Reva Schwartz

Isn't It A Small World Dept: Our son Eddy, who attends Queens College in New York, was at Harlowe's Discotheque there last week and a hearty yelp of recognition was heard from three sides of the room as Joel Goot, Brian Greenspun and Eddy Werner spied each other! Joel works at the Americana Hotel, Brian was in for the weekend and it was a great home town reunion for all.

The Ken Glikens look forward to next week when their son Dale comes in from Tacoma on an accumulated 30 day furlough. Dale is with the Air Force and I for one, look forward to seeing him again. His grandparents, Anne and Joe Weiner, who had been visiting here for a week, just left for home in Ellay.

Margo Horwitt is still in town and wants her friends to know that she has just changed the street where she lives. She is the manicurist and pedicurist par excellence at the DI Salon.

Congratulations on the Bas Mitzvah of Linda Novak this evening. She is the daughter of Bonnie and Jack Novak.

Our town is filled with those who come from all parts of the world, but those who still cal Rochester, N.Y. their home, will be happy to know that not only has the 'Rochester, NY Club of Southern Nevada been formed, but that a luncheon has already been planned to honor its mayor, Frank Lamb. Mayor Lamb will be here for the festivities at the Aladdin on December 5 which will be chaired by the Richard Zasos. Officers of the newly formed club are Phil LaLoggia, pro-tem president, Sam Axler, Barney Scholnick, Jack Reynolds and Dave Siegel. Interested natives of Rochester may contact Phil LaLoggia at 878-5481.

The Neil Sedakas (he's the Rock 'n Roll singer who electrified the Fremont Hotel audience with pianistics) announce the arrival of baby at Ulpan Eln Hashofet, a school of 50 students from all over the world, including Japan. After school she works in the citrus grove or in the children's quarters and them more study and advanced tutoring since Tina is considering going to Hebrew University later.

No mention did she make of the unrest there, but a gay account of being caught in a downpour about 20 km. from the Ulpan and since there is not much protection on a scooter, she and her friend from Uruguay sat out the storm under a large rock. They were singing up a happy storm of their own until the rain abated some 40 minutes later and people started to move about again. That's where they discovered that they had taken shelter inside the Arab lines. They got back safely. That's Tina for you!

Everyone who attended the Skyscraper Ball given by B'nai B'rith is still talking about the delightful evening spent. It took a lot of work and coordination to make this the success it was, and if their chairman would contact me, I'd be happy to write up the highlights. *****

Temple Beth Sholom's growth is shown in many ways, and this year they sent their first delegate to the National Women's League of United Synagogue of America Convention. Ruth Speiser, Sisterhood president, therefore not only enjoyed the stay at the Concord Hotel in the cosy Catskills, but also was able to stop by at her home town in New Jersey. *****

Delores Goldstein is beaming with the news that husband Mort, in his first year with the company, won a trip to Canada and "made"

N.Y. Life Insurance's "Million Dollar Table". Mort must surely be a super salesman to win this competition. Congratulations. *****

Sam Landy was elected the new Master of the Las Vegas Saints & Sinners tent in a meeting of the board of directors held in Milton Prell's Aladdin Hotel, the new Las Vegas headquarters. The "Saints" have met previously at the Thunderbird and Dunes. *****
