

Only in Vegas

Many persons who have lived in Las Vegas for some time will always remember Sam Brodie. He was a kindly man who loved to dance even though he had a bad leg and could not walk unless he had a cane, but danced beautifully. Sam too, always attended every function held in the temple. He was a member of long standing and was most generous in his contribution. Like many of us who have lived in Las Vegas he did not like the tremendous growth and only because he seldom saw the people he knew, Sam is now gone. He died alone in his home in Boulder City this past week end. He is survived by two brothers, in San Francisco and New York, and a sister who resides in the Bronx.

Interested in having your gloves cleaned? There is a place in NYC. The glove can be sent in the mail. The charge $1. for the shorty length and $1.50 for the Opera Length. This price cannot be beat. I pay more here in the city and I likewise if in the city and likewise if I send them out of the state (incidentally all gloves are sent out of the city anyhow) the address is 451 E. 167 St., Bronx, NYC 10456. Satisfaction is guaranteed and they are returned by return mail.

Would like to mention that Murray Kachad was the chairman and partly responsible for the Las Vegas Junior Chamber of Commerce children's zoo. At least this is a step in the right direction.

Elsie Retsky and her Jack (Sands Employee) vacationing in Chicago and Miami.

Harry & Sara Wein, father of Ruth Kutler, former residents, will be away from Las Vegas for six weeks or more. They are fergining themselves a trip to Europe. About six weeks will be spent in Israel. Two swell people, if you don't know them. Harry also does alterations as a past-time (clothes).

Belated birthday wishes to Edythe Katz and Jackie Dvorak.

Cecil Lynch, congenial owner of the popular Guys and Dolls night spot, awoke with his wife, Hazel at 5 AM every morning last week to tee off in the Nev. Amateur Golf Course. They each won a trophy and are they proud, despite the fact that the pa-

Frank Goldberg, president of So. Nev. Apartment House Owners Assn., with his wife, Wanda, entertained a large party of friends who came to Las Vegas for the B'nai Brith Convention, at Pat's Chinese Kitchen, where all raved about the original Cantonese dishes.

Some neighbors are rather friendly. Alice Querze has a neighbor who gave a poolside party and invited the newcomers (3) in the neighborhood to make them feel welcomed. How many today who live in a newly developed neighborhood know their next door neighbor?

Upon his graduation from the University of California the past month, Robert Auerbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Auerbach, 250 Westchester Dr., was commissioned an ensign in the Navy. He is now stationed at Athens, Ga., Naval Base and will join the fleet in November. Robert is a graduate of Las Vegas high and while there was awarded the Naval scholarship to Cal. He was president of the Vegas A.Z. A. and was active at the Danny Kolod Youth Center and a member of the Temple

Just as soon as the B'nai Brith convention is over, Eileen Brookman will sell the most interesting pin to hold your eyeglasses to raise her donor money. Get in touch with her if you are interested.

GOLDBERG

(Continued from Page 1) American policies were made in Washington, not at the United Nations. "As long as he represents the policy of his Government," one Arab ambassador said who asked not to be identified, "There should be no trouble."

To gain Arab understanding of President Johnson's appointment of a Jew, Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, to be new head of the American delegation to the United Nations, the State Department during the week initiated talks with the envoys of all Arab and Moslem countries to the United States.

G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, summoned the Ambassadors of Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya and the Sudan, five Arab states considered to be less extreme on Israel than the six states bordering immediately on the Jewish State. Mr. Williams assured the five Moslem representatives that Mr. Goldberg would deal objectively with every nation and not allow previous Zionist sympathies to deter him from fair and friendly relations with Arab members of the United Nations.

After the meetings, officials reported that the reaction was on the whole satisfactory. But officials said the problem of explaining the appointment of Mr. Goldberg would be more difficult in the cases of Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Lebanon.
