Student Government trivia question: What is CSUN?

CSUN is Consolidated Students of the University of Nevada, which is the student government here at UNLV. CSUN's functions include providing many student services, such as a typing room, free legal counsel and free scantrons. CSUN also takes an active interest in issues affecting the entire student body by enacting resolution, implementing legislation, approving funding and acting as a liaison between you and UNLV's administration and faculty.

CSUN is a self-governing organization run by students independent of UNLV's administration. CSUN is structured into several branches: Executive, Judicial, Legislative, Boards and Committees and Agents deemed necessary to administer and operate CSUN. Learn more about your student government.
