PROFILES

by Percy Villa

Today's 'Profile' goes to MR. 'SY' HUSNEY, better known on the Strip as 'MR. SY.'

It seems as though everybody knows Sy, who happens to be one of the sweetest guys in this town of ours.

Sy is owner of MR. SY'S, located at Fashion Square (across from the Stardust Hotel).

Many of his customers are people working on the Strip including the headliners as well as the bus-boys.

His first job was with the opening of the Sands Hotel 15 years ago, as a bus-boy.

He comes from the East-side of lower Manhattan in New York City and manages to return every other year for a visit. While he'll always carry the well known torch for Broadway, his heart belongs to the best city of 'em all -- Las Vegas.

He was born September 16, 1928. Is 5 ft. 4 inches tall. Weighs 135, dark hair and brown eyes. (for a little fellow he's done remarkably well).

He goes for all sports, passive and participating. He plays golf and tennis and bowls. He likes to fish, but detests hunting ('I can't see any pleasure in kinning animals.')

Recently married to the attractive Becky Blocker, the couple has a well furnished apartment at the Diplomat. They have plans on a family.

Up until the time Sandy Koufax retired, Sy was a baseball fan and attended many games in Los Angeles. (Now he just reads about his favorite).

His ambitions: ('I want to accumulate enough money to have the things I've become accustomed to.')

He is a man of great drive. ('Ten years ago it I had reached this plateau I would have been satisfied. Now I've got to go on. . . .')

He will open a new place across from the Dunes Hotel late this month.

He has telephone-itis. He can't stay away from the telephone long. Says it would be impossible to only work 12 hours if the telephone wasn't around.

He is a self-made, self-educated, and is learning and improving his business daily. ('I like it when my customers keep returning to my place when I know there are other places that they could go to.')

He is the essence of charm and friendliness at all times, especially in front of witnesses.

He is proud of the fact that every person that he has met years ago it still his friend.

He always arrives five minutes before an appointment.

He takes himself and his work seriously. Occasionally, the twinkle in his brown eyes belies the severity of his expression and the adamancy with which he sets down his do's and don'ts. ('People generally say it's my youth; that I'll outgrow my age.')

He is continually in good humor. Those who know him well have never seen him angry.

Has seen every big name star who has played on the Strip the past 15 years but refuses to name his favorite. (Is it because many of them are your customers, Mr. Sy?)

He is a good listener when others are talking or telling stories, which makes him an unusual businessman.

He is considerate of others and without temperment, almost always.

Sy, likes to wear a smile, since his big ambition is to be happy.

He claims his main hobby when he's not working is sleep.

He works hard, although he seldom gives the impression he is working.

He's a guy I like, because he always strives to be a gentleman. Most Las Vegas share my opinion.
