CANDIDATES WHO WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN ELECTED

REJECT JOHN BIRCHERS

'FROM THE HEART'

of
Jack Entratter
President
Temple Beth Shalom

It bothers me to think that many Jewish children are growing up, totally or near-totally ignorant of their magnificent heritage. It makes me uncomfortable to think that there are many Jewish parents who apparently have no interest in teaching their children about our wonderful ideals, customs and traditions. I have the feeling that this type of parent will some day regret his indifference. And what's more frightening is that some day this child will suffer for his lack of knowledge. Our religious school begins on Tuesday afternoon, August 30, 1966. I hope that you are a parent who cares and will see to it that your child receives the Hebrew training we offer at the temple. I am happy to inform you that your officers and board are constantly striving to make our school a true haven of knowledge, where the lessons taught will be meaningful to your child and enable him to grow into adulthood completely aware and proud of his Jewish heritage. "Train a child in the way he should go, and even when he is old he will not depart from it." -- Book of Proverbs.

Renounce Birch Support

Candidates for any office, regardless of party affiliation, who do not welcome and accept support of the John Birch Society, are invited to go on public record in this space with a clear cut, unqualified statement of repudiation of the secret society, whose leaders are the vilest anti-Semites in America.

GOV. EDMUND BROWN, (CAL.) D., seeking reelection: "I frankly am disturbed by the way a dangerous few would divide and disrupt our economy and state by exploiting hate and promoting doubt and conflict among us . . . I refuse the support of the John Birch Society, Communists, or any other organization of either the left or the right and the Democratic party will not accept such support."

support of any extreme group, and this includes both the Communists and the John Birch Society."

FLOYD LAMB, D., for state senator: "If I need the vote of extremists and radicals like Communists or Birchers to be elected, I'd rather not be elected."

GOV. GRANT SAWYER, D., seeking re-election: "I have never sought the support of the John Birch Society, and I do not want it now. There is no room in the United States for extremist groups who have placed themselves outside the standards of political morality, who seek to spread their venom through the life-stream of this nation. "My position on extremism is the same today as it was when I first took office. I want no part of the misguided people who follow its nefarious goals or the programs they pursue in the name of 'patriotism.' "Patriotism is not hatred, it is not bigotry, it is not slander. It is not a vicious assault on anyone who dares to be different, who speaks for a minority view. It is not evil deeds performed in the name of passion for liberty. "It has been my pleasure to join with Jack Tell, one of the first Nevada newsmen to fight the threat of extremism, and other responsible citizens in meeting this problem in Nevada."

LT. GOV. PAUL LAXALT, R., seeking governorship: "The Birch Society breeds fear and distrust and follows a pattern of irresponsibility and destructive action . . . I have read the society attempts to turn white against Negro and Gentile against Jew and now it's even brother against brother. I support a resolution repudiating the John Birch Society."

ED FIKE, R., seeking lieutenant governorship: "I reject the Birchers. I don't want it phrased in flowery language. We must repudiate them wholly . . . The Jewish community in Las Vegas was particularly concerned about the tactics and aims of the Birchers."

RALPH DENTON, D., seeking U.S. Representative seat: "I reject all extremism movements in this country, either to the left or to the right. Extremism in my opinion leads to tyranny. I do not and will not solicit the

Judaism in our Times

BY Rabbi Samuel Umen

"We Jews are a community based on memory. A common memory has kept us together and enabled us to survive . . . This expanding memory was more than a spiritual motif; it was a power which sustained, fed, and quickened Jewish existence itself. "Much has disappeared from Jewry in the past one hundred and fifty years, but nothing is so ominous as the disappearance of the col-

The Lambs of Las Vegas

Marion had a little Lamb, a little Lamb, and a little Lamb. No, dear readers, our typewriter does not stutter, nor are we in a rut. In fact, the Marion we are discussing is the mother of eight more little Lambs, but this story concerns three Lambs who became lion-hearted citizens in their public service to Southern Nevada. All three are seeking re-election.

Ralph Lamb, popular Sheriff of Clark County, already had his story printed in this space. Darwin Lamb, who was elected Clark County Commissioner by the largest plurality ever recorded, will be reviewed at a future date. State Senator Floyd Lamb is under our word microscope for this essay.

When papa William Lamb was trampled to death in 1938 after attempting to save a neighbor's child aboard a runaway horse, Floyd, in his teens, the oldest, was determined to keep his mother and ten brothers and sisters intact as a family. He succeeded admirably.

Anti-Semitism in USSR

NEW YORK (WNS) A group of American Reform rabbis who recently returned from a visit to the Soviet Union, where they attended synagogue and church services, reported here at a press conference at the headquarters of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations that they found in the church "a greater feeling of fearlessness, less self-consciousness and more spontaneity" than in the synagogue.

The rabbis were of the view that "the people in Rus-
