A look at some new Rebels

The boys are back in town. With additional talent from new members, this team is bound to go very far.

Evric Gray is a sophomore from Riverside City College in California. He will, in a way, play a part like that of Moses Scurry on the court. He says he is very satisfied with this position.

"I feel privileged just playing with players of this caliber," Gray said.

The coaching style here may be a little different, but Gray is not complaining. Compared to Riverside, practice is more intense. However, Gray said it is better this way.

"The coach here is a better teacher," he said. Gray played a really good first game and he was given a big role as a result of George Ackles suspension.

On his first game Gray said, "I felt happy."

Bobb Joyce, who is also a sophomore from Riverside, plays the position of forward coming off the bench. But Joyce said that he is more than satisfied with this role.

"The Rebels have one of the best starting fives in the nation," he said. "I would not play the bench for any other team."

Playing with the Rebels is a privilege for Joyce.

"I am 100 percent happy to be with the Rebels," he said.

"I felt nervous because a lot of people were watching but I also felt happy," Joyce said about his first game.

H Waldman, from Las Vegas, is the only freshman on the team.

to play with the likes of Larry Johnson," he said.

Waldman, who graduated from Clark High, will be backing up Greg Anthony at point guard.

Waldman is not intimidated by the great players he is now playing beside but is very thankful to be in this position.

"I'm the only kid my age in the country who's in this position of playing on the national championship team," said Waldman.

It took Galileo 16 years to master the universe. You have one night.

It seems unfair. The genius had all that time. While you have a few short hours to learn your sun spots from your satellites before the dreaded astronomy exam.

On the other hand, Vivarin gives you the definite advantage. It helps keep you awake and mentally alert for hours. Safely and conveniently. So even when the subject matter's dull, your mind will stay razor sharp.

If Galileo had used Vivarin, maybe he could have mastered the solar system faster, too.
