

Only in Vegas

By Helene Stadler

For the many in this community who knew Louis Caplon, his death came as great shock. Louis was born Christmas Day 1903 in Schenectady, NY and has been a resident of Las Vegas for the past seven years. Among his survivors are his wife, Ruth and two sisters Mrs. Esther Goldstein of New York City, and Mrs. Mattie Lieber of Scranton, Pa. Louis was a staff member of the account firm of Zeman, Tuller, Boyer and Goldberg. He was a member of Temple Beth Shalom, past president of the Albany Chapter CPA, a director of N.Y. State CPA Society and a member of the University of Pennsylvania Fund Drive. Louis was interred in the Hillside Memorial Park in Los Angeles. Rest in Peace Lou and may Ruth find the strength to carry on without you, many will miss your quiet and sincere friendship.

Helen Altman and Bebe Levy won first place in the Municipal Gold Tournament Good going gals.

The generation gap between Jewish youth and their parents will be explored in depth at the Western Regional Conference of the American Jewish Committee, which takes place at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco from November 30 to December 3, it was announced by Lloyd Katz, Chairman, Las Vegas unit.

Send get well wishes to Dave Sirotta, long time resident of Las Vegas ill at the Sunrise Hospital. No visitors please.

Bess Rosenberg and Ricki Yarbrough back after their sojourn to Santa Barbara for their annual checkups. All is well.

After a courtship of three years Janice Corbin, daughter of Esther and Irv (Corb's Handyman) said "I do" to Drew Clinton Rounds of Las Vegas. Drew is a graduate of Nevada Southern University, School of Business, Class of June 1967 and is the son of Lucille and Niel Rounds also residents of Las Vegas. Janice wore a bridal gown made of chiffon and Chantilly lace beautifully designed for her, the bodice of this exquisite gown was trimmed in seed pearls around the boat neckline down the sleeves as well as the hemline. She wore a three tiered headress with illusion veil. Her bouquet consisted of miniature and large orchids. After the ceremony close friends and relatives dined at the Sultans Table.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Alex Shulman, Seattle, Eileen Lewis, cousin of the bride and her maid of honor from Torrance, Calif. Michael and Valeria Corbin, brother of the bride and his bride from Los Angeles, Mr.

DAVID

David London, currently at Caesars Palace is great-grandson of two of Tzarist Russia's singers. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio. As a boy soprano, he became a soloist in the famous Los Angeles Robert Mitchell Boyschoir, and appeared on radio, in concert and in many films with the boychoir.

David taught elementary grades 6-8 at Sharp Park School in Pacific for two years. Then he resigned to become production singer for the Riveria Hotel in Las Vegas.

After this apprenticeship, David went on to New York to appear in eight Broadway shows.
