

YES FOLKS, IT'S THE ONE, THE ONLY- YELLIN' REBEL STAFF YEARBOOK! - PAGE 9

(People listed in left to right order)

Karen Splawn, editor-in-chief
Famous quote: "AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH!"
Voted most likely to land the top spot at the Washington Post and take a job at the Weekly World News instead.
Quirk: Enjoys being neurotic.

Carol Rhodes, managing editor
Famous quote: "Oh boy."
Voted most likely to open her own cookie shop and start a p.r. firm.
Quirk: Is an incredibly nice, kind and sweetest person, which makes you wonder what the hell she's doing here.

Stephanie Alderette, news editor
Famous quote: "Where's the bar?" OR "Deadlines are not negotiable."
Voted most likely to become the editor of the National Review.
Quirk: Her temper can kill at 100 feet.

Andrea Reitan, sports editor
Famous quote: "I'm almost finished with the section."
Voted most likely to take Chicago Cubs announcer Harry Carey's place.
Quirk: Certain sports columnists.

Robert Anderson, photo editor
Famous quote: "Let's go get a drink."
Voted most likely to never graduate.
Quirks: Uppity photographers.

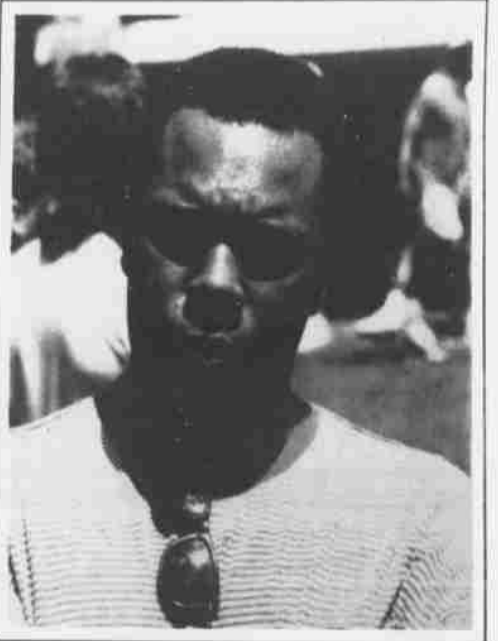

Lori Gallenger, A and E editor
Famous quote: "Hmmp."
Voted most likely to become the editor of Reader's Digest
Quirks: Is one herself.

Steve Medcroft, A and E editor
Famous quote: "I have so much to do!"
Voted most likely to become a really bizarre performance artist.
Quirk: Is still a punk.

Anthony Ciulla, advertising manager
Famous quote: "This ad is screwed up."
Voted most likely to be the nicest corporate raider ever.
Quirk: Puts up with production's highjinks.

Ray Frankulin, typesetter
Famous quote: "Aren't you guys ready to do layout yet?"
Voted most likely to own everything.
Quirks: Liberals.

Tom Daniels, proofreader
Famous quote: "Are those sheets ready to look at?"
Voted most likely to become a country and western sensation.
Quirks: Those who muscle in on his proofing.

Bonnie Tucker, staff writer and super woman
Famous quote: "When are we getting paid?"
Voted most likely to run for some political office and actually get elected.
Quirk: Smokers.

Chuck Walker, staff writer
Famous quote: "Where's Andrea?"
Voted most likely to be thrown out of football games for being too rowdy.
Quirks: Fax machines.