Considering the recent shooting and stabbing of high school students in Las Vegas, what do you think would help curb gang violence?

Brian Craveiro, Junior
Hotel Administration

The shooting was gang related so they need to curb gang membership. The young students need to be shown different opportunities available to them because I hear that gang membership is on the increase.

Paul Bertuccini, Freshman
Aeronautical Science

That is a tough question. I heard that someone made a proposal that schools will have uniforms. The educational system needs to recognize the problem and show the students the negative lifestyle of gangs and violence and instill some morals.

Jennifer Addington, Freshman
Communications

The cause of the violence is what needs to be looked at. They bring that violent attitude to school with them. The students need exposure to other opportunities. I feel the reason they belong to gangs is because they feel as if they have no other avenues to a sense of belonging.

Roosevelt Smith, Sophomore
Criminal Justice

What needs to happen is a sit down talk with the gang members so they can see where they are coming from. I had gang affiliations, but now I'm in college and the rap group M.O.P.H.I.A. (Men Of Power Have Intellectually Arisen). So have a listen.
