Reva Schwartz

(Reva's vacationing in New York so here's a few fill-ins from the rest of the staff--JT)

Madelyn Posin held a cocktail party in honor of her mother, Shirley Cobrink's MARRIAGE TO Irving Strauss, retired architect. Rabbi Harry Sherer performed the ceremony in L.A., where the couple will reside.

Sarah Goldberg recuperating after a short spell in the hospital.

Pat Ginn, who needs no introduction to our readers, will be taking over a second spot in the Sahara Shopping Center, opposite the Sahara Hotel. It will be called Pat's Bar-B-Q Kitchen, a sequel to his Pat's Chinese Kitchen in Commercial Center. The new eatery will be closed for complete renovation to open sparkling bright and new under Pat's ownership about Aug. 10th.

Ann Ukeiley knows how to enjoy life. If she isn't throwing a party in honor of her first kiss, which she did recently, she's arranging a "Beer Bust" to bring a lot of her dear friends and some of her favorite candidates in the upcoming election together. When it happens the pretzels will be munched and the brew will be guzzled in company of Murray Kachad, Jack Hammes, Eileen Brookman, Joe Benne-man, Joe Julian and Dr. Lou Bernkrant.

Gordon Fink, son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Fink, will be Bar Mitzvah at tomorrow's Saturday Services, Temple Beth Shalom should be jammed with relatives and friends out of respect to the popular parents.

You think Las Vegas hotel managers are hard boiled? Not Bob Glenn, major domo at the Mint. A middle aged couple asked to be shown through the premises. Bob did the job personally, spending the most pleasant hour he can remember. The "sight see-ers" were from Phoenix. They visit Las Vegas periodically to play the slots. This time they wanted to know all about the Mint Sky Room, Glass Elevator, etc. After the tour they thanked Bob profusely. He glowed and thanked them back for giving him the opportunity of getting so much pleasure. The couple was blind.

Helene Stadler entertaining her daughter and new son-in-law over this weekend. Such nachas.

The first Jewish leader who accepted Jack Tell's invitation to act as host during a visit to Las Vegas, was Rabbi Morton Molavsky of Hollywood, Fla., who passed through town with his wife and two beautiful daughters on their motor tour of America. Jack arranged for Sat. nite "Hello Dolly" reservations and presented the girls with a box of that unusual and delicious candy found only at the Vegas Sweet Shoppe. Nice, unsolicited gesture from an advertiser, Vegas Sweet Shoppe on N. 3rd St.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marshall took time out to spend a most delightful evening at the CSU Shakespearian Festival presentation of Julius Caesar, which is one of the three Shakespearian plays being presented in Cedar City, Utah.

The roles of Mark Anthony and Cassius were especially well done. Students have come from all over the United States and abroad to participate in this festival and their enthusiasm is catching.

Director Fred Adams has traveled extensively within the United States and Europe to make studies of the Shakespearian Festival and the Elizabethian age.

Costuming, make-up and scenery were outstanding. Tarts, candies, plants, and minstrel singers were all featured as part of the Elizabethian age.

All in all, it was an enjoyable evening for the Marshalls with Shakespeare under the stars.

Visiting the Tells in recent weeks were son Donald and darling daughter-in-law Rita, along with the monster, granddaughter Bonnie, who will be getting a new kid brother or sister sometime between Lincoln's and Washington's birthday. After they left, Rita's mom (the trouble maker who we adore) and dad Bessie and Morris Friedman popped in for a week. During their stay Jac Hein called from back East, directs the Major Bowe's TV Amateur Hour, so be nice all of you who have a hankering to get before the cameras and mikes.

One more week to Reva, and boy do we miss her.
