

And Your Choices Are: CSUN Primary Election Candidate Profiles

BY JAN WILLIAMS
NEWS EDITOR

It's that time of year once again. Candidacy has been solicited and takers have replied. Posters have been hung and speeches at the UNLV Alumni Amphitheatre on Wednesday have been made.

Voting began Wednesday, with the polls open until 7 p.m. today. Ballots may be cast at any polling location by presenting a valid form of identification.

Here is an alphabetical list of who is running for office. The bios of Paul Mangual and John Pida, also running for office, were unavailable to The Rebel Yell at press time.

Shawna J. Campbell: Seeks the office of Student Senate President. Is a junior, majoring in psychology with a minor in English. Now serving her second term as a senator representing the College of Liberal Arts. Has also worked with the Elections

Board and Nevada Student Affairs.

"I have gathered much experience as a senator and believe it will aid me in being a successful Student Senate President."

Carol Linton: Seeks the office of CSUN Vice President. Is a junior, majoring in psychology. Has served on the Student Services Committee.

"I would hope to serve the students in a selfless manner and help keep the 1995-96 executive board accessible to all students who wish to be heard."

Joe Mills: Seeks the office of CSUN Vice President. Is a junior, majoring in architecture. Has been a board member, serving on various student government committees and participated in campus events.

"I seek to make student government more accountable and accessible to all students."

Terry Morrow: Seeks the office of CSUN Vice President. Is a junior, majoring in communications. Currently serving second term as student senator, student representative on two faculty senate committees, student ambassador to the community, Orientation leader, is a member of the Honors program and hosted the first Communications Student Forum.

"I want to obtain a higher level of opportunity to make a difference at UNLV. I, like each of you, am a part of this university, and I have a strong interest in seeing it develop both academically and socially."

Denise K. Phillips: Seeks the office of CSUN Vice President. Is a senior, majoring in recreation. Involved with student life and programming for past four years.

"I am a strong leader that is ready to move into the future. Although I have many goals for our student government, I know that will require teamwork and building a team is something that I want to do."

Aaron B. Rosenthal: Seeks

the office of CSUN President. Is a junior, majoring in financial services with a minor in economics. Served a term on student senate, chaired Senate Rules Committee, member of E&P Board, Nevada Student Affairs Board, vice-president of Sigma Chi and is enrolled in the University Honors Program.

"If elected, I will protect all aspects of student body interests during the coming wave of administrative restructuring."

Scott D. Schwartz: Seeks the office of Student Senate President. Is a junior, majoring in hotel administration. Has served two terms as student senator and rules and ethics chairperson, faculty senate student representative on admissions and scholarship committee, member of hotel administration, member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and nominated as the Board of Regents Outstanding Student of 1994-95.

No quote available.

Patrick "T.C." Smith: Seeks

the office of Student Senate President. Is a sophomore, majoring in business and economics. Currently holds the office of Senate President Pro-Tempore, served as a past senator, on academic standards and bylaws committee, constitutional revision chair, campus safety and awareness, campus planning and design and president of Pi Kappa Alpha.

No quote available.

David Turner: Seeks the office of CSUN President. Is a senior, majoring in Hotel Administration. Has served as assistant director of Nevada Student Affairs, former student senator, on the president's advisory council, academic standards, an active member of the Board of Directors at the Community Counseling Center and coordinates fundraisers to benefit local AIDS charities.

No quote available.

These are students running for office at your university. Your vote can make a difference.

EPSCoR

continued from 1 scientific goals."

Speakers included Ernest Peck, dean of the College of Science & Math, Conee Spano, UNLV Women's Center, Regent Jill Derby along with Amy.

The keynote address, presented by Irene and Angelos Findikakis and Bechtel National, Inc. was titled "The Great Balancing Act of Two Career Families."

Ellen Jacobson, NSF EPSCoR Program Coordinator, said her job is to "help the EPSCoR project as much as possible. Role models are being developed through EPSCoR to help young women choose science, math and engineering careers. I am proud to be a part of helping women succeed in science, math and engineering through the NSF EPSCoR programs. Our goal is to improve the numbers of women who enter in to science, math and engineering."

Women in the local community can benefit greatly through the many networking, mentor and management seminars presented by renowned women scientists at EPSCoR and WISE events.

For information please call Ellen Jacobson at 895-1593.

Regent Jill Derby presents Holly Langrock with a Certificate of Recognition from EPSCoR. PHOTO BY STEVE HOBBS

RECYCLE

David W. Dalton
Attorney at Law

- DUI • Criminal Defense
- DMV License Revocation

804 South Sixth St.
Las Vegas NV 89101

(702) 383-8304
FAX (702) 383-8118

KAPLAN
RULES

If at first you don't succeed,

Everybody can succeed at
standardized tests.
We repeat.
Everybody can succeed at
standardized tests.
But nobody can
get it all right,
right away.

you're normal

4632 S Maryland Pkwy Suite 23
Las Vegas, NV 89119

GRE • GMAT • MCAT • LSAT
FOR MORE INFO, CALL 1-800-KAP-TEST

Environmental Impact Statement Draft Implementation Plan Meeting Thursday, March 2, 1995

In response to interest in the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the Nevada Test Site, the U.S. Department of Energy has scheduled an additional public meeting in Las Vegas to discuss the Draft Implementation Plan. This document outlines how the Draft EIS will be prepared and summarizes comments received during the scoping period.

Location: 2753 S. Highland Drive, Las Vegas, Nevada
U.S. Department of Energy Auditorium

6:30 p.m. Informal Open House with Nevada Test Site Representatives

7:00 p.m. Formal Presentation and Question and Answer Period

For more information, please call the EIS toll-free hotline at 1-800-405-1140
(in Las Vegas call 794-1550) or write to:

U.S. Department of Energy
Environmental Impact Statement
P.O. Box 14459
Las Vegas, Nevada 89114

U.S. Department of Energy
Nevada Operations Office