does its share and more. Recently, the annual Bonds for Israel dinner was held in our community and our people once again responded magnificently. This, notwithstanding the fact that only a few months ago our local citizens were called upon to give as never before because of the crisis which existed. The two gentlemen who were honored at the dinner this year, J. Kell Houssels, Sr. and Jr., are certainly deserving of the tribute accorded them, for in them we possess two great humanitarians and we are extremely proud to call them friends.

Israel's problems have certainly not yet disappeared, they haven't even diminished significantly since the end of the six-day war. For in achieving victory Israel suddenly took on additional and brand new problems. The solutions to these they will be with their loved ones at home. These are Americans of all creeds and of all colors all working as one and ready to give the supreme sacrifice at any time. Let our hearts go out to them, let us remember they are part of all of us, that we stand beside them and believe in them. Let us examine ourselves on this THANKSGIVING DAY and ask, "ARE WE GIVING ENOUGH"?

Sincerely with affection, problems, even if viewed through the most optimistic eyes, are still a long way off. It is therefore imperative that each and every one of us thoroughly understand the situation and continue to do everything possible to help. Purchasing bonds is one sure way! If you were not present at the recent dinner and did not buy any bonds, it is not too late to do so now. Call our Temple office at 384-5070 and they will be happy to direct you. It will take time, only God knows just how long, but Israel will succeed, and each one of us must be a part of Israel's growth and accomplishment. Every Jewish heart must remain attuned to those of Israel brethren. The heartbeats must be as one, for it is the heart of a people -- a magnificent thing.
