height and build, and with eyes so black and disconcerting, even his own friends, are not always sure if he is serious or leading them on, for he has the rare quality of being able to keep a strict "Poker Face." When he lets up and his warm friendly smile breaks through, one immediately realizes what a great guy "Danny Goldfarb" is...

Born to Anne and Herman Goldfarb August 18th, 1920, in Newark, New Jersey, and with a younger sister, he tells briefly of his going to the Brazaw Ave school, and from there to Irvington High (Continued on Page 3)

TEL AVIV (WNS) Hope that when peace comes Israel and the Arab countries will jointly "declare war on poverty and ignorance, conquer wastelands and fight the ravages of nature" was sounded by Premier Levi Eshkol before a cheering crowd of thousands of Arab residents in the "triangle" sector of Galilee.

Addressing a reception tendered in his honor by the villagers of Taybeh, Mr. Eshkol said he hoped for the day when peace would come to the Middle East, citing in Arabic the famed passage of the Hebrew prophet Isaiah of the day when peace will reign.

SCOTT ENGEL BAR MITZVAH

SCOTT

Scott, son of Laurie and Jerry Engel, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah August 28th at Temple Beth Sholom with Rabbi Aaron Gold and Cantor Joseph Kohn officiating.

With funds being raised by a gigantic raffle and the most outstanding auction ever attempted in Las Vegas, ground was broken for a wing housing six new Hebrew school classrooms at Temple Beth Sholom.

The raffle is limited to 400 tickets at $50 each for a grand prize of a $7400 brand new, 1966, Lincoln Continental, courtesy of Todkl Lincoln - Mercury's strictly cost price. The auction, will consist of deluxe merchandise, well above $40,000 in value ranging from bicycles to TV sets and mink stoles.

Holder of raffle tickets and their wives are invited guests to a deluxe dinner in the social hall of the Temple on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 4th.

Two distinguished guests invited to participate at the ground-breaking ceremony were donors of the cost of building an entire classroom. Ed Levinson made his bequest in memory of his beloved wife, and Maurice Friedman, in honor of his departed parents. Plaques are being prepared to perpetuate these generous gestures.

Also at the ground-breaking ceremony were Max Goot, president of the Temple's Mens Club, who is chairman and driving force behind the fund-raising program; Morrey Roseman, co-chairman and one of the most ardent workers in the campaign; Ruby Kolod and Al Benedict, chairman and co-chairman of the Honorary Board of Directors and Auctioneer's Committee; Stan Irwin, president of Temple Beth Sholom, and Rabbi Aaron Gold, who delivered the prayer for the occasion.
