then the Poets moved ahead for the first time with 1:03 to go. Silas Stepp scored 21 points in the losing effort. The Rebels went on to eke out consolation place in the Holiday Classic in a 65-57 overtime victory over Cal Western. The Occidental Tigers held on to take first place in the Classic in a 68-66 double-overtime victory over Whittier's Poets.

The Rebels' winning streak stopped at eight straight, so the Rebels will now try to better their 16-8 record of last year.

Tapper and Stepp lead the scoring in a tight duel for high point honors.

CHET HILDEBRANDT

SILAS STEPP

HANK SENA

★ TEAM TALK ★

In an attempt to bring the Rebels closer to the fans, personality-wise, The REBEL YELL will briefly interview, in the next few issues, a few of the members of the Varsity squad. Beginning this week with three of the first string, we spotlight Chet Hildebrandt, Hank Sena, and Silas Stepp.

CHET HILDEBRANDT

Six foot, 2 inch Chet Hildebrandt first came to N.S.U. from Marshall University, in California. Weighing 175 pounds, he is a first string guard on the Varsity team. His average for ten games is 10.5. He considers Silas Stepp to be the best sport on the team and the easiest to get along with.

Chet graduated from Dominguez High School in Compton, California. He earned letters in tennis, volleyball, baseball, football, and basketball. His high school average for basketball was 33 points per game.

Business administration is his major and psychology is his minor. One of his goals is to manage a hotel.

Chet can often be seen around school with Gary Tapper and Jerry Dick. He is fondly called "Chet the Jet." He likes cashew nuts and candy canes and claims Uncle John's Pancake House as his favorite hangout. He digs the twist, but likes the slow ones, too.

Chet is a great asset to the team which was proven when he was named to the all-tournament team in the Holiday Classic games.

HANK SENA

Hank Sena is a P.E. major at N.S.U. His two minors are history and Spanish. Upon graduation he wants to teach P.E. at Basic High School.

In high school he lettered three years in baseball and basketball and two years in football. During tournament play he averaged 27 points a game.

Hank picked Arlyn Hafen as the best all-around team sport. He likes anything that pertains to athletics.

His opinion of N.S.U. is that it will be the best when it is a four-year college.

SILAS STEPP

Silas graduated from Combs McIntyre High School in Louisiana. In high school he was a three-year letterman in baseball and basketball. He considers sports a necessity.

Silas plays first string center. The big 6'5", 210 pound center is averaging 14.2 points a game. He commented that the Rebels are the best team he has ever played with. Silas' choice for the best team sport was Arlyn Hafen.

Silas is just 19 and a sophomore majoring in mathematics. He's a transfer student from Oak Grove, Louisiana. He considers Nevada Southern "all right" and says that he feels it has many possibilities.

Jay Vees Win Six Straight; Coach Gregory Beams

The "Little Rebels" now have a modest winning streak of their own by winning their last six games. At press time, the Cubs show a record of 7 wins and three losses.

The JV quintet posted easy wins over Las Vegas High, 46-23, and over Basic High, 59-41. At Nellis Air Force Base, the Cubs rolled over the Nellis five 77-59 and at home the JV cagers squeaked by Nellis 64-63 to sweep the fly boys. The "Little Rebels" then easily won their tilts with Lake Mead Base and the LDS 8th ward teams by 72-42 and 74-45 respectively.

In their third game, the JV's walloped a bewildered and befuddled Indian Springs Air Force Base team 104-21. Five JV players scored in the double figures: Peterson, 15; Wright, 14; Winder, 14; McGowan, 11; and Reese, 10. In their fourth game of this season the Rebels blew a 7-point lead as the National Test Site five won a 50-4 decision.

The Cubs' leading scorers are Steve Peterson, Steve Allen, Steve McGowan, and Alan Petty, as coach Gregory can look forward to an excellent season.

"Big Al" Fights His Way to Championship

"Big Al" Swiderski, N.S.U.'s contribution to the professional boxing world, scored what he feels was the most "gratifying" win of his pro career when he beat out a unanimous decision over Lonnie Tolano of the Reno University campus.

This was the second time these two gladiators met, with Tolano winning the first battle by a very close decision. However, Swiderski felt that it was somewhat of a "home town" decision, and demanded a rematch. There was no doubt left in minds that Al Swiderski was the winner of the rematch at Mattisen Hall, by a big majority.

10-Pin Pals Score High; Re-Match Set

The first interorganizational bowling match was held Sunday, Dec. 30.

The Newman Club took on and defeated Sigma Gamma by taking two out of three lines for a 60-pin margin. In the total scores neither club looked exceptionally well. Everyone seemed to have had a bad day. Sigma Gamma reports that they will challenge the Newman Club to a re-match in the near future.

Collegiates Now Able to Apply for A.F. School

Air Force Officer Training School (OTS) is now open for applications from college students up to 210 days before they graduate, MSgt. Donald C. Petersen, local Air Force recruiting representative, announced recently.

Students who will graduate after the Spring term may apply now. Selected applicants will be offered a future class date, subject to the applicant's approval. With the additional time to apply for OTS, student applications and related processing can be completed before graduation.

Through the officer training program of three months' duration, both men and women reach a commissioned status. In many cases trainees successfully completing OTS may enter an aircrew (pilot or navigator) or technical training course if they so desire.

To qualify for OTS, applicants must be between ages of 20½ to 29½ and must be commissioned before reaching their 30th birthday. Those desirous of flying training may apply provided they can be commissioned before reaching their 28th birthday.

More detailed information on the Air Force OTS program may be obtained by visiting Sgt. Petersen at 224 N. 2nd St., Las Vegas, Nevada, or by calling him at DU 2-7520.

Nu Sigma Upsilon Elects Officers, Plan Directory

The pledges of Nu Sigma Upsilon sorority are now an organized group and are very busy working on their numerous projects. Among these are the production of a school directory, to be compiled soon.

Having elected their own officers at a recent meeting, they are: president, Shirley Allen; vice-president, Lonnie Wilson; secretary, Linda Rowel; and treasurer, Iris Fields. President Shirley has announced that the preliminary work is completed and the directory should be on sale soon.

Another major item under discussion among the newly initiated girls is the dance they will sponsor after the Reno basketball game December 19. They are also planning a party for their sorority sisters.

The actual members have also been extremely active lately. They have plans started for a special Christmas party for members, pledges, and guests. Many other activities to promote scholastic, social and service activities for individual girls are also being scheduled.

Fighting Frosh Looks Ahead

Larry Clark, a freshman at N.S.U., is a top-noted amateur fighter. Larry is a lightweight with a 16 win and 3 loss record. Five of these wins were by knockouts and one of the losses was a disputed split decision.

Larry is the 1961 Tri-State Novice Lightweight Champion. The 1962 Tri-State open lightweight champion and the 1962 Air Force Tact Tournament light-welterweight champion. He weighs 139 pounds. He is currently preparing to fight in the Arizona Golden Gloves tournament this month. On Feb. 7, Larry will defend his title here in Las Vegas.

In his last fight, he decided Frank Burke from the University of Arizona. In April he is going to the Pan-American try-outs in Ohio where he hopes to make the team going to Brazil.

Larry's chief ambition is to merit a position on the Olympic team.

Soccer Class Planned; P.E. Credit Given

Soccer season is now well under way. The South Las Vegas team, which is composed entirely of university players, played their first game last Sunday against West Las Vegas.

The senior soccer league, in which we are playing, is at present composed of four teams—North, South, East and West Las Vegas. With a lot of practice and a little luck the South Las Vegas team should hold its own.

John Taylor, an alumnus of the University of Denver, has offered his services as a coach; therefore, our intramural soccer enterprise is finally well on the way.

The games the South Las Vegas team plays will be posted in the breezeway of Grant Hall in advance. The games are open to the public. Anyone interested in watching need not hesitate.

On campus, soccer is being offered along with basketball for P.E. next semester. The course is listed as P.E. 100, Section A.

If anyone is interested in playing soccer, there is room for more players
