

Barney Glazer In Hollywood

Jack Garfein continues to deny continuous rumors that he and Carroll Baker have separated. "I'll visit her in Rome soon," said Jack at the Screen Directors Guild Theatre during the Warner-7 Arts preview of Paul Newman's "Cool Hand Luke"... You may call it television but the strongest attraction on television these days is the motion picture feature! The realization is driving producers of TV series out of their flickering minds.

IF YOU shudder as I do when male actors kiss other male actors on the cheek with repulsive affectation, let's go down the drain together when Kirk Douglas kisses Alex Cord right on the lips in the upcoming film, "The Brotherhood." Sorry, but I can't accept it, even though it conforms with a Mafia custom as chronicled in the movie.

TELEVISION - producer Rod Serling is my kind of man, if only for one good and sufficient reason - his quest to help our younger generation. Rod met recently with 100 advanced film students in UCL's theatre arts department to help establish dialogues between them and professionals in Hollywood.

AN OVERZEALOUS press agent reported in daily Variety that Warren Berlinger had entered Cedars of Lebanon Hospital due to auto injuries. Contacted at his Chatsworth home, Berlinger laughed off the phoney story. Coming off the San Diego freeway on the way home, Warren's car was jolted slightly in the rear by a woman driver. Only damage: a pain in the neck for a couple of days.

That night, Warren had to disappoint his wife, Betty Jou Keim, and their children, Lisa and David. They had planned to attend the premiere of Walt Disney's "The Jungle Book" at Grauman's Chinese Theatre.

Berlinger hasn't missed a rehearsal for "Who's Happy Now?" Oliver Halley's new play now staging in the Mark Taper Forum at Music Center. He co-stars with Warren Oates, Malcolm Atterbury, Betty Garrett and Peggy Pope.

MGM'S "The Comedians" starring Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor, is no laughing matter. Blood flows like Tennyson's brook.... The stars have discovered a simple exercise that tightens up that double chin. It's yours for the asking.

AN AMOROUS young lady tried to break into a star's room at 4:30 a.m. in the Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas. Don't ask me why, but Trini Lopez refused to let her in... Which reminds me of the following story, claimed by many comedians as an original. "It was four o'clock in the morning and this beautiful, shapely, young girl kept banging on my door. But I wouldn't let her out."

BY THE time you read this, that popular TV and stage actress will have her baby and the even more popular singer-father will suddenly come out of left field with the surprise announcement that they've been married for many months. Their best friends are holding their breath without comment, and that's why we have best friends.

AS ONE VIEWER, I won't easily forget Melvyn Douglas' magnificent performance in TV's "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night" ...Shecky Green wanted the role of Tevya in "Fiddler on the Roof," opening Dec. 28 at Caesar's Palace, Las Vegas, but it went instead to Theodore Bikel, and well deserved.

JACK PAAR'S recent remark on ABC-TV to F. Lee Bailey that he blamed most of his troubles on the Jews may have been intended as facetiousness, but Paar's accompanying explanation, that he referred to Moses a Jew, who brought down the Ten Commandments, which Jack has observed but which have continuously doused him in hot water, must go down as the Jack Paaranoid of his tearful career.
