SOSS MITZVAH

Mrs. Fanny Soss, and her daughter, Mrs. Maury Soss, attended the installation of Maury's sister, Mrs. Ethel Soss Rowe as new president of Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations.

Mrs. Rowe, a native Californian, served as first president of Hollywood Wilshire Campfire Girls Guardian Asso., has been an officer of L.A. National Conference of Jewish Women, president of Wilshire Blvd. Temple Sisterhood, and many other business and civic women's groups.

The installation took place at the Wilshire Blvd. Temple on May 25.

PARADISE SPA COMFORTS

Noted primarily for indoor attractions -- such as games of chance and star-studded entertainment -- Las Vegas is becoming known for a recreation-oriented community named Paradise Spa.

Here, three miles from the glittering Strip, family livings and outdoor fun is the attraction -- an ideal balance to this gaming resort's world-famed sophistication.

Community and family living is a solid part of the multi-million dollar 400-home resort of Paradise Spa, at 9457 Las Vegas Blvd., South.

Residents of the one-to-three-bedroom refrigerated air-conditioned homes enjoy a complex of health and recreation facilities unmatched in Nevada, reports Charles Martin, general manager.

Among its facilities are two health clubs, two large swimming pools, tennis and volley ball courts, a golf complex, art gallery and auditorium.

Family style barbecues, horseback riding, athletic tournaments, and swimming parties are some of the activities which keep Paradise Spa residents and guests close to home.

As residents of a condominium project, home-owners benefit from a maintenance program which takes care of all their home repairs and maintains the community's grounds.

Tours of the Spa are conducted daily, announced sales manager Bob Rohlman. Sales representatives are tour conductors.

In addition to the "a la carte" program for non-residents offered by the health clubs, overnight accommodations are available to guests.

Floor plans of the homes range up to 1200 square feet. Prices start at $13,750 and include carpeting and drapes as well as refrigerated air conditioning.
