

HOMECOMING 1994

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

(left) At the pep rally Friday in the Alumni Amphitheatre, Coach Horton tells the crowd how the Throwin' Rebels will attack the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs in Saturday night's game. (above) Throwin' Rebel team members Randy Brewer (l.) and Randy Gatewood show their enthusiasm and team spirit to the crowd.

PHOTO BY HYUN-HO HAN

During the halftime festivities, Joe Ayson and Laura Reeves were named Homecoming King and Queen for 1994.

PHOTO BY HYUN-HO HAN

Two Reggae-influenced bands, Jumbalassy and the Mudsharks, played an outdoor concert for UNLV students Thursday in the Alumni Amphitheatre as part of the week-long Homecoming activities. (below left) The Reno-based Mudsharks kick up their heels in celebration. (below) The lead singer of Jumbalassy serenades a UNLV co-ed as fellow students nearby watch.

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

UNLV students, faculty and staff, like those pictured above and right, enjoyed free hamburgers, chips and drinks at the Homecoming pep rally Friday. All Homecoming events and activities were sponsored by student government.

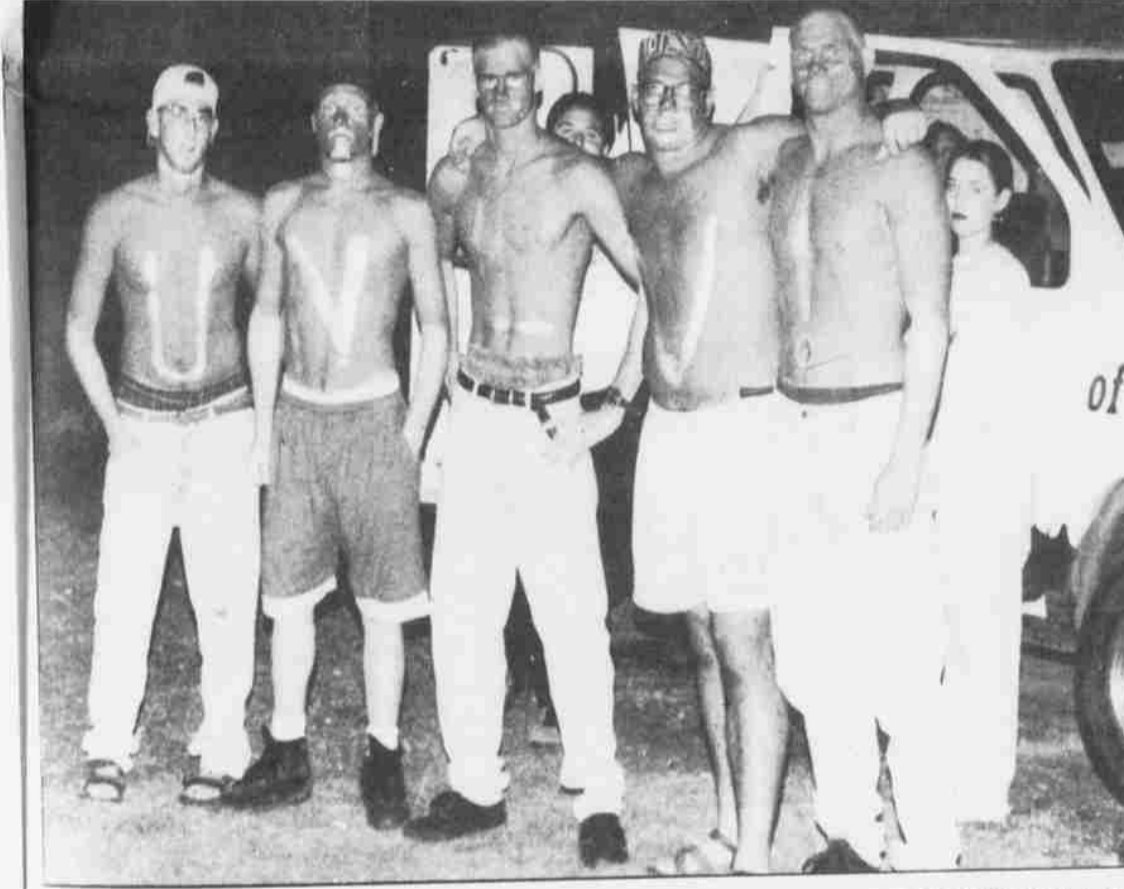

PHOTO BY MICHAEL LACY

Five colorful Rebel Football supporters show their spirit and bare their chests for Homecoming 1994.

PHOTO BY LESLIE LITCHFIELD

