WOULD YOU BELIEVE . . . DORMS?

This is an artist's conception of the new six story dormitory which is now under construction at the south end of the campus. It is scheduled for completion September 1, 1966.

Construction Begins

Official ground-breaking ceremonies for the proposed N.S.U. dormitory building and dining commons was held Tuesday, February 8.

The dormitory, a six-story steel and masonry building of 58,265 square feet, will include living accommodations for 265 students, plus lounges, laundry rooms, manager's apartment, two high-speed elevators and mechanical equipment centers.

Accommodations are comprised of double rooms with a connecting bath between each two rooms. Each room has individually controlled air conditioning, sleeping and studying facilities, with built-in wardrobe and dresser units. The structure is so designed that an additional wing with an equal capacity may be added without necessitating additional lounge or elevator facilities.

The dining commons will also be constructed of masonry and steel. In addition to the main dining room, the building will house food preparation and storage areas totaling 7,900 square feet.

The dining room will have a capacity to serve from 235-260 students at one time and will host various activities such as student dances and organizational meetings. Also available for student use will be a snack bar which will operate during non-food serving hours.

Both the dormitory building and the dining commons will be constructed at a cost of $973,740.00. Construction is scheduled to begin shortly and completion has been promised in contract by the beginning of the Fall semester, 1966.

New Chairmen Named

Nevada Southern's Chancellor, Donald C. Moyer, has announced the academic department chairmen for this spring semester.

In the Business Administration and Economics department, Mr. Richard E. Strahlem will head Accounting; Dr. Monroe C. Fischer, Economics, and in General Business, Mr. Robert C. Rieke.

Secondary and Elementary Education will be headed by Dr. Francis L. Rose. Mr. John Starr is the department chairman for Physical Education.

Mr. Peter Myer is the Art department chairman while Mr. Edward Singer will be in charge of the English department. Foreign Languages will be headed by Mr. Christian Dolin.

Science and Mathematics is divided among three chairmen; Dr. Robert B. Smith, Physical Sciences, Dr. W. Glen Bradley, Biological Sciences, and Dr. Malcolm Srahm, Mathematics.

The Social Science division honors Dr. John S. Wright as History chairman, Dr. Charels H. Sheldon as Political Science chairman, and Dr. Irving Katz as the Psychology chairman.

Sigma Gamma Rallye Saturday

Another first hits N.S.U.! Sigma Gamma is sponsoring a sports car rallye to be held for the students of N.S.U. on February 19.

For the uniformed a rallye is a race against time. Not a race as such, but a contest to see who can follow a prescribed course obeying all traffic laws, and finish at the right time.

A car show will begin the activities and a part for participants will follow the race. An entrance fee of $1.50 will cover the cost of refreshments and trophies.

The cars will be divided into two classes: European sedans, and sports cars. The only requirements are to have a licensed driver and a navigator. The navigator should preferably be a sporty female with long hair, a little accent, and the right attitude.

For more information on the Sigma Gamma 1st Annual Invitational Sports Car Rallye contact Warren Smith at 878-5764.

N.S.U. Prof. Honored

Dr. Paul C. Harris, Jr., will receive a grant in recognition of his contribution to the arts in establishing the Nevada Southern Reader's Theater.

According to Desert Research Institute Committee officials, he has been a leader in the cultural development of Nevada. He received acclaim as producing director of the Musical Arts Workshop presentation of "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." His opera for Clark Mental Health Association was considered a very successful community project.

In 1960 Dr. Harris received his Ph.D. in speech and drama from Stanford University. He received his MA from the same institution in 1951, and his BA from the University of Colorado in 1949.

He and his wife, Charlotte, have three children, Paul III, 10, Victoria, 5, Amy, 2, and have resided in Las Vegas since 1959.

This is the general appearance of the new dining commons which is being constructed along with the dormitory. It will accommodate approximately 250 students.

Pakistan's Sarfraz Heard

Mr. Mohamad Sarfraz gave a brief history of the origin of the conflict between India and Pakistan last week. He outlined in his speech the differences between the Hindus and Moslems for the last 5,000 years and enumerated several instances where these differences resulted in the present political situation.

Mr. Sarfraz's lecture cited mainly the administrative measures imposed upon the Hindus and Moslems by the British. The economic, political and social restrictions of the British proved to be the factor that created the greatest disention among the Moslems. These problems were not resolved even after the States of West Pakistan and East Pakistan were created in 1946.

Today, the political strife created in India and Pakistan according to Sarfraz, was a result of the concession of Kashmir to India by the ruling Maharaja of the State of Kashmir. Mr. Sarfraz disclosed the secret intention of the Maharaja was to have an independent state. But, since the possibility of an independent state would have caused bloodshed, the Maharaja elected to concede his domain to India.

Mr. Sarfraz is considered an authority on Asian affairs. He has been associated with the formation of CENTO, and was Information Director of the Bureau of National Reconstruction for the Government of West Pakistan. He also was the Director of News for Rario Pakistan and Chief Editor and Managing Director of the Progressive Papers.

"UGETSU" Next Campus Film

This film won the Grand Prize at the Venice Film Festival. Its scenes alternate between the violence of the military and the eerie quality of the magical.

Also, as a special featurette attraction, a Robert Benchley comedy will be shown.

This film program will be shown in Social Science 103 at 7:30 and 10 p.m.

Admission is $1.00 for students, $1.50 for others. A special series ticket, for six films, is now available at the University's switchboard at a discount price of $5.00.

Boob on the Brink

By LARRY CLARK

If you need a part-time job and you can't get a position as a part-time brain surgeon or part-time nuclear physicist, why not settle for being a part-time scab!

Not the kind of scab that festers and itches but the kind that pangs no union dues and gets hurt.

So drive a non-union taxi-cab and be called a strike breaker by the press and _____ by the union drivers.

When you apply they ask for your name, social security number, and blood type. To play it safe also list you dentist and next of kin.

You know if you're in the wrong racket especially if your nerve is the same color as your cab (not checkered).

They don't pay much — $1.50 an hour and all the old seat covers you can eat. But they have a lot of fringe benefits: a free funeral plan whereby the company holds a weekly mass burial to the wistful music of 200 taxi-cabs blarring their horns and gunning their engines, also they have survivors insurance, hospitalization, a pass-book to the blood and eye banks, and a novel titled "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

To qualify for employment one must be either a Karate Black Belt expert, an ex-sumo wrestler, a former mafia member, or simply crazy — you undoubtedly fit into the last category.

The Union drivers won't be very friendly to you. They might use your face as an ash tray for their cigarette butt, or break all the bones in your body to see if you rattle or even give you a hotfoot with a five-gallon can of gasoline.

You can outfox your tormentors by means of verbal enchantment (sometimes called begging for mercy), or play on their pity by driving around in an iron lung.

You can also yell sticks and stones may break my bones and they will hit you with a big stick and a big stone. So!

His life's ambition was to be a scab,
 So he decided to drive a taxi-cab;
 A passenger wanted a ride to the lake,
 The driver thought of all the money he would make —
 His body now lays in the morque on a slab.

"Those of us who participated in last Friday's hanging in effigy of Professor Bailiff as well as the other individuals who were hanged along with a symbolic effigy representing the entire Southern Nevada Committee for Peace in Vietnam did so because we reacted to this group's implied affiliation with all of the student body and faculty of NSU.

"This was definitely not our original intent. We demonstrated purely in an effort to express a viewpoint that recent actions of the individuals and of the entire group are not expressive of the vast majority of NSU students. We did not in any way intend to vilify the individuals personally nor did we intend to condemn them for their right of dissent. We merely wanted to make known that there was another side of the Viet issue supported by what we felt was the majority of faculty and students. Nothing else was intended; we respect the right of these people to hold any view, but we felt that we, too, had a right to express our view."

In remarks attributed to Professor Bailiff by local press, it is indicated that Professor Bailiff has recognized that his views are not shared by the majority of his fellow faculty members.

Effigy Hangers

Open Letter to Students:

It may surprise some of you that free tickets to some wonderful concerts are lying in my desk drawer without any takers.

The Southern Nevada Community Concert Association has asked me to administer the ten student memberships given in memory of Dr. James Dickinson. Three concerts have been presented and at no time were all the membership cards used.

I am now calling your attention to these two remaining concerts:

Paris Chamber Orchestra, Tuesday, February 22.

Westminster Choir, Monday, March 7.

Request the membership card on the morning of these concerts and return the card to me the following day.

Dr. Sigrid Moe
 First Vice-president
 Community Concert Association

DO YOU HEAR BELLS?

Jack Abell, C.S.N.S. 1st Vice President, announced recently that the student government is currently in the process of reviewing the possibility and problems involved in the construction of a carillon bell system on the Nevada Southern University campus, hopefully within the next year.

A carillon system is an electronic device composed of a set of fixed bells which are sounded by hammers controlled by a keyboard. Such a system, popular on many colleges and university campuses around the nation, is usually programmed for musical selections on the hour and half hour, various set programs being available for presentation.

Abell disclosed that C.S.N.S. hopes to have the system financed by a private donor in memory of a local civic leader. The cost for such a unit varies between $40,000 and $200,000, he said.

If a private contributor is located, the student government at N.S.U. hopes to be able to complete the process of planning approval, designing, and construction in one year.

Other west coast institutions retaining such bell systems include: University of California, Berkeley, U.C. at Santa Barbara, University of Nevada (Reno), USC, UCLA, USF, University of Washington, and others.

Looking Down the Barrel

With Chuck Crawford

A score of eyes tried to distinguish the markings as half as many heads bent upward to see the four effigies hanging from the Social Science building.

Few of the passing students were surprised to see the names of Baliff, Gartin, Meinhold, and Committee for Peace in Vietnam as the identities of the effigies. If there was surprise, it was only that other names were not included. Dangling, turning, and boasting, the stuffed clothing was a display of a distressing clash.

The clash now visible (but not unexpected) is between the "peaceniks" and the "anti-peaceniks."

This terminology at first seems a simple reversal of the accepted, labeled clash of the "hawks" (i.e., war hawks) vs. the "doves" (i.e., peace doves); and correctly the peaceniks are still the doves, but the hawks are not necessarily the anti-peaceniks.

Clarified further, the Vietnam demonstrators still are representing the same cause; however, the anti-peaceniks are not simply proponents of the war, but opponents of the right of minority dissent.

It was, nonetheless, the statement of the Student Government officials, that the reason for the hanging of effigies was not a reaction to the stand taken by certain individuals, but to the implied inclusion of the students of Nevada Southern in the peacenik movement. Evidence of this was given as the labeling of one effigy: Southern Nevada Committee for Peace in Vietnam.

It would seem that the evidence is valid. But why were three other dummies: one labeled Baliff, an N.S.U. professor; another labeled Meinhold, a local school teacher; and yet another labeled Gartin, an N.S.U. art student even necessary if this was the point to be proven?

This new evidence would seem to lead to only one conclusion: that since only two of the personalities are directly connected with the University, these attacks could not have been aimed at criticizing the peacenik group (more specifically the Students For Political Action) for their efforts to implicate the rest of the N.S.U. student body in their movement. If this was the intended criticism, then their methods certainly have been ineffectual.

It is not, however, my intention to condone the actions and methods for the Students For Political Action (who have now been officially recognized by the University). I firmly believe that the majority of students do not sympathize with peacenik beliefs on the Vietnam issue. I also feel that the participation of the peaceniks in the recent publicity demonstration accomplished nothing constructive, because light has already been brought to the issue of Vietnam, what more can demonstrations accomplish? However, I even more strongly believe that these individuals must be granted the right to peacefully assemble in defense of their opinions.

The attackers, the lynch-mob, seem to have expressed their disagreement to the beliefs of the peaceniks in a very distasteful way. I hope that it was not intended as it was taken, for by openly attacking the right of others to express their opinions, as it seems they have done by this action, they are restricting the freedom which allows even them that attack.

BOOKSTORE NEXT FALL?

By JACK ABELL

Since October of 1965, the issue of an on-campus student bookstore has highlighted numerous discussions between students, student leaders, and University administrators.

The University faculty is eager to have an on-campus facility which could provide expanded services boasting large and speedy ordering lists for texts. The student body as a whole, not unlike that of other universities, is in search of a STUDENT RUN STORE which offers the student a variety of services, greater discount rates, higher rebates on old texts, and revenue for the C.S.N.S. treasury.

The C.S.N.S. Senate, hoping for the completion of the N.S.U. Student Union by late 1967, sought to study the matter in detail last semester. Several Senators had questioned the establishment of a store when the initial outlay would cost student government nearly $10,000 and when it may have to shift the operation in the near future when a Union is completed. However, recent developments have tended to mellow this stand. The opening of the new dining commons in 1966 will make the current Campus Center an ideal bookstore location. In addition, the increased interest by students in the store has caused the Senate to re-evaluate its position on when to make the move and build.

Since the growing opinion among student leaders is in favor of a store in the fall, and the need for an expanded Student Services Office is also recognized by C.S.N.S. the logical plan would be to build a temporary "pre-fab" bookstore and give the old Campus Center to Dr. Owen's vital projects.

Currently, both the Chancellor, Dr. Owen, the faculty, and student leaders are reviewing the possibility of a "pre-fab" unit, many of which are very attractive. The cost range for such structures varies between $5,000 and $18,000.

One issue has been decided upon, however; the store will have a salaried director, student help, and the profits will go into the student body treasury. Student government will administer the facility with the aid of a special faculty board. Tom Hribar, C.S.N.S. president, emphasized the importance of such a store to C.S.N.S. He stated that ASUN in Reno profits by nearly $50,000 annually on its store, a tremendous asset to student projects.

The discussion has reached the stage where plans are in order. Whether a temporary building is constructed or not, the need exists now. In any case, such a structure, if attractive (A CHEAP ONE IS NOT) can always be used elsewhere on the campus when a Union is built to house the bookstore later.

The discussion will no doubt increase in the next few months. Students have been urged by both administration and student leaders to make their feelings known. By next fall, the N.S.U. campus may not only have a new dorm-dining commons, but also a bookstore unit.

SENATE ON MOVE

Last Friday morning two appointments to the CSNS Senate and one to the CSNS Judicial Board were made. On Friday the Senate approved the appointments of Fred Williams as Junior Senator and K. G. Stevens as Freshman Senator. The offices hours of the new senators will be posted shortly.

Chip Mills, President of the Senior Class, was appointed to the CSNS Judicial Board.

All three appointments are valid until late spring when Senatorial elections will be held. The judicial appointment automatically expires in June 1966. All members of the Judicial Board are appointed by the CSNS President at the beginning of the fall semester each year, and then approved by the executive committee and Senate.

Concert Scheduled

One of the most interesting and musically inspiring concerts of the season will be performed on Sunday, February 27 at 2:15 p.m. in the Rotunda of the Las Vegas Convention Center.

The Las Vegas Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by its founder and director, world-famed 'cellist Ennio Bolognini, will present a symphonic program of the music of Bach, Mozart, Dukas and Aschakovsky.

The Orchestra, numbering 70 members, is largely composed of professional musicians in addition to several gifted music students, all of whom are residents of the Las Vegas area.

The program will open with Mozart's Symphony No. 40 in G. Maestro Bolognini's performance of Minor. This will be followed by Bach's Adagio from the Toccata in C Major transcribed for 'Cello and Organ. Don Kemp will accompany at the organ.

Then, the Maestro will again mount the podium and conduct the Orchestra in the great D Minor Prelude and Fugue by Bach. After the intermission, the program will continue with the Sorcerers' Apprentice by Dukas and will close with Tchaikovsky's glorious "1812" Overture.

It is open to the public and admission is free. The concert is sponsored by the Musician's Union Performance Trust Fund.

Lectures Are Scheduled by Cox, McGurn

Two forthcoming lectures of the Campus Lecture Series that students should be aware of are going to be held on March 7 and April 19.

Donald W. Cox's lecture will cover the subject "Conversion to Peace—the Economy of Disarmament," on March 7. Then on April 19, Barrett McGurn will speak on "Portrait of Two Popes—John XXIII and Pius XII."

Dr. Cox was in charge of the first Traveling Space Science Demonstration Unit for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's education program. A former University of Florida and New York University instructor, Dr. Cox has authored several books on space science and rocketry.

Mr. McGurn is presently an award winning reporter for the New York Herald Tribune. He has authored books on postwar Europe and on the Vatican. He has reported from all corners of the world and served as Rome Bureau Chief for nearly twenty-five years with the Herald Tribune. He saw both Pope Pius XII and Pope John XXIII crowned and knew them well.

But here's good news for all low-scoring students: a recent computer study shows that the human race produces "geniuses"—that is, minds and spirits that make significant contributions to the knowledge or culture of the age—at the rate of only one person in 500,000. It's obvious, then, that geniuses are lonely souls. That leaves 499,000 of every 500,000 of us a lot better off.—University of Alabama Alumni News.

UNUSUAL ART ON DISPLAY

A one-man show is being presented in the Art Gallery in Grant Hall by Ray Fink. This artist, who does painting and sculpturing in a contemporary style, also has a sense of humor about himself and art in general. He is convinced that most people are capable of expressing themselves well but that "academic rules" interfere.

Professor Fink uses many different materials in his work. His paintings usually have heavy impasto paint application or other heavy textures, contrasting with flat areas. He generally uses "earthy" colors.

Ray Fink has spent over 25 of his 42 years involved in the field of art. Born in Southern California, he has always been interested in art and began early training at the Otis Art Institute in Los Angeles. He got his bachelor's degree from Chicago Art Institute.

There are thirty pieces being displayed with prices that range from $20 to $3,000.

STUDENT OFFICER REQUIREMENTS ADJUSTED BY C.S.N.S. SENATE

The C.S.N.S. SENATE meets each Friday morning at 7 a.m. in the Social Science Building, room 208. All students are welcome to attend the sessions and observe their representative body at work. The C.S.N.S. Executive Committee meets twice monthly at a time and place designated by the C.S.N.S. President. All students are welcome at Executive Session also.

SENATE ACTION for the month of January 1966 — Due to the mid-semester and finals, SENATE meetings in January were shortened. Major actions: (SENATE SESSIONS)

1. Re-approval of $2,000 budget for the WE FIVE concert to be staged on March 11.
2. Passed resolution to investigate the various possibilities for the donation of $25 - $50 for books to be used by the members of the local Synanon Foundation.
3. Approval of $40 donation to the Children's Theater Production Company.
4. Approval of $50 donation to the Nevada Southern Music Association, Dr. Chase, Director.
5. THE SENATE PASSED A RESOLUTION SPECIFICALLY OPPOSING ANY ESTABLISHMENT OF AN "ATHLETIC CARD SYSTEM" INFORMALLY PROPOSED BY THE UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR THE FALL OF 1966. THE SENATE WENT ON RECORD AS OPPOSED DUE TO THE IMPORTANCE OF C.S.N.S. ACTIVITY CARDS AND THE USELESS EXTRA BUREAUCRACY THAT WOULD BE INVOLVED.

THE FOLLOWING is a resume of the JOINT SESSION meeting of the SENATE AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, the third such meeting of the fall semester:

1. C.S.N.S. President Tom Hribar spoke on the "State of the Confederation." Major points discussed included Progress on the Student Union, now hoped to be fined in 1969. (LEGISLATIVE APPROVAL IS STILL NEEDED ON $200,000 TO INITIATE FEDERAL FINANCING OF THE $1.5 MILLION FACILITY) . . . The 1966 EPILOGUE, which, according to Hribar, will be highly improved and unique . . . A definite indication of a more united student body as indicated by the 45% increase in social events attendance, immense local publicity for the Confederation . . . Highly expanded C.S.N.S. role evidenced by increase of officer-faculty relations, larger C.S.N.S. committee system, increased donation of students funds for student research, projects, and University programs . . . Goals for the spring semester include plans for one concert, possibly two, plans for the new dormitory, national affiliation for AWS, hosting of a high school relations program, possible Spring Carnival celebration, establishment of an Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council.
2. Senator Bill Cunningham (SOPHOMORE CLASS), Chairman of the Campus Organizational Council (COC) reported that the COC is working with the Faculty Committee on organizations to establish a definite set of rules governing the recognition of campus groups in the future. A decision is expected by the end of February.
3. THE SENATE and EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE passed a resolution revising the qualifications for C.S.N.S. Executive Officers. The measure, passed by a vote of 8-0-0, changed the presidential requirement from 45 to 60 units earned on the N.S.U. campus, the first vice presidential and that for Treasurer to 45 earned on the N.S.U. campus, and that of the 2nd Vice President and Secretary to 28 units earned on the N.S.U. campus. The over-all GPA requirement of 2.2 was retained. The move was designed to insure a minimum tenure on the N.S.U. campus prior to holding office, namely 2 years for President.

Rebel Yell SPORTS

CAGERS PREP FOR FINISH

BY TOM MARTIN
Rebel Yell Writer

Nevada Southern's young Rebels will end a long home stand then take a road trip to end the season in a struggle to capture a winning season.

The College of Southern Utah, Cedar City, visits NSU's gym tonight in hopes of revenge in the second of three regular season games on the campus.

Nevada Southern moves over to the Convention Center for the weekend to take on an inconsistent Westmont College Saturday, then to face Arizona State College (Flagstaff) Monday.

The Rebels wind up the season with another tough road game against Cal Poly, Pomona at the California school.

CSU, which split two games in the recent NSU Invitational, is paced by Rod Oliver, who averages around 19 points per game.

Mel Wadsworth comes next in Thunderbird's scoring with about 17 points per game followed by Al

West with a 10.9 average and Al Dee Konopnicki at 10.1

In their own invitational the Rebels romped over Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, 112-83, then needed an overtime to sneak by the University of Wisconsin (Milwaukee Division), 68-67.

In recent games Westmont College has averaged well over 90 points per game, including scoring 125 against LaVerne College. NSU also scored over 100 points against LaVerne.

Balanced scoring on the Warrior's front line, led by Rex Kochel, Ron Estes and guards Ron Shelton and Jay Pierson.

Nevada Southern goes with only one senior in its starting lineup. On the front line 6-foot-4 Clyde Dawson, 6-5 Ed Terwilliger, both juniors, will start along with 6-5 Silas Stepp.

At the guard spots junior Chuck Campione and sophomore Dixon Goodwin or senior Ron Wilechowski may start.

Arizona State College has already romped over the Rebels once, 102-87, in Flagstaff. For the past five-years the two teams have traded wins on their home courts, but the Lumberjacks have a slight edge this year with sophomore Bob Love in top form and Eddie Nash deadly from the outside.

Three-time little all-America Silas Stepp paces Rebel scoring with an 18.6 average, the best in a season in NSU history. He is tied with Dawson in the rebound department with 211. Dawson is second in scoring with 14.7 points per game.

Wielochowski averages about 10.7 points per game, the only other Rebel in double figures.

Wolf Pack Wins Second

Nevada Southern played one of its best games of the season against the University of Nevada but wound up five points short of a victory.

The 78-73 defeat marks the second loss to Reno this season. Earlier, Nevada took a 74-70 victory in Las Vegas.

Nevada used only five men and played the final three minutes with all of its inside men carrying four fouls.

Silas Stepp, N.S.U.'s All-American center took high point honors with 26 points. "Big Sy" also took a number of key rebounds as the Rebels closed the gap after a 42-29 halftime deficit.

Nevada Southern outscored the Wolf Pack 44-36 in the second half and at one point trailed by only two points.

My loves number great,
Yet in all their splendor;
They're marred by the hate,
That lingers and waits.

The spring wind comes welcome,
But not so the winter.
Gay bells, of weddings hint,
But for the dead they are doleful.
And fireworks, in July bright,
Only burn the eyes of Vietnam sons.

Was it always this way.
Or am I just learning;
That to love one can hate,
And not feel a yearning?

(We do have to let our other passengers and military "standbys" board first.) You can get your 1/2 fare ticket in advance at any Western Airlines office, airport ticket counter or Travel Agency. And we'll honor either Western's own Youth Fare "I.D." card or one issued by another airline. Just present this application at any Western Airlines office with $3.00 and proof of age. Or if you wish, you can mail it.
