agreements among the kids, but we try to guide the children in taking the initiative to work out differences on their own," Puchalsky said.

The preschool, located in Room 1102 of the Carlson Education Building, operates from 7:20am to 5:30pm Monday through Friday. Existing as a self-contained unit, there are two large classrooms, two rest rooms, a dramatic play room, an office/conference room, and a fenced play yard. Parents are always welcome to visit, observe, and volunteer.

According to Midgene Spatz, the preschool director, they will be initiating a new program for the fall semester called "block times."

Block times are a certain number of hours in which instruction will be given along with other activities so that each child may complete an activity and reap the full benefits.

"This will give more benefits to the children who attend the preschool," Spatz said.

Children use their energy at preschool recess.
