Davis set an NCAA record for most completions in a quarter with 28 in the fourth.

Davis threw for 347 yards in the quarter, shattering former Houston Cougar quarterback Andre Ware's NCAA record of 340 yards set in 1989 against Southern Methodist.

"Gatewood makes a quarterback's job easy," said Davis, who will start Saturday at Utah State.

3,260 yards in total offense, graduated.

Sophomore quarterback Matt Wells now leads the Aggie offense, but is only averaging 106 yards-per-game. He has thrown four interceptions with only two touchdowns.

Utah State coach Charlie Weatherbie will likely construct his offense around running back Profail Grier, who ran for 209 yards against the Rebels last year. Grier, however, is struggling this year with a 1.8 yards per carry average.

some games we're going to come back and win. I think the people that stayed the other night were more excited than I've seen in a long time."

That they were. The fireworks and accompanying air raid signal from the north end zone woke the remaining crowd with every Rebel score. Before you knew it, the Rebels were within striking distance.

And though some would discredit the Rebels rewriting the NCAA record book by claiming it was all done in garbage time, after the game was already over, Horton does not subscribe to that theory.

"The game's never over until all zeroes are on the clock," he said. "We had a chance to win the game. I think once we hit on all cylinders, we'll be that much better. Unfortunately, we might have to because we're not real good on defense right now."

That just means the air raid signal and fireworks get more use.
