

Is this the year?

The 1989-90 UNLV basketball team brought home the NCAA Division I Championship. Led by current NBA players Larry Johnson and Stacey Augmon, this team defeated Duke 103-73 in the title game. This year's team has enough talent to go all the way. But will they? The Runnin' Rebels' season tips off Saturday, Nov. 15 against Loyola Marymount.

VOLLEYBALL: This week the Rebels will go up against the BYU Cougars and Utah Utes that the two teams that played were from different divisions in the WAC. Since the two teams are from different divisions the match does not count as a conference match. This basically means one less conference loss for the Rebels.

This week the Rebels will be playing the BYU Cougars and the Utah Utes. The Rebels will be traveling to both sites to play their matches.

Last week the ninth ranked Cougars of BYU defeated Wyoming and then lost to Colorado State. Amy Steele leads a strong BYU team against the Rebels this week. The Cougars are looking for redemption for their loss against the Rams and the Rebels are looking to build on their positive experience this week.

After the Cougars comes the Utes of the University of Utah.

Last week the Utes lost to the Colorado State and to the Wyoming. Utah senior outside hitter, Brenda Barton-Whicker, and the Utes are preparing for the Rebels. The Utes are a beatable team and if the Rebels can pull things together they can win against the Utes.
