every store hunts for bargains... but we make it a business

a ring that costs us $100
.. we sell for $150

This is about money. We know it interests us. We're fairly sure it interests you.

Sometimes we buy a jewelry stock at 30¢ on the dollar. Sometimes 50 or 55¢ on the dollar.

A ring...or watch...that costs us $100.. often costs the average store $200.

A ring that costs $200 in the average cash store...the retail price is $400.. at the finest stores...anywhere in the USA ..even including Tiffany's.

While the average store is selling it for $400...we're selling it for $150.

We take half the normal jewelry store profit...on every diamond...or watch...we sell. Even when we buy it for 40¢ or 50¢ on the dollar.

This saves you around 60%. Sometimes it's 50%...other times it's 70%.

If you think it's just possible we're telling the truth but are still bothered by a little thing called skepticism, we don't blame you a bit, old buddy.

Just because we say you get a terrific bargain doesn't prove it.

Prove it to yourself: 1. You may have it (a watch, a diamond or jewelry)... appraised BEFORE you pay for it...or 2. Pay for it, then have it appraised.

If your saving is NOT 50% to 75%... return it in 90 days for all your money back. Fair enough?
