A Complete Guide to UNLV
and its services

Greetings from the President

Dear UNLV Students, Both New and Returning:

Summer is over now, and nobody's happier than I am because now all of you students are back on campus, almost 14,000 of you who make coming here an every day joy. I've always said that nobody has a better job than we who work in higher education; we get to spend our time among the best and the brightest, men and women for whom the status quo is not satisfactory, who want to know what's around the next bend, who are full of the excitement and pleasure of being alive, who are entranced by the wonder of learning.

It is you, along with the faculty scholars and the fine staff of this institution, who make UNLV truly a Center of Excellence for all Nevadans.

To do your part in making it so, you must work hard; you must go to class, take notes, and study the text. In so doing, you will manifest your part of reality that we at UNLV will settle for nothing less than the best, from our faculty, from our staff, and from our students.

Have a good year!

Robert C. Maxson, President

How to go to college

by Barbara Cloud

Yellin' Rebel Advisor

The professor and the students eye each other warily as they wait for the stragglers to settle into the classroom.

I can only guess at what in going through the students minds: How hard will I have to work in this class? I hope she's not boring. I hope there's not more the one book to read, etc.

Meanwhile, I'm wondering: How many will still be here at the end of the semester? Who will participate and liven up the class? Do they expect to be spoonfed? Can they write? Do they read?

How many are here because they don't know what else to do? How many want to learn — and will they make an effort?

Obviously it is the first day of the semester, the beginning of the next four months of your life. How do you make the most of the semester after that, and all those semesters until you graduate?

Let me share with you some thoughts on how to do it.

*Get to know your professor. Once in a while you will encounter a real bear, but most of us are quite appreciable and want to be able to attach a face to that name on the class role.

If you make the effort to get acquainted and show an interest in the class, you are more likely to get the benefit of the doubt if you end up in a borderline situation come grade time. It's hard to fail someone you know — but it's not impossible.

*Attend class. If you are coming straight from high school, you may be astonished at the amount of freedom you have to run your own academic life. Usually no one insists that you go to class and many professors do not take roll; if the class is large, they may not know if you are there or not.

BUT, there is usually a strong correlation between attendance and grades. Resist the temptation to cut class; you never know what you might be missing.

*Get involved in your education. What you get out of college is directly related to how much you put into it— and that has little to do with the amount of money you spend on it. Attend class, do the reading, sample the recommended reading, do your assignments on time, think about the material and participate in class. Make an effort. You might even find it interesting.

Get involved outside the classroom. UNLV's commuter campus atmosphere seems to undercut the collegiality that is associated with university life — but only because we let it. Just as you can get a fine education at UNLV, you can also get a fine collegiate experience here, but neither will be offered on a silver platter.

After class don't be in such a rush to leave campus; stay around and participate in student government, clubs, attend plays and concerts and other campus activities. You'll make lifelong friends, have something for your resume and expand your education.

*Don't neglect your grades. It is still fashionable to say grades aren't important, that is what you learn that counts. That's true — and if you are learning, it will almost certainly be reflected in your grades.

There are also a number of students who, less than enchanted with schoolwork, want to get a degree as quickly as possible with the least amount of effort. They think they'll never darken campus doors again. But lately I've been counseling several who want to return for a master's degree but whose lackadaisical attitude as undergraduates may prevent them from reaching their goal. Don't burn bridges by getting poor grades.

*Be flexible. You'll find a lot of people asking you what you want to be when you graduate. Don't worry if you don't know yet. Some of us never find out.

Walk-Thru Registration September 2-3, 1987

by nick paul, registrar

On behalf of the Registrar's Office, we would like to extend a warm welcome to our newly admitted students.

While the steps for registration are detailed on page 7 of the Fall schedule, I would like to outline your procedures during orientation.

1. After you are given your registration form by the Orientation Staff, please read the instructions on the reverse side. You must use a pencil in order to complete the registration form.

2. You have to obtain department approval for each course you select. Details regarding locations of the various departments are on page 4 and 5 of the Fall Schedule.

3. After you receive all your approvals, have your completed form checked by the Registrar's Office Staff in Frazier Hall.

4. You will pay your fees at the Cashier's windows in Frazier Hall. Your registration is not complete until your fees have been paid.

Once you have completed the previous steps you are "officially registered". If you decide to change your schedule after "official registration", you can only do so with a Drop/Add/Change form, commonly called "Drop/Add." If you are changing your grading option from Pass/Fail to Letter Grade, use a Drop/Add. If you are dropping one section of a class and adding a different section, use a Drop/add. If you are withdrawing from all of your courses, use a Drop/Add.

The Drop/Add is designed as a multi-purpose form and is only "official" when receipted in the Registrar's Office, so make sure you bring it in personally and also save your receipt!

Credit overload petitions must be approved in advance of registration and presented at the time the registration form is checked. Petition forms may be obtained from departmental offices. Registration is not complete until fees have been paid.

September 4, 1987 "DEAD DAY"

Registration fees will be accepted without a late fee on "Dead Day," however, no registration forms will be distributed and no course approvals may be obtained on this day.

Students who have already picked up a registration form and have departmental approvals may have their registration form checked and pay fees in the Thomas & Mack Center between 8:30 am to 5 pm. Early arrival is advised.

September 4, is the last day to pay fees without a late fee penalty if registering for seven or more credits. No late fee is charged to students registering for less than seven credits.

One more thing, when you register for future terms, it's to your advantage (and much easier) to use our CARS pre-registration system and avoid trekking around campus and standing in lines. Try it next term;

Greetings from the Dean of Student Services

Greetings:

We are pleased that you have chosen to attend UNLV because we believe that you have made the right choice. This is a rapidly growing, ever-changing community that is in the process of establishing traditions of excellence in many areas, both in the classroom and in student life programs across the campus. You will have been here only for a brief time until you, too, are caught up in the excitement that is everywhere on this campus.

The student newspaper staff is to be congratulated for the work that they have done to bring this special edition of the paper to all new UNLV students. After having read the material here, you will have a good idea of the programs and services available to you. But more than that, you will know how to find the services and where to go to participate in the programs. With that in mind, you may want to keep this paper for future reference.

For you to get everything that you possibly can out of your educational experience, I would encourage you to become involved. The experiences available to you in student government, as a member of the radio station, the newspaper staff, the debate team, an intramural club, a student organization or any of the other activity programs that are part of campus life will enable you to fulfill interests, polish your leadership skills and make new friends.

It is from those kinds of experiences that you will gain the confidence that will, upon graduation, enable you to begin your career with a running start. If you are holding down a job or have a family, as many of our students do, I would hope that you will still make the time to become involved, to become an active part of the life of this campus.

New student orientation leaders are here to help; if you live in Tonopah Hall you will have an RA; your faculty advisor is another resource and everywhere across campus there are people who can help you find the answers; you need only ask. This paper will introduce you to the Student Services staff, a group of people with a special interest in assisting you. These people and the programs which they supervise are potentially very important to you in your efforts to meet your educational goals. I urge you to seek them out.

Students new to the campus generally feel some confusion but in a very short time that will be replaced by a feeling of belonging, as the campus, its people and its systems become more familiar to you. A good way to start getting over the feelings of confusion would be to carefully read this Frontiers issue of the Yellin' Rebel. If the feeling still will not go away, if you have questions for which this paper does not provide the answers or if you have suggestions on how we might improve upon the opportunities available to students, please feel free to contact me. My office is in 330 of the Humanities Building; I look forward to meeting you.

Returning to college after a hiatus of any sort can be a difficult task. It gets worse with time.

You are generally surrounded by people who are younger than you are (though UNLV is unusually generous in this respect), you are involved in a situation that is unfamiliar and it is hard to adapt to taking various classes on various subjects.

The following are some points I feel are important to returning students, though beginning students should take note.

Take Interest — There is not a professor or instructor I have ever met who will not melt before the genuine interest of a student. Ask questions, share experiences, get involved in the class.

Don't just sit there and accept whatever the professor says. Don't be afraid to disagree with the professor or another student.

And remember, there is nothing quite so satisfactory as quashing someone else's theoretical view of the world with your own factual one.

Attend Class — If you don't show up, you don't really know what is going on. Certainly, there are professors and instructors who base their lectures solely on text. However, there is no way of really determining who they are until you see for yourself. And the only way to determine whether an instructor is basing all the lectures on the text is to:

Read the Text — Textbooks are selected by the professor for the sole purpose of augmenting the class lecture. There is something important in the texts that a professor wants you to know. Now whether an instructor goes over what is in the text or not, there is usually a reason for its presence in course curriculum.

Take Notes — Take notes while you are in class, keep the notes, read the notes. Some people use tape recorders. They have to sit through all their lectures twice.

Keep an open mind — There will be things said in any course that you will disagree with. Don't let it bother you. My favorite note in this situation is "This too, shall pass."

Devote the Time — If you haven't the time to do the work necessary to successfully complete a course, don't take it.

Student Life

Student Life is the division of Student Services that describes itself, assisting the students in their activities outside the classroom. Anita Stockbauer is the Director of this new department. Her office is FDH 327 and phone number is 739-0866. The division encompasses the following:

The Greek System — Made up of six sororities and 10 fraternities working together through the Panhellenic and the InterFraternity Council. Rush begins the first day of classes for Sororities and Fraternities. The IFC/Panhellenic office is located in FEH 301 and the phone number is 739-3882.

The Orientation Program — The new student orientation program is now mandatory for all admitted students. Orientation leaders are trained to assist new students with registration and their adjustment to campus life. Faculty assist with advising students on course requirements. Orientation dates for Fall 1987 are August 6, 11, 13, 20, 25, 27 and September 1. The Spring 1988 orientation will be January 26, 1988. For more information call 739-0866.

Encore — This program is designed to inform people about UNLV who are not admitted and usually fall into the over 20 age category. The evening program for this Fall will be August 27, 7-9pm in the MSU ballroom. Admission to this event is free. Call for reservations at 739-3443. Encore does not include a registration packet, but does give information about the procedures for enrolling and getting academic advising.

The Elardi Scholars Program — This is a program to recruit, admit and assist the high school Valedictorians from 53 high schools in Nevada. Mrs. Margaret Elardi made this possible when she donated $1 million to UNLV to be used on recruiting the top scholars in Nevada. These students receive $1250 each semester for 4 years, along with the personal support of Mrs. Elardi and staff.

Housing — The need has arrived to offer assistance to students looking for a place to live, or a person to live with. Although still in its developmental stages, the program has been helping students find apartments or roommates near the University. For more information or help, call 739-0866.

New Student Programs — This portion of the Division of Student Life is meant to help coordinate ac-ivities for the new students on campus prior to being admitted and through their first year. These activities are tied together with several of the student organizations on campus. To get more information, come by FDH 327 or call 739-0866.

I, too, want to extend my welcome to all students on campus. It's because of you I work here. The outline above describes the areas I am responsible for, but the boundaries of my concern to assist you are limitless. If you are confused or having a tough time and need help, please call me at 739-0866. Best wishes for a great semester!

Watch out for those little blue golf carts

by mish tell managing editor

When I entered UNLV a few years ago I, like many of my friends, thought the parking procedures were a joke. I never even bothered to spend 12 seconds and get a parking sticker for my car.

We used to make fun of the parking tickets that we found on our cars daily. As we left the MSU, we used to make bets if the pieces of paper on our windows were notes from friends or just more "waste of time" parking tickets. After all, to us, they were just handy pieces of paper for quick party directions talked about in the parking lot on Friday afternoon.

They never seemed to be worth anything more. No notices were sent to my home, I was able to register for classes and most importantly, park in the red so I would make it on time to all of my classes. This past summer, the joke was on me. Standing on line to pay for my summer class made me realize just how stupid I really was. "I'm sorry, honey," the fee lady said. "I can't have $119.00 in parking fees?" I asked innocently. "Check it out with the police department located

Need help? Go to Academic Advising

The Academic Advising and Resource Center (AARC) is a student service actively responding to the needs of the students of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

ACADEMIC ADVISING
One of our most important functions at AARC is Academic Advising. We view academic advising as an integral part of the learning process.

Academic advising is crucial to the success of new and continuing students. The key to academic advising, particularly for incoming undergraduates, is to help the student prepare a balanced, realistic schedule that will accomplish four main goals.

1. To assist in making the transition from high school or the world of work to UNLV as smooth as possible.
2. To work toward fulfillment of the UNLV general education requirements.
3. To introduce the demands of academic work in a university setting, including the wide variety of majors available for study.

4. To provide a realistic challenge that promotes both growth and accomplishment.

RESOURCES CENTER
The AARC has available for use handouts on such topics as note-taking, listing, reading a college textbook, test anxiety, test-taking strategies and materials for the handicapped. The Resources Center also offers group sessions and workshops to help students improve their study skills.

TUTORING
The AARC maintains a staff of student tutors in most academic fields. Tutoring is available to all students at a cost of only $3 per hour. Students interested in becoming a tutor or signing up for tutoring are encouraged to visit the AARC.

The AARC is located on the second floor of the James R. Dickinson Library, Room 252.

Counseling and Testing Center

The Counseling and Testing Center is committed to helping you benefit as much as possible from your experience here at UNLV. This support may include helping you to perform better academically, to cope with your emotions, or to be more effective in your relationship with others. The campus environment can be exciting and challenging. It also can be highly stressful since you may face academic pressures as well as pressures from family, friends and loved ones at the same time.

Although we frequently work with students who are experiencing a crisis, our goal is to assist with your concerns before they materialize into more serious problems.

Services are offered by counseling and clinical psychologists, and counseling psychology interns completing their training for master's degrees.

The staff is experienced in a broad range of helping backgrounds. The center also provides workshops and consultation in the residence hall and to many student organizations.

We encourage you to drop by the Counseling and Testing Center to find out more about what we have to offer and to get to know our staff.

Our hours are 8 am to 5 pm, Monday through Friday and 8 am to 7:30 pm, Wednesday. Appointments may be made either in person or by phone at 739-3627/3628.

Be a full-time student and a part-time Ranger.

If you're highly competitive and in top physical condition, you might want to become part of Ranger Challenge in the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

It's a program of intense mental and physical challenges. And if you're among the best, you could represent your college and your cadre during the national competitions at the Army ROTC's summer Advanced Camp.

Ranger Challenge is anything but easy. But it is the most rigorous, rewarding and exciting experience on campus.

Student Union is university's 'living room'

The Moyer Student Union (MSU) when completed in 1968 was named in the honor of Dr. Donald C. Moyer, Chancellor and President of the University from 1965 to 1968.

The Union, located in the south end of campus between the Flora Dungan Humanities Building and Frank and Estella Beam Hall, provides the facilities, programs and services for the students, as well as the faculty, staff and alumni comprising UNLV's academic community.

The MSU is many things to many people. It serves the campus in the following ways:

As the Living room of the University — MSU is the University's "living room," converting the University from a "house" of learning to a "home" of learning. Moyer Student Union provides a place for men and women to students meet; a headquarters on campus for the commuting students; a place where faculty and students can develop acquaintances outside the classroom; a place to entertain and be entertained at dinners, receptions, and parties; a central place to go when visitors, parents and alumni visit the campus — an information center, lounge, and place to meet and visit with friends.

As the Dining Room at the University — MSU is the campus dining room — the main dining center for students, faculty, and staff who do not dine where they live.

Just as the dining table is universally the symbol and the center of family social life, the dining rooms of the Union also serve as the center of the college family life. This encourages a sense of community through contact and conversation with fellow students and colleagues.

As the Service Center of the University — There are countless services and conveniences which the Student Union provides to make life easier for students, faculty and staff. The Union strives to provide the answer to the daily services and needs of the campus and draws them together in one central location.

As the Conference Center of the University — Accommodating various conferences, seminars, workshops and symposia is an important part of the educative function of UNLV. These activities widen the influence and strengthen support for what the University is doing.

As a Unifying Force — Because of its centralized social, cultural, dining, and other facilities and services, MSU is the common meeting ground on campus. Moyer Student Union brings all groups together to produce a more unified student body, widening their acquaintances, and sharing the feeling of belonging to the large campus community.

As a Center for Programs and a Training Ground for Leadership — The MSU is part of the educational process of the University. By not only providing amenities serving the needs of the student's daily life but also serves as a learning laboratory, providing the opportunity to train students in social responsibility and leadership.

These experiences can give a new dimension to education — expanding the time and means through which a University educates. The Student Union is a place where students and others from the University community can come together as people to meet and exchange ideas that touch upon the academic and not-so-academic.

What the MSU has to offer.

Bookstore: Located on the first floor of the Student Union, this is the place where you can purchase study aids, books, and other school supplies. The MSU Board is especially proud of the new bookstore which has become a "showcase" store in the southwest.

Bulletin Boards: The bulletin boards and display cases throughout the building may be used by students to publicize activities.

Electronic Message Board: Located on the first floor, at the south entrance of Union Station, this message board publicizes selected events scheduled on or off campus. Requests to have messages displayed can be arranged through the Union Administrative Office.

Gamesroom: The Gamesroom offers a wide variety of entertainment including the traditional table games of pocket billiards and ping-pong to the most popular state-of-the-art video games. Games Tournaments are held periodically to generate students' interest. Outdoor recreation enthusiasts can also rent camping and canoeing equipment in the Gamesroom.

I.D. Booth: Located on the first floor near the Information Booth, this is where students acquire their first University Identification Card or its replacement.

Information Booth: Located just inside the north entrance. It provides services such as general campus information, campus telephone information, coin operated Xerox service, change, check cashing, postage stamps and the Lost and Found. Students can also have their I.D.'s validated there.

Lockers: There are lockers for rent in the Moyer Student Union to store books. Contact the Union Administrative Office for further details.

Meeting Rooms: Six meeting rooms are available for use by students, faculty, staff, and outside. These may be reserved through the Union Administrative Office.

Recreation Programs: Located on the first floor, inside the gamesroom. Recreation Programs offers a variety of leisure-type of classes and outdoor trips; it also keeps an extensive inventory of outdoor equipment for rental.

International Programs services

The Office of International Programs offers several services to the incoming domestic and international students who come from all over the globe to study at UNLV.

The OIP handles all Immigration and Naturalization information for the international students, passports, and visas.

From some countries, we receive newspapers and articles that are available for student use.

We direct the students to different departments for advising and introduce them to students from their home countries.

We also have a host family program that provides services, helping with banking, places of interest around Las Vegas, and "just being a friend" to them. Some even offer the students a place to stay for a day or two until they find an apartment.

One of the most popular activities, the International Student Organization (ISO), is located in the Humanities Building, Room 243. Their office hours are posted and they have several activities each semester planned for you.

Their biggest event of the year is a fund raiser in late April or early May to raise money for a scholarship.

They welcome all students into the organization and invite you to join them and make new friendships with people from all over the world. The international students would like to make friends with the American students.

For the domestic students, UNLV sponsors study-abroad programs: London (Fall and Spring), Mexico Summer Program, San Sebastian, Spain, and Pau, France.

We maintain a small library of information of other study abroad programs and display two bulletin boards with available overseas programs.

We issue the International Student ID card for students who will be traveling abroad and this card gives them up to 20 percent discounts in restaurants, theatres, hotels, and on airfare. This card cost $10 and is valid for one year.

In addition, we provide up-to-date information for the Consular Corps located in San Francisco and Los Angeles, California.

The Office of International Programs is located in Beam Hall, Room 361, and we have an open door policy. Whether you are a domestic or international student, we will be pleased to have you visit our office and help you in any way that we can to make your stay at UNLV a very pleasant experience.

CSUN

Services and Departments

The CSUN (Consolidated Students of the University of Nevada) student government provides many services that are free of charge to UNLV students. Unless otherwise noted, services are available at the CSUN offices on the first floor of the Moyer Student Union.

Typing Room — There are several typewriters available in the CSUN offices for student use. There is no fee for using the typewriters, but students must supply their own paper and other supplies.

Legal Services — Former Assemblyman, Shelly Berkley, is available to offer students free legal advice. Berkley is usually available on Thursday mornings. Appointments are necessary and can be made by contacting CSUN secretary, Gary Longfellow at 739-3477.

Lecture Notes — Each semester CSUN hires students to take notes in numerous major classes. These notes are then typed and available for students to purchase. Notes can be purchased on a semester or daily basis. For a complete listing of courses covered and prices, please contact the CSUN secretary.

Security Shuttle — CSUN has two security shuttle carts that are parked outside the campus library during weeknights. Shuttle drivers will drive students from library to their cars, to their dorm rooms or to another building on campus. The purpose is to increase security on campus. For hours that the carts are in operation, please contact the CSUN secretary.

Scantron & Bud Books — Students can pick up free scantron forms and Bud Books (for essay tests).

The following is a listing of the CSUN departments, boards and committees. Any student meeting the necessary qualifications may participate in any of these boards. For more information on these and other CSUN programs contact the CSUN offices at 739-3477.

Appropriations Board — August Corrales, Chair. This board organizes the $500,000 CSUN budget. The board discusses allocation of funds, transfers of funds and periodically recommends budget adjustments to the Senate.

Entertainment & Programming — Rick Jimenez and John Fazi, Co-Chairs. This board is responsible for planning, administering and presenting a wide variety of social, cultural and educational programs for the university community. The board searches for entertainers and handles all necessary arrangements to provide concerts, parties and lectures for students.

Intramurals — Mike Popp, Chair. Intramurals oversees various recreation programs on campus, including flag football, volleyball, basketball, and many others. Intramurals organizes teams from among organizations on campus.

Student Services — Mike Frank, Chair. Student Services offers many services to students. It is directly responsible for the security shuttle, scanners, Bud books, lecture notes, the typing room, and CSUN's contribution to the Pre-School.

Student Government

by kurt hildebrand

Editor

The CSUN Student Government acts as the autonomous government body for CSUN students. CSUN members are those undergraduates who are matriculated students and are taking at least seven credits per semester.

The student government controls and disburses a budget of over $500,000 drawn from student fees.

Each undergraduate student taking over six credits pays $2.40 per credit to the student government.

The student government consists of three branches, the Executive Board, the Senate, and the Judicial Council.

The Executive Board consists of the President, the Vice-President and the Senate President. The current holders of these offices are Kirk Hendrick, Denise Gentile, and Steve Evenson respectively.

The Executive Board also has as ex-officio, non-voting members, a Vice President Pro Tempore (to take over as vice president, should the person holding that office be absent) and a Senate President Pro Tempore (to take over as senate president, should the person holding that office be absent).

Tristram Harrington and Greg Smith hold these offices respectively.

The Executive board acts as the administrative body of the student government. It nominates candidates for the various board and committees that operate under its auspices.

Elections for the voting members of the Executive Board are held every spring in March and April.

A primary election is held on the first Wednesday and Thursday of March for each office that more than two people are seeking.

Should there only be two candidates or one of the candidates running in the primary fails to receive over half of the votes cast in that election, a general election is held in April to determine the winner.

The Senate is the legislative branch of the CSUN government. It consists of 20 members from various colleges on campus.

The Senate is responsible for the disbursement of funds and for the approval or disapproval of Executive Board nominations.

Elections for the Senate are held in October within the various colleges. Senate seats which become open between elections are filled by the Senate.

The Judicial Council acts as the interpretive body for the Constitution. Members of the Judicial Council are nominated by the Executive Board and approved by the Senate.

For more information on elections and meeting times, call the CSUN secretary at 739-3477.

Tonopah Hall, home on campus

Tonopah Hall is a six story co-ed residence hall that accomodates 260 students on a double occupancy basis. We provide the residents with an atmosphere which is conducive to both the educational and social environments of a residence hall. Tonopah Hall provides its residents with a variety of services such as study lounges, TV lounge, laundry facilities on each floor, a basketball court with a barbecue area and many other recreational activities throughout the semester to make the students "Home away from home" a great experience.

Some of the improvements that have been done include new carpeting, furniture, mini-blind window coverings, mattresses and tiled showers for all student rooms. Also new are TV's and furniture for the student lounge. Future expansion plans for the residence hall programs include the building of new residence halls by the Fall of 1988.

The residence hall program provides the student with the convenience of living on campus enabling them to become involved with campus activities and the opportunity to met new friends.

Daycare helps parents

In recognition of the need for high quality educational day care for the children of members of the university community, CSUN established an on-campus day care center in 1971. During the Spring of 79, the Center's license was upgraded to a Preschool by the Clark County Child Welfare Department. As a means of continuing program improvement, the Center has since been integrated into the UNLV College of Education.

The Center is housed in the William D. Carlson Education Building on the UNLV campus. It is located on the first floor in Room 102, next to the Curriculum Materials Center. The Center is open from 7:30am to 5:30pm Monday through Friday. The director's office telephone number is 739-3779; the bookkeeper may be reached at 739-3442.

WHO:

Child care service is available for the children of students, faculty, staff and to the general public on a space available basis. Children must be between the ages of 2½ and 6 years and be potty trained.

STAFFING:

The full-time staff consists of a degreed Director, Evelyn M. Luderman, three teachers with professional preparation, two teacher aides, and a bookkeeper. UNLV students majoring in a variety of academic fields, including education, are assigned to the Preschool by their professors for practice as well. The staff and program are under the guidance of Dr. Dale G. Anderson, Dean of the College of Education.

POLICIES:

All charges will be made on a two-week advance payment basis. Any account more than two weeks in arrears may result in the space being given to another child. Credit for illness cannot be given. The Preschool adheres to the UNLV calendar. Users will not be charged for holidays or any other day that UNLV is closed. Student parents who drop classes resulting in schedule changes must notify the Center immediately.

REGISTRATION:

Registration may be accomplished at the Preschool Office during regular operating hours: 7:30am-5:30pm, Monday through Friday. A non-refundable registration fee of $15 is required for each child per semester. Each child must be enrolled for a minimum of 10 hours per week in the Center. For more information on fees and facilities, please contact 739-3779.

Student health keeps students in the pink

The Student Health Service is one of the services of the Division of Student Services, and is supported solely by student fees. All currently registered students are eligible for the services, most of which are free of charge.

The primary purpose of this service is promotion of well-being through information, advice, treatment, assistance with health problems and encouragement of personal responsibility for health maintenance.

One of the basic concerns is preventing or minimizing the health problems so that students may receive the full advantage of all academic opportunities and college life.

Services offered include exam, diagnosis, treatment, information, advice and referral.

A part-time physician, Loring Jacobs, M.D., a specialist in internal medicine, is on campus regularly.

A full-time registered nurse, Rebecca Kinn, R.N. also serves as the Director of Student Health Services.

Complete gynecologic exam, treatment, and prescription is available by appointment.

Diagnostic tests such as mono tests, pregnancy tests, and throat cultures are done and prescription and non-prescription medications are disbursed.

Arrangements for allergy vaccine injections can be made for those on regular schedules who are not residents of Las Vegas. A temporary rest area is available for students who become ill while on campus.

For services beyond the scope of the Student Health Service, listings of dentists, physicians, hospitals and other community health services are available.

A self-help area is open to students where information, directions and non-prescriptions medication can be picked up.

A scales is provided for those interested in weight control and a blood pressure monitor is available for use. Many brochures and handouts on health topics are available free of charge, including AIDS information and condoms.

Health records are maintained on all students, beginning with the Student Health Report Form which is mailed with the notice of admission to all students.

Any services received in the Student Health

Center are added to this record and maintained in strict confidentiality, with information given out only upon written request of the student.

Medical records may be transferred to other physicians or health agencies upon written request of the student.

Student Insurance may be purchased by any student registered for regular credits, at the time of registration through late registration.

The cost is $69 semi-annually or $138 annually.

Dependent insurance also available for students who purchase insurance.

The policy offers illness and accident coverage with $100 deductible and 80 percent co-insurance.

Please read the information as listed in the brochure which may be picked up at the cashier in Frazier Hall, or in Student Health. Claim forms are distributed at the Student Health Center.

All students are encouraged to take advantage of the services offered and suggestions are welcome. For more information please contact the Student Health Services in Frazier Hall room 110, or phone 739-3370. Hours are from 7:30 am to 5 pm on school days.

Student insurance hedges your bets

Don't take chances, take Student Insurance! Who can afford the highest medical costs in the nation? Certainly not students! You can save hundreds of dollars with an investment of just $69, the cost of coverage for one-half year, or $138 for the entire year.

No one likes to think of the possibility of illness or accident, but the alternatives of non-treatment or high costs are less than pleasant. For example, one visit to the emergency room for a minor problem can cost about $200, with costs increasing for some more serious problems. This illness and accident plan is especially designed for students of UNLV and may be purchased starting with pre-registration through late registration.

Dependent insurance is also available for spouse and children. For more information, brochures are available at the Student Health Service, FRA 110 and at the Cashier in Frazier Hall.

Alumni welcome students

The Alumni Office, located in the Humanities Building, helps to coordinate all programs for the UNLV Alumni Association. Undergraduates are encouraged to participate in alumni activities. Information regarding alumni programs can be obtained by calling 739-3621.

Library

The James R. Dickenson Library houses the library's collections and services on seven floors of two buildings, located on the quad in the center of the UNLV campus.

The entrance to the Library is on the first floor of the newer rectangular building. The following information is presented to help UNLV students become familiar with the Library, its collections, and services.

For a more thorough explanation of the collections and services, you are encouraged to participate in one of the many orientation tours which will be offered during the second and third weeks of the Fall '87 semester.

Times for these tours will be posted and they are limited to 30 people per tour.

The tours take about 45 minutes and are required by some English 101 and 102 instructors.

During the regular semester the library is open the following hours:

Monday-Thursday	8am-11pm
Friday	8am-5pm
Saturday	9:30am-6pm
Sunday	Noon-8:30pm

Hours vary during holiday periods, intersessions, mini-term, and summer sessions. You may also phone 739-3285 for a recording of the current hours and exceptions.

The Reference Section is located on the second floor of the round building across the bridge from the Nonbook section. This is where quick-answer type materials such as almanacs, dictionaries, encyclopedias, etc., may be found.

If you have questions or don't know where to look librarians are on duty most hours the library is open to assist you.

The Reference Section also houses the finding tools for using the Library's collections. There are approximately 300 indexes and abstracts for locating articles in periodicals and newspapers, essays, proceedings, etc.

This section is also where the Library's catalogs of materials are kept. There is currently a card catalog for materials obtained by the Library prior to 1981.

For all materials obtained by the Library since January 1, 1981 there is an online public access catalog (OPAC) called TOMUS.

TOMUS is new to the Library this year and contains some of the items in the card catalog and will eventually include them all. When this conversion is finished, the card catalog will completely disappear from the Library.

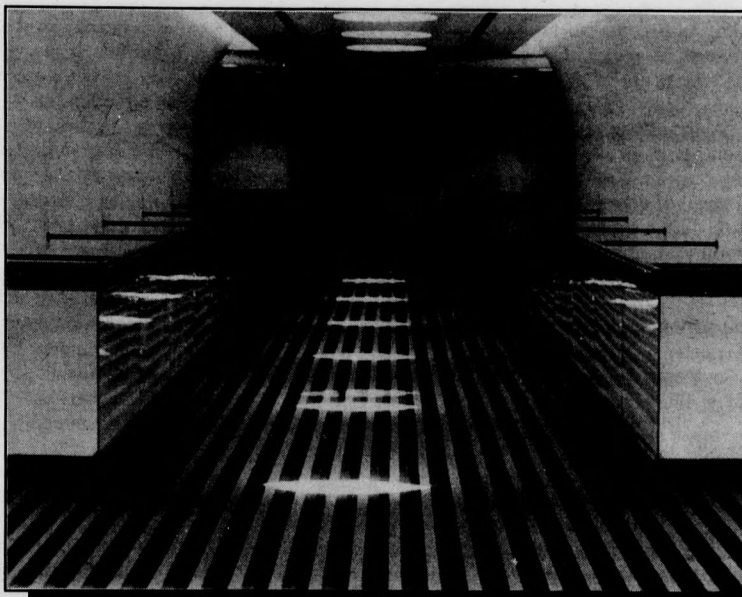

Currently, if you are not sure of the publication date or if you know an item was published prior to 1981 you must use both catalogs to do a complete search.

Checking out books — The Circulation Section of the library handles the checking out and return of library books.

This section is located in the lobby area of the rectangular building near the Library's entrance.

The check-out period for undergraduate students is two weeks with two two-week renewals. Graduate students and faculty have semester check out privileges.

All check outs are based on the patron having a valid library card with no outstanding overdues, fines, or other charges.

All check outs are subject to recall, after a two-week period, if needed by another patron or the library.

If you do not already have a university library card, the Library will issue one to a student with proof of student status and to faculty with faculty identification.

The Circulation Section is also where the Reserve Reading Room is located.

If an instructor indicates there are materials other than nonbook items on reserve in the Library, they will be found in this room, just inside the entrance to the Library. Reserve materials are available on short term loan and you must have a university library card to use them.

During the regular semester the library is open the following hours:

Monday-Thursday	8am-11pm
Friday	8am-5pm
Saturday	9:30am-6pm
Sunday	Noon-8:30pm

All late materials are subject to fines.

Regular circulating materials are fined at 10 cents per day to a maximum of $10 when they are declared lost and you will be charged the replacement cost of the book plus a $5 processing fee.

Reserve materials are fined at 50 cents an hour for two-hour items and $1 per day for three-day items.

The Nonbook Section of the Library is located on the second floor of the rectangular building. The Nonbook section collects library materials in other than book format.

Currently the collection includes educational video tapes, sound recordings, audio cassettes, slides, filmstrips, and other types of nonbook materials. The Nonbook section includes all playback equipment necessary for use of these materials.

Nonbook materials enhance the academic programs on campus and are available on a variety of subjects such as music, drama, literature, science, math, psychology, nursing, and business.

If you do not know how to use any of the equipment or if you are having problems with it, there is someone on duty in the Nonbook Section all hours the Library is open to assist you. Materials must be checked out at the Nonbook Service Desk, and must be used in the Library. You will be asked to leave your library card or student identification at the desk until you return the item.

The Periodicals Section of the library is located on the third floor of the rectangular building.

Periodicals are magazines, journals, and newspapers to which the Library subscribes for faculty and student use.

Periodicals Section is open all hours the Library is open with someone on duty to assist you.

Periodicals must be used in the Library. Because of space limitations periodicals in paper format both bound and unbound are housed in two parts of the Library. Generally those dating from 1974 to the present are found on the third floor, rectangular building. Older periodicals are on the ground floor of the round building. All periodicals in microform, regardless of year, are located in the Microform Reading Room, third floor, rectangular building next to the Periodicals Section.

Equipment for reading and/or copying microforms is also located here and the Periodicals Service Desk staff is available to assist you if needed.

The Library subscribes to approximately 6,000 periodicals.

Government Documents — UNLV is a partial depository for United States Government Documents and collects state, county, municipal and other Nevada documents as well.

The Government Documents Section is located on the second floor of the round building near the Reference Section and is open most hours the Library is.

Government documents is a good place to start if you are looking for background information or statistics on your topic. Many times it will be the only place where very current information can be located.

Work in radio at KUNV

If you've ever been interested in getting involved with radio, the place to do it is KUNV, UNLV's student-run FM radio station.

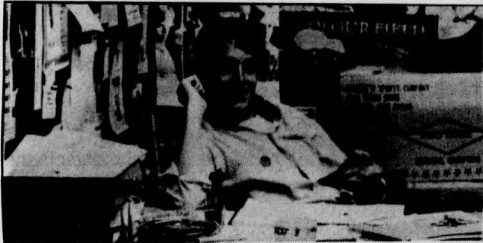

KUNV is a community-orientated radio station broadcasting a wide variety of cultural/entertainment and public affairs/educational programs. We are staffed mainly by volunteers from the University and the community with two full-time staff members.

We can use volunteer help in all of the areas of programming, development, promotion, engineering, etc. And, becoming a member is very easy; there is no requirement for prior experience. We teach you everything you need to know to become an announcer or work behind the scenes.

At the beginning of each semester we have Orientation Meetings. Notices of the location and times of these meetings are posted around campus. If the time is inconvenient or you haven't found one of the posters, come visit us on the third floor of the Moyer Student Union.

If you aren't interested in becoming a staff member, please give us a listen. We broadcast at 91.5 FM, seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day. We're sure you'll find something you'll like on Community Radio, KUNV.

Music department seeks recruits

The UNLV Music Department offers ensembles in choral and instrumental music for musicians interested in all types of music.

Most Music Department ensembles are open for enrollment to anyone attending UNLV.

Students may elect to perform in the Marching Band, Chorus, Jazz Ensemble, Orchestra, or Collegium as well as other ensembles. Besides giving concerts on campus, several of the groups give programs in the community and tour as well. Below is a brief description of the groups and their activities: Marching Band — The Star of Nevada Marching band is open to all university students without audition. The Band performs at all home football games and travels to at least one away game each year. Rehearsals are 7:30 am Monday, Wednesday and Friday on the practice field. For information about enrollment contact the band office 739-3734.

Chorus — UNLV Choirs bring together students, faculty and staff from almost every area of study throughout the campus.

No audition is necessary for the University Chorus (MUS 111) which meets MWF 11:30 to 12:20. Past performances have included appearances with the Las Vegas Symphony and the UMS Orchestra. Highlights this fall include Benjamin Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb and a 'soft rock cantata,' The Creation, which will be performed with a combo and dancers.

Members of the University Chorus may elect to also sing in the Chamber Chorale (MUS 112), an advanced ensemble of 16-24 singers which will collaborate with the UNLV Opera Workshop for a fully staged production of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic operetta Patience this fall and will tour California and Nevada in the spring as well as tentative festival and convention appearances. All interested singers must audition during registration, Sept. 1-4. All interested singers must audition times may be obtained by signing up in HFA 117.

Attention all tenors and basses! A new choir is being organized this fall, the Varsity Men's Glee Club. Interested men who want to sing barbershop tunes, popular favorites, and classics for men's chorus should contact David Weiller 739-3008.

Jazz Ensemble — Meet the new UNLV Jazz Ensemble this Fall at their first concert on campus Tuesday night, October 20, in Judy Baily Theter. The Ensemble will virtually be an all-new band with many new musicians starting at UNLV this semester. Pas bands have travelled the world over including Europe, Japan, and South America. The band also has seven albums and one professionally-recorded cassette tape.

Orchestra — The UNLV Orchestra (MSU 119) is a college-community orchestra which gives a series of concerts each year. Guest soloist for the opening concert on October 11 is violinist Robert Portney. Prospective members may contact the orchestra office at 739-3332 for audition information.

Collegium — Singers and instrumentalists interested in performing historical music on historical instruments may join the UNLV Collegium. The Madrical Singers and Early Music Consort present a concert each semester in addition to selected appearances for conventions. For audition information call 739-3377.

Other Groups — Concert Band, Chamber Music, Opera Workshop and Jazz Combos are also available to interested musicians. Students wishing to participate in these groups should contact the Music Department office 739-3332.

Marching band offers opportunities

Become a part of the "Rebel" Family by joining the Star of Nevada Marching Band! UNLV is recruiting musicians for the Rebels' band and auditions to determine placement are set for Sunday, August 30, at 2pm in room 200 of the Alta Ham Fine Arts Building at UNLV. Musicians should bring 3-4 minutes of music that best demonstrates their ability.

The band has grown and changed tremendously in the last two years, focusing on a more contemporary, entertaining style. This year will bring many more interesting and creative ideas to the UNLV Band. The use of Yamaha electronic musical instruments and thematic show development ideas will highlight the season. Show plans are aimed at the age-range of the spectators sitting on the Press Box side and they include a musical "Salute to Yuppies" with 60's golden melodies, a Wizard of Oz theatrical spectacular, "Saturday Morning Fever", a cartoon collage, and an all blues medley.

Two years ago, the name of the band was also changed from "Showband of the Stars" to "Star of Nevada" to represent our state more effectively and new cadet-style uniforms were added with silver trim and buttons stamped with the Nevada State seal.

Several of last year's band members are now in Scotland to perform in an All-Star Collegiate Marching Band with musicians from Utah, California and Nevada at the Scottish Military Band Tattoo in Edinborough Castle.

The same band will be performing at Wembly

Stadium in London for the American Football Game.

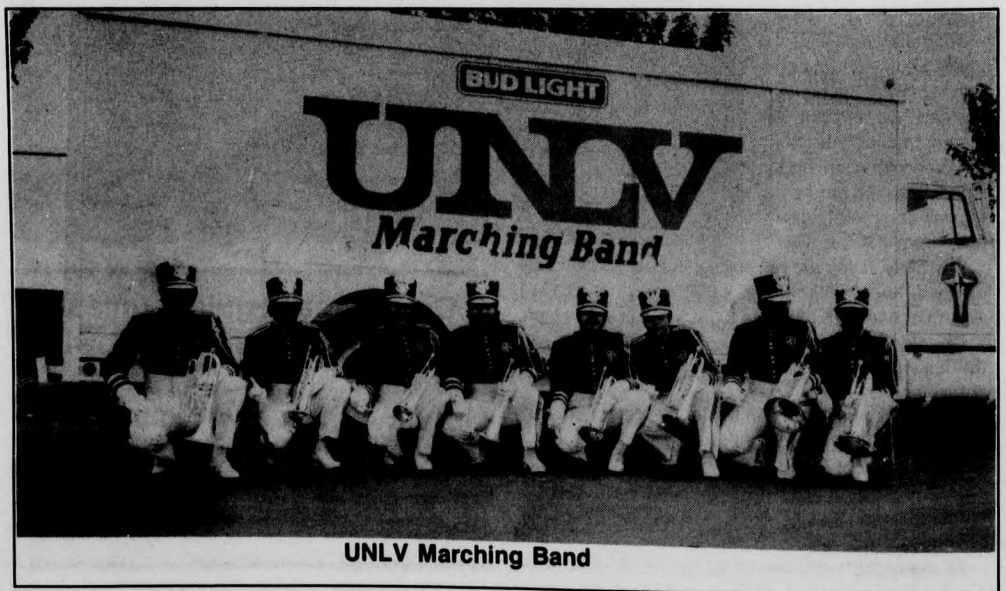

This is the second year this event takes place; last year's game opposed the Bears and Cowboys. This year marks the first time that an American Band performs. The All-Star band's one-month stay is courtesy of the Scottish Government.

Plans are now being made for an extended stay in Japan next year. Many opportunities are available for musicians wishing to join the Star of Nevada Department of Bands. Illustrious UNLV band staff includes Peter Emmons, the nation's leading authority on marching and drill design and Tom Float, drum instructor for the world-champion Concord Blue Devils Drum and Bugle Corps. For more information on the band and the August 30 audition, please call 739-3734.

Financial Aid

Financing a college education is a challenge shared by many students. If you've been wondering how you're going to be able to afford college, Student Financial Services would like you to know about programs which have been developed for students with financial need.

Students with financial need have several alternatives, including scholarships, grants, grants-in-aid, loans, and student employment. These funds have been made available by the University, the federal government, the state of Nevada, UNLV Alumni, local groups and businesses, and civic organizations. Each program has its own criteria for determining who is eligible to receive funding.

What is Financial Need?

Generally speaking, you have financial need if the amount of your income and assets is not enough to cover the costs of attending college. The financial information you provide on your financial aid application is evaluated by a nationally approved need analysis system to determine the amount that you and, in some cases, your family has available for these expenses. If that amount is less than the total cost of your fees, books, room and board, transportation, and personal expenses, you are considered to have financial need.

What programs are available?

Grants

Grants are gifts of money that you do not have to repay or earn. Sound good? Please read on. To qualify for most grants, you must be admitted to the University and attending school on at least a half-time basis.

**Pell Grant* is the largest federal grant program and is available to admitted students working on their first undergraduate degree. The amount of the Pell Grant varies depending on your financial resources and the amount it will cost you to attend school.

**Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)* is also a federal program of gift aid which is available to admitted undergraduate students. SEOG funds are usually awarded to those students who have the most financial need.

**Nevada Student Incentive Grant* is a program available to Nevada residents enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program. To qualify, you must have financial need and must be receiving at least an equal amount of UNLV grant or scholarship funds. Since the matching UNLV grant funds are generally awarded on the basis of full-time attendance, NSIG grants are typically awarded to full-time students.

**Bob Davis Scholarship Grants* are awarded to eligible undergraduate students with financial need who are attending UNLV on a full-time basis.

**Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) Grants* are available to undergraduate students who are at least one fourth American Indian, Eskimo, or Aleut and who have financial need. Before being considered for BIA funds, students must first apply for the other financial aid programs available through UNLV.

Loans

Loans are available to students on both a long term and short-term basis. Unlike most commercial loans, federal long-term loan programs have low interest rates and, typically, payments do not start until six months after you graduate or withdraw from at least half time attendance.

**National Direct Student Loans* are available to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled on at least a half time basis. The total amount awarded is determined by your financial need and the interest is 5 percent.

**Guaranteed Student Loans* are designed to assist students whose income and assets are too high to qualify for the other aid programs, or whose need is met only partially by such programs. These loans are offered by various banks, credit unions, and savings and loan associations. Application is made through Student Financial Services but the lender must be located in the state in which you are considered a resident. Eligibility is partly determined by family income; however, the income requirements are not as restrictive as the other programs based on need. The interest rates vary from 7-9 percent.

**Emergency Loans* are available on a short-term basis to help registered students meet financial emergencies. Students may borrow up to $100 with a minimal service charge. Most emergency loans require repayment within 30 days.

Employment

Employment enables students to earn part of their expenses while attending college.

**College Work Study* is a program designed to provide students in financial need with jobs located on campus or off-campus with public or non-profit agencies. You may choose jobs related to your academic majors and career objectives. Hours of work may be arranged according to class schedules.

How Do I Apply?

Financial aid applications and forms for the following academic year may be obtained from Student Financial Services or from high school counselors. Counselors are available in Student Financial Services. Counselors are available in Student Financial Services to help you decide which applications you should complete.

When Do I Reply?

Because funds are never sufficient to meet the needs of all eligible students, the following dates should be carefully noted.

Application forms are available in Student Financial Services beginning January 1. For the federal grants, loans, and work study programs, your applications and all required documentation must be received by Student Financial Services by April 1. The application should be no later than February 15 to meet this April 1 deadline.

Honors program looking for a few good students

The purpose of the Honors program at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas is to provide an environment which encourages the best student scholars in Nevada to fully develop their intellectual abilities.

It is hoped that these students will make a lifetime commitment to learning and, after graduation, become active and responsible citizens capable of assuming leadership roles in their communities.

Honors students take courses which have been specifically developed for the Honors Program. enrollment in these courses is restricted to honors students, and they are taught by selected faculty members.

All honors courses are small, allowing more time for discussion and interaction with the instructor.

University Honors is a four-year program designed around the General Education Core Requirements of the University. It is open to all students regardless of major and offers participants the highest quality education available at the University.

During their first two years, students take an honors English sequence of nine credits, an honors history/American politics sequence of nine credits, an honors mathematics/computer science sequence of 9-12 credits (depending on major), and an honors science sequence of eight credits.

Students majoring in science may substitute courses in their respective majors for the science sequence.

Students take one upper-division honors seminar during each of their last four semesters.

These seminars integrate and consolidate knowledge gained in earlier courses and are designed to bring together students from a wide range of disciplines.

Faculty from different colleges participate in the seminar series, and the choice of topics varies from semester to semester. Students who successfully complete the University Honors Program satisfy all of the University's Core Requirements.

The Honors Program offers another option for students. This plan, known as Department Honors, combines the broadening experience of four upper-division honors seminars with a six credit senior thesis/project.

Students join this program before the start of their junior year and must be sponsored by a department, usually their major department.

Students can participate in both University and Department Honors.

Students are accepted into the University Honors Program on the basis of their high school record and evidence of high academic potential.

There are a limited number of openings in the program each year; therefore, students are encouraged to apply early.

Students who meet at least one of the following standards for admission are invited to apply:

1) A high school grade point average of at least 3.65.

or

2) An American College Test (ACT) composite of at least 26.

or

3) A combined Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score of at least 1150.

Students who do not satisfy any of the above standards but can demonstrate outstanding academic potential are encouraged to apply.

Students apply for admission to the Department Honors Program through a department, usually their major department.

They can apply as second-semester sophomores but need to have completed 60 credits before starting the program.

Students must have a cumulative UNLV GPA of 3.5 or higher, or be students in good standing in the University Honors Program.

Students interested in these programs, designed to enhance and enrich their undergraduate experience, should contact the Director, Len Zane, at the James R. Dickinson Library, telephone 739-3537.

Employment

Student Employment

The Student Employment Office (or "The Job Place," as many people on campus like to refer to it) is a part of Student Financial Services. You can look to this office for help in finding a job which will provide you with valuable work experience and a convenient way to pay your college expenses.

Some interesting statistics...

* 58 percent of all college students work either full-time or part-time while attending school.

* Studies show that students who work maintain the same or higher grade point averages than students who don't work.

* Each year UNLV lists over 2,800 off-campus jobs for students and employs approximately 900 students in jobs on campus.

What Kind of Jobs are Available?

Because the Student Employment Office receives job announcements from various employers, we are able to offer you many different types of jobs. The positions fall into seven general categories: business/professional, clerical, restaurant, sales, retail, education, and delivery. And, of course, a miscellaneous category for all those exciting jobs that don't quite fit anywhere else.

Employment opportunities are offered by businesses and individuals in the community as well as by various departments and offices on campus. You may choose a job related to your academic major or career goals or you may decide to choose one just for fun. Most of the jobs listed with Student Employment are part-time. Full-time positions are also listed if the work hours the employer is requesting are flexible.

How Much Do The Jobs Pay?

Your rate of pay will vary depending upon your experience, your skills, and the responsibilities and duties of the job. Wages generally range from $3.35 to $10.00 per hour. An average rate of pay for most positions is $4.50.

How About Summer Jobs?

In addition to the summer jobs available at UNLV and in the Las Vegas community, Student Employment can provide you with information on summer camp positions and summer employment programs offered throughout the United States and overseas.

Are There Any Requirements?

For most student employment positions, the only requirement is that you be currently registered as either a part-time or full-time student with an ID card, a current registration receipt, or a Letter of Acceptance to UNLV to receive job information.

A certain number of jobs are offered through the College Work Study Program. To qualify for a work study job, you must meet additional eligibility requirements as explained below.

What Is The College Work Study Program?

The College Work Study Program is a federal program designed to provide jobs to students who have financial need. These jobs may be located on campus with a UNLV department or off campus with a public or private non-profit agency.

To qualify for a College Work Study job, you must meet the eligibility requirements of the federal financial aid programs. One of these requirements is that you must have financial need. Financial need is determined by Student Financial Services upon reviewing the income and asset information you submit on your ACT or CSS financial aid application. If your income and assets are not sufficient for you to meet the costs of attending college, you may qualify for the College Work Study Program.

How Do I Apply For College Work Study?

To apply for College Work Study, you must submit an ACT or CSS financial aid application so that your need can be evaluated and results returned to Student Financial Services by the April 1 deadline.

What Kind of Work Study Jobs Are Available?

Most work study positions on campus are clerical or departmental assistant positions. Additional on-campus work study positions include computer operator, lab assistant, programmer, cashier, tutor, assistant teacher, referee, parking attendant, animal technician, and library assistant.

On-campus work study positions are currently limited to public and private non-profit agencies. Most off-campus work study positions are with "help" related agencies and involve providing services to the clients of these agencies. These positions include case worker, program aide, preschool therapy assistant, child development aide, counselor, information and referral agent, physical therapy aide, and clinic associate.

The agencies which employ UNLV work study students vary from year to year. The following agencies currently hire UNLV work study students:

- *Boys and Girls Clubs of Clark County
- *Camiar
- *City of Las Vegas Parks and Recreation Department
- *Clark County Juvenile Court Services
- *Clark County Law Library
- *HELP of Southern Nevada
- *Help Them Walk Again
- *Las Vegas Library
- *Nevada Public Radio Inc.
- *Nike Residential Center
- *Planned Parenthood
- *Southern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services
- *Southern Nevada Child/Adolescent Mental Health Services
- *United Way
- *WE CAN
- *Youth Manor

Is There A Limit On The Hours I Can Work?

The number of hours you may work as a work study student is determined by the amount of your work study award, the hours you are available to work, your rate of pay, and the needs of the department which hires you. You are allotted a maximum amount of money to earn based on the amount of your financial need.

Work study students can usually work between 10-40 hours a week.

Work schedules are arranged with the supervisor of the department or agency where you are employed.

You may earn any portion of that allotment but you cannot exceed the maximum amount of your work study award.

For more information stop by Student Employment in room 345 on the third floor of the Humanities Building or call 739-3446.

Nevada Dance Theatre

The Nevada Dance Theatre is a professional ballet company in residence at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. NDT is one of the largest cultural organizations in Nevada, and is recognized as one of the top 10 regional ballet companies in the nation. It is funded by community and corporate donations, and a grant from the Nevada State Council on the Arts.

Artistic Director Vassili Sulich founded the company 16 years ago with unpaid dancers, "moonlighting" from Las Vegas Strip. Today, NDT employs 21 professional dancers for a 30 to 36 week season. Sulich is an internationally known choreographer whose career began in the opera houses of Europe. The company tours regularly for Columbia Artists, and has performed in 155 cities nationally. The company operates the Academy of Nevada Dance Theatre, and the NDT Youth Company.

NDT offers subscriptions to four programs each season, including the traditional Christmas ballet, The Nutcracker. The 1987/88 season opens with the greatest of the Romantic ballets, Giselle.

Ticket policy explained

The policy for basketball tickets is still under consideration; however, the football policy has remained the same as past years. The following guidelines must be met in order for students to obtain football tickets.

Full Time Students (12 hours or more) may receive a season football ticket by presenting their validated ID at the ticket windows (UNLV) Thomas & Mack Center between the hours of 9am and 5pm Monday thru Friday beginning September 8, 1987. Individual game tickets that may be purchased after the season tickets have been distributed; and that may be done at the Thomas & Mack Event Windows. On the night of the game, students must go to the East Side of the Silver Bowl, Student Window with their I.D. to obtain a ticket. The first ticket is free to a student; however, a second may be purchased at half price, if desired.

In addition, students are admitted to Baseball, Soccer, and Lady Rebel Basketball games by showing their I.D. to the Ticket Seller at the game, no season or advance tickets are given to students for those events.

Social Sport

The UNLV Ruckin' Rebel Rugby Football Club was established in September of 1985. With over 30 players strong, the Ruckin' Rebs are sponsored by CSUN.

The Ruckin' Rebels rugby team is a member of the Inland Pacific Rugby Union which not only entitles UNLV to play against major universities like Arizona, Utah, and California, but also allows team members to be nominated to a "Select Side" an all-star team which tours and plays other rugby unions' "Select Side" in the United States.

There are ten to fifteen matches, one major tournament and also international matches played during a semester.

Rugby is both a team and social sport where you can meet new friends, get involved in school activities, have a lot of fun and experience the "elegant violence" of Rugby.

No experience is necessary, just come out and join the UNLV Rugby Football Club.

Interested parties should call Billy Pell, President, at 736-1684 for more information.

It's Greek to Me

Sigma Chi stresses unity

Pledging Sigma Chi is a process of learning, inspiration, and achievement, not of hazing, degradation or humiliation. While each pledge must demonstrate his ability and willingness to be a responsible member to qualify for initiation, in Sigma Chi. This is only accomplished in a positive and constructive manner. Sigma Chi is a leader among fraternities in carrying out such policies, and reaffirmed in detail its long-standing opposition to hazing and demeaning activities with its Pledge Training-Ritual

Policy. This policy has been ratified annually since its beginning. Since its founding Sigma Chi has initiated more than 190,000 men, and has 200 chapters around the nation. At UNLV Sigma Chi's are very strong. During the Fall Semester we sponsor the annual Derby Days. This event is sponsored to raise money for our local charity Opportunity Village and our national charity, the Cleo Wallace Center for mentally handicapped children. We also sponsor various campus activities, as well as a very strong social program. Another function we have is the Sweetheart Ball, where we elect the new Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. This year's Sweetheart is Tonya Moran, who is also president of Delta Delta, one of UNLV's sororities. For further information contact Rush Chairman Steve Guinn at (702) 739-0324, or Luis Castanon, President, at (702) 737-0520. In Sigma Chi, you will find Friendship, Justice and Learning. Hope to see you during Fall Rush.

ZETA history

Zeta Tau Alpha began in 1898, when a group of nine women banded together at Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia and created a women's fraternity. On the UNLV campus the Iota Eta Chapter on ZTA was installed in 1984.

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha play hard in Derby Days, Greek Week, and Local Socials, but they also work hard. Zeta's national philanthropy is ARC (the Association for Retarded Citizens).

The Zeta's do service projects which range from car washes to gift wrapping.

Being a Zeta means a great many things, and the rewards and benefits are numerous. The friendships and the bonds that have grown from being part of ZTA will always be strong. Zeta Tau Alpha is a fraternity that allows the individual to grow and to be aware that others are important too.

Brotherhood, ATO's main goal

Brotherhood, scholarships, athletics, community service, and fun. All of these are what Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity at UNLV is all about.

Most importantly, though is brotherhood, and the brothers of ATO are very proud of their's. Through all the activities the brothers participate in, the ideals of the fraternity and the fact that ATO has the only real fraternity house on campus, the Taus believe they have the closest knit brotherhood of any fraternity at UNLV. They are also one of the tightest in the country. Here's some of the activities that the brothers participate in during a typical year:

Homecoming — ATO's have won the float competition an amazing 14 years straight. The floats are huge structures usually measuring 72 feet long and 18 feet wide, and take weeks and an overabundance of teamwork to build.

Community Service — every semester the brothers donate their time to raise money for two or three charities. Some of the organizations that the Tau's have helped include: Muscular Dystrophy Association Health Fair, American Lung Association, American Lung Association, Nathan Adelson Hospice, and Opportunity Village.

Athletics — every year, ATO does quite well in both intramurals and Greek Week, having won championships twice in both over the last 5 years.

If you ask the brothers of ATO what their favorite activity to participate in is, though, the answer you'll get is social "debauchery," better known as parties. ATO has long been known as the most "social" social fraternity at UNLV. After all, even Dr. Maxson will tell you that half your college education is learned socially.

Perpetuating the active membership of any fraternity is of the utmost importance. Right now, ATO along with the other fraternity in the International Fraternity Council participate in a dry (non alcoholic) rush. IFC implemented a dry rush to cut down on the risk and cost during rush, and most importantly so the fraternities could rush prospective members in an atmosphere other than a "blow out" party there by assuring that the prospective member is joining for reason other than just the partying.

ATO cannot be stereotyped into any category. ATO is a diverse group of men that come from all walks of life but share the common bond of brotherhood.

Third night (Preference):

- 6:15-7:15.....First party
- 7:30-8:30.....Second party

Preference Explanation

At the conclusion of the preference parties on Thursday night, you will be given the opportunity to select two sororities with which you wish to affiliate. By signing this "Pref card" you are saying that if one of those two sororities offers you a bid for membership, you will accept it. If one of those two does offer you a bid, you must accept the bid or not pledge any sorority for one year. It is an important decision to select the sororities that you wish to join. We feel certain that there are several sororities that are perfect for you. Therefore, we encourage you to select two sororities as your preference.

If you have any questions regarding this procedure, be certain to ask your rush counselor. She is the best person to give you accurate information.

In selecting the sororities of your choice, try to evaluate each sorority in regard to your own goals and interests. Do not be swayed by "reputation" remarks of fraternity men or other considerations. You know yourself better than anyone else. You are choosing a lifetime experience. All of the sororities are excellent groups, so relax and enjoy the excitement.

Your Rush Counselor

Your rush counselor is probably the single most important person who you will meet during formal rush. During rush, she will be entirely disaffiliated with her individual sorority and because she is the one who will be giving you advice about which sorority suits you best, her chapter affiliation is best left a secret. So please do not ask her. Get to know your rush counselor. She will help you and will make rush more understandable and enjoyable for you.
