

Unsane members Pete Shore (l), Chris Spencer and Vinnie Signorelli will provide rock-crazed-fan therapy at the Huntridge Nov. 23.

Unsane is Insane

The day before Thanksgiving will erupt in hard rock madness at the Huntridge Theatre.

Biohazard, New York's and Atlantic Records' own, Unsane and Stompbox will be throwing down some pre-turkey day insanity for those of you who can handle the noise and distortion of these three untamed rock bands.

The Rebel Yell spoke with Unsane drummer Vinnie Signorelli this past week. For those of you who don't know, Unsane is a product of the same New York rock scene that has launched such bands as Helmet, Sick of it All and The John Spencer Blues Explosion.

Do you get sick of all the comparisons between Unsane and Helmet?

No, it doesn't really bother us even though we don't really sound at all like Helmet.

I know the only thing that seems close to their sound is your bass line.

Yes, maybe a little.

What bands were you in before Unsane?

The Swans and Foetus.

What influenced you when you were growing up?

Mitch Mitchell and Keith Moon, Iggy and the Stooges are also an influence.

When is the next album due out?

We are going to the Amphetamine Reptile studios in Minnesota in February and March.

Well, all right do you have anything else to say to the people of Las Vegas?

No, I'm looking forward to the show and being able to gamble.

Video Picks of the Week

BY TODD RODGERS
STAFF WRITER

Welcome back to regular programming.

This week I'm gonna give you some picks for Thanksgiving break. It's true that Thanksgiving is still a few days away, but we only come out on Thursday, and since Thanksgiving always falls on a Thursday, this is the last issue until we get back. So grab some leftovers and hit the couch.

The Stand (1994) The Stephen King masterpiece was brought to life in a mini series that lasted four nights. Now it's on home video, perfect for the long weekend. A star-studded cast leads us through the story of the end of civilization, the rebuilding of it, and the battle between good and evil. This is a television production that finally does a book some justice. Considering the guidelines that television sets, The Stand sticks to its story and doesn't disappoint. It is about six hours, so get lots of turkey and sit back and enjoy.

Planes, Trains, and Automobiles (1987) This is a Thanksgiving movie. Well, it takes place during Thanksgiving anyway. Steve Martin and the late John Candy star as two salesmen who are trying to get home for Thanksgiving and end up together. They have a string of bad luck and hilarious situations on their way to a friendship. It's funny and has a happy ending. You'll laugh, you'll cry, it'll become part of you. Well, maybe.

It's kind of hard to find Thanksgiving movies, which is the opposite of Christmas, when you can expect a flood of holiday films. I guess Thanksgiving doesn't really hold the same appeal for Hollywood. I want to thank Monica Eckdahl who suggested our second video. I'm waiting for more suggestion. You send 'em and I'll write 'em. Remember, there's no paper next week, but we will return Dec. 1st. Until then, enjoy the holiday.
