As Student Body President, I see a dual role for the office and both being of equal importance. #1. It is my job to represent CSUN to the public; the public being the Chancellor of the University System, the Board of Regents, the inner UNLV administration, and, in this year, the legislature located in Carson City, Nevada. #2 It is my function to make certain the inner workings of CSUN - our student government. This includes from the radio station to our pre-school and our activities. The President's role is to oversee it all and hope that those delegated responsibilities perform.

The Consolidated Students can only be as effective as those who participate. Participation on all levels, Executive Officers, Senators, Board and Committee members, as well as students. We have money in CSUN to be effective, for every undergraduate student taking seven or more credits CSUN receives $2.40 per credit. This gives us a budget of approximately $390,000. It is our view in CSUN that we recycle this money back to the students in as many ways as possible. This recycling takes many forms; Intramurals, blue books, the finest free movie series around, a pre-school, an ever-nearing radio station, and numerous other investments. We welcome input in spending your money.

In CSUN, we, along with the rest of you, are anxiously awaiting our FM radio station. We still promise no dates but we are going to make it! We are trying to successfully negotiate the transfer of our pre-school to the Education College. With only 3 months left in my term, I will be trying to tie up any loose ends that may still remain. I am still pushing for additional lighting for our very dark campus.

Some of the things I would like to call to your attention is -- watch our movies, which are free. They are superb! They are sponsored by Tim Herlosky and the Activities Board. They also sponsor our Mardi Gras which is 3 days of celebration in April. Elections will roll around-- and please be informed so your vote will count as those elected next year will be again spending your money.

It has been my pleasure to serve you for the last nine months and it is my hope that the last three can go as smoothly.

Marshal Willick Speaker of the Senate

This is the first year that the position of Speaker of the Senate has existed. Because of that some portions of my role as a CSUN officer have become more clearly defined by their execution than by their original description. Nevertheless, my position could be best summed up as one which entails presiding over the CSUN Senate and working as a member of the Executive Board.

Since either the senate or the Executive Board is involved in virtually every project of CSUN, I quite often work with a variety of people in CSUN in the accomplishment of various projects.

I believe that CSUN has functioned rather well this year, acting to respond as fully as possible to the desires of the student body while initiating new projects with foresight. It would be difficult to ascribe exact credit for many of the actions taken by CSUN this year. Altogether, there has been a beneficial mood of cooperation, rather than egotistical glory seeking. As diverse as the personalities of the current CSUN officers are, it appears that the mix has worked.

CSUN exists to serve several functions. One of these is to train the people working within it to work effectively with others. Its primary function is to serve the general student body to the best of its capability. Thirdly, it is a way for students to cope with the various agencies that influence their lives while they attend this institution. I believe CSUN has fulfilled its functions this year.

There have been several projects that have become closely involved with this year. Probably the most important is the conclusion of an effort that was begun in 1976 to update and revise the CSUN Constitution. The Constitution Revision Committee concluded its task quite admirably this month. The revisions will be submitted to the Senate on January 23 and will be voted on January 30. The Board of Regents will vote on the approved document on February 23. This should provide us with a completed document considerably in advance of the date required to run this year's CSUN elections.

There have been a few changes in the basic structure of CSUN. The Executive Board will return to a size of three members. The three Executive Officers will be the President, Vice-President, and the Senate President.

The problem of dual representation on the senate has been solved by eliminating the "class" senate seats and returning to a system of representation of all students by college. The Union Board will be elected separately from the other offices and at the same time as the executive officers. The term for executive officers is one year beginning May 1, and all senators now have a one year term beginning November 1. So at the time of the installation either of the senate or the Executive Board the other will have had six months experience and will be able to ease the shock of transition.

There will be six major operating boards within CSUN. They will be for Entertainment and Programming, Appropriations, Publications, Radio, Organizations, and Elections.

The Judicial Council has not been altered significantly but its powers have been more clearly defined. Problems relating to succession, signature power, and equal representation have been rectified. I believe the new Constitution can adequately provide for the anticipated growth of the University as well as being a workable document for its current size.

Other projects which have been initiated this year have met with varying degrees of success. The attempted Student Discount Booklet will unfortunately have to be cancelled because of a relatively low rate of merchant response. The Student Directory which was anticipated to be published for the Fall 1979 semester will have to be delayed one semester due to some problems with the mechanics of the program. The Student Evaluation of Faculty program has enjoyed considerably more success. This project, headed by Senator Kirk Voelcker, has received a go ahead from the administration and faculty and should be initiated during the Spring 1979 semester. Senate attempts to finalize a UNLV alma mater and CSUN logo are incomplete at this time.

One particularly bright spot this year is the finalization of the necessary efforts to bring about a radio station for UNLV. Thanks to the diligent work of Radio Station Consultant Tommy Walker and the Senate Radio Station Committee, The Multi year project is almost completed. Proposals to computerizing CSUN elections and establishing a student crisis hotline are currently being considered.

With only three months left in my term, I have a positive feeling about what has gone on this year in CSUN. I have tried to serve the student body to the best of my ability and am grateful for the opportunity to have done so.

John Hunt VP for finance and communications

For the past two years I have been fortunate enough to hold the positions of CSUN Treasurer and CSUN Vice President for Finance and Communications. During this time my main responsibility was to see to it that the annual budget for CSUN is presented to the CSUN Senate. I was also responsible for the daily business of approving and disapproving requests for checks and disbursements.

Participation on the Executive Board in the areas of CSUN appointments and general policy statements concerning student government is another facet of my responsibilities.

In the past few years I have strived to see to it that organizations who have not been involved in student government get involved and participate in the funds that are available for involvement. This was mainly accomplished through the CSUN Organizations Board. When I took this position there were twelve recognized organizations. Currently there are 41. My main concern was to see to it that the small groups who have never got their money in the past would participate and receive money to broaden campus involvement.

A major accomplishment of CSUN since I have been involved is the creation of our campus radio station, KULV. This radio I hope will not only bring students back to campus, but involve the community that surrounds the campus in the various events that are held on the campus.

I have experienced a change in the Constitution since being involved. I believe that the proposed new Constitution could be instrumental in a more efficient student government. But this Constitution should be scrutinized, and not in a sense "railroaded" through the CSUN Senate.

One area that has really facilitated the smooth operation of CSUN was the hiring of a business manager. His contributions have proven invaluable in that it will give student government the continuity that is necessary to provide maximum services and to account for every dollar of student funds that is spent within student government.

At this time I would also like to thank all the people who have supported me in the past and to welcome all back from their holiday vacations. Student government has been an invaluable experience for me in the last two years and an experience that should be strived for by many more students on our campus. The benefits are innumerable; the experience is unforgettable.

Tim Herlosky VP for activities

My name is Timothy Herlosky and I am currently Vice-President for Activities for the Consolidated Students of the University of Las Vegas. The position of Activities director entails the programming of special events such as Oktoberfest, which is the largest traditional event on the U.N.L.V. campus featuring a German band, two days of German food and plenty of beer.

Homecoming is another large event that occurs every year and the aspect of programming is two-fold. Not only are there daily events and a dance to produce but also the Homecoming queen is chosen at half time at the football game. All the events must evolve around a certain theme which is chosen long before the week of homecoming.

Guest lectures also fall under activities, usually 2 to 3 lectures per semester. Lecture Bureaus handle the different people and it is my job to go through the different companies and make arrangements to have the speakers come to UNLV.

Movies at UNLV are free to CSUN students and I have been told that this semester's movie series is the best selection out of any university in the nation. Because the movie series is the most popular activity the emphasis has been placed in this area to produce the best possible film series to show the students.

The emphasis in entertainment and programming is on scheduling dances, lectures and movies and the events that go with them, however there is more than what was explained in the preceding paragraphs. For instance, all summer I was involved in the procurement of a special events liquor license to be used by CSUN for the sale and distribution of liquor. Also working in conjunction with the Hotel College a course in bartending evolved on campus. This course is open to anybody over the age of 21 and upon completion these people are eligible to work at events. So not only does the activities job entail scheduling of certain events but it also includes creating a system within the event itself, so it will please both administration as well as the students.

The job of activities to me means providing a pleasurable experience to students and to try to bring life on campus back after the classes have ended. In any other school this task would not seem so difficult because of dormitory and campus housing on the campus itself. Since UNLV is a 95 percent commuter campus the problem of bringing people back for events is major. One of my purposes other than defining my purpose is to make a plea to you people who are kind enough to read my article. A plea for increased involvement by you people, to bring back some campus life to UNLV after the books are closed. I truly feel that activities are as important as academic life. I feel that activities strengthen the purpose of attending a higher institution such as UNLV. It is my sincere hope that you the student come in to my office to ask to help or even to criticize or to make suggestions. I welcome your opinions and my door is always open.

Gene Russo Union Board Chairman

As Union Board Chairman, I am the official spokesperson to CSUN pertaining to union related matters. I chair an advisory board to the director of the union pertaining to policy making matters. Included among my responsibilities is the operating policy of the union, the budget (which consists of one-half million dollars), the implementation of new programs in the union and all remodeling when necessary.

The Student Union Board consists of four students elected at large, an appointed alumni, an appointed graduate student, an appointed administrator and an appointed faculty member. These appointments are made at the beginning of the term by the four elected students, the director and the assistant director, and confirmed by the Vice President for Educational Services. The main goal of the union board is to develop programs which will fulfill the social, cultural, recreational and educational needs of the entire college campus community.

As the Vice President for Union Affairs, I am one of the five member Executive Board of CSUN. In this board the members make the nominations to the senate to fill various positions in the CSUN governmental and cultural structure. This board also makes policy decisions, however anything this board recommends must be ratified by the CSUN Senate.

After working with CSUN for the past two and a half years, I perceive the organization as a viable entity for the personal and professional growth of the college student. CSUN is a training ground for the development of skills and resources that the students may use when they enter the job field.

As for the University as a whole, I perceive it to be a fast growing institution dedicated to "modern education" which will not only enrich ones knowledge of life but will also help them get into the current job market. UNLV, in spite of some conflicting policy procedures that are different with my own philosophies (which prompted me to run for regent in the past election), is one of the finest and most caring universities in the United States today. I am proud to serve in my small capacity with it.

In summary, I would like to highlight some of the areas or projects I would like to see completed by the union. Now that we have a remodeled bookstore and snackbar, I would like us to finish up on the first floor remodeling by instituting the deli and bakery, which will hopefully be completed by summer. I would at this time concentrate my efforts on the second floor, where there is much need for improvement. The current Union Board is now working on getting a new TV for the lounge, as well as looking into the options of getting the lounges recarpeted and new furniture bought for them. We are also working on getting the ballroom refurbished. I have learned from serving on this board in the past that these things take time. However, with your backing and support, we will get them done.

University rules

PREAMBLE

The University of Nevada is dedicated to the discovery and dissemination of knowledge. These ends require free inquiry and discussion: the willingness and power to agree and disagree without coercion. The rules and procedures which follow establish conditions necessary to preserve the proper ends of the University, including the rights of all its members to pursue those ends.

The University exists in continual interaction with a larger community of people, state and nation. The University must live in harmony not only with itself but with the community at large and, in turn, must enjoy the support of the community it serves if it is to succeed in the pursuit of its proper and distinctive ends.

These Rules and Procedures are designed not to infringe upon any person's rights to express his opinions or demonstrate peacefully, but rather to insure that the rights of all members of the University community are preserved.

INTRODUCTION

Chapter IV of the University Code includes the following statements concerning academic freedom for faculty:

"2.2 The faculty member is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing his subject. He is, however, responsible for the maintenance of appropriate standards of scholarship, instruction and good taste. It is not the function of the faculty member to indoctrinate his students with ready-made conclusions on controversial subjects. He is expected to teach students to think for themselves and to provide them access to those materials that they need if they are to think intelligently. Hence, in giving instruction upon controversial matters, the faculty member is expected to be of a fair and judicial mind, and to set forth justly, without suppression or innuendo, the differing opinions of other investigators. No faculty member may claim as his right the privilege of discussing in his classroom topics unrelated to his course of instruction. The faculty member is ethically and professionally bound not to take advantage of his position by introducing into the classroom discussions irrelevant to his course.

"2.3 The faculty member is a citizen, a member of a learned profession and a representative of this University. When he speaks or writes as a citizen, he will be free from University censorship or discipline, but his special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a man of learning and as an educator, he knows that the public may judge his profession and this University by his utterances. At all times he strives to be accurate, to exercise appropriate restraint, to show respect for the opinions of others and to make every effort to indicate that he is not a spokesman for this University."

The University community consists of the Board of Regents, administrative officers, the faculty, the staff and the students. Final authority is constitutionally vested in the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents has defined its relation to each of the other groups within the University community in three major documents. The Student Bill of Rights, where applicable, is an acknowledgment by all parties, including the Board of Regents, of the rights of University students. The By-Laws of the Board of Regents and the University Code define the structure of the University and assigns powers, rights and responsibilities to the several segments and members of the faculty and its administrative officers. The Student Bill of Rights, the Student Handbook, where applicable and the University Code are concerned with academic regulations, classroom performance and conduct and academic and professional competence. The Rules which follow are only concerned with the conduct of the members of the University community.

None of these regulations, however, shall be so interpreted as to result in the violation of any person's rights under the Nevada Constitution or the Constitution of the United States.

No act occurring prior to the enactment of this code will be the subject of charges filed under this code.

RULES

The following forms of conduct, being incompatible with the purposes of an academic community, are prohibited for all members of that community and lead to sanctions and procedures as hereafter described.

1. The use of, or threat to use, force or violence against any member or guest of the University community, except when lawfully permissible.
2. Interference by force, threat or duress, with the lawful freedom of movement of persons or vehicles on the University premises.
3. The intentional disruption or unauthorized interruption of functions of the University of Nevada System, including but not limited to classes, convocations, lectures, meetings and recruiting interviews, on or off University property.
4. Wilful damage, destruction, defacement, theft or misappropriation of property belonging to the University or to a member of the University community.
5. Knowing possession on any University premises of any firearms, explosives, dangerous chemicals, or other instruments of destruction, or other dangerous weapons as defined by laws of the State of Nevada, without written authorization of the chief administrative officer of the campus or his authorized agent unless such possession relates to duly recognized University functions by appropriate members of the faculty, staff or students.
6. Continued occupation of buildings, structures, or grounds belonging to the University after having been ordered to leave by the president of the University or the designated chief campus officer present.
7. Forgery or alteration or destruction of University documents or furnishing of intentionally falsified information in documents submitted to the University of Nevada System or making intentionally false accusations against any member of the University community by the filing of a complaint or charges under these rules.
8. The repeated use of obscene or abusive language in a classroom or public meeting where such usage is beyond the bounds of generally accepted good taste and which, if in a class, is not significantly related to the teaching of the subject matter.
9. Wilful incitement of persons to commit any of the acts herein prohibited.
10. Disorderly, lewd or indecent conduct occurring on-campus or at a University recognized or University group sponsored activity off-campus.
11. Any act prohibited by local, state or Federal law which occurs on a University campus or at a University sponsored function.
12. The use of threats of violence against a faculty member or his family in order to secure preferential treatment for grades, loans, employment or any other University service or privilege.
13. Any other conduct which violates applicable stated policies or rules of the divisions of the University of Nevada System.

Campus Media

Radio Station

"KULV in its present closed-circuit situation is moving towards an educational emphasis, more of what KULV FM will be. "CSUN Radio Consultant Tommy Walker also commented that he and his staff are trying to stay with more locally produced, locally oriented programming.

Some of the new diversifications in KULV's program week this semester will be "Exploring the Cosmos with UNLV Astronomer Ed Grayzeck, a classical music show with Lon Spight, a theatre arts program featuring plays, interviews and reviews, "Women's World," "The World of Opera," "Current Topics in Education," with Dr. Dettre, and capsulized coverage of the CSUN Senate.

KULV News director Ken Harris is also planning expansion of campus news coverage.

Public Service Director Rick Scarrone notes that KULV will continue to offer on-air announcements to all campus related groups, and asks that the basic information be typed and sent to his attention in the radio station office, Rm. 307 of the Moyer Student Union.

Walker is also offering free radio training courses throughout the Spring semester for those wishing to work on the station or wishing to take the FCC Third Class broadcasting license examination. More specific information can be obtained in the radio office.

Television

Dr. Allan Padderud and the Department of Communications Studies in cooperation with UNLV Audio-Visual Services will be premiering an on-campus television station this semester. Monitors will be plugged in across campus to provide viewing areas for prospective student audiences. The station will be broadcasting between classes.

Scheduled to begin on-air operations sometime early in the Spring semester, UNLV TV will focus itself on news and campus affairs. Monday newscasts will feature a national and international weekend wrap-up with anchor Maci Perkins. Wednesday and Friday newscasts will delve into in-depth campus coverage with faculty, administration, CSUN and students. Tuesday and Thursday programming between classes is aimed more at the feature angles of campus coverage, as well as interviews with university newsmakers. Hostess Michele Comiau is also the producer of these feature reports. Yell Theatre columnist Bill Campbell will be doing a one-minute review once a week.

The Annotated Yell

The campus periodical, "The Annotated Yell" has undergone extensive changes for the Spring Semester.

In order to be more representative of the entire university community, the magazine is accepting contributions from all interested students and faculty.

The periodical will be featuring a series of "Cover Topics" an in depth look at various issues which effect student's daily lives. Cover topic submissions and ideas should be brought to the attention of Managing Editor Marc Charisse.

For those interested in creative writing, "Wormwood" is a new section featuring short stories, essays, and poetry. D.R. McBride is in charge of all submissions.

A cultural events calendar, "Call Board" will also be featured. It will hopefully include all events of interest to the intellectual and cultural community. Anyone with an event they would like to bring to the attention of the university community should contact Cultural Editor Bill Campbell.

Letters to the editor should be addressed to Editor Mike Navarro.

As always, classified ads are offered free of charge to students. The person to see is the secretary Glenda Harris.

Remember "The Annotated Yell" is a student-funded publication serving the intellectual and cultural community. As your student newspaper, the staff welcomes your input. Anyone with submissions, questions or suggestions should stop by the office on the third floor of the student union.

Dickinson library survival manual

"NEED HELP? ASK US." Do that as you start to use the library. The Reference Department, Inter-library Loan Department, Documents Department and the processing departments make up the first floor.

Reference is set up to assist you in answering short questions and doing research. The books in this area give factual information such as statistics, biography, summaries like encyclopedias and references to other books or bibliographies. As we only have one copy of most of these books, we do not check them out but keep them in the library for constant use.

Indexes and Abstracts are also in the Reference area. These publications let you look under a subject (in some cases also an author) for articles in a variety of journals or magazines. The Card Catalog is a listing in separate sets of drawers of all the books in this library under title, subject and author. It does not list documents or magazines. If you have any problems with it or any other reference materials, don't hesitate to ask the reference staff at the desks or in the yellow offices by the stairs.

Inter-library Loans is a service which borrows books magazine articles from other libraries if they are unavailable here. The major problem is the time element. Closeness of a library is not always the deciding factor, volume of business and staffing weigh heavily. Remember if you need to use the Inter-library loan service, you must do your research early to allow time for materials to arrive. Foreign or rare items may require months. There is a charge for Xeroxing, which is used for most magazine articles, that will vary with the library sending the material. There is also a charge for books borrowed from out-of-state libraries.

The Documents Department maintains a collection of US Federal Documents and Nevada State Documents. The Documents Librarian will have an article in the future explaining what they are and how to use them. Periodical indexes are also located on the first floor.

The second floor houses the periodical files, newspapers, microforms and audio visual materials. Periodicals are arranged alphabetically by title around the room with the latest issues on yellow display shelves, and older issues bound in the same range of stacks as the current issues. The key to periodical and microfilm titles held by the library is the computer-produced print out, located at the service desk. Another copy of the print out is located at the reference desk on the First Floor for your convenience. The print out lists all the periodical titles in the library and gives the holding for each title. Also available is an Intermountain Union List of Serials, listing titles, and holding of over one hundred libraries in Nevada, Arizona and Idaho State University; if UNLV doesn't have the journal you need, you may find it available through some other library. Undergraduate students at UNLV are fortunate in that they may use inter-library loan service to obtain materials from other Nevada libraries; many larger universities do not accord the privilege to undergrads.

If you have trouble finding what you need on the second floor, ask for help at the service desk. A staff member will show you how to read the print out, how to find your material, demonstrate the microform viewing equipment and try to make you feel "at home" in the library.

Also on the Second Floor: a smoking room with tables and lounge furniture; enough study tables and carrels to easily seat 175 persons; local and national newspapers; a Xerox machine; microform copying facilities; phonorecords, tapes audio visual reserve materials along with equipment to play/see/hear them; and the Special Collections Department.

The Third Floor of the library contains most of the books which may be borrowed for use outside the building. Books are normally charged out for two weeks and may be renewed for unlimited additional two week periods if another patron has not placed a "hold" for the title.

A word of caution: the card catalog (which indexes these books by author's name, title and subject-matter) is located on the first floor. You may need to consult this catalog, for the books are arranged on the shelves strictly by call numbers. The Library of Congress classification system, used at UNLV to arrange the books, is so enormous and detailed that even professional librarians cannot remember very many class numbers for specific subjects.

Books and articles that have been specifically assigned by instructors to the entire class are generally placed on reserve status so that everyone will have a reasonable opportunity to consult them. Some books have been placed on three-day reserve. These are shelved in the regular stacks and are clearly marked with colored tape. The most heavily used materials are on two-hour reserve. These must be asked for at the Third Floor circulation desk and are to be used only within the library. Fines on overdue reserve materials are very steep-- up to $2.00 per day-- so be sure to return them on time.

Our library shares an on-line computerized circulation system with Clark County Community College and the Clark County Library District of the local public library system.

If you have one of the following cards with machine readable number on the back you are already registered with the UNLV Library. You will not need to register again or re-register on different card.

Clark County Library District library card

UNLV photo ID card (obtainable in the Moyer Student Union, rm. 121 or the photo booth). No update sticker is necessary for library use.

Clark County Community College library card or photo ID.

Present this card each time you wish to borrow materials, including reserve items. It is good at all branches of the above-listed libraries.

If your ID or library card is lost or stolen, report it promptly to the library. This card is as valuable as your bank and credit cards. Use by an unauthorized person could be costly to you.

Your borrowing privileges may be withheld at all the above listed libraries if you accumulate five overdue items, $2.50 in fines, or are billed for any unreturned books. Take care of such problems promptly to prevent suspension of library privileges.

Graduate and doctoral students may apply for extended loan periods for borrowing books. Inquire at the circulation desk on the Third Floor of the library.

The Third Floor also contains a classroom, a lounge with food and drink machines (sorry, no smoking in this lounge), and a room containing typewriters and a Xerox duplicator. Duplicating cost is ten cents per page. Use of the typewriters is free, but users must furnish their own paper, erasers and supplies.

More and more of the Third Floor space is being required for the fast-growing book collection, but study tables and desks have been scattered in various corners of the stacks. We hope you will find some quiet places to concentrate on that assignment or investigate some subject of personal interest.

Registrar's office - the paper chase

All questions related to student records should be directed to the registrar's office. The registrar is responsible for maintaining permanent student records and providing verification for students who need their records for insurance or other purposes. The registrar also initiates all drop add actions.

Other services provided by the registrar include the scheduling of room assignments for clubs and other civic organizations needing meeting space, and initiating paper work for students who wish to change their majors.

In addition, the registrar compiles student data for use in statistical projections.

Judicial Board - third branch of CSUN

CHIEF JUSTICE DENNIS COBB

Chief Justice Dennis Cobb is a senior Political Science major. Dennis is a Rancho High School graduate and presently is the UNLV Commander of Sigma Nu. In 1976 he was a precinct delegate to the Clark County Democratic Convention.

Dennis feels the purpose of the Judicial Council is "to interpret the Constitution as it applies to the every day functions of CSUN (when asked)." He summarized by saying "we are an advisory body functioning to serve the senate and the student body."

JUSTICE PHIL BARKER

Justice Phil Barker, a Junior in the College of Business and Economics majoring in marketing, came to UNLV from Chippewa Valley High School in Mt. Clemens, Michigan. As a member of the Young Democrats he attended The state Democratic Convention. Phil is also a member of the American Marketing Association.

Justice Barker explains the function of his office: "When a case is submitted to the Judicial Council, we decide the case on the basis of our interpretation of the CSUN Constitution. We also research similar cases to use precedents in our decisions. Students are encouraged to use this function of their student government if they feel their rights have been violated or have other protests to voice." Phil addressed the following message to both old and new University students alike: "The University should be a testing ground for your various interests. Don't hesitate to jump in with both feet. After all, if it weren't for you, the University wouldn't be here, so go for it."

JUSTICE LONNIE BARRETT

Justice Lonnie Barrett promises to "interpret the Constitution as it applies to disputes submitted for decision." Barrett, a freshman who plans on majoring in business, has been named in the "Who's Who in American High School Students" and is the holder of various ROTC and campus related awards. Lonnie is also a member of Kappa Sigma, the Pre-Law Association, and Account Executive for The Annotated Yell.

JUSTICE KAREN BRADY

Justice Karen Brady, a senior Hotel Administration major, is a Western High School Graduate. Karen is a member of the UNLV Hotel Association.

Karen feels the purpose of the Council is "to resolve conflict and interpret the Constitution."

JUSTICE STEPHAN COMPAN

Justice Stephan Compan, a junior Political Science major, came to UNLV from James Conant High School in Illinois. Besides being a member of the Judicial Council, Steve is a member of the ATO fraternity.

Justice Compan feels that the Council will "settle matters within CSUN jurisdiction... (and) to be a final arbitrator for constitutional matters."

JUSTICE JOSEPH FORD

Justice Joseph L. Ford, a Junior majoring in Communications Studies, is a graduate of Western High School. Joseph worked on the Democratic party candidate's campaigns in the recent elections.

Justice Ford feels the Council's purpose is "to enable the senate and the Executive Board to work together so they can accomplish more, by handing down decisions that clarify interpretations of the CSUN Constitution."

JUSTICE ANN SORENSON

Justice Ann Sorenson, a Political Science senior, is from Buena Park, California, where she graduated from John F. Kennedy High School. She is a member of the social sciences honor society, Delta Tau Kappa, and also belongs to the American Businesswomen's Association.

Anne believes that the purpose of the Judicial Council is simply "to help in solving differences between the senate and the Constitution."

COMING FEBRUARY 7th

The Future of Las Vegas

In its first cover topic, The Annotated Yell examines industrial diversification, the effects of urbanization and growth, and the psychology of gambling. In future issues we will be spotlighting Energy, Weather, Cults and the History of theatre in Nevada. We pay one cent per word for printed contributions.

A Note from Mike Navarro, Annotated Yell Editor: Beginning next week, CSUN Publications is going to attempt to engage in an experiment in journalism. We are going to attempt to reflect the entire University community in a new format we think can facilitate it. But to do so, we need contributions from all corners of this campus. Inside each issue will be a "Yell for Papers," our way of letting you know the areas and topics in which we are interested. This page gives you an idea of the kinds of things we have in mind, but in no way let it limit you. Visuals and printed material are also welcome. In order for this project to succeed, we need your support. The door is open: come inside.

COMIX

Regular features include Fat Freddie's Cat, Wonder Warthog, UNLV cartoonists and more.

WORMWOOD

The Annotated Yell opens its doors to local fiction writers, showcasing short stories and poetry in a new literary section. Wormwood wants your creative contributions and will pay one cent per word for any work published.

Guide to Understanding

This University Guide Book becomes a regular feature in The Annotated Yell, beginning with "A Guide to Understanding Investments" in next week's issue. Future issues will lay out the basics of Meteorology and Astronomy, to name but a few.

Callboard

A complete listing of all cultural, instructional, and civic events around town. To get your activity listed, send the data to Callboard, The Annotated Yell, UNLV.

SUBURBAN SURVIVAL

A serialization of a gardening manual being prepared by UNLV Professors Evan Blythin and Mike McCollum. A pull-out that will give our readers, over the semester, a whole book that won't have to be bought. A must.

SPORTS

That same Rebel coverage you've come to depend on The Yell for and more. Starting with our first issue, Sociology's Dr. Jim Frey examines the influences and ties alumni have on the University policy, budget and direction. We want your insights as well. Call us with interesting leads or ideas.
