PREPARES

The Board of Regents of the University of Nevada and Nevada Southern University will open two days of "private" and public meetings Friday morning in SS112 amid a tense atmosphere on the NSU

The session marks the seating of two new members to the Board from Clark County. The new posts were authorized by the Legislature two weeks ago, and Governor Paul Laxalt appointed Las Vegans Art Smith and Thomas Bell. Both men are former students on the Reno campus.

There have been mixed feelings reported by students on the N.S. U. campus over the appointment of the new Regents. Some feel they may have been political. Many students have expressed resent-

There are reports that a student faction on campus is again planning action during the two-day meeting of the Board, N.S.U. administration officials were either unwilling to comment or could not be reached late yesterday.

Student leaders were also not available for comment when approaced by the Rebel Yell, CSNS President Jack Abell was, however reported to have said that he "would be surprised is student action did not occur while a certain member of the Board enjoys the Las Vegas sun at NSU."

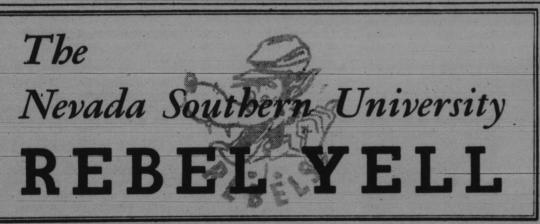

There is considerable opposition and discontent on the campus

The decision of the Board on the school prompted a harsh leg-islative fight in Carson City over whether the school should be im-mediately started, studied further, or dumped in favor of devoting all

Friday and Saturday, University

the Nevada Southern campus. The meeting will be the first for the two newly appointed Clark County representatives Art Smith and

A lot has been setted.

Tom Bell.

A lot has been said concerning the appointment of Smith and Bell. Many have expressed discontentment with Governor Paul Laxalt's selections, charging that neither of these two gentlemen's names were listed amongst the names submitted by officials of NSU as one of our six or seven "preferable" choices.

Furthermore, the charge has been made, (by a very "in" source) that the Governor himself did not make the appointment, but rather, that Paul sent Brother Bob down to "pick a couple".

And brother Bob works out of University President Charles Armstrong's office.

Now whether these "unofficial" charges are true or false may

Now whether these "unofficial" charges are true or false may never be documentally ascertained. The point of the matter is that, regardless of the true value, quality, or worth of Mr. Smith and Mr. Bell, these two new Regents from the South are going to be under the scruitiny of the public eye probably more than any other singular faction within the University system. They truly will be the "Men of the Hour" for NSU.

For in the hands of Bell and Smith lie the keys needed to unlock the doors of progress which have been closed for so long at Nevada Southern.

ning comedy depicting the en-durance and spirit of Man as he plunges through the comic and tragic episodes of life. The story enfolds around the George Antro-bus family, a "typical" Ameri-can household led by their zany maid, Sabina.

The Wilder wit and theatrical flair are on brilliant display as the Antrobus family faces ice age, flood, and world war, only to come up smiling and struggling.

The famous comedy starred Tallulah Bankhead, Fredric March, and Florence Eldridge in its original production and was later revived with Mary Martin, George Abbott, and Helen Hayes.

Advance ticket sales and reservations are under way. For reservations call the University Switchboard, 736-6111. Tickets are also on sale daily at the campus library between 11 AM and 3 PM.

Seating is extremely limited; re-servations should be placed early.

WILSON WOODROW FELLOWSHIP

Myrna Selwyn, Nevada Southern University senior, has recently been selected from 65 finalists in this region as a winner of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship na-tional competition, "This is one of the outstanding fellowships in the United States," commented Dr. Richard H. Byrns head of the English department at

"I am especially pleased that Miss Selwyn won it against the strong competition that exists for the award, and, of course, it is gratifying that the first Woodrow Wilson Fellowship in the Nevada state system comes from Nevada Southern University."

Given under the auspices of the Ford Foundation, the fellowship of $2,000 was awarded to 1400 out of 13,000 college applicants who plan to begin graduate studies and who are interested in college who are interested in college teaching.

Myrna, who last year was listed in the national publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities", entered the competition at the advice of Dr. Paul Harris, Director of the NSU School of Humanities and Fine Arts. She was judged on past grades, faculty recommendations, written by Dr. Sigrid Moe, Dr. Charles Adams, Dr. Paul Harris, and a 1000-word original essay concerning her intellectual interests.

After the preliminary eliminations, Myrna was flown to Phoenix for an oral interview, which was conducted by four university instructors from Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado, who asked her numerous, specific questions about her field of study. Winners were chosen by a national board, "I was absolutely amazed,"

Miss Selwyn said, when asked her reaction to the award. "I was told I might be at a disadvantage com-ing from such a young school."

She plans to attend the University of California at Berkeley to obtain her Masters' degree in English. Myrna, who was born in Chicago and who has also lived in Los Angeles, moved to Las in 1960 where she presently lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Selwyn, 3257 Arabella. A graduate of Las Vegas High School, she was editor of the literary magazine and co-editor of the student newspaper. She also wrote a weekly column for the Review Journal from 1961 to 1963.

During her freshman year at NSU, Myrna was co-editor of the REBEL YELL, and since 1965 has been employed by Dr. Charles Adams, Coordinator of NSU Graduate Studies, as a part-time secretary. sity of California at Berkeley to

Abell Invites Hughes For Tour

N.S.U. Student Body President Jack Abell has expressed mixed feelings over the recent announcefeelings over the recent announcement by industrialist Howard Hughes that he was prepared to give between $4 and $5 million for the extablishment of a medical school in the state of Nevada.

"As a student at N.S.U., I am truly grateful that Mr. Hughes would take such an interest in Nevada higher education. It is a generous deed. However, I am certain that if he were better informed of the current threat to the existence of undergraduate programs and quality faculty at Nevada Southern University, his generous offer could be channeled into a vital area, said Abell.

The student government of the

The student government of the N.S.U. student confederation is prepared at any time to substantiate our need for such philanthropic support by giving Mr. Hughes a tour of our campus, but I understand that such a tour would be hard to schedule. We are, nonetheless, eager to show Mr. Hughes the problem first hand, expecially if he is to become a Las Vegan," Abell added.

According to the N.S.U. student leader, the medical school would still place a financial strain on already below-par University appropriations for undergraduate development at N.S.U.

"That medical complex will cost far more to support after 1970 than $200,000 per year, even with the generous offer by Mr. Hughes," he said.

Random Rambles

Spring has sprung...a lot of things.

Besides flowers, the sun, bugs and other usuals there have been alot of things popping up that weren't expected.

Like the medical school donation on the part of Mr. Howard Hughes.

Like the medical school donation on the part of Mr. Howard Hughes. Grand gesture! He has been thanked by just about everybody around this state and expecially by his accountant. Let me add my thanks...Thanks. Like the two extra members of the Nevada Board of Regents. Now that was a curious development. It seems that there was a trade of some sort in the Assembly: "I'll trade you one of my yes votes on the regent thin'a'mawhopper if you'll give me a yes vote on that medical school goodie...plus a subsidy on salt liks and 1/2 book of Orange stamps." Politics works in funny ways in this State. For once, at least, Southern Nevada seems to be getting a fair shake.

Nevada seems to be getting a fair shake.

Like a fantastic new library. Beautiful, modern, unusual, and empty. Has anybody seen it yet. Maybe the legislators should-or the Governor. (That reminds me, by the way, of a real burn by Governor Laxalt on the N.S.U. campus. But don't tell him about it. That was that he accepted an invitation to speak at a University of Nevada junior class luncheon. That wouldn't be so bad...but he hasn't accepted an invitation to speak here, or even visit here, since last fall when he told us how much interest he had in our growth and how much he was going to do for us. Don't tell him our feelings are hurt.)

Like, also, the proposal in the Assembly to change the name of the University to Nevada State University. That's really great as far as names go. Unfortunately the C.S.N.S. Senate would rather see U.C.LA. change its name than us change ours. They voted to recommend that the name stay the same. Unless, of course, the legislature is in a generous mood and wants to get rid of that THING under our name saying "A Campus of the University of Nevada."

Like the beginning of the Student Center this month. Now that's really good too. I mean that's great news. Now all we need is some money to get teachers to teach students to use the center. In other words: "That's great."

Yes-siree, it's going to be a great spring.

Yes-siree, it's going to be a great spring.

CSNS Election Schedule Released

Twelve major CSNS posts (see box) will be up for grabs when the 1967 CSNS Elections occur on Thursday and Friday, May 4th and 5th, CSNS President Jack Abell and CSNS Election Committee Chairman Steve Cochran announced the campaign schedule yester-

Abell said that he was not eager to rush into any change just for the sake of change, "According to the primary schedule, petitions would have had to be released on March 41st. The legislation pending before the CSNS officers just was not in any condition to be rushed through in time to meet that deadline," he noted.

The expanded campaign (it will span nearly three weeks) begins officially at 12 midnight on Monday, April 17th. "I believe that the extended campaign period will be an advantage to both candidates and voters alike," said Abell. "It will afford a candidate time to mount a platform and attack, and permits the student voter to adequately review the candidates."

Candidate petitions will be available (one per candidate) beginning on Friday, April 7th in the CSNS Offices, Gr. 235. The petitions are due in the hands of the CSNS-President or Election Committee Chairman no later than 4 p.m. Firday, April 14th.

NEW PROGRAMS IN HELPING SERVICES TO BE OFFERED

Dr. Donald Moyer, NSU Chancellor, has announced the inauguration of a new undergraduate program in the Helping Services to start in the Fall of 1967. The Helping Services include those services that have been traditionally connected with the fields of mental health, mental retardation, social welfare, vocational rehabilitation and correctional work.

The new program offers the student enrolled in the four year liberal arts school an opportunity for actual field experience working under competent supervision.

Talent Show Nearina

Plans for the 1967 student Talent Show are in full swing as of this time. Randy Frew, C.S.N.S. 2nd Vice President and one of the coordinators of the show, announced today that tryouts will be held next Thursday and Friday, April 6 and 7, at 8 p.m. in Social Science 103.

The Talent Show, an annual event of the Confederated Students, is one of the most popular of the entire year. Last year the Show was moved from the Gym Foyer to the large Social Science lecture hall which has a seating capacity of 350, but when a standing-room only crowd of over 500 attended the performance Frew decided this year that the show will have to be held in the Gym proper. It is anticipated that more than 550 will attend this year's show.

There are five catagories in which one may enter the Talent Show. These catagories are: individual, group, organization, soroity, and fraternity. However, organizations, sororities, or fraternities may not be represented in the show by one person. Trophies will be awarded in each of the five catagories.

The date of the Talent Show itself is Friday, April 21, 1967, at 8 p.m., in the N.S.U. Gym.

Admission is free and is open to all students and any members of the Las Vegas community who are interested in attending.

Chuck Crawford is the student chairman of the committee, and Mr. Yung Wei of the N.S.U. Political Science faculty is acting as advisor. Those students serving on the 1967 committee are: Don Malone, Bill Ruymann, Terry Lindberg, Bruce Heskett, Bill Ressler, Jr., Phyllis Ward, Bruce Adams, Mike Mullaley, Sandi Sharp, and Jack Abell, N.S.U., for the second straight year, is the sole representative of the Silver State at the session.

the United Nations while also providing a simulation situation in which collegians could actively compete on an academic level in discussing world problems.

Now the West Coast Conference has grown to be the largest of the over 1100 M.U.N. Conferences in the nation. It is estimated that there will be over 110 schools and more than 1500 delegates in Portland this spring.

N.SU.'s participation in the Conference began in 1963 when the Model United Nations Committee was made a formal part of CSNS, and a seven - member delegation represented Italy. CSNS has subsidized the program each year.

Because of the intense work that is required to prepare for the Conference, a special political science course in international relations simulation was begun in 1965.

N.S.U. has received considerable publicity with other member schools at the affair, both due to the performance of the delegates and excellent forum for public relations the Conference offers each school. The delegation plans to set-up an exhibit on N.S.U. in Portland.

Republican Young Keeps Commitment

Assembly Bill 61, introduced by a Southern Nevadan, Republican Assemblyman Frank Young, has been signed into law by the Govern-

Assembly Bill 61 permits professors and staff of the university to buy urgently needed special items without going through the State Purchasing Office.

The State Purchasing Office will still handle those things common to other state agencies that permit bulk purchasing economies, such as desk, autos, pencils and paper.

Young had committed himself to work for this legislation during the campagn last fall when State Purchasing Office procedures were highlighted by unfortunate delays in the furnishing of the new NSU dormitory.

Young feels this change in the state's laws will give professional people on the university staff more flexibility in their technical purchases, will give the university more autonomy, will reduce red tape, and consequently, should reduce costs.

The REBEL YELL learned Tuesday in an exclusive interview with Elburt Miller, Nevada Southern University's All-American basketball forward, that the 6'4'' cager will return for his second season as an N.S.U. Rebel next year, According to a local newspaper story recently, Miller was planning on starting a professional career in the NBA with the new San Diego franchise of the pro league. Nothing definite was reported except that he had been approached by the new team.

Miller told the R-Y that he wanted to stay at N.S.U. for three major reasons, his degree, the friendly spirit of N.S.U., and the chance to earn a better professional contract following a hopefully "good season" next year. He affirmed these reasons Tuesday.

There are reports that Miller and Coach Rolland Todd are not on the best of terms personally. Todd, however, was not available for comment late Tuesday, and Miller would not directly confirm such

The REBEL YELL did learn that Miller was highly dissatis-

"I am really intent on earning my degree, because of my wife and children," said Miller, 'but that isn't to say that nothing would happen to change my mind."

Miller established himself as Miller established himself as N.S.U. 's top cager to date last season when he led the Rebels to a fine 21-6 record and second place in the NCAA Far Western Small College Regional Tourney at San Diego last month. He was the fifth-ranked small college scorer in the nation in final statistics released by the NCAA last week. He pumped in 894 points for a 31.9 per game average.

Without the services of Miller, the Rebels were expected to be in for a long season next year against another strengthened schedule featuring top schools, including Houston and Elvin Hayes. Considerable student interest and speculation resulted from the possibility o him departing Maryland Parkway.

One thing is certain, Elburt Miller has proven himself an asset that N.S.U. can not afford to lose. He is a potent scoring machine, especially when employed in a Rolland Todd-type offense (run and shoot). As one student put it, "if we lose Miller, there had better be a bood explanation for several things."

Dr. Fred Anderson, Chairman of the Board from Reno has been the major target of N.S. U. based critics. He has strongly endorsed the medical school proposal. Even in the face of expert analysis which has cautioned Nevada, estimated a nearly $1 million Annual Budget, and called for planning.

Much of the attention at the Friday and Saturday sessions will be devoted to the new Clark Regents. Their seating on the Board has given 5 members to Clark County with the remaining 6 in Washoe County and the Cow County areas.

Regardless of the actions of the students, all indications point to tremendous attention being devoted to the new Regents. Many feel they hold the key to what one NSU administrator has called a "Pandora's Box" for "those who have openly and clandestinely opposed the proper emphasis on NSU's undergraduate programs, faculty salaries, physical autonomy, and self respect."
