

Only in Vegas

Messdms Nat Hart, Maurice Miller and Carl Cohen will have interesting topics to relate to the members of Hadassah when they return from Miami where they attended to National Convention at the Fountainbleau Hotel.

Betty and Gene Barry in town for the Belafonte opening at the Caesars spent a full day together with Machatenistas Nat and Helene Stadler before their return to Calif. Gene will be leaving again soon for personal appearance tour.

A job well done, Sisterhoods Bingo Party was a financial success and all the HARD WORK paid off. The turnout was a very good one and enjoyed by the many people who attended. Refreshments were delicious and home baked. Prizes too were very good and useful. Mary Callahan donated a beautiful picture which she herself painted and was used as the Raffle Prize. Beautiful and worth more than the price of the ticket. Orchids to Art Engler, who did the calling of the numbers, supplied the jokes, plugs, etc. and to the committee who worked and was responsible for the success of this project. Pres. Ann Pink knew what she was doing when she appointed Millie Scott, who in turn appointed her helpers, to assist her. In unity there is strength.

Congratulations to Fred Swartz who is now convention sales manager of the Thunderbird Hotel.

If you're wondering where Max Cline is, you'll find him managing Mr. Sy's in Fashion Square on the graveyard shift. Max has been in town for 14 years. He was floor manager of Market Town Builders and Panorama Supermarket for Harry Levy. Drop in to Mr. Sy's, opposite the Stardust and say hello.

Gov. Paul Laxalt will donate the Nevada flag and Stoney's Jewelry has kindly offered to purchase the American and Israeli flags—all of which were stolen from the JWV flagpole on the Temple lawn. Beth-El's very fine and competent caretaker, Larry, has been flying these flags every day until their disappearance.

Best of luck to Michael and Valyrie Corben on their marriage. Michael is studying optometry and should be graduating next year at which time he and Valyrie will make their home in Las Vegas. Valyrie is a registered nurse

Many local and out of town machpuka enjoyed and shepherded much nachis when they heard Daniel Alan (Danny) Greenspun recite the Haftora for his Bar Mitzvah at the Temple. Danny is the second and last son of Hank and Barbara Greenspun and they indeed had a lovely and delicious Kiddush immediately following the services. From out of town came Maury and Millie Kishner, Dr. Robert Taub, his wife Toma, their children, Hilary, Lisa and Kara. Sylvia and Maynard Bernstein and their three children Howard, Linda and Rachel. Clara and Henry Astrin and Jeff Simon all aunts, uncles and cousins. From town, the Joel Adlers, Belle and Dave Greenspun, Richard and Karen Greenspun, Les and Becky Ritchie, Grandma Jessie Ritchie, Doug Richie Alice Querze, Rick and Renee Irwin. Dignitaries, Gov. Laxalt, Senator Howard Cannon, Allan Bible, Mayor and Mrs. Gragson, Col. Charles Baron (Retired). To go on with the description of this happy occasion. The room looked lovely. All the tables were covered with blue tablecloths enhanced by the gleaming china, silver and crystal glasses. Each table had a center piece of yellow, white, blue flowers. Fish of every kind was served along with the most delicious blintzes I have ever tasted. The individual cookies (from New York City) and the very delicious Bar Mitzvah cake, which must have weighed close to 100 pounds. This was in the shape of a book, close to this stood a chupah and tabernacle which was ornately decorated. There were so many invited guests attending that I will not attempt to mention all the names. I did leave for last Danny's sisters Susan and Janie and his brother Brian who derived so much pleasure from their kid brother and made no bones about it. I am sure all who attended (for those who missed this affair for one reason or another it was their loss). Join me in again wishing all the Greenspun's much nachis with their family and mazel always.

Shirley and Art Engler doing the town with Art's sisters and their husbands, Sister Rita and her husband visiting Las Vegas for the first time (residents of NYC) was overwhelmed with what they saw, while sister Natalie and her husband, residents of Los Angeles, have been here before. This indeed was a great family get together.

I know many of you have heard about Ruth Rabin's grandson's arrival, but for those who haven't, Ruth's daughter Sandi and husband "Lucky" Lewis, residing in New York City became parents for the first time to a boychic (who looks like Churchill to quote Sandi) named Andrew. Mazel Tov.

Welcome to Las Vegas to the family of Selma and Leonard Shapiro formerly residents of Arizona. The Shapiro's have two sons Rick age 16 and Neil age 12. Leonard is the Public Relations Director of the Bonanza Hotel. Welcome you ail.

Birthday Greetings to Lori Adelson, Arnie Rosencrantz, Jack Tell, Sheldon Schwartz and Mory King, all Virgo children (children???)
