

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF WES HOWERY IS ELECTED —

At the heart of the current City Commission campaign is the question of whether it is healthy for one family to have too much political power.

That family is the Lamb family.

It includes Sheriff Ralph Lamb, State Senator Floyd Lamb, County Commissioner Darwin Lamb, County Road Supervisor Press Lamb, and City Commissioner Grant Stewart, who is directly related.

Now a sixth member of that same family, Wes Howery, seeks a seat on the City Commission.

Is it good for one family to attain such political dominance?

Is it good for one family to have two voices on the City Commission?

No matter how much we may like the individual members of this family, every thoughtful voter must question whether allowing one family to control this many positions of trust in local government is in the best interest of the people of the community.
