Things to come---Stage, television, and film ballets, operas and other musicals based on the Yiddish theater... Larry Cohen to write "The Secret Enemy," a CBS-TV series for 67-68... A movie feature titled after the silent film series, "Perils of Pauline" . . . "The Treasure," movie of the factual loss of 150 million dollars in Nazi gold and jewels sunk off Corsica enroute from Africa to Europe in 1943... An orchestra on stage, instead of in the pit, for David Merrick's Broadway musical, "I Do! I Do!"... New phrase by Don

Adams on his "Get Smart" series: "messed me by that much," as he indicated a microscopic clearance with his fingers... If Israel is ever allowed to live in peace with its neighbors, its sprawling National Museum, built on the ancient Judean hills, will benefit all nations.

Glazed Predications Come True... Joey Bishop begins a 90-minute late-night show from Hollywood for ABC-TV in the spring in competition with good friend Johnny Carson who, ironically, furnished the proving ground on his own show. Predicting further ahead, Bishop will manage what Jerry Lewish and Les Crane couldn't handle; provide serious competition for NBC's Carson show and endure as long.

Boosts... for David Janssen, half-Jewish, who hosted 16 members of the Iranian press on "The Fugitive" set. Formerly Persia, Iran maintains diplomatic rela-
