C.S.U.N. Innovations

This year there have been many new programs established which this administration feels should be continued. Each of these were instituted this year for the first time and each of them needs to be perfected in the future. The important thing, however, is that they were instituted for a specific purpose and to accomplish a specific goal.

One of the most time consuming innovations this year has been the Faculty Evaluation Handbook. After nearly four months of preliminary work, evaluation questionnaires on U.N.L.V. faculty members were sent to each student. The goals behind this publication were mainly twofold; first to report to individual students how his fellow students evaluated their instructors, and secondly to show the individual instructors how their students perceived them. Several suggestions for improving the publication for the next year have already been made. The method of obtaining the evaluations will not be the same next year because the questionnaire will be distributed within the classroom which, however, depends on the cooperation of the faculty. This will lower the cost of the publication considerably, time will be saved, and more importantly a larger percentage of students will reply. The publication itself will be distributed the last week in May and will be free to the students. It is the hope of this administration that the Student Evaluation of Faculty handbook will be a yearly publication.

This year a new body of advisors has also been established, called the Presidents' Council. This council is composed of the presidents of every organization on campus. The council serves basically two purposes. First, they act as advisors to the Student Body President. Many times this year proposals were discussed within this body before being presented to the Senate for legislative action.

Secondly, besides being a sounding board for the Student Body President, each member of the council is asked to submit ideas that will serve to improve the student body. In this way it is possible for C.S.U.N. to keep aware of the opinions of a large number of the student body. This year the members of the council have been responsible for generating several pieces of legislative action and for serving as valuable advisors to the C.S.U.N. President.

Besides these two major innovations C.S.U.N. has been responsible for instituting many other new programs. The first Constitutional Convention, open to all students, was called early in the summer and work was done on revising the election rules, creating a new student committee having jurisdiction in the disciplinary matters and proposals for a Student Bill of Rights and Publications Board. Freshman orientation was also expanded so that incoming students would be better aware of the programs U.N.L.V. has to offer. Plans have already been completed for a Freshman Directory which will contain pictures of all freshman students, a list of interests, and information on U.N.L.V.

A new type of student I.D. card was also introduced to U.N.L.V. C.S.U.N. also began sponsorship of a yearly student leadership conference at which time they learned many valuable things to aid them in representing the students. C.S.U.N. also sponsored numerous programs for the U.N.L.V. Dormitory students which included dances and weekly movies.

Perhaps one of the most controversial issues which occurred this year was the changing of the name of the University from Nevada Southern to University of Nevada, Las Vegas. The name change was accepted by the C.S.U.N. elective officers almost unanimously although many students disagreed with it. Now several months after the name change both students and the community generally feel that the name U.N.L.V. added prestige to the school and will be beneficial in the future.

These are just a few of the programs that have been started this year by C.S.U.N. There are of course many other new programs that have been started, but these are the ones C.S.U.N. feels were worthwhile additions.

In the next issue of the Rebel Yell, there will be an article dealing with some of the hopes that C.S.U.N. has for the future

L.V. DRAFT COUNSELING

To some people it may seem that Southern Nevada has long needed a place where a young man with a serious draft problem may turn to. This problem has finally come into realization in our community, and steps are being taken to organize a draft counseling service in the Las Vegas area.

A petition is now being circulated to get an indication of how many people are actually interested in this service. This petition will be forwarded to the American Friends Service Committee, who will send a trained counselor to lecture and train others for counseling. The exact date will be announced within the near future for those wishing to attend.

Many local citizens and at least six members of the Clergy have expressed interest in this program. It is hoped that the service will be community-wide, consisting of members from all facets of life.

Honor Society Accepts New Members

Forty-three students at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, were initiated into Phi Lambda Alpha honor society at noon Tuesday, (April 29th.), in ceremonies in the Moyer Student Union Ballroom.

The initiation, which was open to the public, featured Dr. Roman J. Zorn, President of U.N.L.V., as guest speaker.

Phi Lambda Alpha is open to membership for freshman and sophomores who have earned an overall grade average of 3.0, (B), or better, with a minimum of 15 semester hours of credit.

The honor group is sponsored on campus by the U.N.L.V. chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary fraternity for upperclassmen.

Las Vegas students elected to the group and their academic majors were Jacqueline Ann Banner, secondary education; William M. Brown, chemistry; Corryn Crosby, history; Richard Healy, political science; Barbara Hodler, English; Susan Ilchik, french; Nancy Jackson, english; Greg Kennedy, biology; Catharyn Littlejohn, foreign languages.

Wesley Parks, business; Robert Anderson, social sciences; Pat Boyle, business; Larry Dungey, business; Raymond Early, pre-veterinarian; James Fagin, political science; Colleen Gillan, education; David Johnsen, social sciences; James Ness, social sciences; Louise Papile, elementary education; James Roach, business; Steven Salaets, psychology.

Nancy Smith, psychology; John Thayer, social sciences; Victoria Thorne, history; William Tucker Jr., humanities; Mary Ainsworth, nursing; James Avance, law enforcement; Margaret Martin, nursing; Sally McQueen, nursing; Jill Sneed, medical records; Jerry Williams, fire science; Virginia Wood, nursing; Nicki Zeigler, nursing; Yvonne Wert, English; Constance Williams, art; Christopher Kaempfer, history; Judith Peterson, English; Bernadine Schneider, psychology.

Boulder City students were Sherilyn Hagan, business; Paul Porter, philosophy; and Barbara Smith, elementary education.

Also selected were Michael Duffy, business, of Cheney, Washington, and William Haviluk, business, of Sepulveda, California.

MORELLI INITIATES FUND FOR MUSIC STUDENTS

Antonio Morelli, director of music at the Sands Hotel, has initiated an endowment fund at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, which he hopes will climb to $25,000.

The fund will provide scholarships for students who demonstrate ability and future potential in the area of music education.

The Nevada Board of Regents is expected to approve the endowment proposal at its meeting on May 9th., at the University of Nevada, Reno.

Morelli has already presented a check for $5,000 to Dr. Roman J. Zorn, as a first installment to the endowment.

The founding articles of the Morelli Friends of Music Endowment Fund stipulate that no money will be used for scholarships until a total of $25,000 has been deposited to the fund.

Therefore, Morelli has issued an invitation to his professional acquaintances and to all residents of Southern Nevada to contribute what they can to the fund so that the goal can be obtained quickly.

"The University has long been the natural source of supply for the finest vocal and instrumental musicians," Morelli stated. "And since Las Vegas prides itself on its musical entertainment, it is natural to make an investment for the future right here at U.N.L.V."

Once the $25,000 is raised, individual grants in the amount of $500 per year will be available for deserving music scholars. The scholarships will be renewable each year for students who maintain satisfactory levels of achievement.

Scholarship standards and eligibility requirements will be determined and maintained by the U.N.L.V. Music Department faculty.

The donations, all tax-deductable, will be deposited with the University of Nevada Endowment Fund. The income derived from the Morelli Friends of Music Fund will be allocated each year to the U.N.L.V. Scholarship Committee for appropriate action.

"This is a magnificent undertaking by Mr. Morelli," commented Dr. Zorn. "When our financial goal is reached, we will be able to provide an educational opportunity to many persons whose musical abilities might never have been developed."

THE NEW LOVE as known by The Improbable Snard Wit

I am looking for love.
 What I mean is,
 I am looking for love.
 For LOVE
 I do not want to put socks on my feet.
 I want to put love on my feet.
 I do not want to put a shirt on my back.
 I want to put love on my back.
 The world is full of love.
 There is love in animals.
 There is love in trees.
 Love in fish pools.
 Love in stones.
 Love in mountains.
 There is love everywhere.
 And I am looking for love everywhere,
 but people keep getting in my way.

 Phhhhhht!!!! Oh well, enough said about the elections! Horatio Snotgrass won, and Wingding Mitzobocheleck III lost; ballots were marked with invisible ink and somebody bought someone a cup of coffee; blood pressures rose, and coats came off; cameras snapped and no one got shot; someone recounted and everyone got lost...

The elections are over now, so everyone can go back to being their normal selves. The spring semester is almost over, so everyone can go back to breathing normally. Graduation's almost here, so everyone can rest for awhile. Death is just around the corner, so everyone can live.

Congratulations to the winners! I hope that no one really lost. There was a lousy voter turnout, but I'm not going to harp on that. I guess someone lost after all...

Spring is here, and everyone is reading Rod McKuen. The lake is warm, and no one is going to class. The football team's practicing, and everyone is starting to diet. The days are getting longer, and everyone is going out at night. The elections are over, and everyone is out-of-sight...

I hope that the newly elected Student Government officials are worthy of their jobs. I hope that the student body will be worthy of their representatives...

Oh well, enough said about the elections! (It's too late now, anyway.) It's time to start thinking about next year: What's the Freshman class going to be like? Are we going to have a good football team? Will we have any new classes or instructors? Will the coffee house be done? How good will the basketball team be? What will the tuition fee be? What will be accomplished, and what will be lost?

Oh well, enough said...

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I thank all the students who voted for me in the general election. The issue, THE PROBLEM: STUDENT BODY PARTICIPATION IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT. THE ANSWER: STUDENT ASSEMBLIES ON THE DEPARTMENT LEVEL, is still a live and virile issue. I intend to continue to work for student body participation in student government and for the establishment of "Student assemblies on the department levels".

I also intend to address myself to some of the problems that I learned about by participating directly in the election. I urge all students also to participate directly in the functioning of their government and thereby learn how it does and does not work.

I congratulate John Cevette and all other offices of C.S.U.N. on their election, and wish them success in the solution of student problems.

DAN HEINRICH

Dear Editor:

On behalf of Penny Bailey (Election Committee Chairman) and myself, I would like to extend my thanks to those students, faculty members, and Judicial Board members who aided us at the polling booth and in the counting of the ballots.

U.N.L.V. Receives Computer

A computer valued at about $150,000 is being installed in the science technology building at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Dr. Robert B. Smith, dean of the College of Science and Mathematics, said the computer system would be used by faculty and students at UNLV for research and educational purposes.

The Control Data 924 system belongs to the U.S. Air Force and was used previously for tracking missiles.

However, through a Project Themis grant from the Department of Defense, the system was renovated and given first to the Desert Research Institute which, in turn, assigned it to the University.

The computer, priced at half a million dollars when it was new six years ago, contains 120,000 inter-connecting wires, has the capacity of storing 32,000 words of memory and has more than 4,000 computer cards.

Smith said the college's physics department will make use of the computer's calculating powers for its high-energy physics work.

Chemistry students will find the system invaluable for processing data from such instruments as the nuclear magnetic resonance spectro meter, Smith added.

Also, biology students may analyze data obtained in field work and engineering and mathematics scholars will rely upon the computer's services in much of their class work.

"In short," Smith commented, "we all will put the system to heavy use. A substantial amount of scientific work cannot be accomplished without a computer nowadays."

A special advantage of the 924, Smith explained, is that it may be used from a number of remote terminals on the campus and could possibly be plugged into the giant Sigma 7 computer at the University of Nevada, Reno.

'Enjoy a Spring Spree'

"Enjoy a Spring Spree" was the theme of the first annual Newcomers program for the University of Nevada, Las Vegas Women's Club.

The social event in the Gold Room on campus featured a variety of table games amidst a decor of spring color. Numerous prizes exhibiting the talents of newcomers were awarded throughout the evening.

Highlighting the activities was a unique skit prepared by Phyllis Hughes, Janice Lopez and Bonnie Vergiels. A dessert buffet served from tables adorned with bouquets of hand-crafted flowers concluded the Spring Spree program.

Newcomers chairman Nancy Scoble said the group was started last September as a part of the Women's Club for members in the first or second years as a faculty wife or faculty member of U.N.L.V.

Women serving on the program committee were Mmes. Steuben Betterton, William Dakin, Mark Hughes, Keith McNeil, Joseph Raney, George Samson, Anthony Saville and John Vergiels.

Mrs. Betterton, program chairman for the Spring-Spree, was recently elected Newcomers chairman for the forthcoming year.

An installation luncheon at the Dunes Country Club on May 10 is planned for the next U.N.L.V. Women's Club meeting. President Eva Bortman announced that members may make reservations by contacting Mrs. Jerome Vallen.

Newly-elected officers are Mrs. Saville, president; Mrs. Verdun Trione, first vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Logan, second vice-president; Mrs. Scoble, secretary; and Mrs. Lothar Kreck, treasurer.

Career Placement

The manager of the Federal Job Information Center in Las Vegas has announced that applications are being accepted for summer jobs as Life Guards. Approximately 30 summer jobs need to be filled, some at Indian Springs Air Force Base, Nellis Air Force Base, Lake Mead Base, and Lake Mead National Recreation Area, Nevada.

Details are available at the Federal Job Information Center, 300 Las Vegas Boulevard South. Copies of the Life Guard Announcement and application forms will be mailed to candidates upon telephonic or written request.

TKE: DANCE

On Wednesday, May 7th., Tau Kappa Epsilon and Steve Miller will co-sponsor a dance at the Warehouse. The "Scatter Blues" will provide the music. Admission for the event will be $1.00. The dance starts at 8:00 p.m., and all U.N.L.V. students are invited to attend.

To get to the Warehouse, travel south on the Strip until you get to Spring Mountain Road. Take a right onto Spring Mountain Road, and travel west until your reach Polaris Avenue. Alpha Tau Omega held its fourth annual Bowery Party on April 26th. at their fraternity house. It was a costume party with the theme of the "Roaring Twenties". Music was provided by John Brannon's band. On the 27th., a barbecue was held at Red Rock Canyon to celebrate the first anniversary as the Eta Epsilon Chapter of the national fraternity. On the 29th., they played host to Dave Wheeler, the traveling secretary from Eta Epsilon, who discussed chapter problems and furnished advice and solutions.

The Psych Club will present a lecture and discussion on "Group Work" with Donald Long as guest speaker. The presentation will be on Friday, April 9th., at 11:30 p.m. in room 202 of the Student Union Building. Everyone is invited to attend.

On Saturday, April 26th., the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon did general yard work for the children and management of Child Haven. The day of work was done as TKE's annual Spring Public Service Project.

Wind Symphony Concert

On Sunday, May 11th., the University Wind Symphony will present their annual spring semester concert. The Wind Symphony is conducted by Mr. Keith Moon, who has conducted professionally for many well-known celebrities, including local singing star Rovaun.

The program will include the following works: Estampie, by Valcav Nelhybel; When Jesus Wept, by William Schuman; St. Anthony Divertimento, by Joseph Haydn; Canzon noni toni and Canzon duodecimi toni, organ and brass music by Gabriele; Death and Transfiguration, by Richard Strauss; Armenian Dances, by Aram Khachaturian; and Pines of the Appian Way, by Ottorino Respighi.

The concert will begin at 4 p.m. in the Campus Student Union Ballroom. There is no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

WHY RATS SMOKE

by Harold Coskey

Q. You're doing what?

A. I'm training rats to smoke cigarettes.

Q. How do you do that?

A. We place the rats in small individual cages and hold them in place so their noses and mouths are unable to move. A nozzle is then placed over the nose and mouth so the rat has no alternative but to inhale the smoke. They are then hooked up to a machine called a smoking machine, which inhales on the cigarette.

Q. How does the smoking machine work?

A. A vacuum pump is set up so it can draw the smoke and then send the smoke traveling to the rats. The pump then cuts off in regular intervals to allow the rats to exhale. The period of inhaling and exhaling are about equal to that of a human's.

Q. Is there really a rational reason for forcing the rat to smoke cigarettes?

A. Well, we think so. The experiment is being done to check and see if a radioactive element, Polonium-210, is a major cause of lung cancer. A cigarette has a fair amount of this element in each cigarette and it is probable that the residue built up in the lung causes cancer.

Q. So you want to find the amounts that build up and then see if this causes cancer. If you are right, is there anything that can be done?

A. When we have the definite proof we need, then we can put a filter on the cigarettes to catch the radioactive smoke. These filters are inexpensive and can easily be built into the cigarette. However, we must first find out how big of a filter we need to use and if the polonium is a cause of cancer.

Q. How does having the rats smoke cigarettes help?

A. After the rats smoke several packs of cigarettes, an autopsy is performed on the rats and a study is made as to the effects on therats and how much polonium has built up. As we do the experiment we do have a set of control rats so we can make sure the same thing isn't developing in the non-smoking rats.

Q. Has there been other proof on the fact that there is radioactive elements in cigarettes?

A. There have been many studies made but there still is a need for more research. This is the only way we will really be sure, and once we are positively sure, then we can do something about the problem.

'Head Start' Underway

A program designed to upgrade the career opportunities for persons working in Operation Independence child care centers has been stated at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Operation Independence is a year-round Head Start Program here sponsored by the Economic Opportunity Board.

Leonard Phillips, assistant professor of Education at UNLV, said the federally-funded program has a dual purpose - to assist persons enrolled in developing their career potentials and to improve their teaching abilities in the Head Start Program.

The project, called the Head Start Supplementary Training Program, is financed through a $21,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, Phillips said.

Eight workers are enrolled in a weekly course on the Valley's West Side which lead to a two-year degree in Early Childhood Education from the School of Home Economics at the University of Nevada, Reno. Another eight persons are taking education classes on the UNLV campus in order to obtain bachelor's and advanced degrees.

Instructor of the West Side course is Mrs. Nanelia S. Doughty of the UNLV English department. The class work is directed at improving the instruction of disadvantaged four and five year old children so that they are prepared for elementary schooling. The workers also are studying such academic subjects as English and psychology.

"We must teach the instructors how to give these youngsters the kind of training they would expect in a typical middle-class home," Phillips said.

"Many of the children must learn such simple things as how to use crayons, paper, the lavatory and even how to play with toys."

The education courses at UNLV will help the Operation Independence workers bolster their credentials so that someday they may find better and more productive jobs, Phillips commented.

LECTURE CANCELED

The Dick Gregory lecture originally scheduled for May 6th. was cancelled due to Gregory's having to serve a jail sentence. The lecture committee has, however, attained the services of Bill Russell, well-known athlete and speaker, who has been prominently active in Negro affairs in our country. Russell will speak at the Student Union Ballroom on Wednesday, May 14th., at 8:00 p.m. All students and faculty of U.N.L.V. will be admitted free.

Rebel Football

The 1969 edition of the U.N.L.V. Rebel football team concluded spring practice with an intra squad game last Friday. The game was an impressive conclusion to the four week second season which began in early April.

Coach Bill Ireland termed spring drills as a complete success. The biggest accomplishment was the revamping of the offense to suit the talents of roll-out quarterbacks Jim Thompson and Donald Kennedy. Also, much experimentation was attempted to find where the ten transfers could be best utilized. At least five of the new men earned starting berths during the intensive practice sessions this spring. The left side of the offensive line could be all transfers with Ray Deshane at tackle, Art Torres at guard, and Benji Ansolabehere at center.

Approximately 800 diehard football fans viewed last Friday's proceedings. They saw some excellent hitting and, at times, a very exciting offense. The young man who provided most of the excitement was scrambling quarterback Don Kennedy who displayed amazing quickness on end sweeps and a fine throwing arm. He seemed to get better as the game progressed, as evidenced by his directing of three second-half touchdowns. Also impressive was fullback George Saphire with his bull-like rushes for crucial yardage.

The results of spring practice and especially the spring game leave the team and all the coaches looking forward very optimistically toward next year.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY RECEIVES CHARTER

ATHLETES ACCEPTED FOR O.C.A.A.

U.N.L.V. officials announced today that Steve Buzick, Mark Larson, and Curtis Watson have been selected for inclusion in the 1969 edition of Outstanding College Athletes of America. These athletes were nominated earlier this year by their school and were chosen for the awards publication on the basis of their achievements.

Buzick, the bruising fullback-flanker of the first Rebel gridiron team, was the leading scorer on the team, tallying nine TD's, 17 extra points by kicking, two by running, and one on the receiving end of Bill Casey aerial, and two field goals for a grand total of 83 points for the season, fine for anybody, let alone a freshman. The former Sparks High School All-Stater snared seven passes during the year for 201 yards and three six-pointers.

Outstanding College Athletes of America is sponsored by the non-profit Outstanding Americans Foundation. John Putman, one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of America for 1966 and president of the Foundation, said, "It is the purpose of Outstanding College Athletes of America to recognize and honor the all-around abilities of the young people who have distinguished themselves in the sports competitions of our colleges. These young people carry the mantle of their school, their state and their nation each time they participate in competitive sports."

The premier pass catcher for that first-ever Rebel football team was one Mark Larson, junior tight-end, who when not paving runways for the backs with his timely blocks, grabbed 27 aeriels for 391 yards and two touchdowns. In addition to his outstanding gridiron ability, the 6-2, 201 pounder, was an excellent performer on the top-rated Rebel basketball team. Although not a starter during the regular season, he came off the bench during the N.C.A.A. Far West Regional Tourney to fill in for the ineligible Tommy Watkins.

Outstanding College Athletes of America is an annual biographical compilation featuring the accomplishments of approximately 5,000 young athletes who have proven themselves outstanding in sports, campus activities and curriculum. Nominations for this awards publication are made by the athletic department of colleges and universities throughout the country. Criteria for selection includes an athlete's sports achievements, leadership ability, athletic recognition and community service.

The captain and ace play-maker for the U.N.L.V. hoopster squad, Watson finished his senior as the Rebels' leading scorer, 589 markers, and a prolific 21.0 average. Perhaps his main bag was free-throw shooting, where he consistently hit over 80% and finished with a team leading 121 of 153, .789. In the last three games of the year, including two Regional tilts, Cagey Curtis bucketed 91 points, tops on the team. He also had a fine .482 field goal percentage.

Outstanding College Athletes of America stands as a tribute to the young athletes who have accepted the challenge of excellence. Publication date for the book will be July, 1969.

REBELS SPLIT WITH U.C.R.

Scoring its fourth victory over the hosts, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, rolled to a 90½-72½ track and field decision over Southern Utah State College last Saturday.

Registering firsts in 11 events, the Rebels had no trouble in disposing of the Thunderbirds, who they finished ahead of in three other meets this season.

Three junior colleges, Dixie, Snow, and Rangeley of Colorado, were entered and a separate scoring system was used with the Rebels finishing first with 64, Southern Utah next with 60½, Dixie 38½, Snow 12 and Rangeley 12.

The five teams broke in the new track here of Southern Utah State, which was formerly known as College of Southern Utah.

U.N.L.V. will be competing in the Riverside Relays at the University of California, Riverside Saturday.

Rebel Baseball

The U.N.L.V. Rebel baseball team chalked up another win and another loss as they split a doubleheader here last Saturday.

An eight-run third inning, highlighted by Travis Bonneville's grand slam homer, powered the Rebels to a 12-7 victory in the first game and then U.C.R. bounced back in another free-for-all in the second for a 15-11 triumph.

U.N.L.V. was trailing 6-1 going into the third inning of the opener and then they lowered the boom. Bonneville led things off with a walk and Fred Demick followed with another free pass before Russ Farrell singled to load the bases.

Rich Gonzales belted a sacrifice fly to score Bonneville and then George Peraza singled to score Demick. Jerry Beavers walked to fill the bases again and walks to Chris Zockoll and Harry Karn forced in two more runs.

It was time then for a Riverside pitching change and Randy Walker came on to relieve starter Gary Clarke. Walker, however, was welcomed by the home run by Bonneville, the man who started everything off that inning.

The Rebels added a solo run the following inning when Peraza knocked a sacrifice fly to score Gonzales. And then in the sixth Peraza scored Gonzales again, this time with a home run.

U.C.R. had pushed across four runs in the opening inning with a homer by Frank Pignataro and a single and double. Riverside added two more in the second on a pair of doubles and a single off starter John Lundquist.

Farrell came on in the fourth inning for Lundquist and received credit for his third victory of the season against four losses. Farrell was relieved by Mike Karsteadt in the seventh.

The visitors slammed five homers in the second game as they came up with 19 hits off three Rebel pitchers—starter Jeff Dick, Karsteadt, and Rich Martin. Dick was charged with the loss, his fourth against seven wins.

Las Vegas collected four homers, by Karn, Demick, Farrell and Beavers.

The victory went to Jay Constable who evened his record at 2-2.

The twinbill split kept both clubs tied in Southern California Athletic Conference competition with 3-6 records. U.N.L.V. is 20-15-1 on the season.

to be chartered by the Nevada Society of Professional Engineers. The club is awaiting a trial year period before becoming chartered by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Among the many activities planned for this organization are the establishment of an amateur radio station, (ham) on campus to facilitate communication with campuses around the world. The Student Union Board has approved this project, and it will be built in the Student Union. Several locations in the building are being considered at this time. Also, the club is planning a tour of E.G.&G.'s facilities in the near future. They have toured the Radiological Laboratory facilities and computer centers.

The club meets on Tuesdays, at 12:00 noon, in the Science Technical Building, room 204, right next to the Physics Laboratory. Anyone interested in the Engineering Field is welcome to attend.
