loyalties to the school or the program, but it's still a business," Horton said. "Those people aren't going to be there for you if things aren't right. They'll be the first ones to say, 'Hey, get out of town.'"

Now those UNR fans who criticized Horton for leaving are coming to town this weekend for the big game. Horton said he'll do his best to rile up the crowd.

"We'll get them stirred up," Horton said. "I'll go right down in the corner of that end zone, point up at them, and take off my jacket and have a big red shirt on. And that's the way it should be. But that's healthy. You need those kind of rivalries for football. You need that healthy environment for the sake of Nevada. The better both schools are, the better it is for the whole state."

style offense that features game breakers Randy Gatewood and Henry Bailey, throwing under the Wolf Pack secondary to set up the big one.

The Rebels will start Jason Davis at quarterback and will spell him with Jared Brown at the appropriate time. DeJohn Branch will start at running back due to Omar Love's (548 yards) suspension. Branch said he's ready for the challenge and looks to step forward for the Rebels.

"I'm going to do the best I can to help our team," he said. "It feels good to have the coaches believe in me so I really want to take advantage of this."

The Wolf Pack defense leads the Big West in surrendering only 132.5 yards per game on the ground.

"Basically, we have to play our game," Horton said. "This is for the championship and we must play that style to get the job done."

The Rebels' defensive line must not allow Maxwell the luxury of relaxing in the pocket while he picks and chooses his targets. UNLV leads the Big West with 35 sacks and will need to not only disrupt the quarterback's timing, but to silence the Wolf Pack's following.

Yep, two ships on a collision course.
