

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

Michael L. Barclay

For the four years that I have attended UNLV, I have always had a feeling that I would run for Student Body President. It's an important position, one that, unlike high school, shouldn't be held by the most popular person but the most qualified person.

I currently hold the position of Chief Justice of the Judicial Council here on campus. Through this position I've acquired much knowledge of the problems faced by students and have seen various solutions that were successful and some that were not successful.

I have the experience needed to make the office of Student Body President an effective, ethical, and innovative office, not just one that receives his stipend, attends parties, and feeds the students a lot of rhetoric.

I've served as an intern in the Nevada State Legislature, which allowed me to see how government should work and the problems it is likely to face. I am currently serving as the Sergeant-at-Arms for the Nevada State Assembly. This is a great honor for me as I am the second youngest person in our nation's history to hold this position.

I have worked closely with federal, state and local officials for the past three years. I feel that this working relationship will greatly expand our Student Government's ability to really help students.

I have always felt that positive, issue-oriented, ethical campaigns are a sign of ethical service. I can't make drawn-out promises about great things that I'll accomplish in office, but I can promise that the students will come first and that students' interest will always be effectively represented.

Roderick Colebrook

My name is Roderick Colebrook, and I am a junior enrolled in the College of Hotel Administration.

During the past two and a half years, I have been actively involved in Student Government and other organizations including the Black Students Association, Hotel Association and the International Students Association.

Through my participation in these organizations, I have learned the importance of goal setting, and working effectively with others to attain the desired results.

As Student Body President, I intend to establish a dialogue with students and bring respectability to Student Government. My intentions are to:

1. Improve Student Security on

- Campus*
2. Promote and improve Student Health Services
  3. Create Better Educational and Entertainment Programs

My goals are to serve you, the students, in the most effective and professional way possible. The power is in your hand. Vote for me to make a better Student Government.

Chris Robertson

The focus of Student Government must return to the student. It is the responsibility of CSUN to serve ALL students and actively support their interests. The university community created Student Government and the President must always be available to those students. The integrity of the office, the Executive Board and the Student Government are contingent upon a proven and refined president.

My experience with our university has provided representation for many diverse groups. These positions include: CSUN Senator, Union Board Chairman, fraternity officer and Student Ambassador. I have represented our university politically, professionally, socially and publicly. These disciplines will consolidate our Student Government. Through support of the many groups and individuals of this university, together we will design a motivated, respected Student Government representative of our university community.

VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

Ken Tomory

If I were the Student Body Vice President, what would I do?

First, I would begin by working on legitimizing the Student Government as a whole and make it accountable to all students for preparing its actions. This would start by repairing a budget that has a business plan and goals that could be accomplished through its objectives. By doing this, the student body would benefit by well established plans for:

1. A Lecture Series
2. A Concert Series
3. A Leadership Series
4. A Diversity Series

Some other areas I would like to strengthen are the ties among the campus community: the Greek System, the administration, the Moyer Student Union, residential life and the Student Organizations.

I would like to establish more scholarships for minority students and all students across the board. I would like to develop a women's center.

All in all, I would like to create avenues for all students to reach their fullest potential while they attend UNLV.

These are some positions I currently hold and have held in the past. They are diverse and many.

- Ambassador to the People Republic of China
- Business & Economics Senator (Sessions 19, 20, & 21)
- Chain- Student Health Advisory Committee
- Student Body Rep. Campus Committee
- Publications Board Member
- Student Rep. American College Health Association
- Campus Violence & Human Dignity Task Force
- Past President-LGAU
- Co-Chair Southern Nevada NAMES Project
- Special Grand Juror- U.S. District Court
- Organized Crime & Racketeering Strike Force
- Past Member-Southern Nevada Clean Community's Recycling Committee
- EPA- Earth Day Committee 1991

Christian E. Hardigree

It is imperative for Student Government to show respect for the students and their ideas, providing an environment for them to initiate programs, refine professionalism, and explore their own leadership potential.

It is important to assist organizations in working effectively and efficiently in order to help them achieve their goals. It is the Vice President's responsibility to motivate students to work together, whether through an organization or on an individual basis.

I am currently involved in a number of organizations in which I help students work together. For example, through my work as Chairman of Special Events of the MSU Student Program Council, I have learned how to motivate students to set goals and strive to achieve them. I have demonstrated the process of taking an idea and working with others to promote and produce it, thus providing a learning environment for my committees, the students as a whole, and myself. Also, I am a member of the Committee for Preventing Sexual Exploitation, which consists of students, administration, and concerned community citizens. Each member of the committee represents a different organization and we work together to coordinate various programs designed to educate the campus community.

In addition to these responsibilities, I am an executive member of the MSU Leadership Council. We are planning next year's leadership program, hoping to teach future student leaders how to manage time or stress and how to work with organizations efficiently and effectively.

Student activities are foremost in my mind and for that reason I am a resident assistant in the resident halls. I have taken this position because I am concerned about student safety, health, entertainment, and the lack of community on campus. As vice president I will be personally involved in addressing issues which concern students.

Kevin R. Briggs

My Student Government experience at UNLV is fairly limited. Because of this, I will be able to bring fresh and new ideas to Student Government. These fresh and new ideas will help bring this institution to new heights. I am currently serving on the Judicial Council, which has given me insights into the workings of student government.

Most of the experience I will bring with me to Student Government comes from practical experience in the business world. Before coming to UNLV, I spent 2 and 1/2 years in a college environment. The financial strains of raising a family forced me to leave and enter the business world. I spent 3 and 1/2 years in a successful restaurant management program, where I had an annual budget of just under $800,000 yearly and a staff that at times exceeded 60 employees.

Some of the qualities that I will bring with me to the Executive Board are: 1) My business experience, 2) Extensive experience in dealing with people in a variety of different environments, and 3) My hard work ethic.

Things that I would like to see accomplished while in office are: 1) to make sure the CSUN budget (your money) is spent for the benefit of all UNLV students rather than just a select few. 2) To instill a greater sense of professionalism within Student Government. We do, after all, represent you, the student. 3) I would like to see Student Government take an active role in helping UNLV improve as a major university. Rather than being considered as one of the up-and-coming universities in the West, it is time to be viewed as one that has arrived. To do this, we need to improve our research facilities for both students and faculty. This will help attract some of the top instructors in the country and some of the top students. We must also promote not only our athletic achievements, but our academic achievements as well.

I am looking forward to representing you in Student Government and if I may steal a phrase from these two immortals, Bartyles and James, "I thank you for your support!"

Bud Benneman

Current Senator for Business and Economics, Senate President Pro-Tempore. Served two terms as senator and was elected Senator of the Year. Organized and ran two retreats for Student Government. Has worked and been a member of the Organizations Board for two years. Was the Chairman of the Ad-Hoc committee which wrote the current Organization Board Policy. He currently serves as the chairman to the Bylaw committee, which is introducing Senate Bill #5 which will check all CSUN grades. Goals include a restructuring of Student Government to give the Vice President the power of overseeing internal operations of CSUN, such as E and P, and Student Services. He would also like to have the Yell newspaper independent. Currently, he chairs the Ad-Hoc committee for independence of the Yell. Past involvement in other organizations include membership in the Political Economic Club and the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Hobbies include surfing and restoring old Chevy trucks manufactured in 1956.
