Crawford Contests Illegal Elections

C.S.N.S. First Vice President Chuck Crawford submitted a case Tuesday to the C.S.N.S. Judicial Board to "contest the illegal election held April 25-26."

"Student Body President Mike Clark and his ghostly decision makers sufficiently confused everyone as to just what kind of election it was. Some students felt it was a general election, some felt it was a primary election, no one except Mike Clark could be sure.

"If it was a general student body election," continued Crawford, "as I assume everyone now thinks it was, it violated a C.S.N.S. by-law which required election petitions to be turned in two weeks ahead of time, it also violated a by-law requiring election rules to be publicized three weeks in advance. In addition, there was no constitutional provision for absentee balloting, which denied some students the right to vote. Also, I believe that write-in ballots were counted in the general election. If, on the contrary, the election was to be considered some sort of primary, there is no provision in the Constitution or by-laws for a primary, also no one could be elected from a primary, no matter how many candidates were running because it would not be a valid general election."

Crawford's case was ruled on by the Judicial Board Tuesday night, but at REBEL YELL press time results were not available.

"My motivation," said Crawford, "could be construed as political sour grapes, because as many people were aware I campaigned vigorously for Terry Lindberg. This might have been true except that Mr. Lindberg has said that even if another election were scheduled he will not campaign for office. I am disturbed at the usual middle-of-the-road mentality of our Student Body president, even on procedural decisions. It's disgusting."

Terry Lindberg, who ran for student body president against Bill Terry, lost the election according to results of the April 25-26 elections. He told the REBEL YELL that his decision to not challenge Bill Terry in another election was "on the basis that I feel campaigning will only disunify students more. Unity was one of my fundamental platform planks during the first campaign. In addition, Mr. Lindberg said that, 'I also seem not able to dispel many of the rumors that my opponents started about embezzling student board funds (of which there are none anyway), spending over $1,000 on my campaign, and leaving town on election days because I didn't really want to be student body president. By the way, I was gone during the election, but to attend the Model United Nations as a Nevada Southern delegate. To not attend would have meant that I would fail the three unit course in Model United Nations preparation. All in all, I am not the type of person who will throw mud back, and I am not going to start being one."

Ad Hoc Committee Writes President Neil Humphrey

Neil D. Humphrey, Acting President
Office of the President
University of Nevada
Reno, Nevada 89507

Dear Dr. Humphrey:

Inasmuch as the Ad Hoc Committee was formed by the President of the University following an appeal by Mr. Diamante claiming that his resignation presented on September 12, 1967 was obtained under duress, and requesting therefore, that the University rescind his resignation, the Committee believes that the subject matter of its inquiry is the determination of the circumstances surrounding Mr. Diamante's resignation, rather than the determination of Mr. Diamante's age.

The Committee did, however, accept testimony relative to Mr. Diamante's age, inasmuch as the question of his age is tied in by Dr. Moyer's correspondence with Mr. Monsey regarding the reason why Dr. Moyer accepted Mr. Diamante's resignation. The Committee cannot pro- judge the question of Mr. Diamante's age for the following reasons: 1) the question of the rescinding of the resignation should be resolved first; 2) no formal charges relative to Mr. Diamante's age were made; 3) no conclusion could be drawn from the evidence presented in the hearing.

The Committee believes that Mr. Diamante perceived that he was under undue pressure when he resigned, whether such pressure was consciously or deliberately directed against him or not. There were some unusual circumstances surrounding his resignation: viz., Dr. Pearsall and Dr. Byrns acted in a hasty and unusual manner following their examination of the transcript in which Mr. Diamante's birthdate is cited as January, 1900. The Committee fails to see why Dr. Byrns and Dr. Pearsall considered the matter so urgent. The testimony of Dean Crawford emphasizes both his and Chancellor Moyer's concern with the precipitous action taken by Dr. Byrns and Dr. Pearsall. The Committee refers here to the statement made by Dean Crawford (January 2, 1968 hearing, p. 44, 11, 30-32) that "Dr. Moyer was somewhat concerned that this thing had moved rather rapidly, and that he had not gotten to talk to Mr. Diamante." The circumstances surrounding the writing of the letter of resignation itself seem to the Committee unusual. Testimony shows that the letter of resignation was typed by Dr. Pearsall, that both Dr. Byrns and Dr. Pearsall contributed to the content of the letter, and that Dr. Pearsall offered Mr. Diamante a pen with which to sign the letter.

The Committee deplors Dr. Byrns' reaction to its request to appear at the hearing. Dr. Byrns' refusal to testify hampered the Committee's effectively completing its assignment. Although the Committee recognizes that Dr. Byrns was within his legal rights to refuse to comply with the Committee's request, it feels that he acted in a most antagonistic and irresponsible way. By his refusal to testify, he did not act in the best interests of the University.

The Committee, after carefully reviewing the evidence presented in two lengthy hearings, concludes that Mr. Diamante felt he was under undue pressure when he resigned. The Committee unanimously recommends that the University accept Mr. Diamante's offer to withdraw his resignation, dated September 12, 1967.

Respectfully,
Irving S. Katz, Chairman
Ad Hoc Committee
James Deacon, Committee Member
Holbert Hendrix, Committee Member

Bill Terry Elected CSNS President?

Bill Terry has been declared CSNS student body president as a result of the campus-wide primary election held last Thursday and Friday.

Terry is presently a junior pre-law major. He has been employed by the Public Defender during this semester and will now have an opportunity to put his experiences to practical use.

Because this was declared the final election for some offices, winners can now be made public. They are Randy Frew, First Vice-President, and Val Stewart, Pep Commissioner.

Officers for the Associated Women Students are President, JoAnn Janes; Vice-President, Joni Hurst; Secretary, Judy Fleishman; and Treasurer, Sharon Dillman.

Balloting did not include the senatorial contenders, a point which may pose a question as to the finality of the previous election.

Run-off elections will be held today and tomorrow, May 2 and 3. This will be the final election and will include the remaining candidates and nominations for Cotillion Queen.

The candidates are for First Vice-President, John Daleske and Thom-

AFT To Stage Protest

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was released by the American Federation of Teachers, Local 1818.)

I. THE FIGHT

At 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, May 2, Local 1818 of the American Federation of Teachers, together with all sympathetic faculty members, students and members of the community, will begin a two day picket and protest march outside the library and the office of the president of this University. We will concurrently initiate a two day sit-in demonstration in the office of the president. At 12:30 p.m. of the first day, certain faculty members, who have been rehired for next year, will publicly burn their contracts.

"These actions are directed not against the president alone, whose office is to be used only as a symbol, but against a blundering attorney general, an arrogant board of regents, and an authoritarian and dehumanizing administration.

The demonstrations will receive intensive local, out of state, and possibly nationwide radio, television and press coverage.

II. THE DISEASE

At Nevada Southern University teachers are manipulated as numbers rather than as people, and are treated as objects rather than as human beings. Herbert Diamante, for example, with nearly thirty years of successful experience in the teaching profession, has been thrown into the ash can by the administration. The chancellor of this University has quietly ignored his own investigating committee, which recommended that Mr. Diamante be immediately reinstated. Perhaps this was because the committee was composed only of senior and tenured faculty members, rather than of prestigious administrators. Or perhaps it was because the committee did not recommend what the chancellor wanted it to recommend.

As a by-product of administrative power politics together with professional and personal jealousy, good teachers are punished with salary restrictions—or else they are fired—or else, out of disgust, they leave the school of their own volition. Eugene Dawson, for example, is one of the most respected members of our faculty. Last year he was evaluated glowingly by the administration, and was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor. This year, after leading a protest against the administration's treatment of Mr. Diamante, Dr. Dawson was evaluated by the administration as all but incompetent, and was refused a minimal salary increment which would not even have matched the rising cost of living. Dr. Dawson is now leaving Nevada Southern University for another school, which will pay him almost three thousand dollars more than his present salary.

It is the students who suffer. It is not the administration or the board of regents, and certainly not the attorney general, but the students who have repeatedly suffered from the shocking annual faculty exodus from Nevada Southern University.

III. THE GOAL

Local 1818 intends ultimately to present the University with that which it has not been able to obtain for itself—a faculty with high morale and confidence in their institution. This is to be accomplished through collective bargaining—through equal partnership in mutual respect between administration and faculty, between employer and employee. The ultimate goal of the Union is the welfare of the University as a whole, including the entire faculty and student body.

Local 1818 is now fighting for recognition. It is also fighting for redress of grievances submitted by four Union members: Eugene Dawson, Philip Pukas, Robert Serpa and Alfredo Villaneuva. In order to resolve these grievances in a rational and mutually satisfactory manner, the Union has devoted many arduous weeks in repeated attempts to speak with the administration, first at its lower and then at its higher levels. Each time the Union has been rebuffed—sometimes politely and sometimes maliciously—but always rebuffed. Since the grievances remain unresolved and the administration refuses to respond to rational overtures in a rational manner, no recourse remains but direct action.

This week's activities are only the beginning. All those teachers who respect their profession, and all those students who respect their teachers, are invited to join with us, not only in the next few days, but in the months and years to come.

MUN CONSIDERED A HUGE SUCCESS

Twenty-two students are once again Americans by name after having represented Syria, South Vietnam, and Denmark for four days in Tucson, Arizona for the Model United Nations conference at the University of Arizona.

The students are all members of Political Science, 233, Simulation in International Relations Theory, a three unit class which is designed to train students as to country position on major issues before the United Nations, and generally prepare the delegates for the MUN conference.

The class is student instructed by co-chairmen Chuck Crawford and Bruce Heskett. They termed the conference, "The most successful as far as Nevada Southern's goals of recognition and academic adventure that we have yet attended." They said that there is no provision for competitive awards, however, they said that schools are rewarded by the assignment of more significant nations to represent in the next conference. Crawford said, "I have no doubt that we will be assigned a major country for the next session."

He also added that the delegation is tentatively planning to bid for the MUN conference to be held in 1971. Bids for the 1300 student, 110 school conference rotate by regions and are submitted two years in advance.

SENIORS MEET

The Senior class will meet May 9, Thursday, at 1 p.m. in SS 116. All seniors are urged to attend.

Summer Schedules Out

The 1968 Summer Session Schedule is now available in Mr. W. Hubert Johnson, Director of Summer Session, Frazier Hall for distribution.

as Donnelly; Secretary, Marie Christensen and Susan Hind; Treasurer, Johnny Clark and John Cook.

The REBEL YELL urges all students to freely and without bias cast a ballot and exercise your right to vote. Coercion and forced mandates have no place in a free society and cannot be tolerated by intelligent thinking people.

Politics or Education The Great Dilemma

By CRAIG PYES
It's "just Spring" when students wander from their rooms out into the singing sun. And no wonder! (the refrain is):
I came to the university to get an education
These are not just cute words but an unfortunate truth, and unfortunately evidence of this is most prominent in the rigid silence of Social Science, in the department of un-Humanities.
But the question of the day is: Who is Herbert Diamante? Perhaps some of you remember signing a petition protesting the "arbitrary and punitive" manner in which he was dismissed, and perhaps you further remember asking for a full and public disclosure of the facts. But not even a punitive nor an arbitrary fact was ever published, because we also asked for an ad hoc committee to review the case and recommend to the Chancellor (then President).
No records have been published, only because the Chancellor's committee, his OWN self-appointed committee, has recommended that Diamante be immediately reinstated. The Chancellor has received their decision and in characteristically "good faith" has deposited it into the "memory hole," where it is hoped that both the facts and Diamante will pass quietly into oblivion.

So much for administrative justice!
But Diamante was only the first to be purged; there are others: Serpa, Pukas, and others still who remain tenuously, always under attack from various administrators. These professors are guilty of academic excellence, of "elitism," i.e., stressing knowledge and application of their respective subjects (English, Language, Philosophy, etc), and its seems that this is no longer viable in the Gestalt of higher learning. What we are evolving to is simply a middle-management vocational school: the politicians and administrators make the policy, and so each year we graduate, because our courses are geared to this, more administrators and politicians.
As long as Nevada Southern is governed by mechanical puppets and smiling public relations men, there is no use predicating our existence as a university; we might as well be known as Knowledge Tech. Never under current standards will we be able to entertain on our faculty men of letters or scholarly endeavor — never as long as men like Herbert Diamante are abusively forgotten or banished to the periphery of our conscience.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Now the Faculty Senate will hear a word from the Chairman of the Students Rights Committee.

Competition for Our Scholars

By PAM PHILLIPS
While sports and social activities have their most definite place on a college campus, it would appear that this particular campus is all too lacking in intellectual pursuits extending beyond the classroom.
While it is not being advocated that everyone immediately rush out and form egghead discussion societies, a very pleasant, enjoyable, and indeed challenging method of exercising the brain is at our very fingertips; all that is needed is to get the ball rolling.
The General Electric College Bowl, airing every Sunday evening on television, gives one food for thought about how much there is to know and how conversely the more one knows the less he knows. The College Bowl is highly exciting and fast paced, and participants must have their wits about them most keenly, for a second's hesitation can be disastrous.
The game need not be played between two different colleges, however, and could be extremely interesting if staged at NSU, using teams of challengers with diversified fields of knowledge, representing the different schools. Each professor on campus could be asked to make up ten questions pertinent to his field. Each question and answer could be placed on a separate card, and all could be placed in a large canister. The moderator could then dip into the canister for questions, each of which would be accompanied by acceptable or suitable answers.

A college bowl game could last one-half hour and could take place, for instance, on Wednesday at lunch time. A room such as 116 SS could be used, or perhaps the Little Theatre in Grant Hall. A different faculty member could each week preside as moderator of the two four-man panels.
Student and faculty comments on the feasibility of this college bowl project would be most welcome, and can be received in the REBEL YELL office, Room 118 of Tonopah Hall.

Autonomy: the NSU Thorn

Clark County's Republican Party recently convened and passed unanimously, amid thunderous applause, a resolution for the governor to study the feasibility of making NSU an autonomous university.
The Republicans responded avidly to demands brought forth by enthusiastic NSU students in favor of autonomy.
A Republican Party spokesman reported that the resolution was passed for the following reasons:
(1) NSU is administratively subordinate to the U of N at Reno in accordance with N.R.S. 396.010, subsections 1 and 2.
(2) NSU is fiscally dependent upon and subservient to the U of N at Reno in accordance with N.R.S. 396.020.
(3) The population of Southern Nevada has increased 125 per cent in the past ten years with a corresponding increase in the allocation of funds for NSU.
(4) There has not been a corresponding increase in the degree of administrative control nor a corresponding increase in the allocation of funds for NSU.

Cheerleading Tryouts

Practice for cheerleading tryouts, both junior and varsity, Monday and Wednesday from 3-5 and Tuesday and Thursday from 7-9 p.m. in the gym. Application forms and information available at practice sessions.

CSUB Makes Approach Claims to Pres. Moyer

It was learned by the REBEL YELL that the battle between CSUB and the administration has moved to a new front over two controversial issues.
According to Terry Lindberg, CSUB chairman, the Board has convened twice since their March 22 meeting, to discuss
(1) An additional University's President's appointee to the CSUB and (2) a formal veto over CSUB decisions for the University President.
Regarding the first issue, Lindberg told the REBEL YELL that the Board is of the unanimous opinion that it should not recommend to the CSNS Senate that it change its by-laws, which governs the CSUB's composition, for the following reasons:
(1) The appointment of CSUB seems more than equitable considering the ratio of students, to faculty, to administration.
(2) The cost of the Campus Student Union is being borne mostly by students. For that reason, students should have a viable voice in the affairs of their Union.
(3) The Board assumed, from what was expressed at the March 22 meeting, that only additional expertise was desired, not an additional vote.

(4) The Board does not consider expertise to be contingent upon a vote. Expertise is viewed as an advisory function, not governing.
(5) Sufficient expertise is seemingly available from the Union Director, the various professional managers, and a single University President appointee.
(6) Board members are uncertain as to the exact reason why an additional University President appointee would be necessary.
Lindberg also reported the conclusions of the Board concerning the University President's veto over CSUB. He said that the Board was under the assumption that the President of the University possesses a de-facto veto over CSUB and most, if not all campus and CSNS bodies and the Board feels that to confer a formal veto it both redundant and an unnecessary abrogation of its own viability. Lindberg also pointed out the desire of the Board to have authority equitable.
Plans for further consultations between CSUB and the administration have been initiated. Two other vital questions of prime concern are believed to be discussed at that time. They are, according to CSUB: (1) Student office space and (2) Administrative office space.

Modified Counseling

A modified preregistration, and advisement by counselors will be required this spring for all full-time and part-time students planning to return to NSU in September, according to Miss Muriel Parks, registrar.
Though no fees will be collected until September, space will be reserved in desired classes. Special students are not eligible for this preregistration, though it is optional for graduate special students.
Between May 13 and May 24, students should hold counsel with their advisors. They are advised to make appointments now. During advisement, the fall program will be determined and approved. Each student will prepare a duplicate copy of his class schedule; one copy will be given to the adviser; the other copy will entitle the student to make class card reservations in the offices of the various schools offering the courses in which he will be enrolling. Class card reservations for classes designated in the class schedule as Evening Division offerings may be made, but class cards for these courses will be distributed only on registration days.

In September, registration packets for regular students will be issued only to those who present the signed advisement form. On September 3, students who have pre-registered are to call for their class cards between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the school offices. No reservation will be held after 4 p.m., it is emphasized, and classes which may have been closed during pre-registration, will therefore be subject to re-opening if reservations are not called for.
Plans for preregistration and registrations for the fall semester were formulated by a faculty student committee chaired by Dean Crawford. Students involved were Dixie Tienken, Dianne Abercrombie, Jordan Nordhagen, Jeanne-Marie Libotte, and Mason McNinch.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
It has come to the attention of certain paid members of CSNS that the Administrators of our funds have abused their power. The REBEL YELL, our single, student subsidized campus newspaper, has suddenly become the voice of a very few students. In taking sides during a "free" election, the REBEL YELL has violated its position as a neutral interpreter of the news.

May we remind you that since the R-Y is the only newspaper on campus, it should represent all the students on this campus.
Therefore, we seek an assurance that the R-Y will never again function for those whose aspirations for political office have superceded good judgement.

Thank you,

Phi Kappa Phi Discusses Man's Greatest Problem?

Phi Kappa Phi, NSU's honor society, is sponsoring the first annual "Challenge Day" to be held May 8, from noon till one. This event is the product of the societies Special Projects Committee.

"Challenge Day" is a panel discussion on the question: "The population explosion: man's greatest problem?"

The five man panel will consist of three professors and two students. The professors are: Dr. William White (Chairman of Business), Dr. James Deacon (Professor of Biology), and Rev. J. Beakinship (Minister of the University Methodist Church). The students are: Chuck Crawford and Fred Williams.

Each member of the panel will give a four minute synopsis of his views on the question and will be able to ask any one of the other panelists one question.

The President of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, Mr. Dallas Norton, will open the whole event with an informative speech about the society and its future events. He will be followed by Dr. Ralph Roske, who will introduce the panel and moderate the discussion.

Everyone is invited to attend this very informative meeting.

A Vote for A.A.

The CSNS Alumni Association will now have one representative on the newly formed Campus Student Union Board, who will be appointed by the chairman of the union board. This policy is a result of legislation passed by a joint session recently.

Under this new legislation, the Alumni will nominate their own candidate in the way of a suggestion. The chairman of the Campus Student Union Board will then make the final decision as to who will actually fill the singular position.

The member has not yet been appointed, but since the union board has met several times already the matter will have to be taken care of immediately.

Completed message centers with sunshades are in front of the Social Science and Library buildings.

Student Union Holds PE Dance Class

According to CSUB chairman, Terry Lindberg, the Physical Education department's request concerning the use of Union facilities for classes in social and square dance, and billiards has been granted under six major conditions.

Lindberg told the REBEL-YELL that the Board was of unanimous consensus regarding the request and will honor it under these conditions:

(1) The classes will be scheduled only during hours agreed upon between the Board and the physical education department.

(2) In the event that the facilities are needed for special programs, the P.E. classes would be of subor-ordinate scheduling priority, and other arrangement for the classes would have to be ascertained.

(3) The students enrolled in the billiards classes will be subjected to the regular student fee rates while utilizing the tables.

(4) Responsibility for clean-up or janitorial necessities incurred through classtime use of the ballroom shall be vested within the physical education department.

(5) The conditions stated shall be for a one-semester trial basis.

(6) These conditions shall not be construed as a policy of precedence in allowing classes to be held in the Campus Student Union; it is, rather, an experiment.

Class Goes to Japan

The first travel-for-credit course offered at NSU is a three-credit education course going to Japan and will be conducted by Dr. Rosella Linskie, professor of education. It will run from June 22 to July 12.

Dr. Linskie has spent more than four years as an educator in Japan and the Far East during the period of American Occupation, and since has toured Europe, Australia, Mexico, Canada, most of the Pacific Islands and numerous other countries.

The summer course will cover 15 Japanese cities and will include discussions with that nation's teachers, students, government officials, artists, writers, industrialists and community leaders.

It also will include visits to colleges, universities and elementary and secondary schools in both urban and rural areas. Tours of museums, shrines and government buildings will be arranged, along with attendance at various performing art productions.

"While the emphasis will be focused on education, all dimensions of this vital action will be explored in order to gain greater insight into the cultural universals which influence education in every society," says Dr. Linskie.

International Tourism, Innkeeping Ends at Semester Break with Tour

The Fall schedule of classes includes a new hotel course with a unique final. International Tourism and Innkeeping, H.A. 241, concludes with a cultural-culinary tour of Southern Europe scheduled for approximately two weeks during the mid-semester recess 1968-1969. The hotel administration program is preparing an agenda in cooperation with travel representatives in Las Vegas.

The course and nonstructured tour are to be directed by Assistant Professor Lothar A. Kreck. Kreck joined the NSU faculty in February, coming to the campus from his post in Karachi, Pakistan where he was Director of Training for Inter-Continental Hotels. He also served as Advisor to the Pakistan Government's Department of Tourism and was consultant to the Pakistan International Airlines.

While the tour will be very loosely structured, the group will have the advantage of Mr. Kreck's language ability (English, French, Spanish and German) and his previous residence in nine different countries including all of those tentatively scheduled.

In order to make the special transportation and accommodation rates available to all, no prerequisite has been set for the course. In keeping with this plan, the role of the hotel industry will be discussed within the cultural, economic and political framework of the nation's tourist effort.

During the tour, Kreck's role will be one of guidance and assistance. Every effort will be made to avoid the traditional tourist isolation and to develop meaningful contact with the local population.

Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority, in a prelude to their initiation activities initiated 25 honorary alumnae.

These alumnae are women who did not have the opportunity in college to belong to A D Pi and who have made worthwhile contributions to the sorority, school or community. Mrs. Dwight Marshall, dean of women at NSU and Mrs. Ronald Cheshire, private secretary to Mr. Peter Mayhew, top executive of Howard Hughes were two of the initiates.

Dear Students,

Last June 1, I began serving you as a CSNS Senator. Working diligently and honestly, I have approached my responsibilities with a sincere concern for you and with a desire to accomplish those things which would most improve Nevada Southern.

The importance of actual experience in a position which deals with problems and issues involving our entire campus cannot be overemphasized. This past year, the knowledge I have gained as a Senator has given me a perspective of the whole campus. This perspective will be invaluable as I serve Nevada Southern in the future.

I am now a candidate for the office of CSNS Secretary. I ask you to help me continue my service to NSU. I ask you for your vote on May 2nd and 3rd.

I WILL DO THE BEST JOB.

Sincerely,
MARIE CHRISTENSEN

National Education Ass. Seeks Teachers, Seniors

By JULIE JONES

The local branch of the Nevada State Education Association is currently seeking to attract more local graduating seniors and more of the many local teachers who are now doing their graduate work at Arizona State University.

According to Mr. Charles Fleming, assistant executive secretary, this image has been greatly assisted by the expansion of the graduate program.

Fleming added that they also are working to "strengthen and streamline" teacher certification and toward more successful negotiation with the board of trustees on any problem concerning education.

The Nevada State Education Association, a branch of the NEA, is headed by executive secretary James T. Butler in Northern Nevada.

The NEA, founded in 1857, is the world's largest professional association. It is composed mainly of classroom teachers from all the state education associations and has more than 8,500 local associations. Its purpose is twofold: "to elevate the character and advance the interests of the profession of teaching, and to promote the cause of education in the United States."

NEA is an independent, voluntary, non-governmental organization of those who are engaged in educational work. This independence makes it possible for the organization to work freely with all constructive groups — agricultural, business, labor, governmental, professional and others.

The NEA seeks to improve the teaching process through a variety of activities such as releasing information on political issues concerning education and the results of educational research. It also tries to protect the educator by establishing a Commission on Professional Rights and responsibilities and the Du Shane Fund for Teacher Rights.

Because the NEA recognizes that the United States must maintain and use wisely its position of world leadership it believes that it is an important responsibility of the teaching profession to strengthen the educational efforts in the international field. It has shown action in this direction by creating the World Confederation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession (WCOTP).

Church Discusses Black Rebellion

Mr. Raymond G. Manker of the Unitarian Church of Phoenix will discuss "The Black Rebellion — in the Ghetto and in the U.U.A." (Unitarian Universalist Association) with the Las Vegas Unitarian Fellowship, Sunday, May 5, 4 p.m., Paradise Park Town Hall, Tropicana and Harrison Streets.

G. Rober Hohler, writing in the Fall 1967 issue of Respond, said, "Try this on for size — a Black Caucus in Unitarianism: There's conflict for you. Separatism in a movement that treasures integration; division along the lines of color in a denomination that prides itself on being color blind." Mr. Manker will trace this development in both the ghetto and in the U.U.A. and will hold a discussion period following his lecture.

The public is invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

Counseling Offices Offer Job Placement for Seniors

Job placement for Senior students is a new service being offered by the Counseling Offices of the University.

Senior Students in all majors are at present being contacted by Miss Angeline Smith, Dean of Women, for the purpose of informing them of the placement service.

The students fill out applications, and files are compiled on them, including references and job experience.

Miss Smith emphasized the urgency of the seniors contacting her without delay. She explained that many major companies from all over the country are going to be sending out scouts and agents in the early spring to try to recruit college graduates for their training programs.

Placement will be especially good in fields such as Business management, and Accounting. However, general degrees are all that are actually required, as many firms have their own management-trainee programs.

Two Sessions for Education Majors

Two sessions of courses from the School of Education will highlight Nevada Southern University's Summer School this year.

The session, each offering a maximum of six semester hours of credit will be held from June 10-July 17 and July 18-August 23. Cost is $18 per credit hour.

Registration for the first session will be held June 10. Sign-up date for the second session is July 18.

More than 90 graduate and undergraduate courses will be offered by the School of Education during the summer sessions, ranging from school guidance to elementary, secondary and physical education to home economics. Several special classes will be offered as follows:

- June 10-July 19, Problems in Elementary School Language Arts.
- June 10-June 28, Workshop in Aerospace Education.
- July 18-August 2, Problems of Reading in the Secondary School.
- July 22-August 16, Problems and Practices in the Secondary School.
- July 10-July 17, Individualized Reading.
- July 18- August 2, Driver Education and Training.

CLASS HOLDS DISCUSSIONS

Students in Dr. Bernard Greenblatt's Social Science class, "Field of the Helping Service," will discuss their experiences in this unique approach to social services with the Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship, Tropicana and Harrison Streets.

Dr. Greenblatt will introduce the panel and comment on his progressive innovation of social science education. Dorothy Bryant will moderate, and following their commentary will conduct a discussion period with the audience. The public is invited.

Thinclads Crush Calif., LaVerne

NSU's infant Track and Field team captured its first meet victory in history by running past host Cal Lutheran and La Verne last Saturday.

With a muddy track cutting into the times, the Rebels picked up nine of the 14 first places, racking up 73 points, while Cal Lutheran had 61 and La Verne, 46.

The team of Gary Halko, Roger Wagner, Harold Stafford and Jesse Scott scored two wins, the 440 relay in 43.9 and the mile relay in 3:38.8.

Halko captured a first in the 440 by clocking 51.6, a step ahead of second place Stafford.

Gary Elam, running on a badly swollen sprained ankle, picked up a first in the 880 in 2:08 and also captured third in the two-mile.

Rebels swept all field events as Mike Kiddy led the way. With a toss of 144-2½, Kiddy won the discus and pushed the shot 40-8½ for another first.

John Garland leaped a season best of 6-2 to win the high jump and Doug Thurgood took first in the pole vault in 11-0. Another Rebel, Randy Walters grabbed a third in the pole vault.

Les Reese received a tie for first in the long jump at 19-1 while Larry Lisby took a third.

The Rebels displayed a lot of depth in the track events as Scott picked up a second in the 100 yard dash with a clocking of 10.1. Wagner came in third and NSU's Fred Hymes finished fourth.

Lisby grabbed a second in the 120 high hurdles with a time of 16.9 and and the 400 intermediate hurdles with a 1:01.9.

Scott scored another second in the 220, turning 22.5 while Wagner was close behind with 22.6 and Stafford in fourth with 23.2.

Kiddy, the only double winner for the Rebels made it a very successful weekend in California. Friday night the NSU freshman tossed the discus 148-11 for an eighth place in the tough Mt. San Antonio Relays.

"I thought the kids performed excellent," said Rebel coach Bill Scoble. "The times were a little slow, but you could see when they came down to the wire, their spikes were covered with mud."

Next week the Rebs head for Provo, Utah, for the annual Brigham Young University "Beehive Invitational."

NSU Fields Soccer Team This Saturday

The Nevada Soccer Ass'n and the AAU will sponsor a Soccer and Track Day this Saturday, starting at 1:00 p.m.

Featured events include two soccer matches, one between NSU and local high school seniors, and the other pits UCLA against the United States Air Force Academy. In track competition, Tracy Smith will lead a field of four runners as they attempt to break the AAU two-mile outdoor record. Also included in the track events will be a "minimarathon", covering a five mile course.

The purpose of the day, in the words of event coordinator Tony Foley, "... is threefold. One, the NSA wishes to promote soccer in the Las Vegas area. Secondly, we will attempt to start a JV Soccer league in the high school league, and thirdly 25% of the profits will go towards the starting of a full scale soccer program at Nevada Southern."

NSU's team, for the Day, is coached by George Popov, and boasts a squad of some ten students.

Donation for Adults is $1.50, while students are admitted for $1.00.

With Don Speer leading the way, Nevada Southern's golf team captured its 16th victory of the season against two losses, downing visiting Cal Poly, Pomona, 26-10, at Winterwood Golf Course last Saturday.

Speer turned in the low score of the day by carding a. He was followed by teammates Bill Harvey, 75, Roger Chapel, 78, Don Baranco, 82, and Steve Turner, 85. Turner is the only Rebel who has carded below 70 scores this year. Twice he has shot 69's.

NSU had beat Poly Friday, and with Saturday's victory, the Rebs have won five straight. Earlier this season they won ten straight matches before losing their first.

Friday and Saturday of this week, the linksters play host to the Rams from Victor Valley College.

ACE QB — Rebel field general Carl "Tatter" Smith throws some warm-up tosses before practice.

Riverside Drops Rebs

NSU's Horsehidrs, now 18-11, dropped both ends of a double-header to the University of California, Riverside, last Saturday, 6-2, 4-3.

In the first game, Riverside scored five runs in the first three inning, all off losing pitcher Ralph Garcia, then coasted to their seven-inning victory. During the first tilt, Bonnie Smith clobbered his fifth homerun, and Ken Stuler rapped his sixth double of the season. Richard Gonzales had a pair of hits, as did Harry Karn, in the initial contest.

John Huber was NSU's leading for the day, smacking three hits in six attempts, including his eighth double of the year. Starting pitcher for the second game was Russ Farrell. Farrell smashed a triple to score two runs for the Rebels in the ninth inning. The game was tied in the ninth when Stuler scored on Billy Anthony's sacrifice fly.

John Lundquist was the losing pitcher in the second game, as the Highlanders pushed across one run in the bottom of the 11th to win 4-3.

NSU's record in Conference is 5-5, and the Rebels play their final home games of the season this Saturday when they play host to Chapman College. The doubleheader will be played on the campus field, starting at 12 noon. Chapman, the leading team in the conference, split with the Rebs earlier this season, NSU winning 3-2, and losing 9-2.
