University-Days Victory Goes To Upperclasses

By RANDY FREW

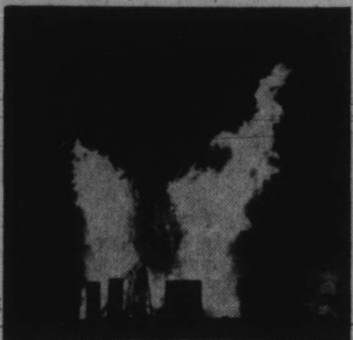

Victory went to the Upperclasses this year on the wings of Lady Luck after a hard fought battle which lasted approximately 3 hours. Although the bonfire was to be lighted at 11 p.m., the event took place at 8:15 p.m. The reason: there was never a halt to the battle. Chip Mills, president of the Senior Class, summed it up this way, "In the past there was always a time of relaxation between the attacks, but this year the fighting never ceased."

The final score for all events, which included Saturday, was 51 to

17. As well as the bonfire, the upperclasses took the following events: the boys' football game, the three legged race, the cross country race, the slow dance contest, and the tug of war. The Freshman won 2nd and 3rd in the pie eating contest, the fast dance contest, tied the upperclasses in the girls' football game, and surprised everyone by taking 1st and 2nd places in the chug-a-lug contest.

The highlight of Saturday was the crowning of the University Day's Queen which took place at the Dance that night. Miss Jacque Womble was voted this year's Queen and was attended by Miss Vickie Wilson and Miss Marcia Griffin. Our Queen could have gracefully won the three legged race, but she was afraid she might embarrass one of the couples which had practiced so diligently.

Giving credit where credit is due, the upperclasses are to be congratulated on the excellent attempts which were made to try and stop the

Dr. Moyer To Be Officially Inaugurated

Nevada Southern University will formally inaugurate its new chancellor, Dr. Donald C. Moyer, in a special ceremony here November 20.

Dr. Ben Owen and a six-man committee said they expect about 100 visiting dignitaries from other universities to attend the inauguration.

Moyer assumed direction of the university here July 1 under the new chancellor system established both at the Las Vegas and Reno campuses of the University of Nevada.

A native of Illinois, Moyer was graduated from the University of Illinois and received his doctorate in educational administration from the University of Chicago. He came to Las Vegas from Eastern New Mexico University, where he had been president for nearly five years.

The entire NSU faculty will participate in the inauguration, which will include the wearing of academic regalia.

Campus Club Review Now in Progress

The Campus Organization Commission, composed of students, and the Student Activities Committee, made up of faculty members, are reviewing all campus organizations. The following groups are in good standing: Commerce Club, Chemistry Club, Alpha Omega, Nu Sigma Upsilon, Intercollegiate Knights, Sigma Gamma, ATO, Biology Club, Engineering Club, and Newman Club.

It is hoped that all organizations will be recognized in the 1966-67 publications which are going to press this month. There are incomplete files on the following: NSU Riding Club, Wesleyan Club, Christian Science Organization, Baptist Student Union, Deseret Club, Political Science Club, Psychology Club, Young Republicans, and Young Democrats.

If it is a group's wish to become a Nevada Southern organization, and it has not complied with the necessary regulations, the member(s) should contact Bill Cunningham, Chairman of the Student Commission, or Mrs. Jeffers, Chairman of the Faculty Committee.

'Symposium' Members To Meet With Las Vegas

A discussion with six members of the national organization Symposium will be held Saturday evening November 13 at the home of Flora Dungan.

Mrs. Dungan indicated that there has been interest in initiating a Symposium sponsor group here in Las Vegas and that Nevada Southern students are particularly urged to attend this evening of stimulating discussion.

The discussion will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening at Mrs. Dungan's home, 1705 Cochran. She has requested that those interested individuals call her at either 735-6521 or 384-2914.

I.K.'s To Hold Spring Convention On Nevada Southern Campus

The Intercollegiate Knights Honorary Service Fraternity, Red Eagle chapter of Nevada Southern has announced formally that the national Intercollegiate Knight convention will be hosted at Nevada Southern this spring.

The fraternity, which is the only national fraternity at Nevada Southern at this time, learned of this honor last spring and has been making arrangements for the convention throughout the summer and fall.

Hosting over fifty other Intercollegiate Knight chapters from throughout the United States, the Nevada Southern fraternity will continue making arrangements for hotel accommodations and activities for the convention which is scheduled for May of 1966.

It is expected that approximately 250 national fraternity members will come for the event which is expected to last for five days. During that time the delegates will enjoy the entertainment of the city

Leading Integrationist, Russian Chorus Spotlited

One of the nation's top civil rights leaders, James Farmer, will be lecturing tonight sponsored by the Nevada Southern University faculty. Following this, another outstanding program, The Don Cossack, General Platoff chorus, will be sponsored on Tuesday, November 16, by the Confederated Students.

Mr. James Farmer, the head of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), will be speaking tonight at the NSU gymnasium on the topic, "Freedom—When?" The lecture will begin promptly at 8 p.m. and promises to be one of the highlights of the year.

Mr. Farmer is the grandson of a slave and was a member of the original group which founded CORE at the University of Chicago in the year 1942. Farmer is a sound believer in the passive resistance movement which has been adopted by all major civil rights organizations in the United States. By active participation in sit-ins, lie-ins, and all other forms of demonstrations, he has illustrated that he does not believe that only the members, but the leaders of civil rights groups themselves should be involved.

Mr. Farmer is a graduate of Wiley College where he received a BS in chemistry at the age of 18. At 21 he received a Bachelor of Divinity from the Howard University School of Religion but declined ordination so he could become active in social movements.

Along with the lecture by Mr. Farmer, CSNS will be presenting the Don Cossack singers on the night of November 16, at 8 p.m., in the NSU gym. These world renowned performers will add a lively zest to the campus as they perform the traditional Russian dances to the accompaniment of the traditional music.

The sights and sounds which are seen at a performance of this fine group are ones which are not to be forgotten and which have been enjoyed over and over again by hundreds of people. Their places of performance have ranged from rice paddies to some of the most beautiful buildings in the world.

The prices on both the Farmer lecture and the Cossack performance are as follows: $1.50 for adults and $.50 for those students who do not have activity cards.

NSU Pep Commission Participates in Local Veteran's Day Parade

Nevada Southern participated in the Veteran's Day parade this year by decorating and riding a float with the theme of "Loot From Vegas."

The Loot From Vegas program is designed to send gifts from Las Vegas to soldiers in Viet Nam.

The float was decorated by the Pep Commission of Nevada Southern which is made up of Cal Robeck, Nancy Ward, Teri Hayes, Bonnie Hayes, Clyde Doyle, Gayle Callery, Vicki Wilson and Nancy Harris. The float showed the girls distributing gifts to the G.I.'s in Viet Nam.

Preference Ball Soon

Girls, the opportunity to pursue "him" in a socially accepted fashion is here. The girl's reverse dance is planned for November 24, from 8:30-11:30. Sponsored by CSNS and presented by Nu Sigma Upsilon, the Preference Ball will be held at the Convention Center in rooms 15 and 16, and there will be no admission fee charged.

Passionata, the theme of the ball, will be decorated in purples and blues, Miss Sue Wilson informs us. The highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the most preferred man. Voting by all women students the previous week will determine the most sought-after male. The dance will be semi-formal.

Boob on the Brink

By LARRY CLARK

Have you ever gone on a blind date and then wished you were blind? Well my exroommate Ralph "set me up" with a feminine type person. I know she was a female because she wore high heels with her overalls.

To persuade me to go on this mission of mercy, Ralph boasted of her attributes which I had to later interpret for my self.

"She has lovely long silky hair"—on her upper lip.

"She has beautiful eyes"—especially the one in the middle.

"Her teeth are like pearls"—two up and three down.

"Her skin is peaches and cream"—canned peaches and sour cream.

"She has a bubbling personality"—she foams at the mouth.

"She has striking features"—like they were struck by lightning.

"She looks like a movie star"—Anthony Quinn.

He also neglected to mention her figure, but if she gained another pound, she would need a license plate. If you get into an elevator with her, you better be going down.

I didn't know whether to kiss her or harpoon her. Her measurements read like a basketball score.

She is a light eater, when it gets light, she starts eating. At dinner she makes a glutton look like he's on a hunger strike. The waiter brought her a fork and shovel.

Her manners left something to be desired, she actually scratched her back with a fork. I was so embarrassed that I dropped a whole handful of mashed potatoes.

construction of the bonfire, and likewise the Freshmen accomplished a great feat in securing 3 new telephone poles and having the bonfire completed on time.

The student body is to be commended for its fine conduct in adhering to the rules which were set forth by the C.S.N.S. Executive Committee. All student leaders are pleased to report that the spirit of this year's U-Days was one of great competition among the classes and that although there were a few punches thrown Friday night, nothing of a personal nature was involved.

Mr. Tom Hribar, President of C.S.N.S., would like to especially thank all of the students who acted as referees on Friday night and helped to make the event the safest one he can remember in the three years he has been at Nevada Southern. The only thing which seemed to hamper U-Days was the ignorance on the part of some of NSU's neighbors who reported to the authorities that an airplane had crashed that evening!

LETTERS

Editor:

It is not to be imagined that any reply to an editorial regarding Viet Nam could resolve the complex questions that persist over such a conflict. However, with reference to the editorial "Looking Down the Barrel" in last edition of the Rebel Yell, little reason needs to be applied to reveal the gross generalizations expressed by Mr. Crawford.

It appears to be Mr. Crawford's intention that the United States is not wrong in protecting a free government. I certainly would agree with him, however, I neglect to see the existence of a free government in Viet Nam. Is a military dictatorship a "free" government? Is a government which suppresses an open election among its people a government thinking of the peoples interests? Is a government which would not exist without tremendous support from the United States a "free" government? It does seem difficult to support the United States policy under the premises that it is protecting a free government in South Viet Nam.

The second premise on which the editor's argument rests is that the United States is in South (and North) Viet Nam to preserve freedom of choice. I am sure most persons are aware of the Geneva Agreements of 1954 by now, but obviously some members of the Rebel staff are unaware of the intentions of the Agreement. It did divide the country north and south, however, the intention was that elections were to be held in order to find a leader who could bring the country under unification. The South Vietnamese government would not hold these elections and it is unnecessary to mention who became South Vietnam's lifeline. Is the United States really "preserving freedom of choice" when it supports those who do not recognize the existence of free choice?

Mr. Crawford reminds me of the American who constantly supports the "American way of life" without ever questioning what it is, what it ought to be or even if this way of life can force upon nations whose traditions, ideals, and forms of government in no manner compliment our own.

Unfortunately the United States seldom has ever gotten it's fingers burned and has difficulty realizing the possibility of being wrong or mistaken. To often we tend to generalize as Mr. Crawford does behind the guise of slogans such as "why not victory" without analyzing what victory is. Is victory complete devastation of a nation such as North Viet Nam? Is victory annihilation of Peking with nuclear energy? These empty slogans are easy to mouth, however, they seldom lend themselves to reason.

I agree with Mr. Crawford about freedom of choice and perhaps even his idea of a free government, but what Mr. Crawford is essentially advocating is separation of speech and action on the part of our government's foreign policy measures. The speech, you see, is quite commendable, but the senseless show of force and, in a word, action in Viet Nam does not conform to the speech.

GORDON RAND

How many of you here at Nevada Southern University have wondered lately about the status of law enforcement officials in the community, and particularly of those noble men who protect us from ourselves right here at the campus? Have you stopped to wonder why we must place stickers on our bumpers and how much it costs us in tuition and other fees to make certain that we are labeled?

Well, I have, and I believe that you should begin thinking about it, too. I keep asking myself what major point of interest there is out here amidst the blowing Nevada landscape that would cause people who don't have business at the University to want to park in one of our parking lots. True, it's nice (and I might add very appropriate) to keep our faculty from having to park a block away. It is very necessary, therefore, that we maintain uncluttered parking facilities for them. It would certainly be cheaper, however, to have them retain the present markings on their automobiles and spare the University the rest of the seemingly needless expense of the manufacture and maintenance of similar markings on students' cars.

How much money is wasted in our "law" enforcement on such useless trivial through the expense of the time wasted? This brings us to another very interesting point. What is the gentleman with the badge and blue suit going to do with that piece of equipment strapped to his right hip? Shoot somebody? Having talked with him on several occasions (not always in an official capacity), I'm sure the thought is ridiculous. He is a very nice chap, and I'm sure the most sensible of fellows. He does wear it, though, doesn't he?

Now I understand that the Reno campus engages in similar activities, but in our efforts to obtain everything that they have and more, might we be putting the cart before the horse (if indeed we need the cart at all)? It's certainly something worth thinking about.

Looking Down the Barrel

With Chuck Crawford

Dr. Harold Hammond, Nevada Southern's Dean of Faculty since late August, has been "relieved of his duties in that position" according to Dr. Donald C. Moyer, chancellor of Nevada Southern.

The announcement of the decision was made early aSturday morning, November 5, after Moyer learned that letters addressed to the "good people of Nevada" had been sent by Hammond in which he appealed his position on the discharge.

Moyer listed the reason for Hammond's dismissal as "insubordination and incompetency" in his duties as Dean of Faculty. Hammond had earlier been reassigned to the Social Science division since his contract also included provision that he serve as a history professor. Taken on October 27, this reassignment was apparently ignored by Hammond, "This (action) obviously is a breach of contract," explained Moyer.

Hammond, apparently fixing the cause of the dismissal as friction between the Reno and Las Vegas campuses of the University said "NSU is like a Gulliver who has been tied to the ground by tiny cords so that this huge creature is prostrate and powerless . . . all cords are held by the people in Reno".

An ex-public relations firm president and veteran educator and author, Hammond first came to Las Vegas in June for his job interviews with Moyer and other University officials. He says in his letter: "I chose this job offer over a score of others because it held the greatest promise for the future . . . now I know better."

Moyer said that he and many other University administrators were embarrassed and disappointed over the situation but that Hammond had simply proven unsuitable for the position.

It was indicated in the open letter of Hammond's that legal opposition to the dismissal will issue in the hopes that Hamond will receive compensation for his severance.

Editor's comment:
 This is the news story of the Hammond issue. There are many complexities of the story to deep to be analyzed by any single editor, especially myself. I am not qualified, for several reasons to offer an opinion of the incident, though there are others who might say that this caution is unnecessary, and there is no reason not to have an opinion.

I DO have a stand on this issue which may be summarized in the very trite, but appropriate phrase "no comment". I, frankly, have enough confidence in the abilities of Dr. Moyer and the other administrators who made the decision, that I feel their judgement was made in the best interests of the students and the University.

N.S.U. PUBLICITY EFFORTS

According to Mr. Jack Abell, C.S.N.S. First Vice President, a number of publicity projects are now in operation "to socialize the community to the point where N.S.U. is accepted as a vibrant part of Las Vegas".

Recognition of Nevada Southern by the citizens of Las Vegas has been a major concern of Student Government since this campus came into existence. To alleviate the situation there are three main plans now in effect. They are: General Public Relations, Public Relations Devices, and Special Projects.

General Public Relations are concerned with events which are to take place on the campus or are sponsored by C.S.N.S. These events are publicized locally, for example, on the marquee.

Public Relation Devices are concerned with news releases to radio and TV stations as well as newspaper coverage. Film coverage of C.S.N.S. events also falls under this heading. Local events (discussed above) and immediate university plans, i.e. expansion, are covered by this media.

The third publicity effort now under way is the "Special Projects". Directional road signs, and a new marquet at Paradise Road and Harmon are two aspects of this effort. It is hoped that the new marquet will be up in the spring of 1966.

Freshman Pianist To Perform

Gregory Pepetone, freshman music major, will be presented in a student recital, Wed., Nov. 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Social Science Lecture Hall.

Greg is a piano student of Dr. Howard Chase, Assoc. Prof. of Music. He will play Beethoven's Sonata in D Minor, several Brahms' pieces, two Chopin Preludes, and a Arabesque by Debussy. The concert is open to the public.

DEAR JOEL

Dear Joel,

I heard there was going to be a demonstration protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam, but it never came off. What's the story?

Waiting

Dear Waiting,

It's true that a few enthusiastic individuals had planned a march on the new Federal Building (under construction at L.V.BLVD. and Carson), as well as a ceremonial burning of draft cards, driver's licenses, and other offensive documents. But, they found they couldn't take time from the small things in life, such as classes, grades, jobs, parties, sports, and parties. Congratulations to those level-headed individuals.

Dear Joel,

There once was a student from Berkeley
 Who took refuge at N.S.U.
 There weren't race-riots or demonstrations,
 So he didn't know what to do.
 Finally he dug up an issue
 On which he could take a firm stand;
 So he organized a demonstration
 Protesting the presence of sand.

Nanci Carriage

Dear Miss Carriage,

There's a demonstration even
 Dear Joel will take part in.

FILM SERIES

The Nevada Southern University Campus Foreign Film Series will present the German film "The Devil's General" on Saturday, November 13.

The film which was the winner of the Venice International Film Festival stars Curt Jurgens.

Performance times will be at 7:30 and 10:00 in the evening. There will also be a comedy film "The Ham Artist" starring Charlie Chaplin. The showing will be held in SS 103.

The next film which will be shown in early December will be "The Bed".

NEWMAN CLUB

The officers and several members of the Newman Club left for Sedona, Arizona Oct. 29 at 3:30 p.m. They stayed at the King's Ransom Motel, which is very modern and comfortably situated in the cool mountains.

Saturday began at 7:30 a.m. with a meditation breakfast. Educational lectures on the religious community, religious unity and religious leadership in the Newman Club were given throughout the day. Mass and Communion and a banquet were held in the afternoon.

Sunday morning was started with a meditation breakfast at 7:30. Michael Bary, Province Chairman, presented an educational workshop for old and new members. Mass was said at the Holy Cross Chapel in the afternoon. Lunch was served at the Gables in Flagstaff, preceded by a quick tour of the University. Everyone arrived home around 10 p.m. Sunday.

Members attending the conference were Connie Vollhard, Dorothy Welch, Margaret Cantwell, Lillian Kovats, Jim McLean, Michael Bary, Frank Joy and Ted Williams.

The next general business meeting of the Newman Club will be Sunday, Nov. 14 in St. Anne's Parish Hall at 1 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

IK's

It would probably be better to start off this column with a witty joke but since I don't know any jokes that the editor would print, we will have to skip that part. The first order of business that should be mentioned is that one of our members JOHN LEWIS is again in charge of the CAMPUS CINEMA. He asked me to give him this plug and you just don't turn down a brother IK. The IK's recently attended a box luncheon which was given by the NU SIGMA Upsilon girls at Mount Charleston. A great time was had by all and the food was tremendous, and as usual a number of new friends were made of the opposite sex particularly the ones that could cook.

Congratulations are in order to BEN KNOWLES who was recently made an Honorary Knight in our fraternity. Ben was elected unanimously, for this honor which we feel only partly shows our thanks for the many years of service he has given to NSU. As our illustrious leader would say "Welcome Aboard".

The page class just elected it's officers. It is presumed that their duties will be to excuse their members deficiencies and plead their cause before the Knights. I am also told that the pledges plan a football game with the SIGMA GAMMA pledges. The assignment of Big Brothers was made and a few interesting events should take place soon. My little brother last year was head and shoulders taller than I am. I hope that I got a little one this year so I can make up for lost fun.

DESERET CLUB

The Deseret Club had a successful Halloween party Thursday, Oct. 28th. We played ping pong, chess, danced, and had great refreshments. Almost everyone wore costumes; the imagination displayed was wonderful.

The officers of the Deseret Club were very fortunate to be able to attend a Leadership Workshop in Idyllwild, California, during the weekend of October 15-17. Director Gerald Finch, his wife, Sam Davis, President of the North Stake, and his wife also made the trip. It proved to be an inspiring experience which taught much to all those who participated. The Las Vegas Institute was the only representative from Nevada among the 250 representatives that came from all parts of California. The knowledge gained at Idyllwild will be used to make our institute program better and one of the best ever created.

The Institute Forum held every Friday from 12:00 to 12:50 p.m. is really great this year. Friday, Oct. 21st Andrew Mitchell, principal of Boulder City High School, Boulder City Councilman, and a member of the Lake Mead Stake Presidency, showed slides of England and East Germany along with a lecture which was interesting as well as informative. Nov. 5, Dr. A. Rex Johnson, Division Chairman of Business Administration at NSU, spoke to us. It was an excellent lecture. Our next speaker will be Jack Hurst, who will lecture on Insurance Investment Plans. We would like to extend an invitation to everyone to come.

COMMERCE CLUB

Suspensions floating through the business club have it that a certain sorority has made off with a greased pig!!? And that one roast pig is being served en garni to a combined sorority-fraternity function—Still remaining is the eerie question "Have you seen a greased pig?"

November 10, Mr. Neich, branch manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will be speaking for the benefit of club members and all other students who may be interested. The time will be 1:00 p.m. in Social Science 116.

The biggest blast ever has been planned by the commerce club for November 12. Funds for the party have been set as "unlimited."

Students planing to make a career of business should drop by the club room (Grant 207) where assistance may be had on business courses, opportunities, etc.

Have you noticed our name change?

ALPHA OMEGA

"Poor Jenny died." At least that's what 100 N.S.U. students were saying at Alpha Omega's Ghoul a GO-GO held Oct. 29. Jennifer Sage, an A.O. pledge highlighted the evening by appearing in a real casket and suddenly "coming alive" in a rather shocking skit. Yes, the event was a big SCREAM to say the least.

Alpha Omega hasn't stopped in it's campaign to sponsor one outing for each organization on campus this year.

Nov. 12 is the scheduled date for a Spaghetti dinner in honor of the new business club, Alpha Kappa Psi.

The Intercollegiate Knights have accepted our challenge to a volleyball game and picnic on Nov. 14. We hope they are as good at volleyball as they are at egg racing. We just might win.

Oh, by the way—some of the black eggs you underclassmen may have been hit with were the combined efforts of Alpha Omega and Nu Sigma Upsilon. Aren't we nice girls?

Congratulations are in order for our president, Sally Moore. She received a part in "The Emperor's New Clothes", the first all student production of the N.S.U. Children's Theatre.

Alpha Omega members are all planning to participate in the newly formed Spirit Booster Club on campus. This club will be especially great for our pledges who need something to take out all of the pent up emotions created by "pledging put down".

So, until next time . . . rah rah rah—siss boom bye bye.

P.S. A.O. supports the foreign films—why don't you?

ATO

A.T.O. is planning an eventful series of activities for the near future. The first of these activities will be the A.T.O. Christmas Dance to be held on December 4th for members and special guests. At the Snow Ball dance A.T.O. will have the snow ball queen draw the winning ticket for a T.V. set to be given away by A.T.O. There will also be a second and third prize. See any A.T.O. members for tickets at a dollar a ticket. Several A.T.O.'s went to Reno for homecoming. The purpose of the trip was to meet and to discuss fraternity affairs with the A.T.O.'s in Reno. The trip was very successful.

A.T.O. pledge elections were held at a recent meeting and Bill Maxwell was elected pledge president. Congratulations Max. A thank you letter was sent to the Elks in Henderson for the use of their hall for our 1st annual "Hard Times" dance. Along with the letter a check for $10.00 was sent for the Crippled Childrens Fund as a token of A.T.O.'s gratitude.

A.T.O. is looking forward to playing football against Sigma Gamma on Saturday the 13th. A.T.O. plans to play the I.K.'s during the Thanksgiving vacation. A.T.O. won its first league game last week by a score of 13 to 12.

N.E.Y.

First of all N.E.Y. would like to congratulate Sigma Gamma for the excellent job they did presenting the "Halloween Dance". Best single costume went to Nancy Harris (wonder why?) and Kathy McNally and Dick Cansdale got "best couple" for their Raggedy Ann and Andy costumes.

The N.E.Y. actives are so happy to see their pledges busily making money; i.e. the Bake Sale under the chairmanship of Judy Ross, the Annual Spaghetti Dinner supervised by Angie Divicino, and the Box Lunch Auction at Deer Creek, as all the proceeds will go for a "Champaign Party" before the Preference Ball. Incidentally, in case there is some remote chance you haven't heard, N.E.Y. will be presenting Preference Ball the night before Thanksgiving and it need not be a "girl ask boy" arrangement—so let's get busy fellas!

The Box Lunch Auction was a great success, with much of the credit going to Sara Hellyer, Linda Benbow, Teri Hayes, and Enid Winard for their excellent impromptu acting. Just to make it interesting the actives required their pledges to produce some spur of the moment situation comedy—their only props being what they could find in the actives cars (coat hangers, toilet paper, etc.). Each member of the winning group received a merit for their accomplishments.

DON'T FORGET THE POWDER PUFF BASKETBALL GAME.

Jody Westwarb as Juno comforts her son played by Brodie Graves in The Nevada Southern Little Theatre's production of "Juno and The Paycock". Production dates are November 11, 12, 13 and 18, 19, and 20. Curtain is 8:15 p.m. Tickets will be sold either in the library lobby or in the Grant Hall Breezeway. Admission for students is $1.00.

A Touch of Ireland

A bit of Ireland came to the West when Nevada Southern's Little Theatre presented the comedy drama "Juno and the Paycock", Sean O'Casey's three act play, under the direction of Dr. Paul C. Harris, which was presented Thursday, November 11, 12, 13; November 18, 19, and 20 at 8:15 p.m.

Evolving around the early twenties, the play concerns one family's reaction to Ireland's civil war. The rich humor and dramatic action symbolize the diversity of thought affecting the Irish mind. The play centers around the two middle-aged title characters — sturdy, valiant-hearted Mrs. Juno Boyle, played by Jody Westwarb, and her strutting, shiftless, peacock of a husband "Cap'n" Boyle, played by Dick Volpe.

Through the talents of Joyce Webb as Mary Boyle, Brodie Graves as Johnny Boyle, Barry Fehler as Joxer Daley, Marilyn Duchin as Mrs. Modigan, David Shank as Jerry Devine, Bob Everhart as Charles Bentham and the other supporting members, this production brings the spirit of the times to light. Here are people, as Ireland made them, as poverty made them, without the loss of their innate charm. For reservations to see Nevada's first presentation of "Juno and the Paycock," call the University switchboard at 736-2222.

NOTE: NSU students $1.00, others $1.50.

If anyone has found a yellow gold pearl ring lost at the Halloween dance, please call Bari Gibson at 735-1459. Reward offered

PRO BASKETBALL NOVEMBER 20

The Los Angeles Lakers and the San Francisco Warriors of the professional National Basketball Association will appear at the Las Vegas Convention Center Saturday, November 20, in a scheduled league game.

This announcement was made by Dave Pearl, game coordinator and member of the board of directors of the University Rebels Club.

Another attraction preceding the pro tilt, will be unveiling of the 1965-66 Nevada Southern University Varsity Basketball team. Coach Rolland Todd will have the Rebels divided equally for an intra-squad game. This game will start at 6:45 p.m.

Tickets for the games may be purchased at the Business Manager's Office at the cost of $2.00 for general admission. Reserved seats may be obtained at the price of $5.00.

Game previews will be featured in the REBEL YELL Sports Section in issues prior to game nights.

Fain, Gadbow Top Gymnasts In Local Meet

Cindy Fain won the 12-and-under all-around championship and Pam Gadbow was best in the 13-and-over division Saturday in the Fittettes third intra-squad gymnastics meet at Nevada Southern University.

Rebel Tracksters Trowned in Triangular Meet

California Poly at Pomona easily trowned N.S.U. in a triangular meet which also featured California at Fullerton. The improving Rebel squad could do no better than finish third in a field of three; although it was a close third. The final tally: Cal Poly 19, Cal at Fullerton 50 and Nevada Southern 56.

Cal Poly swept the first three places with Don Davis leading the pack, finishing with a 17 min. 56 sec. time for the 3.4 mile jaunt. Fourth and Fifth spots were filled by Cal Fullerton. Jim Wipple once again was the top finisher for the Rebels by placing eight with a 18 min. 34 sec. clocking. The rest of the places were mostly scattered among the three clubs with the Nevada Southern-leatherlungs grabbing 10th Gary Halko; 11th Bob Staley; 13th Charles Hawkins; and 14th Neal Chappel.

With 2 meets left, for the Rebels, lacking experience and real desire there seems to be no help in sight. One might venture to say that they are in the process of rebuilding; just like L.A. Rams have been for the past 7 years.

Last November 6, the Rebels took on California at Riverside. Next Saturday, the 13, the Rebels will conclude their 1965 season by hosting Claremont-Mudd and Pomona Colleges.

Yearbook Picture Refunds Available

Refunds for the underclass pictures from the yearbook will soon be available to anyone on request.

Dates for granting refunds have not been made final yet, but the probable period is the week of November 19 or after the first deadline for the yearbook on November 25.

Those wishing refunds should go to the "Epilogue" office during the designated hours where either John Haggerty, editor of the yearbook, or one of the staff members will grant returns.

In the event that the student would like the pictures, he will get no money refunded and should go to Ball Studios to arrange for his pictures.

Modern Dance Club Formed

A Modern Dance Club has been organized here at Nevada Southern by Mrs. Alice Mason. For all men and women interested the club meets every Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m. in the Valley High School gymnasium.

The women are required to wear leotards and tights and the men are asked to wear slacks that will enable them to move freely.

Mrs. Mason urges all those interested to attend the meetings but come prepared to dance.

A women's Volley Ball Team, also under the direction of Mrs. Alice Mason, has been organized. The team will be part of the city Recreation Women's Volley Ball League and will play in competition with other teams belonging to the league.

John Starr, coach of Nevada Southern's Junior Varsity basketball team, is looking forward to a good but tough season this year, this is Coach Starr's first year at N.S.U. and the season is fast approaching but he is optimistic concerning the 19-game season of 1965-66.

Starr stated that the J.V.'s will be competing with some rough schools this year among them Dixie College.

The N.S.U. Junior Varsity is a small team in height, but, according to the coach, it is very tall in spirit and determination. Due to the fact that they have practiced but a few times (on conditioning and fundamentals) and with the first game with Dixie College on December 1st, the team is already on a tight schedule of training.

Starr is relying on the efforts of the team as a whole, of course, but there are six men in particular who show outstanding ability, and may prove to be the team's biggest assets. The coach feels that since it is very early in the season, it is very difficult to judge the individual talents of his team members. However he notes outstanding abilities in Gary Jarrett, Bill Wray, Ed Plawski, Frank Koot, Craig Rollins, and Alex Turner.

Under the direction of Robert Comeau, the Junior Varsity of 64-65 achieved a final record of 10 wins and 8 losses. Coach Starr is of course striving to better this, and he stated that "if determination means anything, we should do pretty good".

Target Sports

Two more weeks of practice have flashed by for our University's cagers. The aches and pains have subsided into low grunts and groans, which is somewhat of an improvement to the first two weeks.

Coach Todd's Rebels are shaping up into a fast, smooth moving "Pro-Type" offensive team. The defense, where ball-games are won, needs a lot of polishing. The squad is now down to sixteen roster players, with Ron Holman, 6'3" guard and Jerry Lund, 6'2" guard red shirting. Ed Polaski and Bill Ray have departed to the Junior Varsity for their Freshman year.

Never before in N.S.U. history have we been blessed with so many top flight guards. Leading the "Guard Pack" are Chuck Campione Dixon Goodwin, Charles Payton, and Ron Weizchowski with Ken D'Andu, Don Hill, Craig Barber, Joe Coon, and Ken Edwards pushing hard for starting births.

The board men are excellent, but not deep. Silas Stepp, Clyde Dawson, and Bob Brown seem to be nailing their position, with back up from Bill Davis and Ed Terwilliger. The next four weeks should tell the story, for "Where the Defense goes—so goes the Rebels."
