Decisions. Decisions. Decisions. And that's not all we can offer.

There's also flexibility. Starting with your first position. Continuing with every promotion. And there's quality. The difference between winning and just getting by. A value that runs through every one of our restaurants.

But let's go back to decisions. General Mills Restaurants, Inc. is an expanding family of restaurants that reaches across the globe. We're Red Lobster; America's favorite seafood restaurant. We're The Olive Garden; a rapidly expanding concept featuring fine Italian cuisine in an elegant dinnerhouse setting. We're York's; family restaurants serving buffet style in more than 100 locations.

We're a lean company that depends on our store management team to make the decisions that will help us grow. Twenty years of increasing success has taught us to guide; not prescribe. Managers have one goal; manage a business to bring customers back time and time again. Which gives them freedom to think. And lead.

Prove you're a good decision maker with us and you're going to have plenty of decisions to make. Like where your career path should take you. And how fast.

Want to know more? Good.

We will be interviewing on campus 4-14.
