United States to be held mainly on Sunday, December 11th.

The New York meeting will be held in historic Cooper Union Hall, where Abraham Lincoln delivered his famous "Right Makes Might" pre-election speech expressing his opposition to the extension of slavery. This meeting will be preceded by a parade of over 10,000 youth marching from the United Nations Building to the Cooper Union Hall.

The International Declaration on Soviet Jewry urges the following six actions on the government of the U.S.S.R.:

"(1) To restore its Jewish community to a position of equality with its citizens of all other nationalities.

"(2) To permit its Jewish citizens freely to practice, enhance and perpetuate their culture and religion by removing all discriminatory measures designed to restrict this freedom.

"(3) To make available the institutions, schools, text books and materials necessary to teach Jewish children the languages, the history, the beliefs, the practices and the aspirations of the Jewish people.

"(4) To permit the Jews of the U.S.S.R. freely to develop Jewish communal life and to associate the work with Jewish communities and groups inside and outside the Soviet Union.

"(5) To use all the means at its disposal to eradicate any existing forms of anti-Semitism.

"(6) To permit Soviet Jewish families, separated as a result of the Nazi holocaust, to be reunited with their relatives abroad."
