

Prizes and Molly Picon Await You at Hadassah Affair April 2 at Sands

HELLO MOLLY DOLLY

Molly Picon is a star of true international stature. There is hardly a country in which she has not appeared. She has traveled the world in plays, musicals, one-woman concerts, and vaudeville. Her latest expedition abroad was to London, where she teamed up with the distinguished Robert Morley in "A Majority of One". It was a sturdy hit.

Miss Picon, so famous for her appearance in the Broadway musical "Milk and Honey", began her career in vaudeville at the tender age of five. Since then Molly has appeared in more than 100 plays, mostly musicals, in the Yiddish theatre - to which she and her husband, producer, Jacob Kalish, have contributed so much talent and zest. Her name has become a by-word, her following fantastically loyal and devoted. Miss Picon feels that her performances before refugees in displaced person's camps are the highwater mark of her career.

Her film credits include co-starring roles in "Come Blow Your Horn" - with Frank Sinatra, "The Innocents" - with Anthony Quinn and George Maharis. On T.V. Molly appeared on one of the Dr. Kildare TV Series. Her book, entitled "So Laugh A Little," is enjoying great success at this time.
