

UNLV Variety shows promise

By VAEDRA ROSEMAN-SOWERBY
STAFF WRITER

The first annual Rebel Variety show will be held this Thursday, October 20, at 7:30 pm in the MSU Ballroom. It will be held as part of the homecoming festivities, and the candidates for king and queen will be introduced. The emcee will be comedian Taylor Mason, who has always been a big hit with all kinds of audiences.

The participants of the show were chosen through audition by a very tough auditioning committee which did cut some acts. It is safe to say that the remaining competitors are some of UNLV's most talented performers. Although it is an honor just to be in the show, a four-judge panel will be left with the difficult job of choosing a winner.

A wide range of acts will be performed at the show: Robyn Lemon and Jack Vaughn will sing a duet of "When I Fall in Love;" Nick Maffeo will solo on "One Last Cry;" The Collar Green Cru featuring emcees D.L., A Nightmare, Mr. Sandman, and Bill Bixby, performing original hip-hop; Sheila Hansen will play "Send in the Clowns" on her harp; Rhonda Sharee Dawkins will solo on the gospel "Speak to My Heart;" and many more.

So get to the show and check out some local campus talent. The show is free for all students and staff. General admission is $3.00.

show, you can be a little more clever. You're not fighting the alcohol and the late hours.

J: What's easier, to be clever or be base?

RL: (laughs) I love a clever joke. When we went to Branson (Missouri), it was all families and farmers and mom and pops - the humor was very corny and clean and nothing suggestive. That's what they wanted in Branson.

J: I think humor changes with your age.

RL: It does. Oh, yeah, because look at the movies that you liked as a kid. Look at the Dean Martin/Jerry Lewis movies that came out in the fifties. And look at them today.

J: Jerry did a couple of films in the early to mid-eighties that didn't do so well.

RL: Not by himself, no. He and Dean - He (Jerry) was doing pratfalls and waiters carrying trays and spilling stuff on people. If you look at it today, it's a physical kind of cornball comedy. So is the Three Stooges.

J: Have a good show, and thanks for your time.

RL: Thanks a lot. It was nice talking to you.
