"Must Be Affirmative Will"

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (WNS) Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, addressing the United Nations General Assembly in its continuing debate of the Mid-East situation, said there will be no peace in that area of the world until there is "an affirmative" will on all sides to the dispute "To resolve the issues, not through the dictation of terms by either side, but through a process of mutual accomodation in which nobody's vital interests are injured."

Calling the situation in the Middle East "tragic and dangerous," the U.S. envoy told the Assembly that both Israel and the Arab countries "must have the will to work out a political solution, both must be committed to the peace, and no appropriate method, such as good offices or mediation, should be excluded." The purpose of peace cannot be served, the former U.S. Supreme Court Justice said, "if the right of a member state to its national life is not accepted and respected by its neighbors, nor if military success blinds a member state to the fact that its neighbors have rights and interests of their own. In realism, "the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations continued, "it is perhaps not to be expected that reconciliation and magnanimity will appear outright, but surely enmity must help in the search for peace."

S.N.H.R.C. School Groups

by Mike Dawson

Dr. James I. Mason, Superintendent, Clark County School District, and members of his Executive Cabinet met with M. William Deutsch, Chairman, Southern Nevada Human Relations Commission, to determine how operative organizations can be formed in the schools.

Others who attended were Dr. Henry C. Bozarth, Area Administrator, Western Zone; Frank Garside Jr., High School Principal Hal Fincher and Asst. Principal Marshall Darnell; Robert O. Gibson, Jr. High Principal; Niles Bailes and Asst. Principal Morleo Monaco; Western High Principal Theron Swainston; SNHRC Commissioner Jack Dalley, who is also Principal of C.V.T. Gilbert Elementary School; this writer, Executive Secretary, SNHRC, and Valley High students Pauls McDonald and Butch-Edwards, members of the school's Junior Human Relations Commission.

Dr. Bozarth noted that the method of involvement in the schools was of great importance. Differences in the needs of individual schools resulting from geographical location were outlined by the school principals, Dailey and the two Valley High students answered questions regarding the actual innovation and development of Junior Human Relations Commissions according to their experiences at Valley.

After the meeting Dr. Bozarth said the value of Junior Commissions in the schools was evident. Efforts will be made to establish them in school district in accordance with Dr. Mason's Policy and Action Plan.
