Welcome back, and happy New Year!

I would like to take this time to introduce myself. My name is Kim Reed, and I'll be the new director for the Office of Student Information (OSI), in the absence of Traci Smith.

Unfortunately, like many of the students here at UNLV, Traci has been called away to defend her country in Saudi Arabia while our troops are at war. As we all know, war is a very sad and unnecessary event; however, it may be essential in some cases. The troops in Saudi Arabia are doing a very courageous job at protecting our interest. We here at Student Government would like to send our thanks as well as our blessings to Traci Smith, as well as to the other troops. We all pray that the war will end soon, and that we will have very few casualties.

In the past, Traci Smith had done well with OSI, and I will do my best at keeping the OSI page up to date and very informative. At this time I would like to remind you that you are welcome to request anything of interest to be put on the OSI page, which is printed in every Thursday's issue of The Yellin' Rebel.

So please feel free to stop by Student Government, MSU 120, and drop your request off in my box or give it to anyone in Student Government. Remember, Students Serving Students, is our motto.

I'm looking forward to being the new director for OSI, as well as to another semester at UNLV. Again, welcome back to the new semester. I wish you the best of luck this new year. And remember to pray for the troops in Saudi Arabia.

Sincerely,
 Kim Reed, Director of Student Services
 Welcome back, and happy New Year!
