Hotel administration professor awarded distinguished professorship

Hotel administration professor Frank Borsenik has been awarded the Claudine Williams' Distinguished Professorship for his lifetime contribution to hospitality education and his international reputation in that field.

The two-year professorship, funded by a portion of a $5 million gift to the hotel college from the Holiday Corp. and Mrs. Verna Harrah, includes a financial stipend, graduate student assistance and development funds.

Borsenik joined the William F.

Harrah College of Hotel Administration in 1975 as a professor of hotel management.

In 1974, he served as program development director at the Educational Institute of the American Hotel and Motel Association in East Lansing, Mich.

He held several positions, ranging from instructor to acting director, at the School of Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management at Michigan State University from 1957 to 1974.

Borsenik has served as a consultant to numerous businesses and universities throughout the country, in the Dominican Republic and the Bahamas. During his 1983-84 sabbatical, he visited the International Centre of Glion in Switzerland. In the summer of 1988, he was a visiting professor at the Institut De Management Hotelier International in France.

He has authored more than 15 texts, book chapters and monographs on a variety of topics, such as hotel maintenance and engineering systems, food sanitation and property management. He has also written 18 articles for such journals as "Cornell Hotel and Restaurant Quarterly," "The Journal of Hospitality Education" and "Spectrum."

Borsenik, who holds his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in agricultural engineering from Michigan State University, also has an extensive record of university and public service.

The distinguished professorship is named for Claudine Williams, chairman of the board of the Holiday Casino/Holiday Inn and longtime supporter of UNLV. Williams, who is also chairman of the board of the America Bank of Commerce, formerly served as chairman of the UNLV Foundation Board.

Three other distinguished professorships are offered in the hotel administration college, including the Sam Boyd Distinguished Professorship, the William F. Harrah Distinguished Professorship and the Michael D. Rose Distinguished Professorship.
