C.S.N.S. elections are being held today and tomorrow, April 10-11. Votes can be cast in the Student Government Room, Grant Hall, Room 114. The Election Dance will be held tomorrow night beginning at 8 p.m. in the foyer of the gym at which time the winners of the election will be announced.

The Cotillion and Helldorado Queens will not be announced until the Cotillion on May 3. (See separate story.)

Those running for office are Steve Rimel for president, Jim Beaver and George Hoover for vice-president, Kathy Holland for secretary, Fred Nye for treasurer, and Joe Mike Beard and Larry Kifer for historian.

The candidates for cheerleaders are: Deane Ruffino, Maroline Davis, Nancy Eaman, Iris Fields, Benny Hoffman, Linda Rowe, Gary Dokter, Judy Plant, Kay Cleland, Susie Bown.

Cotillion queen candidates are: Debbie Lichter, Judy Willden, Donna DuCharme, Nancy Smith, Shirley Allen, Mary Lou Savage, and Ann Keegel.

The candidates for Helldorado queen are: Jackie Womble, Kay Cleland, and Karie Logen.

SID WHITMORE SPEAKS TODAY ON CAMPUS

Las Vegas City Attorney Sidney Whitmore, notorious organizer of a 14-member Censorship Committee, will be guest speaker today at the NSU Young Democrats' meeting, according to the club's president, Miss Binnie Syde.

The meeting will be held in Grant Hall, Room 112. There is no admission charge; the public is invited.

Originally formed to remove "pornographic" magazines from local newsstands, the Censorship Committee, under fire from numerous organizations including both daily newspapers, decided to ban a novel Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer." The ban erupted an explosion of attacks from all walks of life, including several Nevada Southern faculty members. The "Tropic" ban was lifted, and the committee reverted back to their "smut" magazine campaign.

Interestingly, not one of the all-women committee members had actually read Miller's famous book. The City Attorney "circled the good parts" of vari-

Massive Protest Rally Here

By JOE GRAZIANO

Enthusiastic students staged an unprecedented protest rally Friday to show disapproval of the State Senate's actions to kill the measure to authorize the sale of $750 thousand in bonds for the construction of dormitories and dining facilities on campus.

An estimated 200 students took part in the demonstrations which kicked off at 5 p.m. and broke up at approximately 1:30 a.m. when Las Vegas police officers broke up the activities, apparently due to the loud four-piece band that was blasting away.

The main demonstrations took place at the Maryland Parkway Circle, with two major demonstration down Fremont Street.

The first one took place at 7 p.m. when some 50 students marched up Fremont carrying banners reading "NSU Needs Dorms," "The End Is Near," "If We Can't Get Our Education Here, We Will Go Out Of State," "Problem, NSU, Ignorance vs Education, Help," and a mock coffin with a sign that read "The Death of NSU."

Cries of "NSU Needs Dorms, Support Your College, Write the Legislature, Support Higher Education and NSU" were heralded in the form of chants by the enthusiastic students.

Later a caravan of automobiles proceeded down Fremont with shouts similar to those used in the earlier parade.

Governor Sawyer and State

Senator Wilson McGowan, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who has approved the Appropriations Bill, were hanged in effigy from the light standards at the Maryland Parkway Circle by the protesting students.

The demonstrations topped a week long organized protest movement which was under the direction of Bill Daley, Student Body Vice-President.

Petitions protesting the actions of the State Senate were circulated around campus drawing some 400 signers. Telegrams were sent out to Senator Alan Bible, McGowan, Sawyer, and President Kennedy.

COTILLION MAY 3

Nevada Southern's formal spring dance, the Confederate Cotillion, will be held May 3, as the original date of April 12 was changed.

The leading social event of the Spring Semester will be held in the Sage Room of the Flamingo Hotel. The dance will begin at 8 p.m.

Don't Forget to Vote

Today you vote. Today you have a responsibility to place those in office whom you consider the best qualified. Personalities I am sure will play a role, but primary consideration should be given to executive ability. If you rely solely upon a person's personality, I am afraid that you may place in office the one least qualified. I am not really worried about the choices you will make. I fear only that you will not make a choice at all. If you do not cast a ballot, you do not have the right to complain about any organization controlling school government.

The candidates now running for office are as follows:

President: Steve Rimel
Vice-President: Jim Beaver, George Hoover
Secretary: Kathy Holland
Treasurer: Fred Nye
Historian: Mike Beard, Larry Kifer
Cheerleader: Deane Ruffino, Maroline Davis, Nancy Eaman, Iris Fields, Benny Hoffman, Linda Rowe, Gary Dokter, Judy Plant, Kay Cleland, and Susie Brown.
Helladorado Queen: Jackie Womble, Kay Cleland, and Karie Loken.
Cotillion Queen: Debbie Lichter, Judy Willden, Donna DuCharme, Nancy Smith, Shirley Allen, Mary Lou Savage, and Ann R. Keegel.

As you can observe, there are only two contested CSNS offices: Historian and Vice-President. Why? I do not know. I can only regret and hope that this poor showing does not reflect the true school spirit of NSU. It is now too late for regrets. It now appears to be fact that the true spirit of the campaigning hinges around the post of Historian and the Vice-Presidency.

I hope that you pay close attention to the qualifications of those running for these two offices.

When and "if" you go to the polls today or tomorrow you will have a choice of approving the new CSNS constitution. I think that it should be ratified. Why? It gives to you, the student, more power in the functioning of student government. The new constitution will be placed on display along with the, I hope now defunct, old constitution.

The basic areas of change in the new constitution are three. (1) Legislative powers defined. (2) The office of CSNS Historian will become the office of Second Vice-President. (3) The Judicial Committee will be given the power to review controversy in interpretation of the constitution and render a decision. Again, I strongly urge the ratification of the new constitution as a means of providing a workable student government.

Voting will take place in the Student Government Room, Room 114 of Grant Hall, today and tomorrow.

Vote, if you care even a little about YOUR school.

'Cow' Tactics Protested

Students at Nevada Southern are in an uproar again. This time we are in protest of the Senate's attempt to kill a bill to finance the building of dormitories and a Student Union Building.

Senate Bill #201 seems to be dying in the Senate Finance Committee. The chairman of this committee, Senator Wilson McGowan, reportedly says, "Building a campus down there would open the doors to the entire world and we are already doing that up here."

It seems to me that most politicians should be interested in the growth of Nevada. If they are, why not open the Southern Nevada campus to the whole wide world? Is Northern Nevada the only area that should grow?

LETTERS

To the

EDITOR

This is being written in response to your article in the "Rebel Yell" of March 27 entitled, "Beware Rebels of Speed — Especially in Boulder City." Living in Boulder City, I consider myself more of an authority of the laws of that oasis than you, sir.

May I inform you that the length of the 20 mph zone on the highway is approximately one mile. This stretch runs right through the business district of town. Going toward Las Vegas, the 20 mph zone gives way to a 30 mph zone that runs for about 3/4 of a mile. Proceeding still farther there is a 45 mph zone that runs for about a hundred yards. From there to the city limits (Railroad Pass) there is no speed limit excepting a "safe and reasonable speed."

Sir, I take offense at your inference that the Police Department of Boulder City is "out" to "get" anyone. May I inform you that the "fuzz" of our fair city are more lenient than need be and they are generally very easy to get along with.

I would like to invite you out to Boulder City for a personal tour of the town. However, I must advise you to get there before 6:00 p.m., because we generally fold up the streets for the night at that time. After your visit I'm sure you'll agree with me when I say that Boulder City is a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want you to live there.

Sarcastically yours,
Bob Jensen

TO THE EDITOR

When small, tightly-knit, "in-groups" are dominant in campus clubs, an unfortunate situation not uncommon on college campuses appears. The number of persons directly affected by this type of oligarchy is usually limited to that organization's membership, a small fraction of the student body.

But when it is obvious that a single interest group is not only dominant, but somewhat totalitarian in the machinery of student government, the only category encompassing the entire student body, we feel it is time for a change.

The lone campus fraternity, Sigma Gamma, has for the past two years soared unchecked to a powerful, dangerous position as unchallenged rulers of the student government.

The Rebel Yell must not only challenge, but disperse what most knowledgeable students & faculty members recognize as a seemingly impregnable group geared toward selfish goals — at extreme expense to others, equally deserving campus organizations. Sigma Gamma's bulldog hold on the CSNS government will be broken, if one candidate emerges victorious in the Student Body Elections this Friday.

Jim Beaver, candidate for vice-president, and Mike Beard, candidate for historian, are the only two candidates who are not affiliated with, or are prospective members of the campus fraternity. But is this sufficient qualification for this institution's second position? We feel it is, and here is why:

The only "qualifications" necessary for good college governmental leaders are a desire to legislatively benefit the entire student body and enough spare time to attend CSNS meetings. Other attributes so frequently promised by campaign posters, "honesty", "devotion", "intelligence", or "I have never been a Communist", are, we feel, possessed in some degree by every candidate in Friday's election. The question may arise, however—"devotion" to whom? A fraternity or Nevada Southern?

PRESENTING NEWS FROM THE NEWMAN CLUB

The Red Hat

BY MIKE BARRY

The convention was a huge success. At its closing ceremonies, the delegates from the attending colleges (Arizona State, Eastern Arizona Junior College, Phoenix College, the University of Arizona, and Arizona State College) gave a standing ovation of approval to Henry Silvestri and his committee for all of their successful efforts. Henry said, "I want to thank each of the many students from NSU who gave so unselfishly of their time (many had less than six hours' sleep over the weekend) to help make the convention successful."

The NSU Newman Club won the trophy for "The most improved club of the year in the Province" (our second straight year!). The NSU chapter also sponsored a resolution during the general session on Sunday, proposing that the Province name be changed to incorporate the area which it covers. The present name is The Arizona Province and we have asked that it be changed to The Arizona-Southern Nevada Province.

New officers elected at Sunday's general session are:

Chairman—Ken Cecil, University of Arizona
1st Vice President—Sylvia Quijada, Phoenix College
2nd Vice President—Diana Conley, Arizona State College
3rd Vice President—Ron Schmidt, Arizona State University
Treasurer—Martha Wolf, Arizona State College

Recording Secretary—Sue Strickland, University of Arizona

Corresponding Secretary—To Be Named

We thank God for the beautiful weather; it was a major factor in the convention success.

On April seventh a retreat was held for all Catholic students at Gorman High Chapel. Those who attended the one-day meeting received a great deal of spiritual information from the Retreat Master, Rev. Charles Reginni.

Bowling every Sunday (except the first Sunday of each month) at the Las Vegas Bowl. Everyone interested is requested to be there by 11:00 a.m. SHARP so that it can determine how many alleys are needed.

Father Caviglia's non-credit theology course continues every Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. in room 112 of Grant Hall. Everyone is invited to attend—if they are serious listeners.

Membership in Newman Club is open to everyone, all year long. If you are interested, call our leader (Leonard Yelinek) at 735-7523, or address a card with your name, street, and phone number to the Newman Club, Box 2333, Huntridge Station, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Desert Club News

BY LORNA THACKE

The Deseret Club is open to anyone who wishes to join; however, it was primarily formed for L.D.S. students. The club is both a religious and social organization.

At their last meeting the Deseret Club planned a social event which will be April 11, at 7:00 p.m., at Flora Foote's house, 1315 So. 17th St. The club members will go bowling and return to Flora Foote's house for a pot luck dinner. After the dinner there will be dancing. NSU students who wish to join the club may come to the party.

The officers of the Deseret

Club for the second semester are Flora Foote, president; Judy Willden, vice president; Diane Renchler, secretary; Lorna Thacke, treasurer; Georgia Stewart, historian. Mr. Hollingsworth, government teacher at Rancho, gives lectures on the Mormon religion.

The Deseret Club meets every Wednesday at 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. Mr. Hollingsworth will give a lecture after the regular business meeting. Everyone who wishes to come be at the Fifth and Sixth Ward chapel, 8th and Franklin, for the weekly meetings.

'MATCHMAKER' ADVANCE TICKETS NOW ON SALE IN GRANT

For the first time in the history of Nevada Southern's Little Theatre, advanced ticket sales will take place. The spring production of the Drama Department, "The Matchmaker," will premiere on April 18 with performances scheduled for the 19, 20, 25, 26, and 27.

A booth is currently located in the breezeway of Grant Hall where tickets may be obtained Monday through Friday between the hours of 9 and 11 a.m. The price for children and all students, including college, is $1.00, for adults $1.50. A booth is also located in the downtown area at Ronzone's between the hours of 12 and 2 p.m. daily, and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Beginning Thursday, April 11, reservations may also be made by calling the NSU switchboard, 736-2222. However, the advanced ticket sale is being held to avoid the usual last minute rush for tickets, which in the past has resulted in people being turned away on the nights of the production.

Individual sales will also be conducted throughout the two weeks prior to the opening of the play. Those students wishing tickets who cannot purchase them from one of the booths are asked to see Mary Lou Savage, Richard Perozzi, Jackie Womble, Kathy Holland, Billie Barhurst, or Joyce Horvat.

"The Matchmaker" promises to be an evening of hilarious enjoyment! This comedy in a farce manner is sure to provide even the most somber individual with an ear-to-ear smile on many occasions. Keep an eye peeled around campus for cast members as they reveal certain characters through partial costumes during the following weeks.

Remember: Advance ticket sales stop on Wednesday, April 24. Get your tickets early.

Candidates List Qualifications For Office Here

(Editor's Note: The REBEL YELL asked all of the candidates running for CSNS office and cheerleader to issue a statement as to their qualifications, and three of the 10 cheerleader candidates responded. The statements appear below.)

PRESIDENT STEVE RIMEL (Unopposed)

Throughout the past year I have participated in Student Government by virtue of my office of Student Senator. I feel that I have worked effectively for the betterment of the school and the betterment of my class.

This year the Senate and the Executive Committee have revised the CSNS Constitution. Because of my work this year I have a working knowledge of this constitution and can offer an effective leadership to make it a working constitution.

The biggest problem we will have to face in the coming year will be the growing student apathy. "Apathy is the curse of democracy." The coming election at NSU will point toward the completion of a pattern of total student apathy. An obvious example of this apathetic feeling is found in the fact that there are three elections, mine included, that are not being contested. The offices of treasurer, secretary, and president will be filled by default. I do not say that the people running are bad candidates, but there should be someone running against them. Even if there were controversial contests for these offices it would probably remain that the electoral turnout would still be light.

The claim that has been heard all too often in the past, i.e., some minority group on campus is controlling the election, will be heard again. As in the past, the group is Sigma Gamma. Their vast numbers (circa 30) will be accused of dominating the election. How is it possible that 30 men can become a majority out of 500 students? Could it be that they are the only ones who take enough interest in their school to go vote? Groups that vote should be commended rather than condemned.

The fact is that the elections are controlled by nothing other than student apathy. It is still a fact that a turnout of 100 per cent of the voting students would have no effect on the outcome in three of the "contests."

I can hear those dissenters saying now, "That's all well and good but what can you do about it." I would like to point to four things that could help to eliminate this general feeling of apathy.

1. When you vote for your officers, vote for the new constitution. This constitution, because it gives the student a greater and more effective voice in the operation of the Student Government, could be a great aid.

2. Support and publicize the activities we have here on campus. If these activities are publicized, we will be able to support them, if not we cannot expect any support.

3. Attempt to stimulate, through the use of the Publicity Committee, an interest in NSU throughout the community.

4. Provide for more energetic leadership within Student Government. Without leadership nothing but apathy can be expected from the students.

Even though I am not opposed in this election I urge you to get out and vote.

SECRETARY KATHY HOLLAND (Unopposed)

I have been nominated for the office of Secretary of CSNS. I have not previously held this position, so I'm not really qualified. However, this doesn't matter, for the "race" for secretary is uncontested. I will fill this office whether I am capable or not. If I prove myself to be completely incapable and if the student body of NSU lacks a competent secretary in '63-'64, well . . . the blame will lie in its own apathetic conduct.

A word of assurance: I have become acquainted with many of NSU's problems through my position of yearbook editor. This school needs an energetic student body (among other things) and enthusiastic leaders. I will try to supply my portion of this enthusiasm (as all of the officers have done this year and will do next year). I, with the others, will do my best to improve aggravating conditions existing at NSU. I will do no better or no worse than anyone can with poor support from the student body.

TREASURER FRED NYE (Unopposed)

No statement.

HISTORIAN LARRY KIFER

I know that many of you do not want to read a long political article, so I will attempt to list my intentions and qualifications in the smallest possible space.

In the past, the job of Historian has been mainly to clip out articles about Nevada Southern and then compile a scrapbook. Next year, however, the office is to rise in importance as the student you elect will also act as a second vice-president.

This now places a little more responsibility on the voter, for he should now look more carefully at each candidate's past experience and how he has previously supported the school.

I can promise you that if I am elected I will continue to work hard along side other CSNS officers to keep Nevada Southern moving ahead.

Now I would like to list a few of my activities and qualifications for the office I am seeking.

As you may already know, I will be a sophomore next semester. During my first year on this campus I have tried to support both the activities of CSNS and the other campus organizations. Along with Iris Fields, I have been the voice of the Freshman Class in the Student Senate this year. I also pledged Sigma Gamma and at present I am an active member of the fraternity. I worked on the planning of University Day celebration and am currently helping plan the float which will represent the entire student body at NSU during the annual Hell-dorado Day's Activities. Presently I am helping draft a new constitution which is being designed to give the students an active and working student government.

You might also like to know if I work and the answer is yes. I work three days a week managing the Huntridge Theatre, a position I have held for the past three years.

In concluding this article I can only say that I sincerely feel that with my past student government experience and proven willingness to work for the betterment and growth of Nevada Southern University I am qualified to hold the office of Historian of this student government and please remember when you cast your ballot I will certainly appreciate your vote.

JOE BEARD

Joe Beard has been a resident of Nevada for one year. He is a freshman at NSU and works part time at the radiation laboratory. His work at the Rad-Lab supplements his major which will be chemistry. Being a full-time student and working part-time does not take all of Joe's time or energy.

Joe feels that every student should take an active part in school government. His desire to do his part in making NSU a better school led directly to his bid for historian in the coming election.

What are Joe's qualifications for a student government office? Well, to name a few: (1) He is honest to himself and others; (2) He is considerate of others; (3) He weighs his decisions carefully before he acts on them; (4) He has had previous experience in serving others through an elective office; and finally (5) He has the capability and the drive needed to fulfill this student elected office.

CHEERLEADERS IRIS FIELDS

If I am elected cheerleader I hope to establish a few activities at NSU which I feel will build up school spirit. I want to promote more interest not only in the basketball games, but also at other school functions, e.g., University Day.

I would also like to organize pep assemblies which I feel would increase the attendance at games. As a Freshman Senator, I have worked for the good of my class and now I would like to work for the whole student body as a member of the cheering squad.

GARY DOKTER

I am very interested in the future of NSU. I feel a very essential part of campus life is developing school spirit. I have done my best to foster this spirit as a promoter at the Reno NSU game last year and as a pep commissioner this past semester.

I believe that I have the enthusiasm and athletic ability necessary to be a cheerleader and I intend to put forth every effort to promote the true spirit of NSU.

DEANNE RUFFINO

Deanne was a cheerleader in her Senior year in High School, this is her first semester at NSU. She feels that by being a cheerleader she can help lift the school's morale and spirit.

Cheerleading candidates who did not submit statements were: Maroline Davis, Nancy Eaman, Benny Hoffman, Linda Rowe, Judy Plant, Kay Cleland, and Susie Brown.

VICE-PRESIDENT JIM BEAVER

According to Beau's Bits, 1962-1963, the office of vice-president centers around three functions: succeeding to office of President if necessary, presiding over the Senate, and being a member of Executive Committee. Implicit in this office is a responsibility to the student body to provide cohesion among the various elements of the CSNS. A candidate for this office must, therefore, be willing to "stick his neck out" in the midst of controversy, for the sake of a unified student government.

As a member of the executive committee and as president of the Senate, the vice-president must be active in finding solutions for the many problems now plaguing the student government. Among the issues which will be of primary concern to me if elected vice-president are the apathetic attitude of the student body toward on-campus activities, the improvement of campus-community relations, the tightening and improving of rules regarding student body elections, and particularly, the final settlement of the problem of on-campus drinking.

While my final point does not fall within the sphere of influence of the CSNS vice-president, it is certain that no statement on student body politics is complete without a harangue on the subject of Voting. You all paid your money for a student body card. It is your money that will be spent next year. I appeal to you all to at least have enough pride in your choice of schools to show up for five minutes to cast a ballot. If you don't, you have no right to complain about the success or failure of campus activities.

PLEASE VOTE!!

Question: Since You Have Attended Both Campuses Of The University Of Nevada, What Disadvantages Or Advantages Do You Hold Over One or The Other?

NANCY EAMAN
Sophomore
College of Education

The facilities of both schools are quite different as well as the relation between students and faculty members. Students at the Southern branch should feel very fortunate that they are able to develop an impersonal relationship with their instructors. This benefits both the student and the teacher.

DICK BOHLMANN
Senior
College of Arts and Science

After attending both universities I can see advantages and disadvantages in both. The university at Reno is in itself a city, and the students seem to be more closely associated with each other and each other's problems. Nevada Southern has a better relationship between the students and professor. This I consider to be a very important advantage.

DAN PORTER
Senior
College of Education

I feel that Nevada Southern is hurt by the lack of a collegiate atmosphere. If the students are given the opportunity to live on campus, their lives will center a great deal on local action, enabling the students to have more interest in school functions. Students have to do something else besides study a hundred per cent; they need a social life which is a vital part of a good collegiate atmosphere.

ANNE SCRITCHFIELD
College of Education

I feel that the Las Vegas campus holds a decided advantage over Reno because of its size. Students are given better individual instruction due to this. However, this size is not an advantage when it limits the number of subjects being offered to the students so that a decent choice cannot be made. Reno has the advantage of subject matter, and the disadvantage of size. We have the opposite.

FRED NYE
Junior
College of Business Administration

The greatest advantage for the student on the Reno campus over the Southern campus is the greater variety of courses and instruction facilities available to the student body. I feel that with the proper budget for Nevada Southern, we could in the very near future surpass Reno in these qualities. There is nothing of superior quality in Reno that Nevada Southern could also not have with the proper budget.

NANCY SMITH
College of Education

Freshmen and sophomores have an advantage at Nevada Southern because they are able to participate in more school activities due to the shortage of upperclassmen. The advantage that the Reno campus has over Nevada Southern is the dormitory situation. At Reno, I was able to meet and live with girls from every part of the country.

Phyllis Segal to Head Nevada Southern Delegation to Model UN at San Jose

By DALE LOWE

Phyllis Segal will lead the NSU delegation to the 1963 Model United Nations session. The session is scheduled for April 24-27 on the campus of San Jose State College.

Other members of the delegation representing Nevada Southern are Binnie Syde, Allan Kilen, Bill Daly, and Phillip Earl. Dr. Frazier will accompany the group as the faculty advisor.

The Model U.N. is composed of delegates from colleges and universities from the Western states. Each school that is invited represents a country in proportion to the school's size and standing. Thus, large universities represent the more powerful countries, while the smaller colleges represent the less powerful nations. The students study the policies of the country they represent, then act within this framework while participating in the session.

This year the Nevada Southern delegation will represent Paraguay. Phillip Earl stated, "if and when we grow to a full university we will represent a larger and more powerful country."

The Model U.N. was started in 1950 at Stanford University. The event has been held each year since on different campuses in the Western states.

The purpose of the Model U.N. is to acquaint students who are interested in government and international relations with the function of the United Nations and the problems it encounters.

25 Vegans and Clark County Residents Attend 'Censor Committee' Meeting

Twenty-five Las Vegas and Clark County residents witnessed the March 27 meeting of the Committee for Decent Literature, otherwise known as the "censor committee."

Sidney Whitmore, the group's leader, told the audience that the local newspapers and the radio and television stations were presenting only one side of the issue. A committee member, Mrs. Zobrich, said that "the censor committee was being censored."

Whitmore said that the committee would not deal with any books, obviously referring to "Tropic of Cancer." He also stated that "the committee would not actually ban magazines, but would make recommendations to the City Attorney as to what is obscene." The City Attorney, Mr. Whitmore, will then take appropriate legal action if the magazines are not removed from the shelves of the newsstands.

The first half of the meeting was open to public discussion. Dr. Gerald Jones, representing the P.T.A., spoke on behalf of the committee. He said that the obscenity contained in the banned magazines, "detract from the dignity of women." He further stated that since obscenity is in the category of defamation (toward women) lewd magazines cannot be protected by the First Amendment.

Abraham Protus, a cab driver, defended the right of free press, and argued that banning magazines could lead to future censorship of books and even personal opinions which might be unpopular.

Jeff Rice, an NSU student, supported Mr. Protus. Rice also made the point that reading pornography might not be a cause of sex crimes, but merely a symptom of this type of mental illness. The student wanted to examine the banned material, but was not allowed to do so because he is not 21.

EDITORIAL

In order to attract industry to Southern Nevada, which seems to be the goal of the present state administration, I would think that having a large full-scale university here would aid that cause. If I were running an industry I would be more inclined to move to a new area if I could count on getting the trained personnel I might need from that area rather than having to send all over the country to get the qualified people I need.

One NSU student, indignant at the Legislature's stand, wrote the following statement:

"It is not death, it is dying that alarms me" (Montaigne) and so be it for Nevada Southern, for is he not dying who cannot conceive of growing?

Nevada Southern was created as a pigmy and so shall it stay, with a mere 80 acres of land. At a speed of 60 miles per hour a person could traverse the complete campus in ninety seconds, and see all there is to see. That small 80-acre campus constitutes one one-hundred-millionth of the land in Nevada, mostly barren desert waste land.

Alaska, with less population than Nevada, was able to supply 2,250 acres of land for its university. Wyoming's university has a main campus of 362 acres, has 5,545 acres of farm land, a stone quarry of 13 acres, controls 108,170 acres in land grants and 225 acres of miscellaneous lands. I wish NSU had just the miscellaneous lands of Wyoming. I would hate to continue the macabre expose of what Nevada thinks of education.

NSU will soon be bordered on all sides by housing tracts and apartments, probably before the next Legislature meets. Then the legislators will have a perfect out, "Nevada Southern has no place to expand."

If the current legislative trend continues, the time for alarm may well be over, for the death will be here.

This article is by no means the sum total of students protesting the current governmental trend.

It is felt by the student body that the university must have dormitories to meet the needs of this fast growing state.

It has been mentioned by some legislators that dormitories would be of no academic help. There are many students now on campus who cannot afford to live in the high price housing areas surrounding the campus.

At home there are countless things that distract a student from his studies, such as television and family activities. If there were dorms, the student could live with other students at low cost and still be able to visit his family when not pressed with homework.

Studies in atomic energy are already a part of this university's program. I would feel quite safe in saying that the Federal government would not enjoy spending millions of dollars on radiological buildings, one of which we already have, and costly equipment to meet future needs of only 30 students from this area who might have a slight interest in atomic research.

Some say, "Why not go to Reno?" Most people attending Nevada Southern do so because they cannot afford the cost of traveling back and forth. There is also an element of risk trying to obtain a decent job in Reno in order to further their education.

REBELS HOST 'FRISCO STATE

NSU SEEKS FIRST WIN OF SEASON

Today the Rebel baseball team plays San Francisco State, "a big baseball powerhouse," according to Michael Drakulich, head baseball coach. Today's game, the second game of a two-game series, will be played at Cashman Field, 1:30 p.m.

Someone said "Things are looking up," before the Rebels played the College of Southern Utah in Cedar City.

Things were not looking up for the Nevada Southern baseballers as they were beaten twice by identical 11-2 scores. These games tallied the seventh and eighth losses for the Rebels. The College of Southern Utah nine remains unbeaten.

In the first game of the doubleheader, Jerry Goyeneche took the mound for the Rebels. Rick Stanfill led the Rebels, getting two of NSU's seven hits.

In the second game with CSU Mike Fennel pitched a six-hit game in his first start for the Rebels. In the second inning Mike Howery smashed his third home run, but the bases were empty.

New to the Rebel baseball lineup are Dave Shay, basketball standout, and Mike Fennel. With these additions to the team and better practice sessions Coach Drakulich hopes for more improvement.

The line scores for the games played Saturday, March 30:

(First Game)
NSU 002 000 0—2 7 4
CSU 012 071 x—11 14 0

Goyeneche and Shay; Hair and Greenberg. 2b—Loveless (CSU), Greenberg (CSU) 2, Yentes (CSU), Cahoon (CSU), Howery (NSU). W—Hair. L—Goyeneche (0-4).

(Second Game)
NSU 010 100 0—2 4 3
CSU 020 630 x—11 6 1

Fennel and Goyeneche. Shay (6); Edwards, Schmidt (5), Cahoon (6) and Greenberg. HR—Howery (NSU), 4th, none on; Sudbury (CSU), 4th, 2 on. W—Edwards. Loser—Fennel (0-2).

Qualifications of Candidates assumes a responsibility not only to his fellow students, but also to himself. My decision to run for the office of vice-president was not easily reached, for I had to be absolutely certain that, if elected, I could do the job that you, my fellow students, had the right to expect. Too often a candidate for office runs only for the glory that he feels an elected officer gains, without due thought to the obligations of the office.

I decided to run for office because I feel that I owe so much to the University, its faculty and its students, that the only way that I could repay even a measure of what I have taken from the school during my past three years, was to stand for office, and if elected, strive toward the goal of making NSU the top educational institution in the Western United States.

I make no campaign promises. Campaign promises are made during the campaigns, and broken during the administrations. Let me say simply that I have the best interests of all NSU students at heart, and will resist the efforts of all pressure groups so that I may grant equal representation to all.

I sincerely feel that my past experience ideally equips me for the office which I seek. My work as a member of the Public Relations Committee gained for me the type of experience that is suited to the vice-presidency. I fully realize that life at a University is not all work, and as chairman of the Social Committee I exerted every effort to

GOLFERS POST 2-2 RECORD; MEET GORMAN ON THURSDAY

Nevada Southern's golf team now posts an even record of 2 wins-2 losses. The six man team won matches with Arizona State College (Flagstaff), and Basic High, while losing to Brigham Young University and Las Vegas High.

The Rebel golfers clash with Gorman High tomorrow, April 11. Tee-off time is 3:30 p.m. at the Tropicana Country Club.

In collegiate play, the NSU golf team stands at 1-1. A team effort triumphed over Arizona State College (Flagstaff) 15-12, March 23, here in Las Vegas.

NSU's golfers meet the Lumberjacks in Flagstaff, May 4.

Brigham Young University rolled over Nevada Southern's golf team 6-0. Despite the wide losing margin, Bob Coffin, the team's first man, stated, "I felt that the team played well."

In high school play NSU's golfers beat Basic High 5-2, while losing to Las Vegas High 2-5. The Nevada Southern team officially participates in high school league play.

The golf team is under Coach Ed Gregory's direction. Coach Gregory is assisted by Col. Bill Shwerin, a noted amateur golfer in Las Vegas.

Following are the golf team's remaining matches:

Student Injured Playing Tennis

Sophomore student Anne Scritchfield suffered a broken nose last week for the second time while attending Nevada Southern.

This same month last year Miss Scritchfield was playing tennis on the campus courts. Her tennis partner returned a "loft" with a smashing overhead, thus sending the ball crashing into her face, breaking her nose and dark glasses.

The latest mishap occurred while Anne was working at her job in the NSU library. She collided accidentally with another student employee. Although shaken up considerably, the other student was uninjured.

Both of the injuries sustained by Miss Scritchfield were covered by school insurance.

On the Line

BY TOM MARTIN

Rebel Yell Sports Editor

There is a sport at Nevada Southern which everyone participates in every day. This sport requires no special training or conditioning, but only constant practice. Everybody can be a star in this sport. This sport is door-opening.

As everyone can see, opening a door that swings inward presents no problem. It is the doors that swing outward that make door-opening a sport. Here at Nevada Southern there are several variations of this sport which can easily be enjoyed.

In Grant Hall all of the doors to hallways and classrooms open outward. These doors, however, are spring-loaded. The idea is to get into the room, which the door opens into, without the door giving the participant assistance that was otherwise unanticipated. In Grant Hall, this sport really becomes fun on windy days, because the doors close with great speed when the wind blows in a northerly or southerly direction. Besides, the boys have fun watching the frustrated efforts of girls, holding a large number of books and attempting to open doors, if they dare to do so.

The glass doors of the Library present another interesting variation of the problem. There are two sets of outward swinging, spring-loaded doorways at the entrance to the library. Here competition could be arranged in four classes or divisions:

- (1) Boys with a load of books
- (2) Girls with a load of books
- (3) Boys with briefcases
- (4) (a) Two boys or (b) two girls or (c) a girl and a boy walking together. (Generally speaking, in groups of two)

A timer, with a stop watch, shall stand inside the library to see which participants, in each division, enter through the door in the fastest time without losing his (or her) books. For the winners there will be another book; in the case of 4C the boy gets the girl for winning. There will be a special bonus for the person who carries all the unabridged dictionaries through the doorway; an extra-special bonus for the person who gets all the dictionaries out of the library.

I could go on at some length on further variations of this sport, but time and space do not permit me to do so. As you can see, door-opening does have possibilities; after all, old pianos have made it into collegiate competition.

18-And-Up Dance Emporium at Twin Lakes Sets Opening May 3

Freshman Mike Tell has received official approval from the Las Vegas City Commissioners last week to open an 18-and-up, no-liquor dance emporium at Twin Lakes Lodge. To be called the "Twin Lakes Twist," the fun spot will open Friday night, May 3, and swing from 8:00 p.m. until 2:00 a.m.

Food and soft drinks will be available. Admission is $1.50—couples at $2.50. The "Twist" will be open every Friday and Saturday night.

As originator of the idea, Mike has suddenly been confronted with no less than two competitive groups attempting to "beat him to the punch." If the May 3 opening night comes off on schedule, it will be the first club of its type in Las Vegas history, and a most welcome addition.

On a country club format, Mike "anticipates 400-500 members, but it could go higher."

"The Twist is going to fill a void. Older teenagers and those in their early twenties usually prefer mixing within their own age group, which is the 'Twist's primary purpose," Mike commented.

Dennis Hunt's five-piece band, the "Candles"—two guitars, one bass, one sax and skins—one of Southern Nevada's hottest Twist combos, will supply continuous music to fit every modern gyration, from the Bop, the Pony, the Slop, all the way to the Bossa Nova.

ous copies he brought to at least two meetings.

"Pressure Groups in Politics," will be the topic of City Attorney Whitmore's speech. But there is a feeling on campus that the highly controversial censorship issue may just find its way into his talk.

The NSU Young Democrats are in the process of obtaining a charter from the Nevada Young Democrats. Binnie Syde commented, "We've never enjoyed so much student activity in our organization."

If attempts to lure the annual National Young Democratic Convention to Las Vegas next year are successful, it will be the second time Nevada has hosted the National organization's conclave, the first time in Reno in 1944.

In conjunction with Lloyd St. John, owner of the Twin Lakes Lodge, Mike is also assisted by freshman Craig Minden.

Everyone will be required to furnish proper identification, because Las Vegas curfew laws prohibit those under 18 from participating in a public activity after midnight on Friday and Saturday nights.

Elections

On this election ballot will also be the newly proposed CSNS constitution.

The essential changes made in the new constitution are: (1) The office of CSNS historian will henceforth be Second Vice-President. (2) The legislative powers of the Senate for the Executive Committee are defined. (3) The Judicial Committee will act in controversial matters concerning the constitution.

The constitution will become effective if approved by a majority of the voting members of the student body.

The election is very essential to the continuation of CSNS.

FROM UNDER THE THUMB

Can you imagine the cry that would be raised if our garbage disposal service was suddenly discontinued? Think of the smell that would eventually build up around the city. It's a terrifying thought. What kind of a person would complain about anyone who was acting to clean up the mess?

Yet, look at the objection being raised because someone is acting to remove some of the garbage from our magazine racks: (1) Many people have been screaming that their freedom of choice to read what they want has been denied. (2) Others have asked, by what power so few are able to govern for so many. (3) Still more questions have been raised about the harm of trash to juveniles.

None of these points are valid reasons to keep this junk on our newsstands. (1) If those who feel they need to read it, really want it badly enough, they can subscribe to it through the mail. (2) The committee doesn't govern anything; they merely review a given magazine and suggest to the City Attorney that it should be removed—the city ordinances do the rest. (3) Aside from whether the magazines are conducive to juvenile delinquency or not, kids could be spending their energies on more constructive things, with all the impediment removed.

The removal of this fungus from the diseased organ can be compared to forcing someone with whom you must associate to take a bath, when you can't stand to come within forty feet of his windward side. The air around the newsstands has improved immensely since certain magazines were removed. There is no reason why it shouldn't continue to improve as better reading material will be in demand to replace the trash.

Fear not for your freedom, it's still intact. The only thing that has happened is that a group of courageous people have sought to DO something about the pain caused by the thorn in their sides rather than to endure it for fear of the repercussions.

Letters To The Editor

president and past active member of Sigma Gamma, is an intelligent, likeable guy, but he is virtually cemented to commitments and pressures within the fraternity. He's running unopposed, so for all practical purposes—the fraternity control's NSU's next president.

Miss Kathy Holland, co-editor of the yearbook, is the only candidate for secretary, so barring the unforeseen, Miss Holland will be recording the minutes for next year after Friday's voting.

Fred Nye is the candidate for treasurer, and it seems Sigma Gamma has all but enticed Mr. Nye to pledge. When he is victorious, the fraternity will control another key position.

The office of Historian, previously obscure but suddenly because of the new constitution (which the founders refuse to make public) is given the title of "Second Vice President," should command some sort of spotlight. Larry Kiefer, another member of Sigma Gamma, is opposing Mike Beard, one of the quieter but equally well-qualified office-seekers. Mr. Beard should win the historian post.

Now we arrive at the final office, that of the Vice President, which finds GEORGE HOOVER opposing JIM BEAVER. Have you guessed it? Mr. Hoover is the PRESIDENT of Sigma Gamma! Mr. Beaver, under aforementioned reasons, MUST BE ELECTED to the vice-presidency if the vice like grip of the fraternity is to be loosened and if the other clubs on campus wish to maintain their equality in the eyes of the CSNS Executive Committee—holders of the purse strings of virtually every student activity.

The bitter memory is still fresh in our minds concerning what occurred when the past Executive Committee, led by Ray Rawson, Ron Stevenson, and several Senators (most of whom were fraternity men) assumed dictatorial control of this newspaper, censoring articles which criticized the poorly run government. THIS MUST NOT HAPPEN AGAIN!!

(Name Withheld By Request) (Editor's Note: Steve Rimel was never a member of Sigma Gamma. He did attend a few pledge meetings of the fraternity either in his freshman or sophomore year).

Small Fry, saying prayers: "Dear God, please give me a teacher who isn't a grouch and also understands me. . . . By the way, this is the second time I've asked you about this."

Warden: "I've been in charge of this prison for 20 years and that calls for a celebration. What kind of party would you boys suggest?" Prisoner: "Open house!"

When girls once went to swim, they dressed like Mother Hubbard.

Now with all these bikinis, they dress more like her cupboard.
