FINAL RESULTS THIS TIME LEGAL

by Bill Schafer
Elections Committee Chairman

As has been explained before, the Judicial Board has declared the previous elections invalid ... and with good reason. Many rules set down in the Constitution were not followed. Among those rules was the one which said election rules must be published at least two weeks prior to the beginning of open campaigning. This is the first issue which the Judicial Board ruled on and nullified the elections.

Another rule stated that students are to vote only for the person representing that school in which the voter is registered. The IBM sheet which was provided for the election Committee didn't have schools listed.

This is not to say that there was any foul play involved, because if there was, the results would have differed greatly from the last election. From what I have been told, they were not even checking CSUN I.D. cards for proof that the persons voting were actually CSUN fee-paying students. They accepted anything (like fee receipts without names).

These elections were conducted somewhat more carefully, if I do say that myself, but if the election committee had had more time, the elections would have gone perfectly. Why the short notice? On November 20 at the Board of Regents meeting, CSUN President Dick Myers asked for, and received formal acceptance of his Interim Document which literally threw out the old Constitution and substituted in its place a brief piece of legislation which enables CSUN to function properly until a new Constitution can be drawn up. This Interim Document has allowed us to go ahead with the elections which would not have been possible.

There were several changes in the election results from the previous ones.

In Allied Health, Jo Ann Nightingale won as a write-in candidate. She wanted to be listed on the ballot, but failed to file by the time limit, so the election committee was forced to leave her name off the ballot.

The Education college was in for a change, too. Karen Greenspun was successful in her bid to be returned. Kurt Beard, who won last time was defeated.

Hotel has a new name in the senate now. Jean Miller, who ran when I decided not to try it again, has won the seat in question.

And Bob Jasper, as expected, again won the seat for Social Sciences, but only hours after the votes were tallied, Bob resigned. His reasons are explained in a letter in this issue. To fill his position, and any others who resign within the next few days, the Joint Session, on Wednesday evening, ruled that the person with the next highest number of votes should take the position. Well-ruled, Joint Session.

ELECTED CHAIRMAN -- Richard Myers, student body president of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, has been elected southwest regional chairman of the Association of Student Governments, a national organization of student leaders. His main function will be to enlarge the organization membership by visiting various campuses in his district, which covers Nevada, Arizona, California and Hawaii. The ASG strives to help schools solve student government problems and provides them with legal aid, counseling programs and a series of lectures.

deVos Scholarship Fund

One of the largest private endowments in the history of higher education in the state has been bequeathed to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

The bequest--totaling more than $1 million--has been allocated to UNLV in the form of two trusts established by the late Kenneth M. deVos, for many years a prominent Las Vegas.

Already, $140,000 in cash has been awarded to the University through the first charitable trust which will provide up to $1,000 scholarships annually to students from disadvantaged ethnic minorities having a strong aptitude for college success.

The University Board of Regents will review the bequest and President Roman J. Zorn's recommendation that the $140,000 trust be accepted at its regular monthly meeting Friday in Las Vegas. The estate which supports the second endowment will be forthcoming in the near future.

Dr. Zorn expressed the hope that the gesture would set an example to others in the community who are interested in furthering education through estate planning.

He said the University extended its gratitude not only to the deVos family, but especially to Mrs. Mildred Ulmer Cotner, who for many years served as office secretary to Mr. deVos and is credited with recommending this educational philanthropy to her friend and employer.

Once the assets on the second bequest have been transferred to UNLV, it is anticipated that the academic scholarships will be named in honor of Mrs. Cotner.

Co-trustees in managing the charitable remainder trusts are Mrs. Cotner; Lillian V. deVos, widow of the deceased philanthropist; and Jerry Engel, a partner in the accounting firm of Elmer Fox and Co. and past president of the Nevada Society of Certified Public Accountants.

UNLV CHORUS PRESENTS CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The 75-voice University of Nevada, Las Vegas Chorus, backed by the 22-piece University Chamber Orchestra, will perform J.S. Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" in the Campus Union Building's ballroom at 2 p.m. Sunday (Dec. 13).

Douglas R. Peterson, choral director and assistant professor of music at UNLV, said the free Christmas concert should appeal to the entire family.

Sponsored by the department of music at UNLV, the Christmas production will include as solosits Martha Peterson, soprano; Carole McKinnia, contralto; Edgar Hrris, tenor; Ray Morgan, baritone; and Anthony Thomas, bass.

Written 235 years ago when Bach was 49 years old, the "Christmas Oratorio" is divided into six parts, each composed for a different day of the holiday season.

The Christmas narrative is sung or recited by the Evangelist or preacher, interrupted by particular voices, choral or solo, to represent persons introduced in its course. In other portions, the narrative is interspersed with reflective passages in the form of chorales, arias, duets and recita-tives.

The performance of the Christmas Oratorio on Sunday climaxes nearly three months of preparation by the collegiate organization. Co-chairman of the UNLV Chorus are Gary Lang and Gary DuBois. The Student Executive Board includes Ivan Raynor, Lora Mainland, Pat Black and Loretta Bakken. Student conductor of the Chorus is Jeff Kriske.

Conductor Peterson is now in his fourth year at UNLV, having come to Nevada from Monmouth College, Ill., where he directed the College Choir for five years. Peterson is State Chairman of the American Choral Directors Association, second Vice-President of the Nevada Music Educators Association and Director of the Musical Arts Workshop at UNLV.

Christmas presentations by the Chorus under Professor Peterson's direction have included the "Ceremony of Carols," by Britten; "The Christmas Story" by Schutz; the "Magnificat" by J.S. Bach; "Rejoice in the Lamb" by Britten; and the "Messiah" by Handel. The Chorus is accompanied by Martha Peterson and Ross Kriske.

REGENTS APPROVE DOCUMENT

On Friday, November 20, the Board of Regents accepted CSUN President Dick Myers' suggestion and adopted the following Interim Document. This document has replaced the old CSUN Constitution. To resort to this type of Document was necessary because the constitution was outdated, inefficient, and generally unworkable.

WHEREAS the current Constitution and By-Laws of C.S.U.N. has never been approved by the Board of Regents, AND WHEREAS as a functional document of authority and operation is needed for continuing performance of Student Government, WE HEREBY request the Board of Regents to approve this Interim Document until February, 1971, at the meeting of the Board of Regents, when a Constitution will be presented for your approval that has been ratified by the student body. THEREFORE we ask for certification of the primary elections of April 22 and 23, 1970, and the general student body elections held May 4 and 5, 1970.

It's not easy for Bobbie Gentry to find leisure time. This is considering that she has been or will be in the process of taping for the Glen Campbell Show, Jim Nabor's Show, Andy Williams Show, and in London, where she must tape her own show carried over the British Broadcasting Corporation. But wait, there is more taping. Miss Gentry also tapes for radio--the Armed Forces Radio Network--a show in which she writes and programs for American soldiers in sixty-three countries. And, when not performing in Vegas, Reno-Tahoe, L.A., and college concerts, she is busy with the two publishing companies she owns, because Miss Gentry produces all of her own records. Her ventures kept her on the road for 50-weeks last year, but she is cutting down her traveling expenses this year--"I plan to be on the road 49-weeks this year", she says. More power to her.

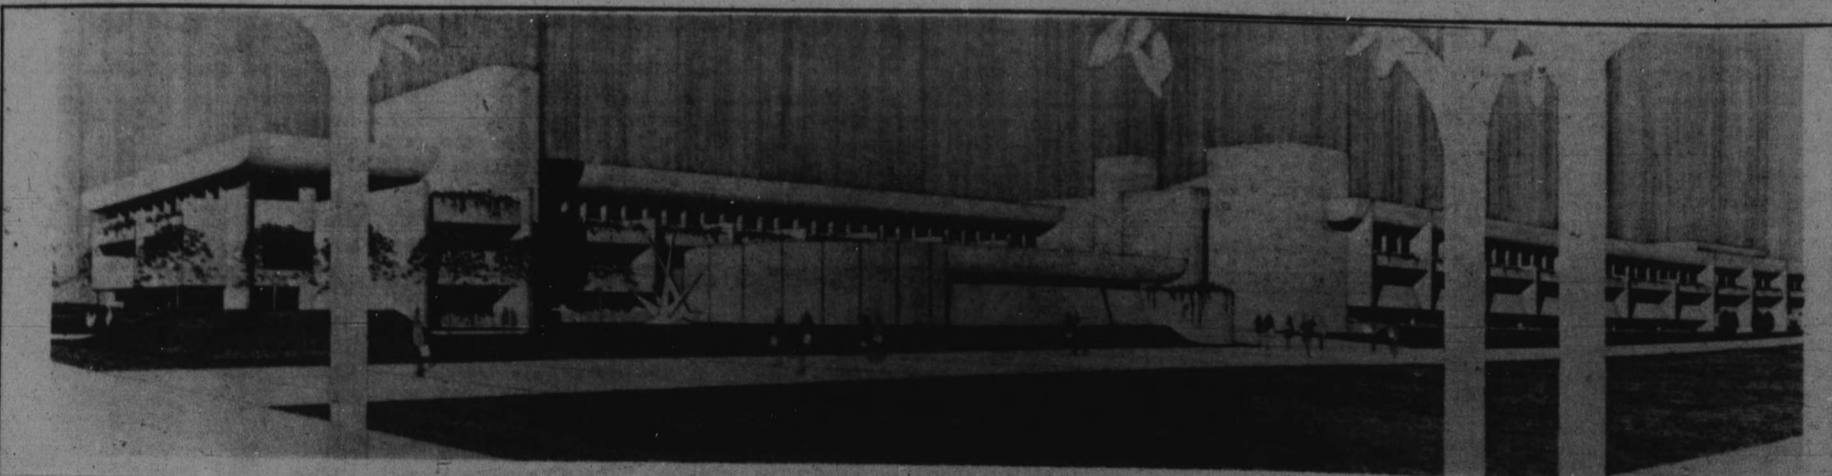

"My work is what I like to do, so I don't have any outside activities, and never like to escape from my work", this is because she continues to say, "the only time I'm uptight or nervous is when I'm away from my work." Five will get you ten, Jimmy the Greek, this is one star that sings in the shower? One of Miss Gentry's big thrills is when all business has been taken care of, is to return to her grandparent's farm in Mississippi where she grew up.

Admitting that college audiences are her favorite and most responsive, she also admits "I'm pretty far removed from the college scene and its happenings. Besides, I'm not qualified enough to make a statement one way or the other. I understand some of the movements and reasons and others I don't, but I think it's nice people are speaking up for a change, but I also think it would be nice if things would settle down."

Bobbie Gentry has always wanted to be in show business. As she says, "it was always my dream to have a career in music, and I have been writing music since I was seven--my first song was (at the age of seven) called "My Dog Sargeant". Well, it's for sure she profited more from 'Ode To Billy Jo' than from 'My Dog Sargeant', but she is still just as proud of herself for writing about her dog as she is for writing about Billy.

GROUND BREAKING SOON--Construction of a $3.2 million Teacher Education Complex is expected to get under way this month on the campus. It will be the third major construction project to begin at UNLV in the past four months. The 100,000-square-foot structure, designed to fulfill the requirements of teacher preparation in Southern Nevada, will be built north of the Dickinson Library facing a future east-west mall. Completion is anticipated during the 1971-72 academic year.

UNLV TEACHER HONORED

A worldwide meeting of scientists in the field of mammal hibernation, has been dedicated to a deceased University of Nevada, Las Vegas professor whose extensive research opened new dimensions in the field.

The fourth-annual Hibernation-Hypothermia International Symposium scheduled Jan. 3-8 in Aspen, Colo., will honor the late Dr. Raymond Hock, zoology professor killed last summer in an accident in the Grand Canyon.

Scientists throughout the world will assemble in Aspen to analyze new findings relating to artificially induced hibernation in mammals.

Dr. Hock's contribution to the field stemmed from his research on black bears in Alaska. He maintained that since the bear's body temperature and metabolism remained high in comparison to environmental conditions, the animal was not hibernating. He referred to the process as carnivorous lethargy, a term he coined himself.

A specialist in animal physiology, Dr. Hock published during his lifetime more than 80 papers on the adaptation of animals to arctic cold and other climatic stresses.

He was 52 years old at the time of his death.

FORENSICS

The election campaign of 1970, recently completed, brought nevadans to the poles in record numbers. The elections were also marked by involvement by students and the university. The UNLV forensics department was involved in this important community function by bringing candidates, students, and the public together for open debate and discussion in the Political Arena. The Political Arena was an open forum on the campus of UNLV and featured political debate, discussion, and analysis of such critical problems as the judicial crisis. These meetings were open to the public and were gratefully supported by candidates for offices both state and local.

Although the political elections and the resulting influx of prominent political figures and the President of the United States tended to over-shadow other community functions, the forensics department was busy elsewhere. The key to understanding the complex activities in which the forensics department is engaged is given by L. A. Kokkeler of that department. His concept of forensics is an agent for serving the community and the university. By engaging in community activities, forensics is important in making the university's role as a part of the community more readily understood. For this reason, the forensics department participated in the JC's community fair. The format for this presentation was a half hour satirical look at the problem of pollution. The reader's theater presentation was adapted from editorials and was supplemented by the talents of members of the forensics club. During the fair the performance was given twice daily to enthusiastic audiences of three hundred persons. Such satirical and entertaining looks at major problems tend, in the opinion of Mr. Kokkeler, to stimulate public concern in finding solutions as well as demonstrate the availability of the services of the forensics department. As a result of the participation at the JC's fair the ecology script has been requested by various civic and professional groups.

DORM DITTY

By Pati Zane

Where is Tonopah Hall? In fact, some students might ask what is Tonopah Hall? UNLV's only residence hall is situated on the far side of the student union. The dorm, as it is more commonly known, houses 217 students - 63 women and 154 men.

UNLV is primarily a commuter college and the 217 students living in the dorm constitutes but a small part of the student body, but a vital part.

The Dorm is more together than most people suspect. In the beginning of the school year, the Dorm had a "get acquainted party" giving the new students and old returnees a chance to get to know each other. "Strawberry Statement" and "Joe" are two movies the dorm kids saw together for a discount rate. Recently a going-away party was given for "Mr. G" (Dean Greenberger) at the dining commons.

If you should happen to find yourself in the main lobby of Tonopah Hall sometime in the near future, you will notice a rather large, brightly decorated Christmas Tree. The tree was brought down from the mountains and the kids at the Dorm, in keeping with the Christmas spirit, got together and decorated it. The girls floors are having a Deck-a-Door contest to see who can best get the Christmas message across by decorating the door to their room.

Friday, the Dorm is having a Christmas party with the refreshments being made by the various students.

A relaxed atmosphere prevails at Tonopah Hall. There are no strict rules that are found on many of today's college campuses. The students are treated as adults and do not have their every move watched.

Tonopah Hall contains a good cross-section of the student body. Every class from freshmen to senior is represented. All the social fraternities and some of the sororities and various other clubs have members living in the Dorm. Many of UNLV's athletes live there and the Dorm has had teams in all the intramural sports leagues.

The Dorm is headed by the Dorm Council, which has representatives from each floor, and is an effective body that channels the students' opinions to the proper places.

Tonopah Hall is yearly becoming a more important part of UNLV. By being a part of the campus, the students living in the Dorm have a better opportunity of becoming a more integral part of campus life.

Letter to the Students

Fellow Students,

There was a mixup regarding my candidacy in the past senatorial elections. I told the student body president that I was not going to run for office, but this information somehow did not reach the Election Committee. As a result, my name was left on the ballot.

After serving in Student Government for three years, I have come to the conclusion that my time could be better spent helping people through a different type of organization. Hence, I have joined the Peoples Office, and I am presently serving as chairman. I feel that I can serve my fellow man, and work for the changes I feel are needed through the Peoples Office instead of playing games in Student Government. I thank those of you that supported me and I hope that I can better serve your needs through the Peoples Office. By Robert Jasper

RANKE HEARING HELD

On Thursday, December 10, the Union Board was asked by students to conduct an open hearing in the West Lounge concerning the resignation of Phil Ranke as Student Union Director.

The controversy arose when Ranke was recently asked to resign. He subsequently submitted his resignation.

When news of this information leaked out, a campaign was started to insure that the students were assured of the reasons behind the resignation.

An even larger trust established more than three years ago by Mr. deVos and his late wife, Mary Alice, will provide an estimated $1 million in additional financial assistance to UNLV. The grant will provide scholarships for freshmen with superior academic records, and awards for students demonstrating talent in the fine arts.

The bequests were identified by the trustees last spring. This followed Mr. deVos' death last April, some 14 months after his first wife had passed away.

For many years a successful Las Vegas resident, Mr. deVos began his career in the apartment and hotel business in Detroit. He continued to prosper in real estate and securities investments following a move to Nevada in 1953.

"Applications for the 1971-1972 deVos Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students will be received by the Director of Financial Aids at UNLV", Dr. Zorn stated. "Final awards will be made by the University Scholarship Committee after assessment of the students motivation for academic success and financial needs."

Renewals will be made on a semester-to-semester basis, provided that academic achievement meets the University's standards.

SPORTS

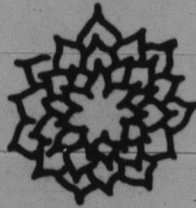

WRITERS?

Interested in sports & recreation on campus? I am, that's why I write articles in the Rebel Yell. I am interested in your opinions. Any reasonable article will not be edited. Don't care to write? Then just contact Bill Jones and give me your opinions and I'll put them in the paper. Pro or con, we want to hear about it. We are trying to improve the paper, the students paper, so lets have some student ideas and participation. We can have a better paper with intelligent comments and relevant campus news if the students get involved. I don't read minds very well. Leave articles addressed to Bill Jones in care of Rebel Yell in the student Union Director's Office; or bring them upstairs to the Rebel Yell office. Typewritten preferred.

CSUN AIDS DORM

The CSUN Joint Session, Wednesday, approved funds for Tonopah Hall's forthcoming Christmas party. The Dorm's president, Wilbur Kruse requested funds for this project earlier this week. The Dorm Council, which in previous years has been almost non-existent, this year has showed renewed life under the able leadership of Mr. Kruse.

If you know a girl considering an ABORTION this message might even save her life!

It is no longer necessary for unfortunate girls to be ruthlessly exploited for profit by quacks and inept butchers. Now they can have perfectly legal abortions under strict hospital care. The new California Therapeutic Abortion Act provides that all services be performed by physicians in accredited hospitals.

Last year it is estimated some 700,000 illegal abortions were performed in the United States. Almost without exception exorbitant prices were charged, hospital facilities were not available and a complete medical staff was not present to cope with emergencies.

Some of those girls died unnecessarily. Others suffered severe infections. Still others will never again be able to bear a child due to incompetent treatment.

The National Abortion Council for Therapeutic Abortions and Family Planning wants to make sure that all girls receive humane and sanitary treatment. YOU CAN HELP.

If you know of a pregnant girl who is considering sneaking off to have her abortion in a germ-infected apartment or office tell her to call us. Our counseling service is free.

We recommend only: the most reputable physicians; doctors offering fair and reasonable prices; services which will be completely within the law; services performed at accredited hospitals.

PUBLICATIONS POLICY

The Board of Regents at their November meeting, approved without a hitch the following statement of publications policy. This policy was approved by the Executive Board of CSUN and presented to the Regents by Dick Myers. It is this policy which all future publications of CSUN will follow.

1. Confederated Students of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas is the legally constituted student authority on the University of Nevada, Las Vegas campus.
2. Funds for student publications are supplied from C.S.U.N.
3. Editors of all publications are appointed by C.S.U.N., and serve at the pleasure of C.S.U.N.

Noting these basic considerations, we therefore pledge: that all publications will uphold the highest standards of journalistic excellence and ethics; editors will be instructed to avoid statements which are libelous or slanderous. In addition, as there is no need to use obscenity in order to express a viewpoint, obscenity will be avoided.

In general, all publications will be published using standards of good taste.

While not censoring any publications the officers of C.S.U.N. will endeavor to see all publications adhere to the above statement.

ESP AUTHORITY TO SPEAK

Hugh Lynn Cayce, son of Edgar Cayce and Managing Director of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, speaks here at the Convention Center Sunday, December 13th.

For many years he has studied and experimented with the material in the clairvoyant reading of his father, the late Edgar Cayce, and has guided the A.R.E. in its work of preserving the data and distributing it to the public. Chartered by the State of Virginia in 1931 to engage in psychical research, this non-profit organization is interested in exploring and making practical use of the information that came through the almost 15,000 telepathic-clairvoyant readings of Cayce. These readings, by one of the world's most widely witnessed and documented psychics, are being preserved and indexed, by the Association for the purpose of investigation, experiment and verification. The records include material of mental, physical and spiritual nature. Research undertaken includes studies in the fields of psychology, parapsychology, philosophy and religion.

In general, the focus of A.R.E. is to make practical use of the Edgar Cayce psychic information, such as dream study, meditation, group action, etc. Application of medical data at both simple and complex levels under skilled physicians is one of several projects underway. A recently funded Medical Clinic in Phoenix, Arizona is unique in its concern for the "whole man". "It is good to think," says Hugh Lynn, "to have doctors who pray for patients and are not afraid to mention the spiritual nature of man in terms of his soul".

Mr. Cayce will discuss "THE UNFETTERED MIND" with University of Nevada students Monday evening December 14 and hold a "Rap" session that afternoon in the Student Union Building.

Having returned from a world tour this summer where he visited Russian scientists proud of their breakthroughs in psychic phenomena, his subject for 7:30 p.m. Sunday will be NEW DISCOVERIES IN INTERNATIONAL E.S.P.

Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid will be showing Sunday, December 13 at 8:00 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

With the exception of a two-reeler in which the pair of outlaws viewed themselves in 1905, 20th Century-Fox's "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" is the first motion picture ever produced about the exploits of these true-life characters, although they were the last of the famed "bad men" to come out of the Old West.

It tells the true story of fast-draws and wild rides, battles with posses, train and bank robberies, a torrid love affair and a new lease on outlaw life in far away Bolivia. It is also a character study of a remarkable friendship between Butch, possibly the most likeable outlaw in frontier history, and his closest associate, the fabled ever-dangerous, Sundance Kid.

Two of the most sought after actors appear in the leading roles in the Panavision and DeLuxe Color attraction. Paul Newman portrays Cassidy and Robert Redford plays the Kid, while Katharine Ross is seen as the hot-blooded school-teacher, Etta Place, Sundance's "woman".

PAINT THE CHEM BUILDING

By Jimmy Olson.

The December meeting of the Board of Regents will be important in at least one aspect, that being the future exterior appearance of the new Chemistry Building.

President Zorn is recommending to the Regents that the outside of the structure be coated with a multicolor texture which will be both waterproof and decorative.

Zorn also recommends that the contract for this project be awarded to W.J. Thompson Co. of Las Vegas, the low bidder considering in-state preference. The cost of this project would be approximately 12,000 dollars, with the money coming the capital improvement fee fund.

However, the architectural firm of Jack Miller and Associates has asked the Regents to take exception to this action. They feel that it is fine to just leave the building sit in its present state for a year or more at which time a pigmented stain of some kind may be applied.

If the Regents forego action at this time, the Chemistry Building will remain in its present concrete state indefinitely.

BASKETBALL TEAM ENDS SUCCESSFUL ROAD TRIP

By Jeff Margolin

The UNLV Basketball squad returned home Tuesday after successfully completing their first road trip of the 1970-71 season by taking two out of three tough games. The team started slow dropping their first road encounter 76-72 to the Big Chieftans from Oklahoma City. The squad started out fast against OCU, and their 7 foot center, before falling behind midway through the first half. UNLV stormed back late in the second half and grabbed a 70-69 lead with two minutes left. However, the Chieftans took advantage of free throw situations caused by inexperience. With the second game of the trip taking place in Evansville, Ind. before more than 7,000 partisan Evansville rooters, Coach Bayer's team proved they could bounce back in winning 87-82, led by Mike Whaley's game high 24 points. The game was not really as close as the score might indicate as the Purple Aces outscore Bayer's squad 14-2 after the game was already safely out of reach.

In the final game of the trip UNLV led all the way and won convincingly 79-71. This win over a highly rated team from Centenary increased the team's overall record to 3-1. The victory over the Gents was the most impressive team effort of the young season with four starters hitting double figures in scoring. With the next eight games at the friendly convention center, including another chance with Oklahoma City and the Holiday Classics, the future looks bright for Coach Bayer and UNLV.

TOBY HOUSTON

Sophomore Toby Houston finds himself in a situation first year varsity players would love. The 6'9" Houston will be the starting center for UNLV this year.

However, UNLV coach John Bayer is quick to point out that his big yearling also carries a very big responsibility. It's nice to start as a soph, but when you also know that your play will have a lot to do with the team's success it creates a lot of pressure.

Bayer is also quick to state that Houston has shown daily improvement, and the new UNLV coach can't ask for more. The important factor is getting Houston ready for the WCAC and a steady diet of large centers. This season the new Rebel center will have 10 games to get ready for league action.

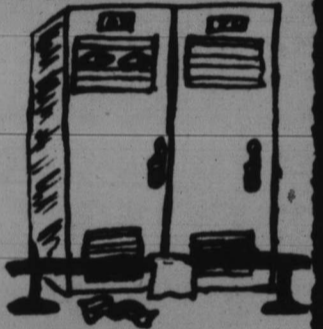

The situation would be different if the Rebs had another post man, but this isn't the case, and Houston can't afford to make all the mistakes a sophomore is entitled to.

However, it should not be thought that he comes to play without some pretty good credentials. Houston was a high school All American at Roosevelt High in Des Moines Iowa, and there were 50 schools begging to start him as a soph.

He also played well as a freshman for Bill Scoble. After missing the first few games of the frosh season, Houston came on to average 17.4 points per game and 15.1 rebounds. These same figures may not be reached in the coming season, but in the future he could easily surpass both and Houston's tough role in 1970-71 is probably a blessing in disguise for UNLV's future.

A VIEW FROM THE LOCKER-ROOM

by Bill Jones

With basketball underway, some fans may wonder how UNLV manages to come up with a fine varsity squad every year. We may be small in enrollment, but our boys can beat schools many times our size. Our past record speaks for itself. How do we do it? Recruiting, that age-old method of concentrating talent. Some of our talent comes from J.C. transfers, but often it is the freshmen who supply the backbone of the team.

Coach Bayer will justly receive credit for the fine performance of our varsity squad this year, so, my purpose is to step back from the lights and view some backstage work by coach Scoble

This year coach Scoble has a fine bunch of freshmen recruits. Many students around campus feel that coach Todd left our basketball program floundering, I say to them, "Come to the games and be surprised." We did lose out on J.C. transfers to a point, but coach Scoble's freshmen will fill the gap. By a series of introductions I will bring names and faces of REBELS that will be working for a spot on future varsity squads.

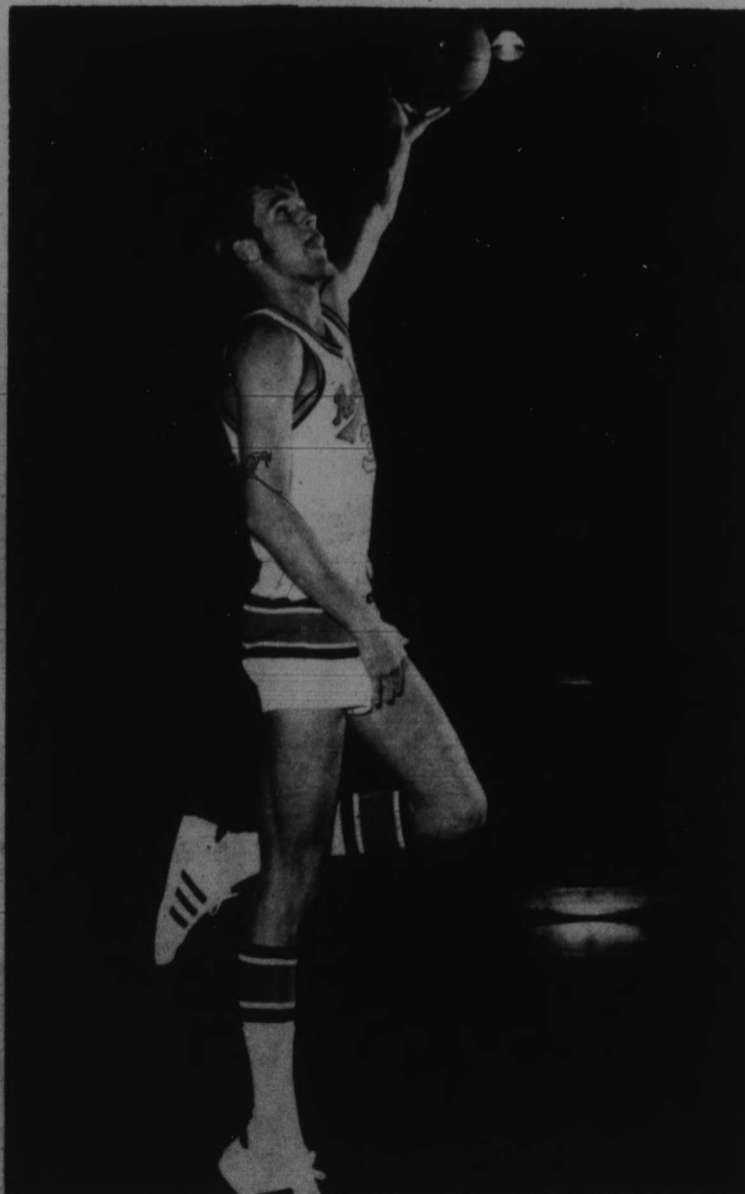

Lonnie Wright

Bobby Florence

Lonnie is a 6'5" 205 lb. freshman from Western H.S., Las Vegas. Lonnie was all-state all-city, and all-tournament in the state playoffs. Lonnie will play center for the freshmen, but he will play forward for the varsity. Lonnie is a very physical and strong player. He is quick for his size and he shoots well from outside. He needs development for basket-aggression but coach Scoble is very optimistic.

Coach Scoble was quoted as saying, "Along with Mike Whaley, he will probably be one of the two quickest big men to come from this state, and he has the potential to be a great asset to the varsity." Good luck with the hoop Lonnie.

Bobby is a 6'4" 180 lb. freshman from North H.S., Des Moines, Iowa majoring in hotel administration. Bobby was an all-state and all-city player being one of the top scorers in Iowa. Bobby will work toward being a varsity guard. Bobby was mentioned in Sports Illustrated for scoring 58 points in a 110-69 victory over Des Moines Tech. Coach Scoble stated about Bob, "He is very coachable and quiet." Bobby definitely will be a valuable asset to the varsity in the same tradition of UNLV's fine guards of the past. Good luck Robert.

MIKE WHALEY

Mike Whaley moves up to the UNLV varsity basketball team as the leading scorer and rebounder on last year's UNLV frosh squad. The 6'7" forward had a 21.8 scoring average and grabbed 17 rebounds per game to lead the Little Rebs to a 15-7 mark.

If Whaley could somehow have the same kind of year in 1970-71 new coach John Bayer would be assured of a winner. However, Whaley is making a big step, and even though he is assured of plenty of playing time in his first varsity season, he must overcome lack of experience and tangle with a never ending supply of physical forwards in the WCAC.

At 6'7", 196 lbs, the former Rancho High All-State player is going to give away plenty of muscle in league competition, and this is his biggest challenge. He won't have to take a backseat to anyone as a shooter because his soft left-handed shots are very accurate from 15 to 17 feet. He has good moves and plenty of agility.

If the talented newcomer develops his potential, the UNLV basketball staff can also observe Whaley showing up by 1974 as a strong Rhodes Scholar candidate. An honor student as a freshman, Whaley is determined to make it big as a basketball player and maintaining his present academic record.

BALTIMORE BENNY

The college football season comes to an end. For a change the bowl games will be testing great teams. Here are Benny's bowl bits:

Cotton Bowl: Notre Dame over Texas by 3.

Texas scrambled hard to beat UCLA and Dennis Dummit isn't half the quarterback that Joe Theisman is. Texas has NO passing game at all and the Notre Dame front four will hold Steve Worster to 75-85 yards. Theisman and super end Tom Gatewood will put on quite an air show against an average Texas secondary Rose Bowl: Ohio State over Stanford by 6.

Remember how people scoffed when Benny named Stanford as the Pac-8 champ back in September? Well, Jim Plunkett will put about 21 points on the board, but Stanford's mediocre defense will be taken apart by Rex Kern and the battling Buckeyes. By the way, Plunkett deserved the Heisman.

Benny is 5 out of 8 (62%) on college picks, so this will round it off to an even 10.

BENNY'S COLLEGE TOP 5

1. Ohio State
2. Notre Dame
3. Texas
4. Nebraska
5. Louisiana State

PRO: Sunday, December 13th, the St. Louis Cardinals (8-3-1) meet the New York Giants (8-4) in a game that will probably decide the NFC east; Giants by 4.

WHAT THE CANNON

By Bill Jones

REPRESENTS

The football season is over and we have the cannon. What does it really mean? Pride and memories.

Today we participate in a University called "Tumbleweed Tech.", but what about 20 or 30 or even 40 years from now when our campus spreads for blocks around the library and abounds with ivy-covered halls? We become bricks of the old buildings, occasional fragments of future "modern" conversations, but never forgotten, even in our own minds. In the years to come, when the traditional battle could possibly become a nationally covered classic, we will be remembered as the students who helped to start it all. November twenty-sixth, nineteen hundred and seventy, will be remembered as the first year that either school claimed the cannon and possessed it for a full year. How do I feel? Proud, real proud!, but I am an athlete and athletes know how to be proud of what they are and of what they participate in. An athlete learns early in his career about the difference between apathy and progress.

I will be proud of old "Tumbleweed Tech." winning the cannon, will you? Will you participate spiritually and physically in next year's Homecoming? Someday you may leave your apathy to share in our great tradition, but there will always be a loss in the back of your mind that will never be filled. But then maybe you will leave college and forget that the whole thing ever happened
