Police Beatings a look into the UNJT Police Blotter by Alan Gilson

For those of you who think "COPS" just doesn't come on enough days of the week, The Illin' Feebel offers up this collection of actual case reports filed with UNJT's (University of Nevada Jerry Tarkanian) police department. This collection was selected individually for their wry, ironic glimpses into the darker side of student life on campus.

January 21- A certain UNJT fraternity is asked by police to please keep their raping and pillaging down to a mild roar. Only after a minor scuffle in which innocent bystanders are brutally beaten and run over by campus police cars are the frat brothers made aware of the seriousness of the request. The fraternity was also cited for holding a Satanic ritual in an area of campus not zoned for religious activity.

January 29- A See Sally Run (Real Fast) senator flings himself from the top of the Flora Dungan

Humanities Building. Police determined that it was not the actual fall, but the sudden stop which killed the student politician. While the falling body caused no physical damage (or indeed any loss to humanity) his ego completely destroyed a major portion of the UNJT campus.

February 3- As rumors spread around campus of an upcoming concert to be given by New Kids On The Block, UNJT police are called out to control sorority girls running amok.

February 3- As rumors spread around campus of sorority girls running amok and leaving trails of moisture being controlled by campus police, UNJT police are called out to control fraternity boys running amok with UNJT campus police job applications.

February 14- Campus police are kept busy on Valentine's evening sneaking around, peaking in fraternity windows, sorority windows, dorm windows, parked car windows, neighbor's windows, etc. and fantasizing.

February 15- CSCUM senators put it to a vote and decide to have The Illin' Feebel editor Splaren Khan beaten to a hunk of dirt. They try to contact the UNJT police to carry out the beating, however no police have reported in to work as they are all sleeping in.

February 20- Police are called in to surround several tenured UNJT professors and educate them.

February 30- Police arm themselves heavily, ready to kill anyone even suggesting that they will not get paid for this day as it does not actually exist.

March 11- Police are brought out full-force to stop a student from parking in a no-parking zone. Only through an excessive and aggressive display of firepower is the student apprehended.

March 15- Police are called to the UNJT campus library to help break up the monotony. Several students are shot and their bodies tossed pell-mell from the roof.

March 21- Police banquet. Charity auction held to raise funds for new campus police station. Ms. Charity went home with the highest bidder.

March 29- Police target practice held. Sgt. Thompson wins top prize when he pegs a student at 100 yards. Student roping ends up in a tie.

April 1- April Fool's Day. As a joke, campus police tell students their guns are unloaded. Enemy dead count that day is officially listed as 37.

April 3- Visiting guest-speaker at campus police station suggests alternatives to outright police brutality, such as spanking and sending students home with no supper. Guest speaker was then brutally beaten and spanked. The spanking went over so well, they all went home.

April 4- Sorority girls call the campus police complaining about a mysterious car cruising back and forth past their outdoor sorority function. Campus police do not act on the complaint as it is indeed their own police car cruising by.

April 5- Police are called out to stop a fight between the two top Cee Saw president contenders. Current Cee ya Soon U Nitwit president is found engaged in a confrontation with NONE OF THE ABOVE, the CSCUM president incumbent. NONE OF THE ABOVE comes out ahead in the physical altercation as well.

April 16- Tax day. Depressed policepersons shoot randomly into crowds of students. Many campus policepersons believed they were not subject to tax as they carry a lot of weapons.

April 20- Yea, though they walk through the valley of the campus of death, they shall fear no evil, for they are the meanest *&%%$#@!@$$ in the valley.

April 26- Campus police are brought to the offices of the Illin' Feebel when they learn that their incompetent and imbecilic, Barney Fife-like tendencies are being parodied. The typist is shot several times in the back—BLAM! BLAM! BLAM! BLAM! Police rule it a suicide.

busy then?" he asked the reporter. I was. Even if I wasn't, I was.

Another student, unable to recall his own name, remarked, "Awesome party, man. Which frat?"

No one is sure whether the conniving ET's will return to further pillage the campus, but some don't mind just as long as classes are cancelled.
