(Continued from Page 5) tastic results in dispersing the ducats. Max Goot, in charge of Rules, had to make only one decision -- whether a man who shuffles the cards is also entitled to cut them, altho he is not dealing the hand. He could. Irv Fields and Ben Marcus handled the Calcutta Markings, and a fine job of marking they turned out. Vic Schatz was in charge of the cards, and not once were there discovered more or less than 52 in any one deck. The bar did a lively business all night long under the capable hands of Ivan Eisenberg, Max Ukeiley and Harry Herst. Yours truly, Jack Tell, did the publicity. George Katz, Men's Club president, who was satisfied with the large turnout and subsequent financial return, congratulated all those responsible for a "Job Well Done."

France Denies News Report

PARIS, (JTA) -- Three key French Cabinet Ministers, including Vice-Premier Louis Joxe, reaffirmed that France's policy toward Israel remained "as friendly and close as ever before." The assurances were given in rebuttal to a report in a leading French newspaper that the French Cabinet decided to halt active aid to Israel. Vice-Premier Joxe, Interior Minister Roger Frey and Jean Sainteny, Minister for War Veterans, made their statements at a meeting with Salomon Friederich, secretary general of the Alliance France-Israel. The report they rebutted, published by L'Aurore, also said that the atmosphere at the Cabinet meeting was "unfriendly to Israel," which Cabinet members reportedly blames for the new tensions in the Middle East. The three Ministers assured Friederich that the report did not have any foundation in fact. The newspaper itself meanwhile retreated slightly from its report.
