

“I can learn!”

“...and have a place in the world.”

Lily has mental retardation.
Some people think she can't learn.
Some think she shouldn't even be in school.
But Lily and other people with mental retardation aren't much different from you. They're just slower.
Through the Association for Retarded Citizens, Americans like Lily are learning, getting jobs and living in our neighborhoods.
Given the chance, they're productive,
responsible, tax-paying citizens.
Just like you.

Don't throw us away

Association for Retarded Citizens.
